OVERTURES TO THE 1969 GENERAL ASSEMBLY

To the Standing Committee on Annuities and Relief, 12 and 57.

12. From Presbytery of the Southwest:

Whereas, the Ministers' Annuity Fund pays retirement income based on what has been paid in for a particular minister and retirement income is therefore earned income; and,

Whereas, a retired minister may be of such general health that he may desire to make continued service to the Church; and,

Whereas, the cost of living continues to reduce the buying power of retirement income;

Therefore, the Presbytery of the Southwest requests the General Assembly to instruct the Board of Annuities and Relief to continue paying retirement incomes based on payments made for a particular minister no matter what additional income or employment might be undertaken by a minister who has been honorably retired by his Presbytery.

57. From the Presbytery of Brazos:

The Presbytery of Brazos, took action to forward overtures to the General Assembly as follows:

Whereas, the Ministers' Annuity Fund returns none or only a minor portion of M.A.F. payments to a minister being divested of office without censure on the event of his divestiture; and,

Whereas, the Ministers' Annuity Funds do not care adequately for widows and dependent children of deceased ministers; and,

Whereas, the programs of the Board of Annuities and Relief for the psychological and medical aid for the retired are not fully satisfactory to those who should benefit therefrom;

Therefore, the Presbytery of Brazos respectfully requests the General Assembly to appoint an Ad Interim Committee to study and make broad recommendations to the 1970 General Assembly regarding the M.A.F. and Board of Annuities and Relief with a view to improving these and other conditions revealed in said study.

To the Standing Committee on Assembly Operation, 13.

13. From the Presbytery of Asheville:

Whereas, at the 1968 meeting of the General Assembly of the Presbyterian Church in the United States, advantage was taken of a little publicized provision of Robert's Rules of Order, which in effect allowed one commissioner to prevent the hearing of a "Minority Report"; and,

Whereas, this procedure can result in unfair and un-Christian action on the part of the General Assembly in shutting off debate and suppressing the views of the minority in any given debate, thus restricting open discussion of matters of vital interest;

Therefore, Asheville Presbytery respectfully overtures the 109th General Assembly of the Presbyterian Church in the United States, to take such steps as are necessary to amend any "Rules of Order" so as to guarantee that any minority report, properly drawn and presented to the General Assembly, shall be heard on its merits.

To the Standing Committee on Bills and Overtures, 14-18, 54.

14. From the Presbytery of Hanover:

Hanover Presbytery respectfully overtures the 1969 General Assembly to appoint a committee of fifteen members to study, particularly in the light of Presbyterian polity, the state of the Church and the causes making for unrest in our denomination, and to report to the next General Assembly, to the end that the purity, peace, unity, and progress of the Church may be assured.

15. From the Presbytery of John Knox:

Whereas, the General Assembly of the Presbyterian Church, U.S., has spoken on several occasions denying the validity of baptism as administered by the Roman Catholic Church, and requiring that persons having such baptism and seeking admission to the Presbyterian Church, U. S., be baptized again; and,

Whereas, the action of the General Assembly of 1947 and 1958 are in some respects ambiguous; and,

Whereas, in many congregations of the Presbyterian Church, U.S., it is now common practice to receive baptized Roman Catholics into the fellowship of our denomination without requiring re-baptism; and,

Whereas, it is the position of the Presbyterian Church, U. S., that baptism in the name of the Father, Son and Holy Spirit is to be administered but once to any person; and,

Whereas, to deny the validity of the Roman Catholic baptism is to deny in effect that the Roman Catholic Church is a branch of the universal Church of our Lord Jesus Christ; and,

Whereas, the official position of the Presbyterian Church, U.S., as stated from time to time is an affront to our Christian brethren in the Roman Catholic Church and a denial of the ecumenical spirit which is abroad in the world today; and,

Whereas, it behooves all Christians to seek to eliminate the causes of tension in Christ's Church and to seek its unity;

Therefore, the Presbytery of John Knox overtures the General Assembly of the Presbyterian Church, U.S., meeting in its 109th session to adopt the following statement:

The General Assembly of the Presbyterian Church, U.S., hereby affirms the validity of baptism administered by the Roman Catholic Church, and instructs all Pastors and Sessions to require no other baptism when persons baptized in the Roman Catholic Church present themselves for membership in the Presbyterian Church, U.S. It is understood that this resolution replaces and takes precedence over all previous statements of the General Assembly on this subject.

16. From the Presbytery of Asheville:

Whereas, certain distasteful episodes have taken place in the past and no corrective action was taken by any court of the Church; and,

Whereas, the dismaying experience of August 4, 1968, was deliberately planned and carried out by members of the Board of National Ministries and Board of Christian Education to excite those participating in the service and the congregation; and,

Whereas, these actions showed disrespect for God and the faith of our Fathers; and

Whereas the music, the banners, the mode of communion from start to finish was below the dignity of any worship service; and,

Whereas, the group that planned and executed such meetings did not show respect to the feelings of the residents of Montreat and the surrounding community;

Therefore, be it resolved that the Presbytery of Asheville overture the General Assembly regarding such devastating episodes in order to prevent their recurrence in the future.

17. From the Presbytery of Augusta-Macon:

We hereby overture the General Assembly of the Presbyterian Church in the U. S. to direct its various boards not to sponsor such worship programs as that held by the Board of National Ministries and the Board of Christian Education in Montreat, North Carolina, on Sunday, August 4, 1968, which tend to create cleavage within the Church, confusing the Christian members and distorting the worship of God.

18. From the Presbytery of Harmony:

Whereas, Harmony Presbytery is deeply aware of the problems of communicating the Gospel, especially the problems facing the boards and agencies of the General Assembly; and,

Whereas, this Presbytery appreciates the necessity of developing additional means and methods of communication to all, especially the youth, those culturally deprived, those who feel neglected; and many who may not understand the traditional language of the church; and,

Whereas, Presbytery has received and continues to receive numerous reports from both ministers and laity concerning the services at Montreat, especially the Sacrament of the Lord's Supper; conducted jointly by the Boards of National Ministries and Christian Education; many report it was offensive, some report they refrained from participating; still others interpreted it as bordering on the sacrilegious; and,

Whereas, Harmony Presbytery feels very deeply that such extreme departure from recognized customs without any apparent scriptural or historical grounds for such departure makes it even more difficult to heal existing wounds within the church brought on the differences of so called liberals and conservatives;

Therefore, be it resolved that Harmony Presbytery express its displeasure over the manner in which the worship service and Sacrament of the Lord's Supper were conducted; and,

Hereby overture the General Assembly of the Presbyterian Church in the United States to investigate the manner in which the worship service and the Sacrament of the Lord's Supper were conducted and if finding same out of accord with our historic interpretation of worship and Sacrament, to so remind those responsible for same; and to request its board and agencies to exercise more discretion in this area, and to instruct its board and agencies to give prior knowledge to an interpretation of any future radical innovations to the church at large.

54. From the Presbytery of South Mississippi:

That the General Assembly be overtured to see that its boards exercise caution in the introduction of modern worship techniques into the life of the church which have no explicit sanction in Scripture, and which could estrange the humblest Christian believer from any service of Christian worship.

To the Standing Committee on Church and Society, 19-20.

19. From the Presbytery of Fayetteville:

Whereas, responsible and informed leaders and groups representing many areas of society are affirming that the population crisis in the world as a whole and as it affects the United States is a most pressing problem mankind faces; and,

Whereas, millions of people are already dying from starvation, malnutrition or from diseases stemming from inadequate nutrition and social deprivation; and,

Whereas, most of the serious problems before us today, such as the pollution of air, water, and soil, political difficulties, war, economic injustice, social inequality and others are all related to the large and rapidly growing population; and,

Whereas, experts agree that simply feeding the existing population during the next decade will make our present difficulties seem like child's play; and,

Whereas, the public, both Christian and secular, seems insufficiently aware of the gravity and the imminence of the population crisis; and,

Whereas, the Scriptures teach that human life and personality are the gift of God, and that therefore every person born into this world has a right to at least a minimal standard of existence and opportunity; and,

Whereas, Jesus looked upon the multitudes and "had compassion on them"; and,

Whereas, the Church must be concerned for the world our children and our children's children will inherit as well as our present world; therefore be it resolved that the Presbytery of Fayetteville overture the General Assembly:

[1] To use whatever means it deems proper to bring the matter of the population problem in its many dimensions to the attention of the whole Church as a matter for Christian and moral concern;

[2] To request the Council on Church and Society and other appropriate bodies to conduct inquiries and prepare suitable study materials dealing with Christian responsibility in the population crisis; and

[3] To recommend additional ways in which the Church both individually and corporately may become better informed and more deeply involved in this matter and may express its concern and moral influence.

20. From the Synod of Texas:

The Synod of Texas overtures the General Assembly to make, through its Committee on Church & Society, a careful contemporary and creative study of the issues involved in the use of beverage alcohol by Christians.

To the Standing Committee on the General Council, 4, 21, 59, 60 and 61.

4. From the Presbytery of Northeast Texas:

Whereas, by their editorial policy and action the persons who compose the staff of the Presbyterian Journal do continually strive to divide the Presbyterian Church in the United States; and,

Whereas, by their unwholesome criticism and innuendo they undermine the confidence of the members of the Presbyterian Church in the United States in their constitutionally elected and appointed leadership; and,

Whereas, by their constant planting of seeds of discontent among the members of local churches of the Presbyterian Church in the United States, so as to subvert the decisions constitutionally arrived at by the authorized commissioners from every presbytery, meeting in the annual General Assembly of the Presbyterian Church in the United States; and,

Whereas, they have continuously sought to reach into the life of local congregations and to overturn the influence and authority of teaching and ruling elders who have been elected and examined by the proper courts to which those congregations are responsible; and,

Whereas, by their irregular churchmanship and disregard of the Presbyterian order of government, and their general failure to submit themselves to the government and discipline of the Church, and their evident design not to fulfill their ordination vows to further the Church's purity and peace;

We, the Presbytery of Northeast Texas, register our concern for the furthering of the peace and purity of the Church, and propose the following which should be of common advantage to the whole Church (Book of Church Order, Chapter 15, paragraph 6, item 16):

That the General Assembly request the Moderator of the General Assembly to appoint a committee to investigate the Presbyterian Journal's evaluations and criticisms of the Presbyterian Church in the United States, with special concern for the Presbyterian Journal's evaluation over the past several months of the Covenant Life Curriculum study book, Christian Doctrine, authored by Dr. Shirley Guthrie, Jr.; and that if the General Assembly finds unconstitutional actions have taken place that injure the purity and peace of the Church, that it officially condemn them and order whatever is necessary for the spiritual welfare of the churches under its care (Book of Church Order, Chapter 16, paragraph 7, items 18 and 19); and that the General Assembly, through proper church court procedure, as set out in the Constitution of the Presbyterian Church in the United States, request that the teaching elders and ruling elders of the Presbyterian Church in the United States involved in the perpetuating of such disorder in the Church be officially disciplined by the censure of Admonition, and enjoined to cease and desist from further such actions which are detrimental and disruptive to the work of the Lord Jesus Christ, which He would have done in the harmony of the local churches of the Presbyterian Church in the United States.

21. From the Presbytery of the Southwest:

Whereas, the stewardship program of the General Assembly has for some time placed emphasis upon proportionate giving; and,

Whereas, the appeal to particular churches and higher church courts has been to operate on a unified budget, e.g. the General Assembly's adoption of a Central Treasurer approach; and,

Whereas, there has been a wide program of education for all church courts to make their budgets after a canvass so as to have a more accurate idea as to what receipts will be; and,

Whereas, there is a new proliferation of special offerings for both budgeted and unbudgeted causes, namely, 1) Easter, One Great Hour of Sharing; 2) Women's Birthday Offering; 3) Hunger (World-Wide Communion Sunday); 4) Crisis; 5) Joy Gift; 6) Witness; 7) Rally Day; 8) Emergency Appeals, e.g. Carla, Beulah;

Therefore, we, the Presbytery of the Southwest, do respectfully overture the 109th General Assembly:

1. That the General Assembly maintain consistency in Stewardship promotion through the General Council; and,
2. That the General Assembly eliminate all special offering appeals; and,
3. That the General Assembly inform presbyteries and synods of the areas needing extra fundings and request these courts to include special (challenge) items within their budgets to meet these needs; and,
4. That the General Assembly interpret these requests to presbyteries and synods at least one year in advance, and,
5. That the General Assembly be requested to provide promotional information regarding these special needs and make such material available to local churches for encouragement of voluntary gifts from interested individuals.

59. From the Presbytery of Brazos

The Presbytery of Brazos respectfully overtures the General Assembly to consider taking the following action:

1. That the Moderator and the immediate past three living moderators appoint a comprehensive committee broadly representative of all viewpoints, ages and regions to consider and recommend a comprehensive plan of General Assembly reorganization,
2. That all current groups previously appointed by, and now existing under, the General Assembly and her boards and agencies dealing with restructuring, reorganizing, or realignment (of synods, etc.) or any other related goals be made subject to this Reorganization Committee, reporting their recommendations to same for acceptance and/or modification,
3. That the total work of the Assembly in all its parts, including its appropriate relationship to lower courts, be the scope of this study,
4. That extraordinary means, as determined by the staff of the General Council in consultation with others of their choosing, be used to give the funding of this undertaking a high priority in our Church's life,
5. That a project director be employed for the duration of the project to facilitate this undertaking,
6. That the committee be empowered to use funds to employ a core study and research group to give rapid in-depth leadership to this undertaking and that existing Board/Agency staff people be seconded to this effort at the request of the project director,
7. That in formulating this project's recommendations to the General Assembly every effort be made to seek consensus between the opposing viewpoints; but, where consensus is not possible, that the presumed wisest course be recommended well annotated with evidence for its acceptance along with alternative recommendations undergirded with an assessment of their consequences on the total system.

60. From the Presbytery of Brazos

The Presbytery of Brazos respectfully overtures the General Assembly to consider taking the following action:

1. The General Assembly has repeatedly affirmed its "hope and prayer . . . for the greatest possible unity in our Presbyterian family"—a unity which is seen to be more and more essential for mission,
 2. Restlessness on this account is increasing today among both ministers and laity, not only because of the unnecessary duplication of effort, but also and chiefly because the churches find themselves more and more seriously handicapped in their efforts to carry out their mission,
 3. Various expedients have been tried to relieve this situation over a long period of time with only limited success,
 4. The Presbyterian Church in the United States finds itself in wasteful competition with one or more branches of the Presbyterian and Reformed family of churches in a large proportion of its synods,
- Therefore,

The Moderator and the immediate past three living Moderators are instructed to appoint an Ad Interim Committee of fifteen, broadly representative of all ages and points of view in the Presbyterian Church U. S., this committee

1. To study the need and opportunity for further cooperation and unity with other branches of the Presbyterian and Reformed family and also the obstacles that hinder such efforts, and
 2. To serve as a task force in relation to Assembly, synods, presbyteries, congregations and the agencies of the church, in discovering and promoting ways whereby the goals of greater unity in mission may be achieved, and
 3. To report annually to the Assembly until such time as the committee is dissolved.
- Members of this committee shall be named to three terms and arranged in classes, subject to reappointment in accordance with regular assembly procedure.
- Expenses of the committee shall be borne by the Office of the General Assembly.

61. From the Presbytery of Northwest Missouri

Whereas, it has been apparent for some time that restructuring of the Boards, Agencies, and Permanent Committees of the General Assembly is desirable, and necessary to coordinate and equip the Church for her life and mission in our time; and

Whereas, it is now doubtful that the proposed union between the Presbyterian Church in the United States and the Reformed Church in America will be approved, such union having our denomination in a process of study and restructure;

Therefore, the Presbytery of Northwest Missouri respectfully overtures the One Hundred Ninth General Assembly:

1. To continue the Ad Interim Committee on Restructuring Presbyteries and Synods appointed by the 108th General Assembly.
2. To increase the membership on this Committee from the present number of fifteen to twenty, such increase including representation from the women of the Church and a younger age group.
3. To direct this Ad Interim Committee on Restructure to include in its responsibilities, in addition to the assignment given by the 108th General Assembly, a study of the function and order of the Boards and Agencies of the General Assembly, including their relationship to lower Church courts and the larger ecumenical opportunities proposed, and to report to the 110th General Assembly a Plan for restructuring the organization of the General Assembly.
4. To direct this Committee to consult with representatives of the existing agencies of the General Assembly, the Committee of Twenty-four, the former Ad Interim Committee on Institutional Forms, the Church at large, and other denominations which have recently utilized the process of restructuring.
5. To seek ways of implementing these directives by:
 - a. Enabling members of this Committee to be relieved of other current responsibilities in the life of the Church, and,
 - b. Providing sufficient funds for the securing of staff and assistance for the Committee in its work.

To the Standing Committee on Inter-Church Comity and Union, 22-29, 56.

22. From the Synod of West Virginia:

Having experienced a satisfaction in areas of cooperation between the Synods of West Virginia of the United Presbyterian Church, U. S. A. and the Presbyterian Church, U. S., the Synod of West Virginia respectfully overtures the General Assembly to instruct its Committee on Inter-Church Relations to intensify its exploration of ways and means of reunion with the United Presbyterian Church, U. S. A. and other Reformed bodies.

23. From the Synod of North Carolina:

That Synod overture the General Assembly to establish a Permanent Committee on Relations with the UP-USA Church.

24-27, 56. From the Presbyteries of Athens, Hanover, Knoxville, Norfolk, and Nashville:

(Note: The substance of these Overtures is the same as the one for which the full text is given below. The Overtures have only minor differences in language. The full texts of all overtures will be in the hands of the Standing Committee—Stated Clerk.)

25. From the Presbytery of Hanover:

Hanover Presbytery respectfully overtures the General Assembly to determine that the method by which the General Assembly appoints the Presbyterian Church in the United States members of the Transitional Commission and of the Committee to Write a New Confession be by nomination by the Assembly's Nominating Committee to the General Assembly, with election following by due process.

28. From the Presbytery of Potomac:

Whereas, no clear indication is given in the proposed Plan of Union as to who shall have responsibility for nominating the Presbyterian Church in the United States' representatives to the Transitional Commission; and,

Whereas, the Permanent Nominating Committee is the duly constituted body for nominating persons to the various agencies and committees of the Church; and,

Whereas, this Transitional Commission, though not a permanent agency, is one of the most crucial committees or commissions for the future of our Church;

The Presbytery of Potomac respectfully overtures the 1969 General Assembly of the Presbyterian Church in the United States to ask its Permanent Nominating Committee in careful consultation with the boards, agencies and seminaries of the Church to appoint our representatives to the Transitional Commission authorized in the proposed Plan of Union.

29. From the Presbytery of Charleston:

Whereas, the General Assembly is represented in the Consultation on Church Union by eleven representatives; and,

Whereas, the cost of participation in the Consultation on Church Union for the year was $3,649; and,

Whereas, participation in the Consultation on Church Union diverts such personnel and funds from important programs of the Church; and,

Whereas, the complexities of uniting eight denominations representing differing theological traditions and forms of polity militate strongly against the success of the Consultation on Church Union; and,

Whereas, the purpose of church union may be better served by specific negotiations with individual church bodies;

Therefore, the Presbytery of Charleston respectfully overtures the General Assembly to discontinue its participation in the Consultation on Church Union.

To the Standing Committee on Inter-Church Agencies and Councils, 30.30. From the Synod of West Virginia:

The Synod of West Virginia respectfully overtures the General Assembly to amend Article IV. Membership in the Manual of the Permanent Committee on Inter-Church Relations by changing Section 3 to read, "When a vacancy occurs, The Permanent Nominating Committee shall nominate a person from that Synod to the General Assembly."

To the Standing Committee on Judicial Business, 1-3, 5-8, 10, 31-45, 55, 58.1. From the Presbytery of Asheville:

Whereas the Presbyterian Church in the United States employs lay personnel as a part of its missionary force in its mission fields; and,

Whereas a number of these employees have been elected to the office of Ruling Elder by their home congregations; and,

Whereas the Book of Church Order does not clearly define the position of an elder serving the Church outside the bounds of the local congregation (BCO 29-10 being too vague to be effective);

Therefore, the Presbytery of Asheville overtures the General Assembly of 1968, meeting in Montreat, North Carolina to take such action as is necessary to clarify the position of an elder serving outside the bounds of the local congregation in the interests of the Church.

2. From the Presbytery of Guyandotte:

Inasmuch as the proposed Form of Government for the Presbyterian Reformed Church in America which would result from a union of the Presbyterian Church, U. S. with the Reformed Church in America provides for a unicameral system of officers in the particular church; and,

Inasmuch as there seems to be a growing desire within the Presbyterian Church, U. S. for a unicameral system; and,

Inasmuch as it has not yet been determined if the proposed union with the Reformed Church in America will be consummated;

The Presbytery of Guyandotte respectfully overtures the General Assembly of the Presbyterian Church, U. S. as follows:

That the Book of Church Order, Sec. 12-5, be amended by deleting the last sentence and inserting the following: "A church by a majority vote of the congregation may elect to abolish the office of Deacon. In such a case, or in the case where Deacons cannot be secured, the duties of the office shall devolve upon the Ruling Elders," and that other necessary changes be made in the Book of Church Order to make the office of Deacon optional.

3. From the Presbytery of Northeast Texas:

The Presbytery of Northeast Texas respectfully overtures the 1969 General Assembly of the Presbyterian Church in the United States that:

Regarding the 1963 in these interpretation of Section 27-5 of the Book of Church Order: that this interpretation be amended to include the possibility of a candidate having acquired a knowledge of the original language or languages of Holy Scripture in other than formal academic studies, and that when a Presbytery, after examining such a candidate, is satisfied concerning his knowledge of the original languages of the Scriptures, it need not consider him an extraordinary candidate if his academic certificate omits the required language studies.

5-6. From the Presbyteries of Concord and Potomac:

Whereas, the organization known as "Concerned Presbyterians, Inc." has embarked on a well financed and aggressive campaign to circularize the membership of the churches of the Presbyterian Church in the U. S. without the knowledge and consent of the sessions of the churches; and,

Whereas, many people in churches are disturbed and in need of guidance in interpreting this material and its reliability, as it relates to the total program of the Church; and,

Whereas, in the material being circulated is a statement by the President of the organization (Address: "The State of the Church", Journal Day, August 1967) in which he said, "I think it would be accurate to say that the majority of the men who have been graduated from our four seminaries in the last 15 years lack the conviction that the first and foremost mission of the church is to preach the good news of salvation. Liberal professors in our seminaries have led these men to believe that the church's chief job today is to bring its corporate influence to bear in the realms of national defense, economics and social legislation"; and,

Whereas, together with this attack on Union Theological Seminary, Columbia Seminary, Louisville Theological Seminary, Austin Seminary, appeals are being made for support for an independent seminary not under the control of our denomination called, "The Reformed Theological Seminary" of Jackson, Mississippi; and,

Whereas, the statements of the General Assembly of 1934 and 1961 against circularizing the church were insufficient to deter this organization; and,

Whereas, ministers, sessions and other church members need the specific guidance of the General Assembly in the interpretation of this material which has spread unfounded suspicion and created disunity in the church;

Therefore, the Presbytery of Concord respectfully overtures the General Assembly to clearly admonish this organization to cease and desist from circularizing the membership of the churches of the Presbyterian Church in the U. S. in the future, and further, that the General Assembly make a statement as a public record which could be used in our sessions and congregations in refuting charges which discredit our ministers, seminaries, seminary professors and boards and agencies of our denomination.

[Note: Overture 6 from the Presbytery of Potomac is identical with the above Overture. The full texts of all overtures will be in the hands of the Standing Committee—Stated Clerk.]

58. From the Presbytery of Oklahoma:

Whereas, individuals and organizations, such as "Concerned Presbyterians, Inc.," are circularizing the members of our congregations without the knowledge or consent of our sessions; and,

Whereas, general charges against our ministers, seminaries and church boards are made in these communications rather than through the established procedures laid down in the Book of Church Order; and,

Whereas, they in an unconstitutional manner, seek to curtail and cut off support for our church boards and seminaries and thus weaken the work of the whole Church; and,

Whereas, the statements of the General Assemblies of 1934 and 1961 against such circularizing have up to now been insufficient to deter them;

Therefore, the Presbytery of Oklahoma respectfully overtures the General Assembly of 1969 to admonish these individuals and organizations to cease and desist from circularizing our members; and,

Further, that the General Assembly of 1969 direct that charges against individuals and agencies of the church be made through church courts as specified in the Book of Church Order.

7. From the Presbytery of Louisville:

Whereas, individuals and organizations, such as "Concerned Presbyterians, Inc.," are circularizing the members of our congregations without the knowledge or consent of our sessions; and,

Whereas, general charges against our ministers, seminaries and church boards are made in these communications rather than through the established procedures laid down in the Book of Church Order; and,

Whereas, they, in an unconstitutional manner, seek to curtail and cut off support for our church boards and seminaries and thus weaken the work of the whole Church; and,

Whereas, the statements of the General Assemblies of 1934 and 1961 against such circularizing have up to now been insufficient to deter them;

Therefore, the Presbytery of Louisville respectfully overtures the General Assembly of 1969 to admonish these individuals and organizations to cease and desist from circularizing our members and further, that the General Assembly of 1969 direct that charges against individuals and agencies of the Church be made through church courts as specified in the Book of Church Order.

8. From the Presbytery of John Knox:

Whereas, the gifts of the Spirit to the Church are given to unordained lay members as well as ordained (1 Corinthians 12); and,

Whereas, God has called in the past and is now calling many dedicated unordained lay members into the service of His Church at all levels; and,

Whereas, a presbytery may want to include dedicated, qualified, unordained members on commissions;

Therefore, be it resolved, that the Presbytery of John Knox respectfully overture the General Assembly to institute proceedings to change the Book of Church Order, 19-5, to include in the membership of a Commission of Presbytery, qualified lay members in addition to ministers and ruling elders.

10. From the Presbytery of the Everglades:

Whereas, the 108th General Assembly has sent down to the presbyteries for their advice and consent proposed amendments to the Book of Church Order on union churches, union presbyteries (classes) and union synods; and,

Whereas, each of these unions may be consummated with the approval of the next higher judicatory; and,

Whereas, there is some confusion concerning what is meant by this approval by the next higher judicatory;

Therefore, the Presbytery of the Everglades respectfully requests the General Assembly to inform the Presbytery if this required approval by the next higher judicatory means that each particular union church, presbytery, or synod respectively must be approved by a subsequent meeting of the next higher judicatory.

31-38. From the Presbyteries of Appomattox, Asheville, Central Mississippi, East Alabama, Everglades, Piedmont, St. Andrew, and Tuscaloosa:

Whereas (1) the General Assembly of 1967 (G.A. Min., 1967, p. 88) approved amending the Book of Church Order to allow Union Presbyteries/Synods, and appointed an ad interim committee to act jointly with committees from the United Presbyterian Church in the U.S.A. and the Reformed Church in America to produce a uniform procedure to be recommended to the highest judicatories of the three Churches; and,

Whereas, (2) the General Assembly of 1967 received a detailed constitutional study by the Permanent Judicial Commission (G.A. Min., 1967, pp. 233-239) of the issues, which study presented the conclusions that:

"... What is asked is, in baldest terms, that the General Assembly delegate to lower courts by constitutional amendment a power that has heretofore been its most jealously guarded power . . .

"It should be pointed out at the outset that an amendment of this type involves issues that go far beyond the mere mechanics of polity. It does not seek simply to clarify something already implicit in or to add something new to the constitution. It involves a shift of power and a fundamental change in procedures that would leave in question the effect on some presently well-defined and efficiently executed responsibilities on the Assembly level.

"If it is the will of the General Assembly to delegate its power of union to lower courts, after 'the most serious consideration' of the issues involved, it must be remembered that the Constitution had hedged this power about with a requirement that any change be with the approval and recommendation of the General Assembly, the advice and consent of three-fourths of the Presbyteries, and the approval and enactment of a subsequent meeting of the General Assembly. Any attempt to circumvent this safeguard by ruling otherwise would seriously undermine the whole concept of constitutional government in our Church. To be unquestionably constitutional, such amendments must have the advice and consent of three-fourths of the Presbyteries"; and,

Whereas, (3) the General Assembly of 1967 received also the following recommendation of the Permanent Judicial Commission (G.A. Min., 1967, p. 234) based upon its conclusions from its study:

"That amendments to allow and provide for Union Synods and/or Presbyteries require adoption under provisions of Section 30-3, BCO."

(This is the section of the Constitution requiring a vote of three-fourths of the presbyteries to effect a Church union); and,

Whereas, (4) the General Assembly of 1967, after consideration of the study and recommendations from the Permanent Judicial Commission, took the action recommended by the Permanent Judicial Commission and quoted in (3) above; and,

Whereas, (5) the ad interim committee appointed by the 1967 General Assembly reported to the General Assembly of 1968 the text of amendments proposed to allow Union Presbyteries/Synods (G.A. Min., 1968, pp. 41, 250), and the General Assembly of 1968 sent these to the presbyteries for advice and consent (G.A. Min. 1968, pp. 112), sending with the proposed amendments the counsel of the Permanent Judicial Commission for the presbyteries' consideration concerning these items, as follows:

"The Commission points out that the proposed drafts would entail a complete change from our present power vested in the highest court to power being given to Presbyteries and Synods in regard to union Presbyteries, union churches and union Synods. (BCO 18-6 (13 and 17).) (G.A. Min., 1968, pp. 117, 141.); and,

Whereas, (6) the General Assembly of 1968 received an overture from the Presbytery of Washburn asking "the General Assembly to reconsider the action of the 1967 (107th) General Assembly in interpreting the proposal for union Presbyteries and Synods as being 'full organic union and consolidation of the Presbyterian Church in the United States with any other ecclesiastical body' under section 30-3 of the Book of Church Order, and to rule that the proposal be considered under section 30-1 of the Book of Church Order dealing with amendments." (G.A. Min., 1968, p. 34.); and,

Whereas, (7) the Permanent Judicial Commission, as required by the Constitution in section 20-2, made recommendation on the overture from the Presbytery of Washburn, rejecting the interpretation placed by the Presbytery on the action of the 1967 General Assembly, and affirming again what must be done if action so to amend the Book of Church Order were to be "unquestionably constitutional," as follows:

"The Commission recommends that this overture be answered in the negative for the same reasons given to the 1967 General Assembly for the action which it took. These reasons appear in full in the Minutes of the 1967 General Assembly at pages 234-239, and support the position that to be unquestionably constitutional, action must be taken under Section 30-3 of the Book of Church Order." (G.A. Min., 1968, p. 143.); and,

Whereas, (8) the General Assembly of 1968 nullified the action of the General Assembly of 1967 on this matter, by adopting recommendation C, 3, (e) of the Standing Committee on Inter-Church Comity and Union, which quoted the overture from the Presbytery of Washburn (text of which is given in full in (6) above), and continued:

"The (Standing) Committee recommends that this Assembly rule that the proposals for Union Presbyteries and Union Synods submitted to the presbyteries for their advice and consent be considered under the provisions of the Book of Church Order "Chapter 30-1 (requiring the advice and consent of a majority of the presbyteries.) (G.A. Min., 1968, p. 118.)

While in connection with other overtures before the Standing Committee the Committee's report clearly notes the recommendation from the Permanent Judicial Commission relating to that overture, in the case of the overture on this matter from the Presbytery of Washburn the Standing Committee's report has no acknowledgment that the recommendation of the Permanent Judicial Commission had been considered. The Standing Committee's report does, however, make note that the vote on this matter within the Standing Committee was 13-12. (See page 3 of the duplicated report of the Standing Committee on Inter-Church Comity and Union, 1968 General Assembly.); and,

Whereas, (9) the action of the General Assembly of 1968 in (8) above was, in the opinion of a number of those present, taken without adequate discussion of the matter because of a precipitate calling for "the question" and closing of debate while a number still sought to be recognized and to speak, and, moreover, taken without adequate consideration of the grave issues raised by the Permanent Judicial Commission both in 1967 and in 1968 as to what vote would be required for such amendment to the Constitution to be "unquestionably constitutional", which issues were determinative for the 1967 Assembly in its debate and its action; and,

Whereas, (10) it is doubtful whether the General Assembly, which is a continuous court adjourning from one meeting to the next as does any proper parliamentary body (See Form of Government, sec. 18-7; also Assembly's Digest, 1965, p. 112.), and which is bound by Robert's

Rules of Order (See Standing Rules of the General Assembly, 14.1 as found at G.A. Min., 1968, p. 267.), could in 1968 validly rescind an action taken at the previous meeting in 1967 without proper motion and vote "to rescind" as required in Robert's Rules of Order, sec. 37, pp. 169, which motion and vote were not taken by the General Assembly of 1968; and,

Whereas, (11) the summary effect of the actions above recited is to render yet more uncertain than before whether action to amend the Constitution to allow Union Presbyteries/Synods would be "unquestionably constitutional" action if based upon the Form of Government, sec. 30-1 and obtained by the advice and consent from only a majority of the Presbyteries; and,

Whereas, (12) action by presbyteries and synods to establish Union Presbyteries and/or Synods under provisions placed in the Form of Government by methods which were of doubtful ecclesiastical constitutionality might well evoke extensive and lengthy ecclesiastical litigation over the matter; and,

Whereas, (13) action by the General Assembly which would open the issue as to whether this Church is clearly and fully observing its own Constitution might well produce ground for future civil litigation involving congregations and courts of the Presbyterian Church in the United States in which argument might be: Since the ecclesiastical constitution is used by the denomination in ways which are of doubtful constitutionality, then the provisions of that ecclesiastical constitution are no longer binding upon the congregations and courts of the denomination;

Therefore, the Presbytery of Appomattox most solemnly overtures the General Assembly of 1969 to take no final action to approve and enact the proposed Form of Government chapters 32 and 33, dealing with Union Presbyteries and with Union Synods respectively, unless the General Assembly has received the advice and consent of three-fourths of the presbyteries.

[Note: Overtures 32-38 are identical with the above Overture. The full texts of all overtures will be in the hands of the Standing Committee—Stated Clerk.]

55. From the Presbytery of Enoree:

[Note: This Overture is identical with Overtures 31-38 (text given above) in using only "Whereases" 1 and 2. The full texts of all overtures will be in the hands of the Standing Committee—Stated Clerk.]

39. From the Presbytery of Florida:

(Note: This Overture is identical with Overtures 31-38 (text given above) down through the eighth "Whereas." The request of the Overture from the Presbytery of Florida is as given below. The full texts of all overtures will be in the hands of the Standing Committee—Stated Clerk.)

Therefore, the Presbytery of Florida most solemnly overtures the 109th General Assembly of the Presbyterian Church, U. S. to take no final action to approve and enact the proposed Form of Government Chapters 32 and 33, dealing with Union Presbyteries and with Union Synods, respectively, until such time as the General Assembly has first submitted such proposals to the several presbyteries for their advice and consent to be considered by them under the provisions of Chapter 30-3 of the Book of Church Order and has received proper expression of the advice and consent of three-fourths of the presbyteries as required by said provisions of said Book of Church Order.

40. From the Presbytery of Holston:

(Note: This Overture is identical with Overtures 31-38 (text given above) in using only "Whereases" 1, 2, 3, 4, 11, 12. The full texts of all overtures will be in the hands of the Standing Committee—Stated Clerk.)

41-45. From the Presbyteries of Louisiana, Pee Dee, Bethel, Westminster, and Harmony:

(Note: These Overtures are asking the same conclusion as those above in slightly different language. The full texts of all overtures will be in the hands of the Standing Committee—Stated Clerk.)

To the Standing Committee on the Minister and His Work, 9, 11, 46-49.

9. From the Presbytery of Lexington:

Whereas, it sometimes would be to the definite advantage of both minister and church to suspend the six months waiting requirement before a Stated or Interim Supply can be called to a permanent pastoral relationship by the church in which he serves, the Presbytery of Lexington respectfully overtures the 1969 General Assembly that the following amendments to the Book of Church Order be made to Sections 21—2 and 3 and 25—4 (a) and (b), to make possible the suspension of this requirement when the situation merits:

"The Presbytery shall not approve a Minister's being called to a permanent pastoral relationship by a church which he has served as Stated or Interim Supply, unless a period of six months has elapsed between the ending of such supply relationship and the church's issuing a call to a permanent pastoral relationship."

"In extraordinary cases the Presbytery may, by a vote of three-fourths of the members present, waive the six month regulation. A full record of such action and the reason therefor shall be recorded in the minutes of Presbytery."

"A Minister may not be called to be Pastor or Associate Pastor by a church which he has served as Stated Supply, unless six months have elapsed since the ending of the temporary relationship."

"In extraordinary cases the Presbytery may, by a vote of three-fourths of the members present, waive the six month regulation. A full record of such action and the reason therefor shall be recorded in the minutes of Presbytery."

11. From the Presbytery of John Calvin:

The Presbytery of John Calvin respectfully overtures the General Assembly of the Presbyterian Church in the United States to amend the Book of Church Order (or the Proposed Plan of Union) at the point of the eligibility of the Associate Pastor to become the Pastor in the event of a vacancy, by striking from Section 25-3-(a)-(2) the words, "but an Associate Pastor is not eligible to succeed the Pastor in a church which they serve together", and adding the following: "In the event that a vacancy occurs in the position of the Pastor, the Associate Pastor may succeed him only after a period of six months and through the normal process by which a congregation calls a Pastor."

46. From the Presbytery of Northeast Texas:

Whereas, the office of Assistant Pastor in the Presbyterian Church, U. S. has been the subject of much discussion and of frequent revision in the Book of Church Order in recent years; and,

Whereas, the tendency of such revisions had been to strengthen the office, to give it more dignity, as well as security; and,

Whereas, the office is still somewhat ambiguous, with no call by the congregation and no seat on the session, yet with the name Pastor still used in connection with the office, with the result that some are calling for the abolition of the office altogether; but,

Whereas, there is an apparent need for flexibility in ministerial staff, so that an office of Assistant Pastor might serve in the education and training of younger ministers, the pastoral employment of older ministers, and in the use of other ministers with special skills, perhaps on a limited-term basis;

Therefore, be it resolved that the Presbytery of Northeast Texas overture the General Assembly to refer the matter of definition and function of the office of Assistant Pastor to the Permanent Theological Committee for study and recommendation back to the next General Assembly.

47. From the Presbytery of the Southwest:

Whereas, the retirement of a minister is a momentous event in his life and in his service to Christ to the Church; and,

Whereas, the installation of a minister as a Pastor of a congregation is an act of Presbytery;

Therefore, the Presbytery of the Southwest requests the General Assembly to make necessary changes in the Book of Church Order to establish a special service of retirement in the particular church upon the honorable retirement of a minister.

48. From the Presbytery of Winston-Salem:

Whereas, the problem of attracting and retaining candidates for the ministry has increased in recent years; and,

Whereas, the Church's need for qualified ministerial students is usually interpreted as requiring not only seminary enrollment or pre-enrollment, but also recognized candidacy by a church court, thus complicating the decision of a man to enter upon theological education; and,

Whereas, the questions posed to a candidate at the time of his reception demand an affirmative reply to a definite commitment to preparation to the ministry (24-4); and,

Whereas, theologically educated men and women, whether ordained or not, greatly enrich the life of the Church;

Therefore, the Presbytery of Winston-Salem respectfully overtures the 109th General Assembly of the Presbyterian Church in the United States to appoint a committee composed of teaching and ruling elders with experience on presbytery Candidate Committees, seminary teachers, and seminary students, with women represented on the committee, to review the entire question of requirements for becoming candidates for the ministry with a view to the possibility of revision of requirements by qualifying the commitment made by the candidate in the direction of a promise diligently to enter upon theological education rather than specific preparation for the ministry.

49. From the Presbytery of South Carolina:

Whereas, there has been a strong tendency on the part of our Church courts to call parish ministers to various administrative offices that could be filled capably by lay personnel; and,

Whereas, our boards and agencies have also elected and employed many parish ministers in positions that could be filled by lay people; and,

Whereas, there has been a decline in the number of candidates for the ministry and the number enrolled in seminaries; and,

Whereas, we have too many of our churches without ministers;

We, therefore, respectfully overture the General Assembly to instruct its boards and agencies and all lower courts of the Church to seek to reverse this trend by electing, calling, or employing lay personnel when at all possible.

(Note: Overture 50 is inoperative due to the failure of Chapter 33, BCO, regarding Union Synods—Stated Clerk.)

To the Standing Committee on Review and Control of Synods, 50-52.50. From the Synod of Missouri:

The Synod of Missouri, Presbyterian Church in the United States, meeting at Columbia, Missouri on February 6, 1969, respectfully overtures the One Hundred Ninth General Assembly of the Presbyterian Church in the United States to constitute it a Union Synod of the Presbyterian Church in the United States and the United Presbyterian Church in the United States of America in accordance with Chapter 33 of the Book of Church Order.

PLAN OF UNION

(1) This Plan of Union is adopted by the Synod of Missouri, Presbyterian Church in the United States, and the Synod of Missouri, United Presbyterian Church in the United States of America, effective as of January 1, 1970. Each of the Synods has approved this Plan by a two-thirds majority of those present at a meeting specifically called for such a purpose, on February 6, 1969, at Columbia, Missouri.

(2) The purpose of the union shall be the furtherance of a united witness and mission for all churches and presbyteries within the union synod; the administration of a single program of nurture and service; and the responsible fulfillment of the functions and duties of a synod as specified in the constitution of each church.

(3) The union synod shall be subject to the constitution of each denomination as set forth below:

(a) The Synod shall submit its records at least annually, and whenever requested, to each General Assembly.

(b) The union synod shall be under the discipline of each Church according to standing rules agreed upon in harmony with the constitution of each denomination where they coincide; and in harmony with the mandatory provisions of the laws of one Church where the other is permissive; and at the choice of the synod where they are contradictory.

(c) Wherever the constitutions of the denominations differ, the mandatory provisions of the one shall apply in all cases where the other is permissive. Wherever there are conflicting mandatory provisions (except as provided in subsection (3) (b) above), the union synod shall overture the General Assemblies of the denominations to resolve the conflict, either by authoritative interpretation or by constitutional amendment.

(d) Complaints against the actions of the synod shall be made to one General Assembly only, at the choice of the synod, and its decision shall be binding on all parties to such action.

(4) The membership of the union synod shall consist of all ministers and churches of all the presbyteries within the area encompassed by the uniting synods. The union synod shall be an open synod at its organization. The standing rules to be adopted at the initial meeting may provide for a delegated synod.

(5) By this act of uniting synods of the United Presbyterian Church in the United States of America and the Presbyterian Church in the United States, all presbyteries within the jurisdiction of the uniting synods shall become union presbyteries, and shall be governed according to the applicable provisions of this constitution.

(6) The union synod shall cause a corporation to be formed under the laws of the State of Missouri. That corporation shall include in its articles of charter the substance of subsections (1), (2), and (3) above. All property of the uniting synods, real and personal, shall be transferred to the corporation formed under this section. The new corporation shall be the legal successor of the corporations, if any, of the uniting synods, and it shall be bound to administer any trust property or moneys received in accordance with provisions of the original establishment of the trust. All liabilities of each uniting synod shall be liabilities of the union synod.

(7) The union synod, at its first meeting, shall adopt standing rules which shall define the operation of the union synod in such a manner as to fulfill the functions of synods as defined in the constitution of each denomination.

(8) Each minister in a union staff position shall be, or become, a member of a presbytery within the union synod.

(9) This union synod may be dissolved by a two-thirds vote at two stated meetings of the synod, not less than one year nor more than two years apart, subject to the concurrence of the General Assemblies involved.

(10) If this union synod should at any time be dissolved, or cease to operate under this plan of union as it is or as it may be modified by both denominations acting concurrently, all property, real and personal, of the union synod shall be divided between the denominations or their courts of jurisdiction on the basis of the origin of the property, if the origin is determinable. If the origin is not determinable, then the property shall be divided equally between the denominations or their courts of jurisdiction, as may be proper.

(11) No provision in this plan of union shall be construed as modifying or amending the constitution of this church in its application to any but union synods organized under the appropriate chapter of the Book of Church Order.

51. From the Presbytery of Holston:

The Presbytery of Holston respectfully overtures the General Assembly to change the bounds of the Synod of Appalachia to exclude Watauga County, North Carolina, with its churches and ministers, from the Presbytery of Holston, and to include said county, with its churches and ministers, as a part of Concord Presbytery; and that the bounds of the Synod of North Carolina be changed so as to include Watauga County, North Carolina, with its churches and ministers, contingent upon the approval of the Synod of Appalachia and the Synod of North Carolina in their 1969 meetings; and, in the case of the Baird's Creek Church, contingent upon the approval of that congregation; with the stipulation that the churches concerned pay their respective benevolence commitments to Holston Presbytery, for 1969; and, further, that the transfer become effective on the date of the approval of the later of the two synods holding its 1969 meeting.

52. From the Presbytery of Concord:

1—That the Presbytery of Concord express its willingness to receive the First Presbyterian Church of Boone, N. C., the Ruple Memorial Presbyterian Church, Blowing Rock, N. C. and the Baird's Creek Presbyterian Church of Watauga County into this Presbytery. We understand that the Presbytery of Holston, of the Synod of Appalachia, has taken action expressing willingness to dismiss these Churches to Concord Presbytery.

2—The Presbytery of Concord overtures the Synod of North Carolina to express its agreement to the change of bounds of the Synod of North Carolina to include Watauga County, which will result from the transfer of these churches.

3—The Presbytery of Concord overtures the General Assembly to approve the change of bounds between the Synod of North Carolina and the Synod of Appalachia, effective on the date that both the Synods involved have given their approval to this transfer, such date being that of the Synod that meets the latest.

To the Standing Theological Committee, 53.

53. From the Presbytery of Lexington:

Whereas, medical technology has advanced to where organ transplants are, at present, taking place; and,

Whereas, medical technology promises more and greater organ transplants in the future; and,

Whereas, organ transplants require, in some cases, the donor being declared legally dead before the removal of the organ (such as the heart); and,

Whereas, issue and dispute have already arisen out of the definition of death for organ transplants (legal 25, medical); and,

Whereas, this whole matter places the Christian in a possible theological and medical tension of conscience; and,

Whereas, this is just one of many medical spectrums coming to the Christian;

Therefore, the Presbytery of Lexington respectively overtures the General Assembly to make a study of the theological dimensions herein involved and, in result, make recommendations for guidance in the consciences of the members of our Church on this very vital matter.

OVERTURES NOT ANSWERED BY 1969 ASSEMBLY BUT REFERRED TO THE PERMANENT JUDICIAL COMMISSION UNDER FORM OF GOVERNMENT SECTIONS 20-6 AND 20-7, AND ASSEMBLY'S STANDING RULE 7-3

(Note: This material, as required by the Constitution, is referred to the Permanent Judicial Commission for their report to the 1970 General Assembly—Stated Clerk.)

A. From the Presbytery of Brazos:

The Presbytery of Brazos respectfully overtures the General Assembly to enact a constitutional revision in accordance with Paragraph 42-17 in the Book of Church Order of the United Presbyterian Church.

B. From the Presbytery of John Knox:

Whereas, there are certain individuals and organizations, known to us as "Concerned Presbyterians, Inc.," and a certain independent weekly newspaper known to us as "The Presbyterian Journal,"; and,

Whereas, the activities of "Concerned Presbyterians, Inc." take the form of unauthorized circularization of our congregations and sessions with communications containing general charges against our ministers, seminaries, and church boards, and with appeals to withhold funds from the legally constituted and approved boards and agencies of our church; and,

Whereas, these activities of "Concerned Presbyterians, Inc." are supported editorially by "The Presbyterian Journal"; and,

Whereas, this is irregular churchmanship and evidences a total disregard of the Presbyterian order of government, and therefore constitutes a threat to the peace, purity, and unity of the Presbyterian Church in the United States;

Therefore, the Presbytery of John Knox, while recognizing and affirming the right of dissent, respectfully overtures the General Assembly of 1969 to admonish the above described individuals and organizations to cease and desist from this, and any other, divisive action, and,

Further, that the General Assembly of 1969 direct that charges against individuals and agencies of the church be made through church courts as specified in the Book of Church Order.

C. From the Presbytery of Northwest Missouri:

Whereas, it now appears that the proposed union between the Presbyterian Church in the United States and the Reformed Church in America may be rejected; and,

Whereas, the Proposed Plan of Union would have vested all duties associated with the traditional offices of Elder and Deacon in one body to be known as the Consistory; and,

Whereas, we believe it would be in the best interests of the effective conduct of the ministry of Jesus Christ in the missions of some particular churches to be able to order their work in this manner;

Therefore, we, the Presbytery of Northwest Missouri, respectfully overture the 109th General Assembly to amend the Book of Church Order to provide that:

A Particular Congregation may, at its discretion, vest all of the duties associated with the traditional offices of Elder and Deacon in one body which shall be the Session.

D. From the Presbytery of Northwest Missouri:

Whereas, the function and authority of Trustees in a Presbyterian congregation is not sufficiently clear;

Be it therefore resolved that Northwest Missouri Presbytery overture the General Assembly to render an "in thesi" deliverance on whether trustees may disperse at their discretion, without regard to the stated will of the Session, the Board of Deacons or the congregation, funds left to the congregation in the name of the trustees.

E. From the Presbytery of Columbia:

Whereas, the General Assembly has consistently answered in the negative requests for changes in the Book of Church Order allowing "dual" membership in Presbyteries of our Church and other Reformed bodies, except in the case of overseas missionaries and ministers serving "union" congregations; and,

Whereas, the proposed change in the Constitution to permit the forming of "Union Presbyteries" and/or "union synods"—sent down to the Presbyteries by the 1968 General Assembly —has evidently failed to receive the affirmative vote of the required number of Presbyteries; and,

Whereas, certain “joint work” has been established by some presbyteries with the apparent expectation that the proposed amendment would be enacted and such work could then become officially one; and,

Whereas, there may have been instances already of the reception of ministers of other Reformed bodies in a “dual membership” capacity by some of our Presbyteries in anticipation of the establishment of the provisions of the proposed amendments; and,

Whereas, the General Assembly of 1968 (which sent down to the Presbyteries the proposed amendments) also answered in the negative an overture from one of our Presbyteries seeking to provide that a minister of another Reformed body be permitted to serve in such “dual” capacity;

Now, therefore, the Presbytery of Columbia respectfully overtures the General Assembly to give an interpretation, through the recommendation of the Permanent Judicial Commission, of the meaning and intent, at this time, of the Constitutional provisions and the actions of the previous General Assemblies on this question to the end that uniform practice under the Constitution may ensue throughout the courts of our Church.

RESOLUTIONS NOT ANSWERED BY 1969 ASSEMBLY BUT REFERRED TO THE PERMANENT JUDICIAL COMMISSION UNDER FORM OF GOVERNMENT SECTIONS 20-6 AND 20-7, AND ASSEMBLY'S STANDING RULE 7-3

(Note: This material, as required by the Constitution, is referred to the Permanent Judicial Commission for their report to the 1970 General Assembly—Stated Clerk.)

Resolution One

Whereas the so-called “three-fourths rule” (BCO 30-2(2), 30-3(2)) requires the advice and consent of three-fourths of the Presbyteries to changes in the Confessional Statements, and for full organic union of our denomination with any other ecclesiastical body, and for any change in these three-fourths requirements; and,

Whereas these provisions have the effect of giving what amounts to veto power to any minority of 26% of the Presbyteries; and,

Whereas the historic and Providential pattern of growth in our church has produced Presbyteries of such a variety of sizes that forty-one percent of our Presbyteries—the thirty-one Presbyteries with less than ten thousand communicants each—represent only 21% of our total constituency; and,

Whereas with this situation there exists the inequitable and bizarre possibility that a combination of nineteen Presbyteries representing as few as 15% of our constituency could exercise this minority veto; and,

Whereas the Holy Spirit seems obviously to be leading the Church in our day into paths closed to our denomination by this three-fourths rule; and,

Whereas the three-fourths rule as applied to BCO 30-3(2) was originally enacted by the advice and consent of less than three-fourths of the Presbyteries, (1914 G. A. Minutes, p. 69); and,

Whereas more than three-fourths of the Presbyteries, in advising and consenting to the proposed plan of union with the Reformed Church in America, have agreed to the relaxing of the three-fourths rule;

Now, therefore be it resolved that this One Hundred Ninth General Assembly refers the following proposed amendments to The Book of Church Order to the Permanent Judicial Commission with instructions to report to the One Hundred Tenth General Assembly:

1. Amend Paragraph 30-2(2) of The Book of Church Order by substituting “two-thirds” for “three-fourths”.
2. Amend Paragraph 30-3(2) of The Book of Church Order by substituting “two-thirds” for “three-fourths”.

WILLIAM I. BOAND, et al

Resolution Seven

Whereas, much distress and discord has recently arisen in several presbyteries because proposed amendments to the Book of Church Order were brought up for vote without any previous notice having been given that such amendments would be considered at such meeting; and,

Whereas, the purpose of requiring advice and consent of a majority of presbyteries is to obtain the consensus of the church on such important issues; and,

Whereas, in the interest of common fairness and in obtaining a true representative expression from the presbyteries, it is desirous that proper notice be given to each church in a presbytery before such an issue is brought before a presbytery meeting for vote;

Now therefore, be it resolved that Chapter 30 of the Form of Government of the Book of Church Order be amended by adding an additional paragraph as follows:

30-5. No vote shall be taken by a Presbytery on any issue sent to such Presbytery by The General Assembly for advice and consent under this Chapter unless at least 10 days notice has been given, in writing, to each Teaching Elder enrolled in the Presbytery and to the clerk of the session of each church in the Presbytery. Such notice shall state the issue to be presented for advice and consent and the time and place of such Presbytery meeting.

REPORT OF PERMANENT JUDICIAL COMMISSION ON CASES OF PROCESS

Mr. Joseph W. Grier, Chairman of the Permanent Judicial Commission, was introduced by the Moderator. The Commission was seated on the platform and all members present were introduced by the Chairman.

The Stated Clerk read from the Constitution the rules, procedures, and authority of the Commission.

Rev. James E. Drinkard,, a member of the Commission, read the opinion of the Commission concerning the memorial of Rev. Kent E. Kelley, of the Christian Reformed Church, Savannah, Georgia. It was admitted to record as follows:

MEMORIAL

Memorial of Rev. Kent E. Kelley of the Christian Reformed Church in Savannah, Georgia, against the Presbytery of Savannah and the Synod of Georgia to the General Assembly of the Presbyterian Church in the United States, dated April 18, 1968.

The 108th General Assembly, upon the recommendation of the Standing Committee on Judicial Business, referred the above memorial to the Permanent Judicial Commission to determine whether the General Assembly has jurisdiction in the cause and if so, to hear such memorial, take any appropriate action thereon, and report to the 1969 General Assembly (General Assembly Minutes, 1968, p. 108).

The Commission notes that such a referral is not within the scope of the authority of the Permanent Judicial Commission as set out in Chapter 20 of the Book of Church Order. The Commission therefore treats the referral as the appointment of a Special Judicial Commission in this cause, which Commission is composed of the members of the Permanent Judicial Commission.

The memorial asks that the Presbytery of Savannah and the Synod of Georgia be censured for neglect of duty (BCO, Section 114-5) for not taking proper action with respect to a charge of personal offense which Mr. Kelley entered with the Presbytery of Savannah by letter dated January 18, 1966.

In 1964 the John Knox Presbyterian Church, Presbytery of Savannah, desired to call Mr. Kelley, then a member of Athens Presbytery, as its Pastor. On the recommendation of the Commission on the Minister and His Work of Savannah Presbytery, the call was not approved. Mr. Kelley charges that the Chairman of the Presbytery's Commission on the Minister and His Work made false statements to the Presbytery of Savannah in connection with its consideration of the call to the John Knox Presbyterian Church.

Mr. Kelley's memorial to the General Assembly states that his letter of January 18, 1966, was neither read to Presbytery, considered by Presbytery, nor otherwise acted upon in a constitutional manner by Presbytery and that the letter was only received as information by the Synod of Georgia.

Section 114-6 of the Book of Church Order is assigned as authority for the memorial. In substance, this Section provides that when any court having appellate jurisdiction is advised by the records of the court next below or by memorial or any other satisfactory method of any important delinquency or grossly unconstitutional procedure of the lower court, it shall cite the lower court to appear and show what it has done or failed to do in the case in question. It thus appears that if the statements of the memorial were not contradicted by the records of the Presbytery of Savannah and the Synod of Georgia, this would be an appropriate case in which to afford relief under the provisions of Section 114-6.

In considering this matter the Commission has taken notice of the minutes of the General Assembly, the Synod of Georgia, and the Presbytery of Savannah with reference to this matter (BCO, Section 106-8). These disclose that upon receipt of Mr. Kelley's letter of January 18, 1966, the Presbytery of Savannah appointed a special Committee to consider the charge (BCO, Sections 19-1, 104-2; Minutes of the Presbytery of Savannah, Winter, 1966, p. 23), that the Committee found the charges groundless and Presbytery approved (Minutes of Presbytery of Savannah, Spring, 1966, p. 47).

This was the proper procedure for the Presbytery to follow with respect to the charges (BCO, Section 104-2). The action of Presbytery was subject to complaint (BCO, Section 117-1) but none was taken. Instead, Mr. Kelley on March 2, 1966, addressed a letter to Synod stating that he was closing his file and placing the matter in Synod's hands "as the proper court of review and control (BCO, Sections 114-1, 114-2, 114-5)."

Thereafter the minutes of the Presbytery of Savannah approving the finding of the Special Committee were approved by the Synod of Georgia and subsequently the minutes of the Synod were approved by the 1967 General Assembly.

It thus appears that the Presbytery of Savannah and the Synod of Georgia have handled the charges of Mr. Kelley in the manner prescribed by the Book of Church Order so that no delinquencies or unconstitutional proceedings are disclosed. Hence there is no occasion for a citation or hearing under the provision of BCO Section 114-6.

It further appears that under precedents of the General Assembly the action of the General Assembly of 1967 in approving the minutes of the Synod of Georgia for 1966 and the action of the Synod of Georgia in approving the minutes of the Presbytery of Savannah have estopped the right of review of these minutes by appeal, complaint and memorial (Assembly's Digest, 1965, p. 230, with reference to Minutes of the General Assembly, 1913, p. 69).

The secretary of the Commission is instructed to inform the parties that the record of the Commission will be filed with the Stated Clerk of the General Assembly on February 14, 1969.

Appended at this first point is that portion of the minutes of the meeting of the Permanent Judicial Commission at Atlanta, Georgia, on February 5, 1969, recording the handling of this "memorial." This completes the submitting of a full Record on this matter to the General Assembly, which shall, under BCO Section 118-2, enter this action of the Special Commission on its minutes:

"The Permanent Judicial Commission of the General Assembly of the Presbyterian Church in the United States met pursuant to the call of the Chairman at North Avenue Presbyterian Church, Atlanta, Georgia, beginning at 9:00 a.m., February 5, 1969. The meeting was opened with prayer by Mr. Moffatt.

Judge David E. Cuppett, Jr., a member of the Commission, read the report of the Commission in the case of Arnold B. Poole, et al, Complainants, versus the Synod of Florida, Respondent as follows:

ARNOLD B. POOLE, et al., Complainants
v.

G. A. Complaint
No. 1-1969

SYNOD OF FLORIDA, Respondent

This is a complaint against the Synod of Florida which involves the authority of a Presbytery over the work and call of its ministers.

The original action in this case was taken by Westminster Presbytery during the 1968 school crisis in Florida. There was a called meeting of the Presbytery on March 2, 1968 for the following purposes:

- "1. To consider the school crisis and its implications for the ministers of Presbytery;
2. To consider other business proceeding therefrom; and
3. To receive and act upon the following recommendation from the Commission on the Minister and His Work:
'At the request of two ministers of the Presbytery and with the concurrence of their session, Presbytery grant them permission to teach in the public schools during the present school crisis'."

At said meeting Presbytery adopted the following motions:

- "1. That Presbytery counsel its members to double their efforts to serve as peacemakers and instruments of reconciliation during the present school crisis, and further covenant to support each other in fervent prayer to this end.
2. That all ministers of Westminster Presbytery be enjoined from teaching in the public schools as substitute teachers unless the authority is granted under their present pastoral call."

A formal complaint requesting Synod to reverse paragraph 2 of these motions was filed with the Synod of Florida by members of Westminster Presbytery. Synod ordered the complaint to be heard under the report of its committee on Judicial Business, (Synod of Florida Minutes, 1968, page 21).

On June 26, 1968, the report of this committee was made as follows, (Synod of Florida Minutes, 1968, page 37):

"The Judicial Committee of the Synod of Florida met on Monday evening, June 24, 1968, at 7:00 p.m. at Florida Presbyterian College. All members of the Judicial Committee were present. Dr. Arnold B. Poole and Mr. P. William Presley, Jr., recused themselves as members of Westminster Presbytery.

"The following Complaint against Westminster Presbytery was heard:

'Whereas, on March 2, 1968, in a called meeting of Westminster Presbytery in Bradenton, Florida, the following motion was passed:

'That all Ministers of Westminster Presbytery be enjoined from teaching in Public Schools as substitute teachers unless the authority is granted under their present Pastoral Call.'

And

'Whereas, This action binds the conscience of the ministers, a violation of paragraph 14-3(1) in the BCO; and,

'Whereas, this action sustains the view that the Ministry of Presbyterian pastors is within the Church membership alone which view has been voided by the General Assembly of our Church most recently in the Report of the Interim Committee on Institution forms at the 107th General Assembly; and,

'Whereas, this action discourages ministers from being involved in activities supporting the community life and areas of community service; and,

'Whereas, this tends to make a general rule for ministers of Presbytery without taking particular situations into consideration; and,

'Whereas, many ministers find an involvement in such activities as a means of reconciliation, evangelism, or of community service;

'Therefore, be it known that the undersigned file a formal complaint with the Synod of Florida, requesting the Synod to reverse this action of the Presbytery of Westminster.'

'Fifteen members of Westminster Presbytery signed the Complaint. The aforesaid Complaint was found to be proper and admissable according to Paragraph 116-4 of the Book of Church Order.'

"The Judicial Committee heard the complainants in the case and the respondents appointed by Westminster Presbytery. The same length of time was given to both parties for presentation of their case, rebuttal, and summation. A fine Christian spirit was manifested by both parties.

"The Judicial Committee unanimously recommends that Synod not sustain the Complaint (in each of its items) for the reason that Paragraph 26-9 of the Book of Church Order provides that Presbytery has the authority to grant or deny permission to a minister to accept work which is not under the jurisdiction of any Church Court and to determine what is work beyond that provided for in the pastoral call.

"The Committee suggests that it would be wise for Presbytery to answer requests to accept work which is not under the jurisdiction of any Church Court, by action on individual cases as they arise rather than by making blanket statements."

Following a motion and second to adopt the report, Synod heard from the complainants and respondents and other members of Synod. Upon a standing vote the recommendation of the committee not to sustain the complaint was defeated. Upon motion and second from the floor, Synod voted by means of a standing vote to sustain the complaint.

On June 27, 1968, Arnold B. Poole and others lodged a formal complaint against the action of Synod in the following language (Synod of Florida minutes 1968, page 38):

- "1. Be it known that at the Stated Meeting of the Synod of Florida on June 26, 1968, at Florida Presbyterian College in St. Petersburg, Florida, the Synod defeated the unanimous recommendation of the Synod's Judicial Committee, which recommended that the Synod not sustain the complaint against Westminster Presbytery's action on March 2, 1968, taken in Bradenton, Florida.

2. This action of the Synod of Florida is a denial of Presbytery's original jurisdiction and authority over the life of the ministers of Westminster Presbytery as defined in the Constitution of the Presbyterian Church in the U.S. (BCO—16:2, 3, 15, 16; 27:5; 104:1, 2)
3. This action would void and nullify the Presbyterian Constitutional procedure for granting, amending terms and conditions of a minister's call, and this, once again, violates our Constitution. (BCO—26:3, 9; 25:2; 16:2, 3, 15, 16)
4. It was obvious to some of the members of Synod that it was impossible to get a completely objective consideration of the facts in this case because of the emotional atmosphere which prevails in Florida, due to the recent State Educational Crisis.
5. The undersigned hereby file a formal complaint with the General Assembly against the Synod of Florida, requesting the General Assembly to reverse the action of the Synod of Florida and confirm the unanimous action taken by Synod's Judicial Committee and thereby sustain the action taken by Westminster Presbytery on March 2, 1968."

The Permanent Judicial Commission found the complaint to be in order and set the time and place for hearing the case at 9:00 a.m., Thursday, April 24, 1969, in Mobile, Alabama. Notice was directed to be given to complainants and respondents (Report of Permanent Judicial Commission 1969, Item 1). (See Appendix, page 132.)

The complaint was heard by the Permanent Judicial Commission on April 24, 1969. The complainants were represented by the Reverend Arnold B. Poole. The respondents were represented by the Reverend Hugh F. Ash and the Reverend Michael L. Andrews.

Because of the manner in which the complaint is drawn the Commission has been unable to consider separately each numbered paragraph in the complaint, (Compare BCO 116-7). The Commission has found it necessary to consider the complaint as a whole and to respond to the substance of the charge as expressed in the complaint as a whole.

The substance of the complaint is that the motion "that all ministers of Westminster Presbytery be enjoined from teaching in the Public Schools as substitute teachers unless the authority is granted under their present pastoral call" was proper and the action of Synod in reversing this action was improper.

The preliminary judgment of the Permanent Judicial Commission is that the action of Westminster Presbytery under the circumstances disclosed by a careful reading of the record was proper and that the action of the Synod of Florida in sustaining each item of the complaint against Presbytery and in reversing in full the motion of March 2, 1968 as set out in paragraph 2 was improper.

The record shows that the motion of Presbytery was prompted by the application of two ministers to teach in the Public Schools, one "to teach History and English in the Senior High School as a substitute teacher for the period of the current school crisis only but in no event beyond the present school term" and the second "to substitute teach in the Public School System on an emergency basis," (Westminster Presbytery Minutes 1968, pages 3 and 9). The motion was a part of Presbytery's response to a critical situation in which emotions were high and the need for exercise of Presbytery oversight greater than usual.

The Presbytery has the express power to establish the pastoral relationship (BCO 16-7 (14)) and to consent to changes in the terms of a pastor's call (BCO 25-2). Presbytery has the express power "to set apart ministers to labor as Teachers" (BCO 16-7 (15)). The mandatory provisions of BCO 26-9 are especially significant:

"When a minister desires to accept work which is not under the jurisdiction of any church court, he shall request permission of his Presbytery. After the Presbytery has determined that the nature of the work is proper to the ministry of the Gospel, and that the particular work serves the best interests of the Church and the Minister, it may grant permission."

Under the circumstances with which Presbytery was confronted on March 2, 1968 when it adopted the motion giving rise to this complaint it was within the power of Presbytery to require ministers to obtain the consent of their congregations by amending their calls before assuming duties as substitute teachers in the Public Schools.

However, it is the further preliminary judgment of the Permanent Judicial Commission that the language used by Presbytery in its motion is broader than required to meet the problems with which it was dealing. The motion had application to "all ministers of Westminster Presbytery," some of whom did not have Pastoral Calls. It did not define "substitute teachers" to include only those assuming more than nominal duties. It contained no limitations of time restricting its effect to the school crisis. It would have been permissible for Synod to have sustained the complaint in part and to have directed Presbytery to have confined and limited the effect of its motion, (BCO 17-5 (2); 117-5).

The Permanent Judicial Commission wishes to indicate its disapproval of certain portions of the complaint. Synod was not required to accept the recommendation of its Judicial Business Committee as asserted in numbered paragraph 1. On the contrary it was improper procedure for the Judicial Business Committee to hear the complaint, (G. A. Min., 1886, page 16, Digest page 296). Synod in deciding the complaint against the action of Presbytery did not deny "Presbytery's original jurisdiction and authority over the life of the ministers of Westminster Presbytery," as asserted in numbered paragraph 2. Presbytery does not have authority over the lives of its ministers and its original jurisdiction over their work is not unlimited and is subject to review by higher courts.

In summary it is the preliminary judgment of the Permanent Judicial Commission that the complaint be sustained in part and not sustained in part as specified hereinbefore.

Rev. Joseph C. Meux, a member of this Commission and of the Synod of Florida, having recused himself, did not participate in the case in any aspect.

JOSEPH W. GRIER, JR., Chairman
Permanent Judicial Commission

The Moderator put the following question: "Shall the preliminary judgment of the Permanent Judicial Commission in the General Assembly Complaint No. 1, 1969, as above recorded be made the final judgment of the General Assembly?" There being no questions from the floor the Moderator advised Commissioners from the Synod of Florida that they were not to vote on the question. There being no questions and no requests for clarification, and upon vote of the Assembly, the Moderator declared: "The preliminary judgment of the Permanent Judicial Commission in the case of Arnold B. Poole, et al, Complainants versus the Synod of Florida, Respondent, is now the final judgment of the General Assembly, and the case is herewith closed."

REPORT OF THE STANDING COMMITTEE ON ANNUITIES AND RELIEF

Rev. Fred V. Poag, Chairman, presented the report of the Standing Committee on Annuities and Relief. It was adopted, as amended, as follows:

- I. The following items were referred to and considered by the committee:

Minutes of the Board of Annuities and Relief.

Report of the Board of Annuities and Relief with its recommendations.

Overtures 12 and 57.

Nominations.

II. YOUR COMMITTEE RECOMMENDS:

A. That the Minutes of the Board of Annuities and Relief be approved.

B. That the Annual Report of the Board of Annuities and Relief be approved (See Part III, Bound Volume of Board Reports), and that the following recommendations be adopted:

1. That the General Assembly endorse the following action of the Board: We are pleased to announce that, with the advice and consent of Huggins and Company, Inc., our actuaries, it will be possible on January 1, 1970, to add to each member's account in the Ministers' Annuity Fund a fifth special "Good Experience Credit." This special credit is possible at a cost of approximately $510,000 for each 1% of accumulated credits held by the Fund. This actuarial computation provides for the same percentage of increase in the amount of payment for those already receiving annuities, even as it provides an increase in credit to the accounts of those in active service.

As of December 31, 1969, sufficient reserves will be transferred from "Reserve for Actuarial Fluctuations and Other Contingencies" to the "Actuarial Liability to Members and Survivors for Annuity and Death Benefits" of the Ministers' Annuity Fund, making possible a 15% increase in all annuities being paid as of that date and in all 1/80th annuity credits accumulated to that date.

Such special credits do not change the terms of the Official Plan of the Ministers' Annuity Fund. These "special benefits" will be payable in addition to the normal benefits payable under the terms of the Official Plan.

This special "Good Experience Credit" in no way affects the future accumulation of credits or the dues required as outlined in the Official Plan. The accumulation of credits in the future will be on the same basis as in the past.

2. That the General Assembly endorse and approve the following increased benefit, through the revision of Section 3-1 of the Official Plan of the Ministers' Annuity Fund to be effective May 1, 1969. This revision has been approved by the Board on the advice and with the approval of our Consulting Actuaries. Section 3-1 presently reads as follows (The words to be deleted are in brackets.):

Section 3

WIDOW'S AND MINOR CHILDREN'S ANNUITY BENEFITS

Annuity to the Widow of a Member

§ 3-1 In the event of the death of a member, whose marriage took place before retirement on account of age or disability, there shall be granted to the widow an annuity which shall be one-half of the [age retirement annuity based on his service from his marriage to her to] his death, with a minimum of $300 where all payments due to the Fund by the member and on his account have been made.

The widow's annuity shall cease upon death or remarriage.

The recommendation is that Section 3-1 be revised to read as follows (The words in italics replace the words deleted.):

Annuity to the Widow of a Member

§ 3-1 In the event of the death of a member, whose marriage took place before retirement on account of age or disability, there shall be granted to the widow an annuity which shall be one-half of the earned annuity of the member at his death, with a minimum of $300 where all payments due to the Fund by the member and on his account have been made.

The widow's annuity shall cease upon death or remarriage.

3. That the General Assembly endorse the following action of the Board at its meeting on February 25, 1969:

With the advice and consent of Huggins and Company, Inc., our actuaries, a fifth special "Good Experience Credit" will be possible in the Employees' Annuity Fund as of January 1, 1970.

The Board approved the following: As of December 31, 1969, reserves, in an amount actuarially determined, will be transferred from the "Reserve for Actuarial Fluctuations and Other Contingencies" to the "Actuarial Liability to Members and Survivors for Annuity Benefits" and to the "Liability to Members in Service." This will make possible a 3% increase in all annuities being paid as of that date and a corresponding increase in all deposits for annuity purchase purposes, held in the accounts of the non-retired members. The benefits of this 3% "Good Experience Credit" are not available should a member of the Employees' Annuity Fund withdraw under the provisions of Article I, Section 6, and Article II, Section 6, of the Official Plan.

Such special credits do not change the terms of the Official Plan of the Employees' Annuity Fund. These "special benefits" will be payable in addition to the normal benefits payable under the terms of the Official Plan.

This special "Good Experience Credit" in no way affects the future accumulation of credits or the dues required as outlined in the Official Plan. The accumulation of credits in the future will be on the same basis as in the past.

4. That the General Assembly be advised and asked to note with approval that, following a special actuarial study, our Consulting Actuaries, Huggins and Company, Inc., have concluded and advised the Board that good progress, growth and actuarial experience of the Employees' Annuity Fund justify the adoption of more generous and improved actuarial assumptions. This means that new calculations will be made on all annuities paid after December 31, 1969. This also means that all future retirees will benefit increasingly when these new actuarial assumptions are applied in the calculation of their annuity upon their retirement. The effect that these adjusted assumptions will have upon annuities paid after December 31, 1969, cannot be accurately determined until that date. We are advised that this additional benefit may be conservatively projected to produce, in annuities being paid, an increase of approximately 4%.
5. That the General Assembly take note of and approve the following statement and policy decision relative to the administration of the Ministerial Relief Fund which was adopted by the Board at its meeting on February 25, 1969:

"It is the judgment of the Board of Annuities and Relief that, without an advance statement of future policy in the administration and distribution of Ministerial Relief funds, the program as we now know it could be self-perpetuating. We are convinced that such is not the intent or the desire of the Church or of those who serve the Church.

"Therefore, the Board states a policy for facing the future. This policy will in no way affect current recipients of monthly assistance from the funds of Ministerial Relief or persons who, in the interim, may become eligible. It may be noted also that the policy has no possibility of adversely affecting any one in the future who will take advantage of the instrumentalities which are and have been available, and through which an adequate retirement income may be assured.

"The Board, in working toward this worthy and reasonable goal, adopts the following policy:

- a. Members of the Ministers' Annuity Fund, who retire on an Age Annuity under the provisions of the Fund and have more than five (5) years after January 1, 1970 in which no dues were paid on their account, or in which their participation was on a basis of less than their cash salary, will not be eligible for regular monthly assistance under the formula from the funds of Ministerial Relief.
- b. Members of the Ministers' Annuity Fund, who retire on an Age Annuity under the provisions of the M.A.F. after January 1, 1970, will not be eligible for regular monthly assistance from the funds of Ministerial Relief, under the formula, unless they have participated in the Fund for at least 10 years.
- c. Members of the Ministers' Annuity Fund who retire on an Age Annuity under the provisions of the Ministers' Annuity Fund after January 1, 1970, will not be eligible for regular monthly assistance from the funds of Ministerial Relief, under the formula, if they have elected not to participate in Social Security after January 1, 1970.

C. That the overtures be answered as follows:

1. That Overture 12 from the Presbytery of The Southwest (See page 25) relative to paying retirement income be answered in the negative for the following reasons:
 - a. It assumes that our Church makes available an "Automatic Age Annuity Plan" and that fundings have been made and dues paid sufficient to provide benefits of such a Plan.
 - b. It fails to take into account that approval of this Overture would require that the Ministers' Annuity Fund be changed from the type which the Church currently provides, "Age Retirement" Annuity to a Plan designed to provide an "Automatic—Age" Annuity. We have been advised by Huggins and Company of Philadelphia, Actuaries for the Ministers' Annuity Fund, that the immediate cost involved, if the Fund is to remain financially sound and if the change is made as of December 31, 1968, would require—
 - (1.) The Church to provide immediately, through a capital funds campaign, or otherwise, seven million dollars to fund the incurred actuarial liability resulting from the change in the type of Fund and manner of pay-out, and
 - (2.) The present and future members of the Fund would be required to begin immediately paying dues at a rate of 11¾% instead of the present 10% dues. It should be understood that the immediate funding of seven million dollars and the present and future increase in dues from 10% to 11¾% would not produce increased retirement, disability, widow or orphan monthly annuity payments.

2. That Overture 57 from the Presbytery of Brazos (See page 25) regarding the appointment of an ad interim committee to study the M. A. F. and the Board of Annuities and Relief be answered in the negative for the following reasons:
 - a. An ad interim committee to study the outstanding work of this Board is clearly not warranted by the record.
 - b. This Board is now, as it has in the past, meeting its assigned responsibilities with imagination and efficiency.
- E. That the following persons be elected to the Board of Annuities and Relief, as indicated:

REPORT OF THE STANDING COMMITTEE ON PRESBYTERIAN SURVEY

Rev. A. E. Dimmock, Chairman, presented the report of the Standing Committee on PRESBYTERIAN SURVEY. The report was adopted, as amended, as follows:

I. The Standing Committee on PRESBYTERIAN SURVEY received the following items:

Minutes of the Board of Directors of PRESBYTERIAN SURVEY.

The report of the Board of Directors of PRESBYTERIAN SURVEY for 1968 with recommendations.

Recommendation 26 of the report of the General Council. (See page 124). The report of the Permanent Committee on Nominations relating to the Board of Directors of PRESBYTERIAN SURVEY.

With 100% attendance, the Standing Committee discussed at length the various aspects of the SURVEY's work, both in full committee and in sub-committee. Editorial policy, promotion, circulation, finances and advertising were seriously considered. Following a full discussion of these issues the Committee expressed in the strongest terms the conviction that every possible measure should be taken to place this official publication of our Assembly in every home of the Church. Furthermore, the Committee felt that the Board should make every effort to appeal to all age groups, as well as to continue to seek to bridge diversities within our Church. The members of the Standing Committee experienced a little of the anguish of the Board and staff members of SURVEY as they struggle to be faithful to fulfill their responsibilities with integrity.

II. The following disposition was made of the items referred to the Committee:

A. The Standing Committee reviewed the minutes of the Board of Directors of PRESBYTERIAN SURVEY, accepted them with the suggestion that in the future all recommendations from staff reports be included in the minutes, and recommends that they be approved.

B. The Committee studied the report of the Board of Directors of PRESBYTERIAN SURVEY and recommends that it be approved (See Appendix, page 151) and the following recommendations adopted:

1. That the General Assembly endorse the efforts of the Board of Directors of PRESBYTERIAN SURVEY to work in cooperation with other boards and agencies to establish SURVEY policies in such a way as to reduce the need for multiple publications within the denomination, and that other boards and agencies be instructed to cooperate in this effort by merging whenever possible their publications as a part of PRESBYTERIAN SURVEY.

2. That the General Assembly strongly commend and encourage the Board of Directors and Staff of PRESBYTERIAN SURVEY for their responsible and sensitive concern for the state of the church and for their dedicated efforts to publicize and interpret the actions and decisions of the General Assembly as they deal with the critical issues confronting the church and the world today.

3. That the General Assembly endorse and encourage the efforts of the Board of Directors and Staff of PRESBYTERIAN SURVEY as they continue their innovative effort at meeting the need to broaden and strengthen effective communication between the diverse opinions represented in the denomination.

4. That the General Assembly approve the following minor revision in the PRESBYTERIAN SURVEY'S Manual of Operation, as approved by the General Council: That the first sentence in Article V now reading "The following officers shall be elected annually at the conclusion of the first meeting following General Assembly:" be revised by deleting the words between annually and the colon.

5. That churches be encouraged to observe PRESBYTERIAN SURVEY Week, October 11-18, 1970, promoting the fullest utilization of the official magazine in homes and church groups, using order cards from the Plan Book to secure promotional materials without charge.

6. That the General Assembly encourage the use of PRESBYTERIAN SURVEY as an instrument of education and enrichment in congregations, stressing its special value in stimulating discussion of a broad range of subject matter—especially issues before the Church that might be controversial—in sessions, diaconates, committees, church school classes, and other small groups.

7. That the General Assembly urge the pastors and officers of non-subscribing churches to consider anew the benefits of sending the official church publication to church families as a means of providing information, inspiration and guidance, stimulating interest in the mission and work of the entire Church, and improving giving, participation and understanding.

8. That non-subscribing churches be encouraged to enter subscriptions for all active, resident or contributing families at the $1 Every Family rate, or the Church Leaders' Plan at $1.50, or the Group Plan at $1.80 for ten or more subscriptions.

9. That churches, presbyteries, synods, and seminaries be encouraged to invite SURVEY Staff members, Board members, and Presbytery Chairmen to interpret the role of this printed ministry during SURVEY Week, at summer conferences, or at other times of the year.

10. That the General Council be requested to review and recommend to the General Assembly the annual operating budget for PRESBYTERIAN SURVEY.

11. That the General Assembly request the General Council and the Board of Directors of PRESBYTERIAN SURVEY to devise a plan for providing the PRESBYTERIAN SURVEY in every church home.

12. That the Assembly express its appreciation to the SURVEY representatives in synods and presbyteries for their efforts in promoting the use of the official magazine.

C. That the following persons be elected to the Board of Directors of PRESBYTERIAN SURVEY, as indicated:

Class of 1972:

G. D. Davidson, Jr. (3) N. C.
Mrs. Byron L. Abernethy (2) Okla.

Vacancies:

Class of 1970:

Howard Welborn, (1) Tex.
Rev. George B. Telford, Jr. (1) Fla.

Class of 1971:

Rev. P. D. Miller, Jr. (1) Va.
Rev. C. Eric Mount, Jr. (1) Ky.

Class of 1972:

W. B. Byers, (1) Tex.
DeForrest Jackson (1) Ga.
J. Lacy McLean (1) S. C.

 - Report of the Permanent Theological Committee with its recommendation.

 - Recommendation 5 from the Report of the Board of Women's Work.
 - Resolution 3.
 - Nominations.

II. YOUR COMMITTEE RECOMMENDS:

- A. That the minutes of the Permanent Theological Committee be approved.
- B. 1. That the Report on "Evolution and the Bible" be adopted as amended, as follows:

EVOLUTION AND THE BIBLE

I. Assignment

The 1967 General Assembly requested the General Assembly's Permanent Theological Committee—

"to study the question of the relationship of evolution to the Bible and to report to the next succeeding General Assembly whether the position stated by the General Assemblies of 1886, 1888, 1889 and 1924 should be revised." (G.A. Min., pp. 49, 102).

The substance of this stated position is that Scripture, our Confession of Faith and the Catechisms teach that man was created body and soul by immediate acts of Almighty Power, without any natural animal parentage of any kind, out of matter previously created out of nothing. (Digest of Acts and Proceedings of General Assembly, page 6-8.)*

- * The General Assembly of 1886, in reply to a number of overtures concerning evolution, answered: "The Church remains at this time sincerely convinced that the Scriptures, as truly and authoritatively expounded in our 'Confession of Faith' and 'Catechisms' teach—That Adam and Eve were created, body and soul, by immediate acts of Almighty power, thereby preserving a perfect race unity; —That Adam's body was directly fashioned by Almighty God, without any natural animal parentage of any kind, out of matter previously created from nothing; —And that any doctrine at variance therewith is a dangerous error, inasmuch as in the methods of interpreting Scripture it must demand, and in the consequences which by fair implication it will involve, it will lead to the denial of doctrines fundamental to the faith."

The General Assembly of 1888, in a judicial case involving the complaint of the Rev. James Woodrow, D.D. against the Synod of Georgia ruled as follows:

"Whereas the Presbytery of Augusta did find Rev. James Woodrow, D.D., not guilty of the charge preferred against him by the Rev. Wm. Adams, D.D., wherein he was charged with teaching and formulating opinions and doctrines in conflict with the sacred Scriptures, as interpreted in our Standards the Confession of Faith, the Larger and Shorter Catechisms of the Westminster Assembly; that he did on divers occasions mentioned in said charge, teach and promulgate that the body of Adam was probably the product of evolution from the body of some lower animal; and,

Whereas the Synod of Georgia did, upon the complaint of the Rev. Wm. Adams, D.D., annul said action of the Presbytery of Augusta, which judgment of the Synod of Georgia is brought to this General Assembly by the complaint of the Rev. James Woodrow, D.D.;

Now, therefore, it is the judgment of this General Assembly that Adam's body was directly fashioned by Almighty God of the dust of the ground, without any natural animal parentage of any kind. The wisdom of God prompted him to reveal the fact, while the inscrutable mode of his action therein he has not revealed.

Therefore the Church does not propose to touch, handle or conclude any question of science which belongs to God's kingdom of nature. She must, by her divine constitution, see that these questions are not thrust upon her to break the silence of Scripture and supplement it by any scientific hypothesis concerning the mode of God's being or acts in creation which are inscrutable to us. It is, therefore, ordered that his complaint in this case be not sustained, and the judgment of the Synod of Georgia be, and the same is hereby, in all things affirmed."

The General Assembly of 1889 sustained a resolution of the Presbytery of Charleston (which the Synod of South Carolina sought to condemn as "unconstitutional, irregular and unwise") to the effect that:

"Presbytery hereby informs its ministers, ruling elders and deacons that the General Assembly has judicially affirmed the decision of the Synod of Georgia, declaring the belief of the Rev. James Woodrow, D.D., as to the origin of the body of Adam, was contrary to the word of God as interpreted in the Standards of the Church, and therefore this Presbytery regards the holding of said form of evolution as contrary to the word of God as interpreted in the Standards of the Church, and forbids the public contending against the decision of the Assembly."

The General Assembly of 1924, in response to an overture to reaffirm the 1886 deliverance on evolution—"The Presbytery of Mecklenburg respectfully overtures the General Assembly to reaffirm the above deliverance and to publish it to the world as our present position"—replied: "We recommend an affirmative answer and do so reaffirm our convictions and do hereby publish them to the world."

The Permanent Theological Committee has presented a tentative report to the 1968 General Assembly advising—

“that due to the large number of prior assignments it has not been able to complete this study. However, the Committee does report to this Assembly its conviction that revision is necessary and intends to have a specific proposal, together with a supporting paper, ready for the 1969 General Assembly.”

We have made further study of the question assigned and herewith submit our conclusion and recommendation:

II. Conclusion from the Study

Neither Scripture, nor our Confession of Faith, nor our Catechisms, teach the Creation of man by the direct and immediate acts of God so as to exclude the possibility of evolution as a scientific theory.

Scripture states that “out of the ground” the Lord God formed every beast, Genesis 2:19, and “of the dust of the ground” the Lord God formed man, Genesis 2:7. Genesis 1 teaches that according to the Word of God there came into being Light, Firmament (called Heaven), the Earth and the Seas. Then, God said: “Let the waters bring forth” and “Let the earth bring forth.” After the creation of Light, the Firmament and the Earth, after the Earth and the Waters brought forth plant, aquatic and animal life, then God said: “Let us make man.” This man, Adam, meaning both a man and man, is by nature both individual and corporate. The name Adam is simply a generic term for man brought forth from the Earth. Genesis 1 describes Creation as taking place in six days. However, it is not necessary to understand the Genesis account as a scientific description of Creation.

Our Confession of Faith says:

“It pleased God the Father, Son and Holy Ghost, for the manifestation of the glory of his eternal power, wisdom and goodness, in the beginning, to create or make of nothing the world, and all things therein, whether visible or invisible, in the space of six days, and all very good.

After God had made all other creatures, he created man, male and female, with reasonable and immortal souls . . . (Chapter IV).

The Larger Catechism answers the question “How did God create man?” as follows:

“After God had made all other creatures, he created man, male and female; formed the body of man of the dust of the ground, and the woman of the rib of man; endued them with living, reasonable, and immortal souls; made them after his own image . . .” (Q. 17)

It may be that the Westminster Divines understood the “six days” as well as such phrases as “of the dust of the ground” and “the rib of man” in a literal sense; but, as they were merely using the words of Scripture with no intention to argue the theory of evolution (of which they had never heard), we are free to interpret their words in a different sense, just as we now do the words of Scripture. Nowhere is the process by which God made, created or formed man set out in scientific terms. A description of this process in its physical aspects is a matter of natural science. The Bible is not a book of science. As John Calvin said, commenting on Genesis:

“To my mind, this is a certain principle, that nothing is here treated of but the visible form of the world. He who would learn astronomy and other recondite arts, let him go elsewhere.” (Genesis Commentary—on Chap. 1, verse 6).

If the Confession of Faith, or the Catechisms, appear in some manner to support the position of the General Assemblies of 1886, 1888, 1889 and 1924 this is not because of Scripture itself but rather because Scripture was interpreted with 17th Century perspectives and presuppositions.

Some form of evolutionary theory is accepted by the majority of modern scientists. The Darwin Centennial celebration, composed of fifty outstanding experts on the various phases of evolutionary theory, expressed the meaning of evolution as follows:

“Evolution is definable in general terms as a one-way irreversible process in time, which during its course generates novelty, diversity, and higher levels of organization. It operates in all sectors of the phenomenal universe, but has been most fully described and analyzed in the biological sector.” (Evolution After Darwin, edited by Sol Tax, University of Chicago Press, containing the University of Chicago Centennial papers and discussions—1959)

Our responsibility as Christians is to deal seriously with the theories and findings of all scientific endeavors, evolution included, and to enter into open dialogue with responsible persons involved in scientific tasks about the achievement, failures and limits of their activities and of ours. The truth or falsity of the theory of evolution is not the question at issue and certainly not a question which lies within the competence of the Permanent Theological Committee. The real and only issue is whether there exists clear incompatibility between evolution and the Biblical doctrine of Creation. Unless it is clearly necessary to uphold a basic Biblical doctrine, the Church is not called upon and should carefully refrain from either affirming or denying the theory of evolution.

We conclude that the true relation between the evolutionary theory and the Bible is that of non-contradiction and that the position stated by the General Assemblies of 1886, 1888, 1889 and 1924 was in error and no longer represents the mind of our Church.

We re-affirm our belief in the uniqueness of man as a creature whom God has made in His own image.

III. Recommendation

We recommend: that the General Assembly adopt this paper as representing the position of the Church today.

2. That the Report on "The Person and Work of the Holy Spirit" be remanded to the Permanent Theological Committee for further study. (See Appendix, page 155.) While the Permanent Theological Committee has done excellent work on an uncommonly difficult task, suggestions from the standing committee have pointed to the necessity of still further work on these vital questions by the Permanent Theological Committee.
- C. That Overture 53 from the Presbytery of Lexington (See page 38) relative to a study of the theological dimensions in organ transplants be answered in the affirmative and that this matter be referred to the Permanent Theological Committee for study.
- D. That the following persons be elected to the Permanent Theological Committee, as indicated:
Class of 1972: Rev. Milner S. Ball (2) Ga.; Rev. Lewis Scott Hay (2) S.C.; Rev. John Newton Thomas (2) Va.
- E. That Resolution 3 submitted by Patrick D. Miller, Jr., et al, regarding an ad interim committee to prepare a new Confession of Faith be amended and adopted:

Resolution

Whereas, the Christian Church has through the ages continually endeavored to reformulate and restate its faith in true and relevant ways; and,

Whereas, the last three hundred years have brought new insights and understanding into the meaning of Scripture, which is the norm and authority for all confessional statements; and,

Whereas, each confession has to speak to its particular generation and in language appropriate to the present time; and,

Whereas, The Proposed Plan of Union of the Presbyterian Church in the United States and Reformed Church of America called for the immediate formulation of a New Confession; and,

Whereas, Westminster Presbytery's overture to the 1968 General Assembly "to take all necessary steps to provide a completely new contemporary Reformed Confession of Faith" was answered by reference to the Article in The Proposed Plan of Union calling for a New Confession; and,

Whereas, three-fourths of the presbyteries have approved the Proposed Plan which called for a New Confession;

Therefore, Be It Resolved by the 109th General Assembly that an Ad Interim

 This was the position of Dr. James Woodrow. Certainly the acceptance or rejection of the concept of evolution should never be made the test of orthodoxy. We also call attention to action recently taken by other great branches of the Christian faith:

(a) In 1950, in the encyclical Humani Generis, Pope Pius XII spoke for the Roman Catholic Church as follows:

"The teaching of the Church leaves the doctrine of evolution an open question, as long as it confines its speculation to the development from other living matter already in existence of the human body. That souls are immediately created by God is a view which Catholic Faith imposes on us."

After expressing words of caution about misemployment or improper extrapolation, the position of the Roman Catholic Church on the question involved is expressed in these words:

"Thus, the teaching of the Church leaves the doctrine of evolution an open question. . . . In the present state of scientific and theological opinion this question may be legitimately canvassed by research and by discussions between experts on both sides."

(Humani Generis, translation appearing in The Church Teaches, prepared by St. Mary's College, St. Louis: Herder Book Co. 1960, page 154.)

(b) In 1967, the Reformed Churches in the Netherlands Synod decided that a 1926 declaration of the literal historicity of Genesis 1 and 2 is no longer binding on members, permitting an understanding of the Biblical account of creation as myth, metaphor, or symbol, while affirming the authority of Scriptures as interpreted by the Belgic Confession and the Heidelberg Catechism. (Christianity Today, November 24, 1967, page 44)

Committee of ten persons be appointed to draft a new Confession of Faith or a Book of Confessions.

Amendment: "or" in the last paragraph now to read "together with."

- F. That Recommendation 5 of the Report of the Board of Women's Work (Note: This is in re the preparation of a study paper on the meaning of church membership, baptism, etc., and the relationship of these to the ministry of the laity—Stated Clerk) be re-manded to its origin in the Joint Staff Laity Committee through the Board of Women's Work. In conference with the Executive Secretary of the Board of Women's Work and the Chairman of the Permanent Theological Committee, it was concluded that the study called for can best be prepared in another way than by the Permanent Theological Committee.
- G. That the Permanent Theological Committee be commended for its diligence and labors.

Respectfully submitted,

ALBERT B. McCLURE, Chairman

Items 16 and 18 of the Report of the Permanent Judicial Commission.

Nominations.

Resolution 10, submitted by W. H. Wilson:

Whereas, from time to time there are active ministers within the Presbyterian Church U. S. who come to need counseling, treatment and rehabilitation for emotional disorders; and,

Whereas, the recognized procedures of our church make no provision for the alleviation of this condition; and,

Whereas, the continued existence of this condition without proper remedial action can destroy ministries, families and congregations;

Now therefore, be it resolved that the 109th General Assembly meeting in Mobile recognize the responsibility of the church in this area of its ministry, and refer to the Assembly Committee on the Minister and His Work for study and recommendation to the 110th General Assembly, the problems of recognition, treatment and rehabilitation for emotional disorders whenever and wherever they might occur among the ministers of the Presbyterian Church U. S.

Resolution 14, submitted by W. W. Preston, et al:

Whereas, the Report of the Assembly's Committee on the Minister and His Work in reporting studies referred by the 1966 General Assembly to the Assembly's Committee on the Minister and His Work states that as of December 31, 1968, the Executive Secretary of the Committee on the Minister and His Work of the General Assembly had knowledge of 408 ordained ministers in the Presbyterian Church, U.S., who were available for calls elsewhere; and,

Whereas, the Report itemizes problems leading to ministers' dissatisfaction and to their concomitant lessened morales and likely lessened pastoral effectiveness; and,

Whereas, many ministers feel a hesitancy to let their desires be known to the presbytery's executive it is possible that the problems facing a pastor might be solved by consultation with another understanding minister; and,

Whereas, many ministers seem to have no recourse but to remain in unhappy situations to the detriment of their congregations, themselves, their families and their ministries without the support and counsel of a fellow minister familiar with their situation and in whom they feel free to confide;

Be it resolved that the 109th General Assembly recommend to our presbyteries that they employ a "Pastor to Pastors" to serve in a pastoral relation to the pastors of their presbyteries.

It is anticipated that larger presbyteries will be able to employ their own "Pastor to Pastors" and that smaller presbyteries will desire to unite with other nearby presbyteries in sharing the expenses of this pastor.

The man called should be an experienced pastor, who is also an able counselor preferably with additional education in psychology and counseling to be a "Pastor to Pastors."

The duties of the pastor will be much the same as the duties of any other pastor: consultation, encouragement, visiting the ministers of the various churches, and prayerfully helping him through periods of crisis and difficulty.

The overall aim of the "Pastor to Pastors" would be to help a pastor to be happy in the church where he is and to be the greatest blessing to his congregation while he is their pastor, and at the same time, when urgency dictates it, be of any assistance to the presbytery Commission on the Minister and His Work in effecting necessary changes.

Resolution 16, submitted by William C. Norris, Jr.:

Whereas, the world is undergoing rapid change; and,

Whereas, the availability and enrollment of institutions of higher learning are greatly increasing the level of adult education; and,

Whereas, the youth of our churches are more advanced in human knowledge than any previous generation; and,

Whereas, the mass media—newspapers, paperbacks, film, radio and television—are spreading knowledge to a phenomenal degree; and,

Whereas, the Presbyterian Church has historically maintained the highest educational standards for its clergy of any denomination;

Be it resolved that the General Assembly recommend to the sessions that they:

1. carefully consider the feasibility of providing their pastors with a year of sabbatical leave for educational purposes after each six year term in a given pastorate or after each ten year period in various ministries; and
2. plan the financial arrangements to provide their pastors with one academic year of study in a seminary, university or appropriate training center; and,

Be it further resolved that the General Assembly direct the Assembly's Committee on the Minister and His Work to promote and encourage sabbaticals for ministers; and,

Be it further resolved that the General Assembly encourage the Directors of Continuing Education in our four seminaries to promote and encourage sabbaticals for ministers.

II. YOUR COMMITTEE RECOMMENDS:

A. That the minutes of the Permanent Committee of the Minister and His Work be approved.

B. That the annual report of the Permanent Committee of the Minister and His Work be approved, (See Appendix, page 162) and that the following recommendations be adopted:

- b. To see that its Commission on the Minister and His Work designate a permanent sub-committee, a majority of whose members shall be ruling elders chosen for their familiarity with the problems involved, to have under continual study the remuneration received by ministers who are members of presbytery, unless a permanent committee already exists. (Other ruling elders, not members of the Commission, may be co-opted to assist in this study.) The sub-committee should receive reports from the church sessions. If its study reveals that remunerations paid ministers are insufficient it should make every effort to confer with respective church sessions, or agencies which the ministers serve, to correct deficiencies.

REPORT OF THE SPECIAL COMMITTEE ON THE COMMUNICATION FROM THE NEIGHBORHOOD
ORGANIZED WORKERS OF MOBILE, ALABAMA

The Assembly resumed consideration of the report of the Special Committee on the N.O.W. Communication. The proposed letter was approved as the reply of the Assembly, as follows:

We received the following communication from the Neighborhood Organized Workers of Mobile, Alabama:

April 22, 1969
General Assembly of the Presbyterian Church
c/o Dr. Massey M. Heltzel
Government St. Presbyterian Church
300 Government St.
Mobile, Alabama
Dear Dr. Heltzel:

On behalf of the President and Board of Directors of Neighborhood Organized Workers, we request that in your general meeting April 27, 1969 to be held in the Municipal Auditorium your body adopt a resolution supporting our demands as "Black citizens of Mobile, Alabama." As you probably know "Black people have boycotted the Municipal Auditorium for the past ten months." The city commissioners have refused to employ "Blacks" in any positions other than menials.

We submit that Black people are 40% of the population of Mobile and 5% of the work force. We further recognize that we are being taxed without representation. Mobile has been known down through the years as a city of exquisite beauty and charm and noted for the Annual Senior Bowl game, the beautiful Bellingrath Gardens, the Mardi Gras, and the Junior Miss Pageant. These activities have brought people into the area from all over the world to see and to participate in the grandeur that exhibits good taste.

There is a side to Mobile which one never sees in the Jaycee material or in magazine articles; a side which the city commissioners rarely talk about in their official speeches, a side which the middle-class has been conditioned to drive by without even noticing. It is a backside—a slum side where people are actually dying of malnutrition and disease only a few miles from where the Junior Miss Pageant is held. While the Auditorium complex, Spanish Plaza, and the above activities, sites or festivities are drawing national praise from national magazines, people are being forced to live in misery simply because they were born poor and raised in ignorance through no choice of their own.

Our organization, Neighborhood Organized Workers, is peacefully trying to reverse the pattern of systematic discrimination in this deep south city.

In this latter third of the 20th century, we ask you in the name of Justice, liberation, and equality to give up perhaps the most rewarding experience that you will ever encounter and support our efforts in this very worthwhile boycott of the Junior Miss Pageant and the white power structure of Mobile.

Sincerely,

/s/ Ocie Wheat/M.R.

We recommend that this communication be answered by the following letter:

Mr. Noble C. Beasley, President
 Neighborhood Organized Workers
 P. O. Box 2251
 Mobile, Alabama

Dear Mr. Beasley:

Your communication of April 22, 1969 was officially received by the 109th General Assembly of the Presbyterian Church in the United States at its evening session on Friday, April 25th, when it was read aloud to the Commissioners.

You have requested a resolution by this General Assembly in support of your activities to secure social justice for Negroes in the Mobile Community. The Presbyterian Church in the United States is deeply committed to the principles of social justice for all people and is specifically concerned for the dignity, freedom and justice due to the black community.

We trust that you agree with us that responsible social action on the local level demands two things: (1) the clearest and fullest possible information on issues and structures involved and (2) the willingness to follow through with continuing presence and commitment. Neither of these things is possible for this General Assembly with regard to the specific situation in Mobile to which you ask us to speak. There is not time at this late date for us to develop the information necessary for intelligent consideration of the issues by the 459 Commissioners gathered here from many states. General operating procedure demands that information on matters to be deliberated be communicated to Commissioners well in advance of our meeting. By Wednesday, April 30th, the Commissioners will have departed for their own homes and places of responsibility, unable to follow through upon any action they might take with regard to the local situation in Mobile. We trust you understand that for these reasons we cannot properly consider your specific request.

We acknowledge, however, that the basic problems of which you write are very much our problems, individually and as a Church. We cannot be satisfied with our record of action for social justice, but our faith demands that we never give up the attempt to secure justice and freedom for every man. The following are excerpts from statements officially adopted by recent General Assemblies of our Church to lead us in that direction:

"The basic purpose of the civil rights movement should be to obtain for the Negro—and of course for all minority groups—justice in the affairs of daily life and the right to respect as a human being under the redemptive concern of God. Jesus, by His words and life, calls us, as his followers, to support them in this struggle." (From the Minutes of the 105th General Assembly, 1965)

"Laws and pronouncements may create opportunity, but they alone do not create justice. And being freed is not the same as being free. It is all too clear that this majority of Negroes in America, while freed, are not yet free—from poverty, illiteracy, oppression and human misery." (From the Minutes of the 108th General Assembly, 1968)

While this response does not meet your specific requests, we hope it demonstrates our deep interest in the larger concerns you expressed.

Sincerely yours,
 R. Matthew Lynn, Moderator
 109th General Assembly of the Presbyterian Church in the United States

Respectfully submitted,
 JAMES A. WHARTON, Chairman

REPORT OF THE STANDING COMMITTEE ON TRAV

Rev. William J. Fogleman, Chairman, presented the report of the Standing Committee on TRAV. The report was adopted, as follows:

- I. The Standing Committee on TRAV considered the following items referred to it:
 - Minutes of the Board of Directors of TRAV.
 - Report of the Board of Directors of TRAV with recommendations.
 - Nominations.

II. YOUR COMMITTEE RECOMMENDS:

A. That the minutes of TRAV be approved, unanimously.

B. That the annual report of TRAV be approved, (See Appendix, page 167) and that the following recommendations be adopted:

1. That the General Assembly take note of individuals and groups which have made outstanding contributions to the broadcasting ministry of the Presbyterian Church in the United States, and TRAV during the past year, by joining TRAV Board of Directors in expressing thanks to:

a. The Rev. William A. Benfield, Jr., of Charleston, W. Va., the Rev. Carlton O. Eaton of Austin, Texas, and the Rev. Thomas L. Jones of Atlanta, Ga., for preparing series of sermons for The Protestant Hour.

b. The Rev. A. Hayden Hollingsworth of Roanoke, Va., for preparing a series of sermons for The Protestant Hour, to be broadcast in 1969.

c. The Rev. Marshall C. Dendy who, as Moderator of the General Assembly, preached the first sermon in a six-part series on the Crisis in the Nation for The Protestant Hour. He was followed in the series by the chief elected officers of five other denominations in a concerted, nation-wide effort to speak a word of Christian reconciliation to a troubled America.

d. The Chancel Choir of Covenant Presbyterian Church, Charlotte, N. C., and its director, Dr. Richard M. Peek, for providing music for the Presbyterian, U.S., Series of The Protestant Hour.

2. That the General Assembly encourage all members of the Church to express written and verbal appreciation to radio and television stations which broadcast Presbyterian Church, U.S., and other high-quality Christian programs.

3. That the General Assembly join the TRAV Board of Directors in expressing gratitude to the Women of the Church for the 1968 Birthday Offering for training in broadcasting and in audio-visual utilization, noting that this gift will make possible for five or more years to come, intensive efforts to equip the leaders of the Church for more effective communication of the Christian Gospel.

4. That the General Assembly encourage individual ministers, lay leaders, and presbytery and synod committees to cooperate with and take advantage of new opportunities for training in broadcasting and audio-visual utilization which TRAV, and the seminaries, are now making available.

5. That the General Assembly encourage ministers and sessions to call to the attention of their people that the next Presbyterian Church, U.S., Series of The Protestant Hour will be aired June 15-August 31, 1969.

6. That the General Assembly take note of the ten years of TRAV's service to the world through broadcasting and to the Church through audio-visuals by giving thanks to God for the blessings He has given through these ministries, and the opportunities He has given through them for effective Christian witness. Further, that the General Assembly note that God has placed almost limitless opportunity for witness through mass media before the Church and its broadcasting agency, TRAV, but that the Church has placed tremendous obstacles before such witness by providing financial support that is today just a little more than half the total the General Assembly set as a minimum figure for such ministry a full decade ago.

C. No Overtures were referred to this committee.

D. That the following persons be elected to the Board of TRAV, as indicated: Robert H. Whitten, (3) Texas; Rev. Arthur Vann Gibson, (2) Ga.; Mr. Lacy Sellars, (2) N.C.; Dr. Harvey Herbst, (2) Texas.

Respectfully submitted,
WILLIAM J. FOGLEMAN, Chairman

II. Presbyterian School of Christian Education.

A. That the minutes of Presbyterian School of Christian Education be approved.

B. That the report of Presbyterian School of Christian Education be approved, and the following recommendations be adopted:

1. That the General Assembly call to the serious attention of every session the Church's need for men and women to offer themselves to be prepared for full-time Church vocations in the Church at home and all around the world. To that end, it is suggested that each Session set aside a specific time of prayer and consideration of its responsibility to present this need to its own people.

2. That the General Assembly encourage each Session to seek out and make contact with particular individuals whom they consider to be the type persons who could serve well in a full-time Church vocation.

3. That the General Assembly encourage each Session to commend to the prayers and concern of its people the institutions which the Church maintains for vocational preparation: The Presbyterian School of Christian Education and the four theological seminaries.

4. That the attention of the General Assembly be called to the insertion of the word infallible in Sec. VI, Par. 17(a), omitted from the original wording of the Manual of Operation by typographical error.

5. That the General Assembly approve the following changes in the Manual of Operation:

(a) That in Sec. II. Area of Responsibility, the words "with emphasis upon the educational work of the church" be added. Section II will then read as follows:

The purpose of the school is to prepare men and women for service in church vocations with emphasis upon the educational work of the church.

(b) That Section VI. Organization, be amended by the insertion of a paragraph between the paragraph of questions asked of a new President and/or Professor and the paragraph beginning "It is the duty of the Faculty to outline . . ." The new paragraph would read:

In the event that the Board should be convinced that the work of the school could be enhanced by calling a non-Presbyterian to the faculty, the answering of Questions 2 and 3, having to do with receiving and adopting the Confession of Faith of the Presbyterian Church in the United States and the Form of Government and Discipline of the Presbyterian Church in the United States, may be waived.

(c) That Section VI. Organization, be further amended by substituting the word "information" for the word "approval" so that the paragraph will read as follows:

It is the duty of the Faculty to outline the curriculum of the Presbyterian School of Christian Education, to describe and teach the courses offered in the catalog issue of the Bulletin, and to interpret changes in the curriculum to the Board of Trustees from year to year for their information.

C. That the following persons be elected to the Board of Presbyterian School of Christian Education, as indicated:

Vacancies:

Class of 1972: W. Monroe Wells, (1) Va.; Dr. John Otts, (1) S.C.

D. Since the session and pastor of the local church have the responsibility for the christian education of members of the local church, Presbyterian School of Christian Education is preparing some of the choice youth of our church for service in this field. These young people are equipped to meet the challenge of presenting Christ's answer through the means of communications which are most effective. We recommend the Committee on Certification of Lay Workers include in their continuing study the role of the DCE in their personal and official relationships and report to the next General Assembly.

E. That April 19th be appropriately observed as Presbyterian School of Christian Education Day in all the churches.

III. Stillman College:

- A. The Annual Report be approved.
- B. The 1968 Minutes of the Board be approved.
- C. That Sunday January 18, 1970 be appropriately observed throughout the General Assembly as Stillman College Day.
- D. That the following persons be elected to the Board of Stillman College, as indicated:
Class of 1972: Rev. William H. McCorkle (2) N.C.; Dean Jameson M. Jones (3) Tenn.; Roscoe R. Nix (2) Va.; Mrs. Henry C. Collins (3) Ala.

Class of 1972: Rev. Irvin Elligan, Jr. (1) Fla.; Paul Jones (1) N.C.; Mrs. Norman Hibbard (1) Ala.; Mrs. Wilhelmina Baldwin (1) Ala.
- E. Your committee has received the report on Stillman College from Harold N. Stinson, President, and Albert C. Wynn, Chairman of the Board. We recommend that the General Assembly commend them on the way the affairs of the college are being handled.

IV. Theological Seminaries:

- A. The reports of the theological seminaries have been received.

- D. That appreciation be expressed for the fine reports of the theological seminaries and that they be commended for sending them.

REPORT OF THE STANDING COMMITTEE ON NATIONAL MINISTRIES

Rev. Charles R. McCain, Chairman, presented the report of the Standing Committee on National Ministries. The report was adopted, as follows:

- I. The Standing Committee on National Ministries considered the following items referred to it:
 Minutes of the Board of National Ministries.

Report of the Board of National Ministries with its recommendations; also Supplemental Report No. 1 concerning grouping of churches.
 Recommendation No. 25 of the report of the General Council.
 Nominations to the Board of National Ministries.

II. YOUR COMMITTEE RECOMMENDS:

- A. That the minutes of the Board of National Ministries since the last General Assembly be approved. It is our feeling these minutes reveal that the Board of National Ministries is carrying out a vital and imaginative program, which expresses the compassion of the Church.
- B. That the annual report of the Board of National Ministries be approved and commended to the General Assembly and its constituents for a careful and soul-searching reading thereof. (See Part III of Minutes, Bound Volume of Board Reports.) We advise the General Assembly that the report of the expenditures of the Board indicates that the Board stayed within the guidelines and budget as approved by the General Assembly.
- C. That the following recommendations be adopted:

1. That the 109th General Assembly adopt the following resolution regarding Mr. Hal E. Hyde:

The 109th General Assembly hereby voices and records its warm appreciation to Hal E. Hyde for long and distinguished service to the Board of National Ministries and to the Church for his leadership and labor in uncovering and providing essential information for the location of new churches and for the relocation of congregations all across the General Assembly of the Presbyterian Church in the United States. After eighteen years of service as a consultant in the field of church-location planning, Mr. Hyde retired at the end of 1968.

Hal came to the Board in the midst of the population explosion in the south when the Church sensed a need for realistic recommendations based on careful discovery and review of information concerning population trends, future land use, the future location of schools, shopping centers, roads and superhighways in the cities and counties across the southland. He secured these facts in order that presbyteries could so place the physical plants of new congregations and relocate established ones in the most strategic locations where they could best reach and serve the greatest number of persons. He has thus become throughout the Church one of the best known and loved members of the staff. Hal has been a great and effective ambassador of goodwill on behalf of this Board. Wherever Hal has gone, which is throughout most of the areas of the Church, he has left real and lasting ties of friendship. From these all who follow him will benefit.

On continuous call, generous in the giving of himself, winsome in eliciting information from knowledgeable persons, remembering essential information from one visit to subsequent ones in the presbyteries, Hal gave welcome and essential guidance to churches and presbyteries in order that they could meet the needs of growing and changing communities.

Hal brought to this service a deep personal faith, the knowledge of the inner workings of a congregation as an elder in the North Avenue Presbyterian Church and a background of business and training experience with Goodrich Rubber Company, Atlanta Hosiery Company, and for eighteen years with the Chevrolet Division of General Motors as its department head in Atlanta and Charlotte.

He and his charming wife are the parents of two children, a daughter, Mrs. J. H. Wayne, III, and a son, Hal, Jr., pastor of Woodlawn Presbyterian Church, St. Petersburg, Florida.

Because he has provided the Board and the Church devoted and untiring leadership for the sake and service of the Kingdom of our Lord Jesus Christ, the General Assembly hereby expresses, conveys and records its deep appreciation to Hal E. Hyde for his witness and service as a faithful servant of Jesus Christ.

2. That the General Assembly urge each presbytery to study the problems of the ethnic groups and the poor within its bounds in order to minister to these unique opportunities in conjunction with these groups of fellow citizens; to participate actively in the witness and service of present Presbyterian churches currently serving the ethnic groups and the poor within its bounds; to seek ways to participate with existing congregations that belong to predominantly black denominations which are engaged in real and present ministry and with any and all other denominations who are actively involved in witness and service with minority groups and with the poor; and that the General Assembly urge its constituents to participate in Christian witness through their vocations and local community action groups which share their mutual interest with the ethnic groups and the poor.

3. That the General Assembly approve the following Standards for Presbyterian Homes for the Aging, Presbyterian Church in the United States, and request the governing court and board of each Presbyterian Home for the Aging to seek, as soon as possible, to bring its facilities up to these Standards and to work toward securing accreditation by the Joint Commission on Accreditation of Hospitals. (See Part III of Minutes, Bound Volume of Board Reports.)

4. That the General Assembly approve the following Performance Standards for Presbyterian Church in the United States Children's Homes and Agencies and call these Performance Standards to the attention of each governing court which maintains a children's home and urge the court to refer the Performance Standards to the appropriate committee, instructing it to study regularly the condition of the home in the light of these Standards and bring back to the court such recommendations as it thinks wise. (See Part III of Minutes, Bound Volume of Board Reports.)

5. That the Board's election of the following staff members, for the term designated, be approved:

a. The Rev. James J. Alexander as secretary of the Division of Chaplains and Military Personnel for a three-year term, beginning January 1, 1969;

b. The Rev. Thomas L. Jones as secretary of the Division of Interpretation and Research for a three-year term, beginning January 1, 1969;

c. The Rev. Donald E. Neel as secretary of the Division of Parish Development for a three-year term, beginning September 1, 1969;

d. The Rev. J. Sherrard Rice as secretary of the Division of Christian Witness, beginning August 1, 1969, for a three-year term.

6. That the Board's election of the following staff members, for the term designated, be confirmed:

a. The Rev. Charles M. Olsen as associate secretary of the Division of Christian Witness, beginning August 25, 1968, for a three-year term.

b. Mr. John L. Kittle as director of loans for a three-year term, beginning February 1, 1969;

c. Mr. W. Thad Godwin as associate secretary of the Division of Christian Social Service, beginning September 1, 1969, for a three-year term;

d. Mr. James M. Earhart as consultant in survey and church location for a three-year term, beginning January 1, 1969;

e. The Rev. Lawrence W. Bottoms as associate secretary in the Division of Interpretation and Research for a three-year term, beginning January 1, 1969.

7. That the Board be authorized to approve the celebration of the sacrament of the Lord's Supper at conferences planned and administered by its staff.

8. That the General Assembly urge every church to join in the Season of Christian Witness, New Year's Day to Easter, 1970, with study and action related to the season's emphasis, "Reconciliation in a Broken World"; urge each church to observe Sunday, February 22, 1970, as the day for a major supplemental offering for world-wide Christian witness; and further, urge each church to give its wholehearted support to the world-wide witness throughout the year through prayer, sacrificial giving and involvement.

9. That the General Assembly call the attention of synods, presbyteries and local churches to the conferences July 31-August 6, August 6-8 and August 8-14, 1969, in Montreat; the first on the church's mission, with a world view; the second, a laboratory for presbytery and synod leaders in mission; the third, a conference on the church's mission with emphasis on our nation. And that the Assembly urge proper courts to send adult and youth representatives to these conferences, sponsored by the Boards of World Missions, National Ministries and Christian Education, which are aimed at helping the church move out in the task of reconciliation in a broken world.

10. That the General Assembly encourage each church to subscribe to both Church-in-Mission and The Idea Book for its session, committees and other leaders. (Published by the Board of National Ministries, The Idea Book provides bi-monthly mailings of case studies and listings of printed, audio-visual and other resources for local churches in carrying out their ministry. Church-in-Mission, a bi-monthly leadership magazine, is a basic resource for congregational outreach in the United States.)

11. That the General Assembly adopt the following resolution:

Whereas Mr. G. B. Strickler will retire on December 31, 1969, as secretary of the Division of Budget and Finance and as treasurer of the Board of National Ministries; and,

Whereas Mr. Strickler has served the General Assembly since August, 1947, as treasurer successively of the General Assembly's Executive Committee of Home Missions, the Board of Church Extension and the Board of National Ministries; and,

Whereas Mr. Strickler has demonstrated devotion to his Lord and deep dedication to the mission enterprise of the Presbyterian Church, U.S., at the same time rendering invaluable service in supervising the business and financial affairs of the agencies benefiting from his wise judgment and careful accounting; and,

Whereas the three succeeding homeland ministry agencies have under his supervision received and disbursed over $35,000,000, thereby proclaiming the gospel, rendering Christian service and extending the church through his particular ministry to an incalculable degree;

Therefore, be it resolved that the 109th General Assembly commend Mr. Strickler for this significant contribution of twenty-two years by a rising vote and thank God for his faithful stewardship through a prayer voiced by the Moderator.

12. That the report regarding grouping of churches be received as information and printed in the Minutes of the General Assembly and that the Board of National Ministries be requested to communicate with the presbyteries during the ensuing year and report back to the 1970 General Assembly what further actions have been taken to implement this policy.  - d. To explore areas of contemporary life in which God is calling Christians to decide and act in willing obedience, including specifically such areas as, among many other vital ones, the exploitation of sex in our society, the increase of the use of alcohol, drugs, and narcotics, the Christian basis of personal and business ethics, and equal opportunity in housing as stated by the 108th General Assembly.

 1. We recommend that Item II-A on Fraternal Delegates, (See Appendix, page 140); Item II-B on Meeting of Moderators, (See Appendix, page 141); Item II-D on Pan-Presbyterian Conference (See Appendix, page 141) be received as information.

 1. We recommend that the Report on the Ad Interim Committee on the Consultation on Church Union (See Appendix, page 198.) be received as information.
 2. We recommend that the Assembly commend the members of the Ad Interim Committee for their diligence and that the Rev. William A.  3. We recommend that the pamphlet "Guidelines for Inter-Church Action" be distributed to the Commissioners of this Assembly.
 4. We recommend that Overture 29 from the Presbytery of Charleston (see page 31) and Resolution 8, submitted by W. Jack Williamson, which reads as follows:

Resolution

Whereas, the rejection of the plan to permit church union at synod level indicates conclusively that the Presbyterian Church U.S. is not ready to approve union with the United Presbyterian Church U.S.A. and will not so approve in the foreseeable future; and,

Whereas, the current disinterest in Union with Presbyterian denomination indicates with equal certainty that the Presbyterian Church U.S. will not approve union with denominations that are not Presbyterian in faith and order; and,

Whereas, membership in the Consultation on Church Union has become a controversial issue which is greatly disturbing the peace of the church; and,

Whereas, any plan to unite the Presbyterian Church U.S. with churches of other than Presbyterian faith and order is specifically forbidden by the Constitution of the Church (Book of Church Order, 18-6 (17); and,

Whereas, the Consultation on Church Union constitutes an organized attempt to merge churches of Reformed and Non-Reformed traditions, as well as churches of Presbyterian faith and order and non-Presbyterian churches;

Now, therefore, be it resolved that this General Assembly hereby withdraw as an active participant and member in the Consultation on Church Union; and,

Be it further resolved that this General Assembly express to its boards and agencies its disapproval of any and all programs of consolidation and joint work among the consultation churches at the board and agency level in the interest of "de facto" union ahead of formal constitutional union; or for any reason not specifically approved by the General Assembly."

be answered in the negative.

C. Re Union with the Reformed Church in America:

1. We recommend that the report of the Joint Committee of Twenty-Four of the R.C.A. Church and the Presbyterian Church U.S., (See Appendix, page 200) be received as information; and that the Committee be dismissed with our appreciation and gratitude for their untiring labors in behalf of the Church.
2. Overtures 24-28 and 56 from the Presbyteries of Athens, Hanover, Knoxville, Norfolk, Potomac, and Nashville, (see page 30) re union with the Reformed Church in America received no action because the Plan of Union did not receive the required vote in the R. C. A. Classes.

D. Re Comity and Union with other Churches:

1. We recommend that Overture 22 from the Synod of West Virginia, (See page 30) asking the General Assembly "to instruct its Committee on Inter-Church relations to intensify its exploration of ways and means of reunion with the UPUSA Church and other Reformed bodies" be answered in the affirmative.
2. We recommend that Overture 23 from the Synod of North Carolina, (See page 30) regarding "the establishment of a permanent committee on relations with the UPUSA Church" be answered in the negative, due to the reference in Article 3, Section 1, paragraph "a" of the manual of the Permanent Committee on Inter-Church Relations, as approved by the 1963 Assembly and amended by the 1965 Assembly.
3. Resolution 15, submitted by William C. Norris, which is as follows:

A Resolution Calling for Union with the UPUSA Church

Be it resolved that the General Assembly of the Presbyterian Church of the United States invite the General Assembly of the United Presbyterian Church in the United States of America to seek a plan for the re-union of the two churches.

The common heritage which we share in these United States, the unity of faith and life to which our Constitutions witness and the necessity of a strong Christian mission in this nation and world, behoove us to initiate plans for union.

Trusting the Holy Spirit, we reaffirm our readiness to be led into whatever forms of church life and work we are revealed as God's will for us.

We believe that we should now study and explore together the following suggested areas of common concern:

1. Doctrine and Policy, Worship and Liturgy
2. World Missions and Ecumenical Relations
3. Christian Education, including higher education
4. Theological Education, including exchange of students and professors
5. A nationwide strategy for Evangelism and Church Extension
6. Communicant referrals and mutual pastoral care, including Chaplains and Armed Forces personnel
7. Stewardship Education and Cultivation
8. Interchange of Ministers and Church Workers, including consideration of pensions and annuities
9. Men's work, Women's work, and Youth work

10. Christian Social Concern and Action
11. Reciprocal studies of denominational administrative and organizational structure
12. Exchange of pulpits, conference leaders, consultants and,
13. Use of official church papers to acquaint our entire constituencies with the life and work of both churches, including church publications and communications media
14. Development of personal acquaintance through exchange of groups of fraternal delegates to general assemblies, synods and presbyteries and to Men's, Women's and Youth assemblies and conferences be adopted as amended:

Resolution and Recommendation from the Standing Committee

Be it resolved that the General Assembly of the Presbyterian Church of the United States invite the General Assembly of the United Presbyterian Church in the United States of America to seek a plan for the re-union of the two churches.

The common heritage which we share in these United States, the unity of faith and life to which our Constitutions witness and the necessity of a strong Christian mission in this nation and world, behoove us to initiate plans for union.

Trusting the Holy Spirit, we reaffirm our readiness to be led into whatever forms of church life and work are revealed as God's will for us.

Therefore, we recommend that the General Assembly of the Presbyterian Church in the United States appoint a special committee of twelve persons and invite the United Presbyterian Church in the United States of America to appoint a committee of twelve persons to constitute a Joint Committee of Twenty-four:

1. To engage in joint conferences to study and explore areas of unity and diversity in our present faith and practice and ways in which the diversities that separate us may be overcome.
2. To encourage and intensify correspondence and discussions between our Boards and Agencies having responsibilities in the areas affecting the total life of our two denominations.
3. To report annually beginning in 1970 to the General Assembly of the Presbyterian Church, U.S. and the General Assembly of the United Presbyterian Church, U.S.A.
4. To recommend further steps toward the re-union of the Presbyterian Church of the United States and the United Presbyterian Church in the United States of America.

This resolution is presented with prayer to God that the life and witness to Jesus Christ in these United States may be greatly strengthened by these considerations and eventual decisions.

5. That the 1969 Operating Expense Budget of the Assembly be amended to include $7,000.00 for the expenses of the Ad Interim Committee on Union with UPUSA.

Respectfully submitted,
R. F. SLOOP, Chairman

The Assembly took recess for eight minutes.

REPORT OF THE STANDING COMMITTEE ON JUDICIAL BUSINESS

The Assembly resumed consideration of the report of the Standing Committee on Judicial Business. The report was adopted, as amended, as follows:

- I. The Standing Committee on Judicial Business considered the following items referred to it:
 - A. Minutes of the Permanent Judicial Commission.
 - B. Overtures 1, 2, 3, 5, 6, 7, 58, 8, 10, 31-45, and 55.
 - C. Report of the Permanent Judicial Commission of seven referrals from the 1968 General Assembly on, to-wit:
 1. Item 4, Amendment to BCO, Section 13-2.
 2. Item 5, Amendment to BCO, Section 16-5.
 3. Item 6, Amendment to BCO, Section 6-7.

4. Item 7, Amendment to BCO, Section 6-1 and 17-1.
5. Item 8, Amendment to BCO, Section 17-5.
6. Item 9, Amendment to BCO, Section 18-2.
7. Item 10, Amendment to BCO, Section 18-6.
- D. Votes of Presbyteries upon amendments to the Constitution sent down for advice and consent by the 1968 General Assembly.
- E. Resolution 9 regarding Concerned Presbyterians.
- F. Nominations to the Permanent Judicial Commission from the Permanent Nominating Committee.

II. YOUR COMMITTEE RECOMMENDS:

- A. That the Minutes of the Permanent Judicial Commission be approved.
- B. That the Overtures be answered as follows:
 1. That Overture 1 from the Presbytery of Asheville, (See page 31) relative to clarification of the position of an Elder serving outside the bounds of the local congregation be answered by the statement recommended by the Permanent Judicial Commission, as follows:
The Commission recommends that this Overture be answered with the following statement:
 - a. An Elder, whether active or inactive, serving in the interests of the Church through the Board of World Missions may be a member of a church to which he is related in missionary service while maintaining active membership in his home church. (BCO, Section 8-17, amendment of 1968.)
 - b. If the person is an active Elder in his home church, he cannot serve as an active Elder in a church to which he is related in missionary service at the same time (Assembly's Digest, 1965, p. 77.)
 - c. If the person is an active Elder in a church to which he is related in missionary service, he cannot serve as an active Elder in his home church at the same time (Assembly's Digest, 1965, p. 77.)
 - d. The Session shall dissolve the active relationship of an Elder when this Elder because of a change of residence is unable to perform the duties of his office for a period of one year unless there is good reason not to do so (BCO, Section 29-10.) The Session has the option to continue or to discontinue the active service of the Elder living and serving beyond the bounds of the congregation which elected him. Sessions should be reminded, however, that the intent of Sections 14 and 15 of the Book of Church Order is that active Elders should be "currently on active service in that congregation" (BCO, Section 15-1.)
 - e. An Elder whose term of service has expired, who is serving outside the bounds of the local congregation in the interests of the Church, may serve as a representative to higher courts as provided in BCO, Section 29-11.
 2. That Overture 2 from the Presbytery of Guyandotte (See page 31) relative to the office of Deacon be retained and considered by the Permanent Judicial Commission for a recommendation to the 1970 General Assembly.
 3. That Overture 3 from the Presbytery of Northeast Texas (See page 32) relative to interpretation of Section 27-5 of the Book of Church Order be answered in the negative for the reason given by the Permanent Judicial Commission, which is as follows:
 Section 27-5(1) of the Book of Church Order has been interpreted to require that a Presbytery regard as an extraordinary candidate any candidate presenting as an academic qualification a certificate which omits the required language studies. This has been held to be the clear intent of this Section and also to be the uniform practice of the Presbyteries. (Assembly's Digest, 1965, p. 212; G.A. Min., 1963, p. 108.)
 4. That Overtures 5, 6, 7, and 58, from the Presbyteries of Concord, Potomac, Louisville, and Oklahoma (See page 32) relative to the "Concerned Presbyterians" circularizing the Church be answered by the recommendation of the Permanent Judicial Commission, as amended, as follows:
The Commission recommends that these Overtures be answered with the following statement:

These overtures seek in part the judicial remedy of censure of admonition. The censure of admonition can be inflicted only by an offense being properly prosecuted by judicial process (BCO, Sections 102-1, 103-1, 103-2). Original jurisdiction over church members is in the church Session of the church to which the member belongs, and over Ministers is in the Presbytery to which the Minister belongs (BCO, Section 104-1). Confirming statements are found in BCO Sections 16-7(13), 15-6(2). Section 107-1 states, "Process against any Church officer shall be entered before the Church court which has jurisdiction over him." There is no provision in the Book of Church Order for bringing a judicial charge against an organization. (See Assembly's Digest, 1965, p. 125.)

The General Assembly does not have original jurisdiction over the accused parties or organization and these overtures have not complied with the Book of Church Order, insofar as the overtures seek a judicial remedy. Therefore no case is constitutionally before the General Assembly.

However, the Commission recommends that the following statement be made under the power of the General Assembly "to bear testimony against error in doctrine and immorality in practice, injuriously affecting the Church." (BCO, Section 18-6(2).)

The General Assembly has expressed its "disapproval" (G.A. Min., 1880, p. 212) of circulating through the Church pamphlets and statements attempting to influence its decisions. It has condemned "as discourteous, anonymous communications attacking the Assembly or its servants" (G.A. Min., 1932, p.42; 1934, p.32; 1949, p.33; 1953, p.106). It has expressed its "emphatic disapproval of the practice of circulating pamphlets or letters or articles through the Church attacking the orthodoxy or Christian character of Ministers or courts of the Church" and laid "a solemn charge upon its Ministers to bring charges against Ministers or courts of the Church only in the regular way set forth in the Book of Church Order (G.A. Min., 1934, p.34; 1961, p.68).

Asked to tell those sending literature to members of a church that they should make such approach through the Session, the Assembly answered in the negative (G.A. Min., 1953, p.106).

The Assembly has clearly affirmed: "We recognize the right of individual conscience in many matters of common concern to members and courts of our Church. We recognize the right of individual and group 'freedom of expression.' Freedom, therefore, on the part of an individual, groups of individuals, and organizations of the Church to express convictions on matters pertaining to the well-being of the Church cannot be denied. The General Assembly urges and expects, however, that honest convictions be expressed in Christian love and with concern for the truth." (G.A. Min., 1965, p.77.)

Further, the Assembly, being asked to study a group issuing an "open letter," a group called THE FELLOWSHIP OF CONCERN, and a group called CONCERNED PRESBYTERIANS, answered in the negative but also affirmed: "This answer is given because of a belief in Freedom of the Press and Freedom of Assembly. The General Assembly has its own PRESBYTERIAN SURVEY in which the official interpretation of facts and matters of policy may be widely read. Other groups and publications must be accorded freedom of expression." (G.A. Min., 1967, p.67.)

In its 1965 statement the Assembly had spoken of "regular procedures stated" in the Form of Government for communication among courts and individuals. The meaning of this phrase was asked of the Assembly of 1967, which replied: "Except where necessary for the administrative and judicial business of the Church courts, the Book of Church Order does not prescribe any procedures for the regulating of correspondence among Church courts and individuals. However, each Church court and individual bears a special responsibility to see to it that all such communications shall be directed toward the promotion of the peace, harmony and purity of the Church and shall be consistent with and within the affirmances of the Book of Church Order and the pronouncements of the General Assembly." (G.A. Min., 1967, p.129.)

The Commission further recommends that the General Assembly affirm as follows:

- a. This Assembly recognizes the rights of freedom of the press and of freedom of expression within the Church. This freedom, whether on the part of individuals, groups of individuals, organizations within the Church, or of independent publications, cannot be denied.
- b. This Assembly has the right to expect that such expression of convictions on matters pertaining to the well-being of the Church be made in Christian love, with meticulous respect for truth, and in an effort to maintain both the purity and peace of the Church.

- c. When this Assembly, with reason, believes such expressions of conviction to be an "immorality in practice, injuriously affecting the Church," it should under Section 18-6(2) of the Form of Government "bear testimony" against such expressions.
 - d. When such expression by individual Church members or Ministers is deemed a possible "offense" (Rules of Discipline, Section 102-1 ff.), action under the Rules of Discipline can be taken but only before the court having constitutional jurisdiction of the member or Minister.
 - e. The Assembly further affirms its continued support of our accredited and approved seminaries, their professors and graduates, and the boards and agencies of the Church.
5. That Overture 8 from the Presbytery of John Knox (See page 33) relative to using persons not ordained as Ministers or Ruling Elders to serve as members of a Commission of a Church court be answered in the negative for the reason given by the Permanent Judicial Commission, which is as follows:
- The Commission recommends* that the overture be answered in the negative for the reason that a member of a Commission must be eligible to be a member of the court establishing such Commission. If, as BCO, Section 19-2, indicates, a Commission may make decisions for a Church court as if it were the court, it follows that those eligible to be members of a Commission must be eligible to be members of the court.
6. That Overture 10 from the Presbytery of the Everglades, asking interpretation of proposed Chapters 31, 32, and 33 of the Book of Church Order (See page 33) be answered with the statement recommended by the Permanent Judicial Commission, which is as follows:
- The Commission recommends* that this overture be answered with the following statement:
- The information requested concerns a matter that is not yet a part of the Constitution, therefore no opinion should be expressed.
7. That Overtures 31-45 and 55 from the Presbyteries of Appomattox, Asheville, Central Mississippi, East Alabama, Everglades, Piedmont, St. Andrew, Tuscaloosa, Enoree, Florida, Holston, Louisiana, Pee Dee, Bethel, Westminster, and Harmony (See pages 33-35) relative to no action being taken to approve and enact Chapter 32 of the Book of Church Order dealing with Union Presbyteries unless the General Assembly has received the advice and consent of three-fourths of the presbyteries be answered in the negative.
- C. That the referrals from the 1968 General Assembly be answered as follows:
- 1. Item 4 regarding Amendment BCO, Section 13-2. (See Appendix, page 134.) The Committee recommends that the amendment to the BCO recommended by the Permanent Judicial Commission which follows be approved and sent down to the presbyteries for their advice and consent:
- "The Pastor is Moderator of the church Session. The Moderator of the Presbytery shall ordinarily be elected at each stated meeting. A Presbytery may decide to elect its Moderator for one year, but he must be a member of the court to serve. The Moderators of the Synod and General Assembly shall be elected at each stated meeting and must be members of the respective court. In these higher courts the Moderator shall serve until his successor is elected. In the case of death or inability of the Moderator to serve, the immediate past Moderator shall serve as Moderator until a Moderator shall be elected at the next stated meeting of the court; or, in the case of his inability to serve, the next previous Moderator shall assume the duties of the office; and this procedure shall be followed until a Moderator has been obtained to complete the term."
- 2. Item 5 regarding Amendment BCO, Section 16-5. (See Appendix, page 135.) The Committee recommends that the amendment to the BCO recommended by the Permanent Judicial Commission which follows be approved and sent down to the presbyteries for their advice and consent:
- "Should the Presbytery fail to sustain the examination of a Minister seeking admission from another Presbytery, the Presbytery to which he seeks admission shall, before adjournment of that meeting, enter a statement in its minutes of the reasons for such refusal and give the Minister under examination the opportunity to enter an answer to such statement in the same minutes. If, at that meeting of Presbytery, as many as two members of that meeting of Presbytery request the Presbytery to do so, the Presbytery shall within ten days meet and reexamine such Minister and cause a verbatim transcript of the examination to be made."

3. Item 6 regarding Amendment BCO, Section 16-7. (See Appendix, page 135.) The Committee recommends the adoption of the recommendations of the Permanent Judicial Commission.
4. Item 7 regarding Amendment BCO, Section 16-1 and 17-1. (See Appendix, page 135.) The Committee recommends that this amendment to the BCO not be approved and sent down to the presbyteries for their advice and consent.
5. Item 8 regarding Amendment BCO, Section 17-5. (See Appendix, page 136.) The Committee recommends the adoption of the negative recommendation of the Permanent Judicial Commission.
6. Item 9 regarding Amendment BCO, Section 18-2. (See Appendix, page 136.) The Committee recommends the adoption of the negative recommendation of the Permanent Judicial Commission.
7. Item 10 regarding Amendment BCO, Section 18-6. (See Appendix, page 136.) The Committee recommends that the amendment to the BCO recommended by the Permanent Judicial Commission which follows be approved and sent down to the presbyteries for their advice and consent:

"Eliminate the period and add to the section the following words:

'and to unite or divide those which were before established'."

D. As to the votes of the presbyteries on amendments to the Constitution, this Committee recommends:

1. That the following summary submitted by the Stated Clerk be approved:

REPORT OF CONSTITUTIONAL COMMITTEE

The Moderator announced as his ruling that of the Constitutional Committee and ordered its report entered in the record as follows:

REPORT OF CONSTITUTIONAL COMMITTEE ON REFERENCE NUMBER ONE 1969

The Moderator has been requested to make a ruling on a question of order involving a Constitutional question which has been referred to the 1969 Constitutional Committee for consideration as provided by Standing Rule 10.3a (1968 G.A. Minutes, p.263).

The question is as follows:

"Whether the Assembly must deal with by either acceptance or rejection of an amendment to the Book of Church Order already passed by the previous Assembly and approved by the Presbyteries."

The Constitutional Committee makes the following recommendation through the Moderator:
It is the opinion of the Constitutional Committee that action can be deferred to a subsequent meeting if the General Assembly desires to do so. The question involves an interpretation of BCO 30-1(3) and 30-4. The language of BCO 30-1(3) states that "approval and enactment by a subsequent meeting of the General Assembly" is required. The use of "a" instead of "the" as in BCO 30-4 suggests that action need not be taken at the next meeting of the General Assembly. The word "subsequent" is defined by Webster as "following in time, order, or place; later; succeeding" (Webster's New Collegiate Dictionary 1951 edition).

In 1967 the General Assembly deferred action on proposed amendments to Chapter 6 of the Book of Church Order after these had been approved by the General Assembly and the advice and consent of a majority of the presbyteries had been given.

BCO 30-4 states that when a number of presbyteries have failed to act or report with respect to a proposed amendment, the General Assembly may defer action for one year. We construe this as a limitation on the right of presbyteries to defer action but not a limitation on the right of the General Assembly.

The Constitutional Committee notes that the General Assembly has received a motion to approve and enact a number of Constitutional Amendments to the Book of Church Order by a single motion. The Constitutional Committee believes it would be preferable to have each amendment separately considered.

109th General Assembly Constitutional Committee
JAMES E. DRINKARD
JOSEPH E. MEUX
JOSEPH W. GRIER, JR.

2. That the following amendments approved by the presbyteries be and hereby are enacted:

a. That Chapter 8 of the Form of Government be amended by adding thereto a new Section 8-18 as follows:

"If a church is dissolved by the Presbytery, or otherwise ceases to exist, and on the rolls of such church, members remain who have made no arrangements to transfer their membership to some other church, the Presbytery shall have power to transfer such members to another church within its bounds whose Session agrees to receive them."

b. That present Chapter 22 of the Form of Government be replaced by the following:
"Chapter 22

Synod and General Assembly Committees on the Minister and His Work

§ 22-1 To facilitate the work of the Commissions in the Presbyteries, a Synod may establish a Committee on the Minister and His Work.

§ 22-2 To assist the Commissions in the Presbyteries, their churches and Ministers, in the entire area of ministerial relationships, the General Assembly shall have a permanent Committee to be known as the Assembly's Committee on the Minister and His Work."

c. That Section 25-3(b) of the Form of Government be replaced by the following:

"An Assistant Pastor is called by the vote of the Church Session, but only after the Session has consulted the Presbytery through its Commission on the Minister and His Work. The terms of the call as extended by the Church Session shall follow the form outlined for the calling of a Pastor, and shall specify the particular functions which the Assistant Pastor is to fulfill in the life of that church. This relation, an agreement between the Church Session and the Assistant Pastor, is established by installation, an act of Presbytery, and is dissolved only by the authority of Presbytery. The Presbytery, acting through its Commission on the Minister and His Work, may dissolve the relationship upon the initiative of either the Church Session or the Assistant Pastor. Not being a Church officer elected by the congregation, the Assistant Pastor is not a member of the Session of that Church, but should be invited by the Session to be present at its meetings.

The official relationship of an Assistant Pastor to a church shall be reviewed by the Session when the relationship of the Pastor to that Church is dissolved. An Assistant Pastor is not eligible to succeed the Pastor in a church which they serve together nor may he be called to be Associate Pastor in that church while the church is without a Pastor."

- d. That the second paragraph of Section 26-1 of the Form of Government be replaced by the following:

"The Church Session shall call a congregational meeting to convene at the regular place of worship to elect a Nominating Committee, representative of the whole congregation, whose duty shall be to nominate a Minister to the congregation for election to the desired pastoral relation. Rather than elect a Nominating Committee representative of the whole congregation, the congregation may designate the Church Session as the Nominating Committee. Public notice of the time, place, and purpose of the meeting shall be given at public worship at least one week prior to the time of the meeting."

- e. That present Chapter 31 of the Form of Government be replaced by the following:

CHAPTER 31 Of Union Churches

§ 31-1 Particular churches of this Church may unite to form union churches with one or more particular churches of the United Presbyterian Church in the United States of America, of the Reformed Church in America, and of other Reformed bodies, with the approval of the Presbytery.

§ 31-2 The following Plan of Union shall be adopted by the union church so formed:

(1) The following Plan of Union is adopted by the _____ Presbyterian Church of _____ and the _____ Church of _____, effective as of the date when each of the congregations has approved the plan by a two-thirds majority of those present at a regularly called congregational meeting with such notice and quorum as is required by the Constitution of each Church, and when the Presbytery (Classis) of jurisdiction of each church has approved the particular union and this Plan of Union.

(2) The purpose of this union is to provide for the worship of Almighty God and instruction in the Christian religion by a united congregation which will share the property, real and personal, of the uniting churches and provide for the services of a Minister or Ministers for the united church.

(3) The united church shall be known as the _____ Church of _____.

(4) The united church shall be subject to the Constitution of each Church involved as set forth in subsections (18), (19), (21), and (22) below.

(5) The Session (Consistory) shall submit its records annually, and whenever requested, to each judicatory of jurisdiction.

(6) The membership of the united church shall consist of those who were members of the uniting churches, plus those received by the Session (Consistory) of the united church.

(7) The Session (Consistory) of the united church shall report an equal share of the total membership to each judicatory of jurisdiction, and such membership shall be published in the Minutes (Acts and Proceedings) of the General Assembly, with a note to the effect that the report is that of a union church, and with an indication of the total actual membership. A similar report of church school members, baptisms, etc., and financial expenditures shall be made by the Session (Consistory) and noted by each General Assembly in its minutes.

(8) Initially the officers of the united church, Elders and Deacons, shall be those officers in active service of the uniting churches, who will undertake to perform their ordination responsibilities under the Constitution of each Church, as indicated in subsections (4) above and (18), (19), (21), and (22) below.

(9) At the first annual meeting subsequent to the effective date of the union, new classes of officers, to replace the officers noted in section (8) above, shall be elected by the united congregation according to the constitutional procedure in force as a consequence of subsection (22) below.

(10) The pastoral relations of the Ministers of the uniting churches shall be dissolved automatically by the action of the Presbytery (Classis) of jurisdiction in approving this plan, but they may be eligible to be Ministers (Pastors or Associate Pastors) of the united church according to the will of the united congregation and subject to the approval of the Presbyteries (both the Classis and the Presbytery).

(11) The Minister or Ministers of the united church shall be full and responsible members of each judicatory of immediate jurisdiction and shall be subject to discipline as provided in subsection (19) below.

(12) The united church shall cause a corporation to be formed under the appropriate laws of the state, where permissible. That corporation shall include in its articles or charter the substance of subsections (2), (3), and (4) above.

(13) All property of the uniting churches, real and personal, shall be transferred to the corporation formed in subsection (12) above. The new corporation shall be the legal successor of the corporations, if any, of the uniting churches, and it shall be bound to administer any trust property of monies received in accordance with the provisions of the original establishment of the trust. All liabilities of the uniting churches shall be liabilities of the united church. In any state where a church corporation is forbidden, the purposes of this paragraph shall be achieved in harmony with the law of that state.

(14) Trustees of the corporation (or the unincorporated body) shall be elected in harmony with civil law according to the constitutional provisions outlined in subsection (4) above, as interpreted by subsection (22) below.

(15) While recognizing the basic right of any giver to designate the cause or causes to which his own gift shall go, the Session (Consistory) of the united church shall annually propose to the congregation a general mission or benevolence program which shall be divided equitably among the officially approved causes of each denomination. The proportions shall be as the Session (Consistory) shall decide in response to the requests of the higher judicatories.

(16) Per capita apportionments or assessments shall be paid to each Presbytery (classis) of jurisdiction on the basis of the total communicant membership of the union church, equally divided among the denominations involved.

(17) All members of the united church shall be under the discipline of the Session (Consistory) according to rules agreed upon in harmony with the Constitution of each denomination where they coincide, and in harmony with the mandatory provisions of the Constitution of one denomination where the others are permissive, and at the choice of the Session (Consistory) where they may be contradictory.

(18) Appeals or complaints against the actions of the Session (Consistory) shall be made to one judicatory only (Presbytery or Classis) at the choice of the members and all subsequent appeals or complaints shall be in the courts of the members' original choice, and decisions so finally made shall be binding on the Session (Consistory) and on the member.

(19) The Minister or Ministers shall be subject to the discipline of the Presbyteries (the Presbytery and the Classis) provided that when either shall begin an action, it shall invite a committee from the others to join the commissioner, prosecutor, or prosecuting committee in formulating and pressing the charges. In the event of appeal the case shall be finally decided by the highest court to which the appeal is taken in the Church which commenced the action, and that decision shall be equally binding on the Presbyteries (both the Presbytery and the Classis).

(20) The Minister or Ministers shall participate in the denominational Pension Plan of one of the Churches. If he is already participating in one plan, he shall remain in that plan. If he is not a member of any, he shall choose among them.

(21) Complaints against the administrative acts of the Session (Consistory) may be taken under the constitutional provisions of only one denomination, according to the choice of the complainant, and once being complained to one judicatory, no other denomination shall accept jurisdiction in the same matter.

(22) Wherever the Constitutions of the denominations differ, the mandatory provisions of one shall apply in all cases when the others are permissive. Wherever there are conflicting mandatory provisions (except as provided in subsection (17) above), the Session (Consistory) of the united church shall petition the judicatories of immediate jurisdiction to overture their respective highest courts to resolve the conflict either by authoritative interpretation or by constitutional amendment.

(23) A union church may be dissolved by a two-thirds vote of two congregational meetings, held not less than one year and not more than two years apart, subject to the concurrence of the Presbyteries (Classes) involved. In case of dissolution of a union church, all property of the united church, real and personal, shall be divided equally between the Presbyteries (the Presbytery and the Classis) of jurisdiction.

§ 31-3. No provision in this chapter shall be construed as modifying or amending the Constitution of this Church in its application to any but union churches organized under this chapter, their members, officers, or Ministers.

f. That a new Chapter 32 be added to the Form of Government as follows:

CHAPTER 32 Of Union Presbyteries (Classes)

§ 32-1. A Presbytery of this Church may unite with a Presbytery or Classis of the United Presbyterian Church in the United States of America, the Reformed Church in America, or another Reformed body, to form a union Presbytery (Classis), with the approval of the Synod of jurisdiction of which the Presbytery (Classis) is a part. A union Presbytery (Classis) may be composed of two or more Presbyteries (Classes) from two or more Reformed bodies.

§ 32-2. The following Plan of Union shall be adopted to each Presbytery (Classis) involved:

(1) This Plan of Union is adopted by the Presbytery of _____ and the Presbytery (Classis) of _____ effective as of _____ (date), the Presbyteries (Presbytery and Classis) having each approved the plan by a two-thirds majority of those present at a stated meeting of the Presbytery (Classis), the matter having been published beforehand on its docket and the union and this plan having been approved by the Synod of jurisdiction over each Presbytery.

(2) The purpose of the union shall be the furtherance of a united witness and mission, the administration of a single program of nurture, sustenance, and growth of the Church within the union Presbytery (Classis), and the oversight of all churches within its bounds by a union Presbytery (Classis), which will hold title to the properties of the uniting judicatories and provide the functions and fulfill the duties of a Presbytery (Classis), as specified in the Constitution of each Church.

(3) The union Presbytery (Classis) shall be subject to the Constitution of each denomination as set forth below:

- (a) The Presbytery (Classis) shall submit its records annually, and whenever requested, to each Synod of jurisdiction.
- (b) The Presbytery (Classis) shall be fully and equally responsible to each Church. The Presbytery (Classis) shall adjust its benevolence or general mission askings of the particular churches annually, to the end that the Presbytery (Classis) shall equitably support the program of each denomination.
- (c) Per capita apportionments or assessments shall be paid to each Synod and General Assembly of jurisdiction on the basis of the communicant strength of the union Presbytery (Classis), equally divided among the denominations involved. In the event that such a procedure proves inequitable, an alternative basis may be adopted, subject to approval by the Synod of jurisdiction of each denomination. Such an alternative, if adopted, shall be subject to periodic review.
- (d) The union Presbytery (Classis) shall be under the discipline of the Synods and General Assemblies, according to standing rules agreed upon in harmony with the Constitutions of the denominations where they coincide, and in harmony with the mandatory provisions of the laws of each Church where the others are permissive, and at the choice of the Presbytery (Classis) where they may be contradictory.
- (e) Appeals or complaints against the actions of the Presbytery (Classis) shall be made only to the Synod of one denomination. That denomination shall be determined by the Presbytery (Classis), and all subsequent appeals or complaints in the same action shall be in the courts of the original determination, and decisions so reached shall be binding on all the parties to such action.

(f) Complaints against administrative acts of the Presbytery (Classis) may be taken under the constitutional provisions of only one denomination, according to the determination of the Presbytery (Classis); and, once being complained to one court, courts of the other denominations may not accept jurisdiction in the same matter.

(g) Wherever the Constitutions of the denominations differ, any mandatory provisions of one shall apply in all cases where the others are permissive. Where there are conflicting mandatory provisions (except as provided in subsection (3) (d) above), the union Presbytery (Classis) shall overture the General Assemblies of the denominations involved to resolve the conflict either by authoritative interpretation or by constitutional amendment.

(4) The membership of the union Presbytery (Classis) shall consist of all minister members of each uniting Presbytery (Presbytery and Classis), and all the churches (elder representatives thereof) of the uniting Presbyteries (Presbytery and Classis), plus all others received by the union Presbytery (Classis), subsequent to the effective date of this union. When the Constitutions of the Churches vary as to elder representation, that provision which confers the largest representation shall apply.

(5) The churches of a union Presbytery (Classis) shall be considered union churches belonging to each denomination. Each particular church shall be reported to each General Assembly and Synod of jurisdiction on the basis of an equal division of its total membership, with a notation to the effect that this has been done.

(6) Ministers of the union Presbytery (Classis) shall be full and responsible members of each denomination. They shall be subject to the jurisdiction and discipline of the denominations as provided in this plan. Ministers and Elders shall be eligible to serve as Commissioners (delegates) to any General Assembly, as provided in the Constitutions of each denomination. Commissioners (delegates) to General Assembly shall be elected on the basis of an equal division of the total communicant membership of the Presbytery (Classis).

(7) The union Presbytery (Classis) shall be responsible to propose to all its churches a general mission and benevolence program which it judges to be an adequate and equitable response to the requests of the Assemblies, the Synods, and to its own needs. Each Session (Consistory) shall give the members of its congregation opportunity to support this general mission and benevolence program.

(8) The union Presbytery (Classis) shall cause a corporation to be formed under the appropriate laws of the state. This corporation shall include in its articles or charter the substance of subsections (1), (2), and (3) above. All property of the uniting Presbyteries (Presbytery and Classis), real and personal, shall be transferred to the corporation or corporations formed under this section. The new corporation shall be the legal successor of the corporations, if any, of the uniting Presbyteries (Presbytery and Classis), and it shall be bound to administer any trust property or monies received in accordance with the provisions of the original establishment of the trust. All liabilities of each uniting Presbytery (Classis) shall be liabilities of the union Presbytery (Classis). In any state where a church corporation is forbidden, the purpose of this paragraph shall be achieved in harmony with the laws of that state.

(9) The union Presbytery (Classis) shall draw up standing rules which shall define the operation of Presbytery (Classis) in such a manner as to fulfill all the functions of a Presbytery (Classis), as defined in the Constitution of each denomination.

(10) Each minister who may be subject to the call of the Presbytery (Classis) or any of its constituent churches in the exercise of his vocation, or who may be an employee of Presbytery (Classis), shall participate in the denominational pension plan of one of the Churches. If the minister is already participating in one plan, he shall remain in that plan. If he is not a member of any, he shall choose among them.

(11) A union Presbytery (Classis) may be dissolved by a two-thirds vote at two stated meetings of Presbytery (Classis), not less than one year and not more than two years apart, subject to the concurrence of the Synods involved.

(a) In case of dissolution of a union Presbytery (classis), all the property, real and personal, of the union Presbytery (Classis) shall be divided between the denominations or their courts of jurisdiction on the basis of the origin of the property, if such is determinable. If the origin is not determinable, then the property shall be divided equally between the denominations or their courts of jurisdiction, as may be proper.

- (b) The particular churches within the dissolved union Presbytery (Classis) shall retain their status as union churches, unless they vote to change that status under the provisions of § 31-2 (23).
- § 32-3. No provision in this Plan of Union shall be construed as modifying or amending the Constitution of this Church in its application to any but union Presbyteries (Classes) organized under this chapter, their churches, or Ministers.

- (g) That the report of the presbyteries not indicating sufficient advice and consent on item g. regarding a new Chapter 33 to the Form of Government be received as information, as this amendment cannot be enacted.
- E. Nominations:
The Committee recommends that the following persons nominated by the Permanent Committee on Nominations be elected to the Permanent Judicial Commission:
Class of 1972: Rev. James E. Drinkard (2) Appa.; Rev. Charles L. Moffatt (2) Tenn.; Joseph W. Grier, Jr. (2) N.C.; Thomas Y. Minniece (2) Miss.
- F. Resolution by James D. Newsome, Jr., et al, which reads as follows:
Whereas, the organization calling itself "Concerned Presbyterians, Inc." has continually opposed programs, policies and relations of our denomination which have been consistently approved by succeeding General Assemblies; and,
Whereas, this organization has consistently impugned the motives and questioned the integrity of respected leaders in the church but has never followed the prescribed procedure of bringing such serious charges before appropriate church courts as provided in The Book of Church Order; and,
Whereas, "Concerned Presbyterians" in attempting to achieve their purposes have repeatedly used methods which have been disapproved by the General Assembly; and,
Whereas, this organization has frequently attempted to infiltrate and create resistant groups in congregations, questioning the faithfulness of ministers and creating distrust between pastors and people; and,
Whereas, "Concerned Presbyterians" reportedly spend large sums of money annually to bring in from the outside literature and field personnel to cause disruption within churches; and,
Whereas, it is the duty of the General Assembly "to bear testimony against error in doctrine and immorality in practice, injuriously affecting the Church" (BCO 18-6(2));
Now therefore be it resolved that, without attempting to bind the conscience of any person, it is nevertheless the judgment of this Assembly that the programs and activities of "Concerned Presbyterians" do not constitute a valid pattern of Christian faithfulness for our people and the techniques and philosophies of "Concerned Presbyterians" do not promote the peace, unity, edification and purity of Christ's Church; and,
Be it further resolved that this Assembly lovingly and earnestly entreats all its constituency to seek more constructive and loving avenues of obedience to Christ and the cause of His Kingdom than those offered by "Concerned Presbyterians"; and,
Be it further resolved that, in order for all our constituency to be informed, the Stated Clerk of the General Assembly be instructed to send this resolution to every Minister and Clerk of Session with the request that Sessions publicize this action in their congregations.
It was moved and adopted "that the latter portion of this resolution (excluding the paragraphs beginning with the words "Whereas") be adopted by the General Assembly."

Respectfully submitted,
JOHN L. WELLFORD, Chairman

Rev. W. S. McLean, Chairman, presented the report of the Standing Committee on Church and Society.

EVENING SESSION

7:30 P.M.

The Assembly met at 7:30 and was opened with prayer voiced by Rev. Fernando Padilla.

SPECIAL ORDER

The Assembly engaged in a service of tribute to Rev. Thomas Hugh Spence, Jr. The paper below was adopted by the Assembly, along with the attached recommendations:

A TRIBUTE

Thomas Hugh Spence, Jr.

Somehow there seems to be a silent and yet mutual understanding among all of us that, if it were humanly possible to use the proper words in their measured quality and deserving quantity, we should come very close to bankrupting our flexible mother tongue in our attempts to express our feelings toward Dr. Spence. Since such feelings can not adequately be set forth, we shall leave it to his wise and understanding heart to sense what we try to say and do.

With unassuming friendliness and quiet dignity, Dr. Spence has become part of us. He has shown an abiding interest in the many who have made his acquaintance—both within the Historical Foundation and without. He has not expected large distinction nor honor, yet he has won the affection of those who have known him. He has gained the respect of scholars in their research and the devotion of simpler persons seeking a single fact or name or date. In the opinion of some of those who have worked closely with him, Dr. Spence has been described as ever most gentlemanly, “always the epitome of courtesy, always pleasant and agreeable.” “In spite of scholarly interests and very definitely historical interests, he is first of all a dedicated Christian.”

In some respects, modern man is said to be a tired individual. Especially is he tired if he is still a seeker after fragments of history which, when added to the larger piece already fashioned, add a bit more lustre and completeness. When modern man has sought after truth in the field of church history, attempts have been made to bury him in a deluge of cynicism or to catch him in a clattering barrage of modern writing which insists that church history is useless and insipid, the ghost of a dead past. One American church historian has suggested that, in the 100 years following the Civil War, the church, like big business, has put her emphasis on efficiency, system, and organization.

To what extent such attitudes have prevailed, I do not know; but this I do know—that Dr. Spence has ever kept before him the noteworthy goal of making the Historical Foundation at Montreat the finest in the world. For 30 years he has served, first as Curator and then as Executive Director. As early as 1944, he planned the present building and then had the satisfaction of seeing it completed 10 years later. Among other things, he has stimulated the enthusiasm of local church historians, he has increased the collection of books related to Presbyterian and Reformed bodies all over the world, he has served on the editorial staff of “The Journal of Presbyterian History,” and he has enlarged the collection of Calviniana at our Foundation. Who can measure the versatility and contribution of Dr. Spence as “a caretaker of histories”? To gauge the extent of his influence and efforts may well find them reaching beyond the rim of time. Who can tell! On one occasion, Wm. E. Gladstone said of Sir Walter Scott: “He has left a double treasure, the memory of himself and the possession of his works.” With apologies to Mr. Gladstone, I should like to say of Dr. Spence: “He has left a double treasure, the memory of himself and a significant collection in the Historical Foundation at Montreat.”

Dr. Spence, we are proud of you and we are grateful to Almighty God for you. And on behalf of all of those whose lives you have touched, officially or unofficially, I am glad to present to you this plaque.

RECOMMENDATIONS

1. That Dr. T. H. Spence, Jr. be elected Executive Director Emeritus of the Historical Foundation upon his retirement on June 9, 1969.

DOCKET FOR THE DAY

The Program Committee presented the following docket: resume consideration of Church and Society, Bills and Overtures, World Missions, General Council, Thanks.

REPORT OF THE STANDING COMMITTEE ON CHURCH AND SOCIETY

The Assembly resumed consideration of the report of the Standing Committee on Church and Society. The report was adopted, as amended, as follows:

- I. The Standing Committee on Church and Society considered the following items referred to it:
 - Minutes of the Council on Church and Society.
 - Report of the Council on Church and Society with its recommendations.
 - Overtures 19 and 20.
 - Resolution 5.
 - Resolution 11.

II. YOUR COMMITTEE RECOMMENDS:

- A. That the minutes of the Council on Church and Society be approved.
- B. That the annual report of the Council on Church and Society, (See Appendix, page 197) be approved, and that the recommendations of the Council, as amended, be adopted:
 - 1. That the paper "Hunger" be adopted, as amended, as follows:

HUNGER

- 1 We Have Two Decades—At Most
- 2 In May 1967, the President's Science Advisory Committee presented its report to the
- 3 President of the United States. That committee of experts said: "The world food problem
- 4 is not a future threat. It is here now and it must be solved within the next two decades.
- 5 If it is solved during this time, it will be manageable for the years thereafter."
- 6 This is an optimistic judgment. Others are far less hopeful, and there are even some
- 7 economists who hold that a head-on collision between exploding populations and stagnant
- 8 food production is already unavoidable. They say that no matter what may be done, 1975
- 9 will see the beginning of mass starvation that will leave no part of the world untouched.
- 10 The time for preventive measures is past; the only sensible strategy is to accept the inevit-
- 11 able and prepare to salvage what we can from the holocaust.
- 12 These poles of relative optimism and unblinking pessimism delimit the field of knowledge-
- 13 able judgment. No one who has looked at the curves of population explosion and food
- 14 production says that the problem will solve itself. The experts agree that a world-wide
- 15 crisis is here.
- 16 The Watchman's Role
- 17 In the book of the prophet Ezekiel, the 33rd chapter, the prophet's role is described as
- 18 that of a watchman over the house of Israel.
- 19 The watchman is set on the walls of the city, to look for the coming of the sword.
- 20 When he sees danger threatening, his duty is to blow the trumpet in warning, so that the
- 21 people can flee from disaster. If he blows the trumpet, and they ignore its message, then
- 22 they die on their own responsibility. But if the watchman does not perform his duty, if he
- 23 fails to sound the warning, then he must bear the guilt when the people perish.
- 24 In the face of the threat of world-wide famine—which means mass starvation of millions
- 25 of people for whom Jesus Christ died—this aspect of the prophet's role is particularly
- 26 apt as one function of the church's ministry today.
- 27 Hunger is the world's most deadly curable disease. We permit 15,000 people—10,000
- 28 of them children—to starve to death every day. Unlike cancer, however, their sickness has 29 a known cause and a known cure: food.

30 There is surely no need for more documentation of hunger as a problem before we act.
31 The data are already available; the conclusions are drawn.

32 Nor is there any need for Christians longer to ponder the Biblical justification and 33 theological legitimacy of our clear duty. We have a prophetic mandate to warn the people.

34 To whom must this warning be addressed?

35 To ourselves as Presbyterians, who must practice concrete, active penitence before the 36 fact that we live in a rich nation with ability to contribute much to a solution of world
37 hunger. But we have not cared enough.

38 To ourselves as citizens of a nation that must sail through stormy waters in the next
39 decades, if hunger brings the world-wide time of political turmoil and violent revolution
40 which many sober men predict.

41 To our fellowmen and Christians throughout the world whose corporate conscience does 42 have the power to change national and international policy.

43 Therefore we commit ourselves to reorder our priorities as a church in a massive and 44 sacrificial effort to help others and ourselves to deal realistically with the problem of 45 world hunger.

46 Declarations of the General Assembly

47 To meet the clear call of God which we see in the faces of millions of starving people,
48 the 109th General Assembly of the Presbyterian Church in the United States:

49 1. Declares that world hunger is so real and grave that this problem is a top priority
50 concern of the Presbyterian Church in the United States and that all possible resources of 51 the Presbyterian Church in the United States, for at least the next five years, must be 52 focused on ways and means of dealing with the problem.

53 2. Urges all its boards and agencies to review their present and projected policies and 54 programs and to take action appropriate to this top priority, and to report to the 110th
55 General Assembly with information to the Council on Church and Society their present
56 and projected policies and programs dealing with this top priority; the policies and pro-
57 grams of the boards and agencies to include pilot project analyses for producing the food
58 in part and enabling associated opportunities to proclaim and communicate the Gospel
59 of Jesus Christ.

60 3. Recognizes that this problem can be responsibly dealt with only by the cooperative 61 efforts of public and private agencies, and therefore urges its program boards to seek ways
62 of working with other agencies on this problem and to report on their progress to the 110th
63 General Assembly with information to the Council on Church and Society.

64 4. Urges the program boards to make available to the denomination at the earliest 65 possible time study materials on world hunger and the church's responsibility, and urges all 66 members to study these materials.

67 5. Registers its conviction that the nation's priorities ought to be reevaluated and the 68 nation's resources reassigned in such a way that this nation, working with other nations, 69 may responsibly attack the critical problem of world hunger.

70 6. Directs the Stated Clerk to inform the President and the members of the U.S.
71 Congress with a direct communication to the Senate Subcommittee on World Hunger and 72 Malnutrition, of our concern about world hunger, our hope that they will establish work 73 on this problem as a top national priority, and our determination to do what we can to 74 respond to the world's need.

2. That the "Resolution on Nuclear Disarmament" be adopted, as amended, as follows:

RESOLUTION ON NUCLEAR DISARMAMENT

1 Whereas, The destructive potential of war has been greatly multiplied by the develop-
2 ment of modern weaponry and chemical, biological, and nuclear warfare; and

3 Whereas, The new shape of war and the threat of nuclear annihilation pose serious ques-
4 tions for Christians concerned with the maintenance of peace and justice, and the preserva-
5 tion of human life and God's creation; and

6 Whereas, The present annual expenditures on national armaments make it impossible for 7 our nation to deal responsibly with urgently needed domestic reforms or with problems of 8 world poverty; and

9 Whereas, There are presently before our nation specific decisions which will heighten the 10 possibility of nuclear warfare or demonstrate a genuine desire to de-escalate the current 11 arms race and seek peaceful means to settle international disputes,

12 Therefore, be it resolved that the 109th General Assembly:

- 13 1. Expresses appreciation of our government's ratification of the nuclear nonproliferation
- 14 treaty, urges strong citizen support of the treaty, and calls for the development of a
- 15 more comprehensive nuclear ban.
- 16 2. Urges our government to consider carefully the extreme danger of possible intensifica-
- 17 tion of the arms race through expansion of the ABM system.
- 18 3. Urges our government to participate fully in international conversations regarding
- 19 multilateral deescalation of the arms race.
- 20 4. Engages in fervent prayer that God will give wisdom and foresight to the leaders of
- 21 our nation and the leaders of the world as together we grapple with the agonizing
- 22 complexities of ending the conflicts and maintaining fruitful peace on this planet.
- 23 5. Directs the Stated Clerk to send copies of this resolution to the President of the
- 24 United States, the Secretary of State, the Secretary of Defense, and the members of the
- 25 Congress.

3. That the paper "Justice, Law and Order" be adopted, as amended, as follows:

JUSTICE, LAW AND ORDER

1 The frustrations, anxieties, and fears of our troubled time have produced a widespread
 2 demand for law and order. The reason is clear: lawlessness and disorder are common.
 3 Presbyterians, like other Christians, rightfully support the rule of law and have, in addi-
 4 tion, a special appreciation of an orderly system. There are dimensions of the current cries
 5 for law and order, however, which call for our careful scrutiny. For just as our society
 6 has tended to focus upon technology—which is only a means to the end of a good life—
 7 and often made it an end in itself, so here we have focused upon law and order, which is 8 only a means to justice, and forgotten the end, justice itself. Law and order, however im-
 9 portant, are not enough. We must always require of them that they support justice. Insofar 10 as the state lacks justice, it is itself disorderly, and its law and order necessarily partake of 11 this basic disorderliness. Superficially, Mussolini's Italy was orderly: the trains ran on 12 time. Basically, it lacked that order which is justice and therefore did not long endure. To 13 say these things is not to praise disorder but only to point out that a visible order may hide 14 a fundamental disorder.

15 The church, in its efforts to witness to and influence the social order, must understand
 16 the principles which underlie that order. The Biblical tradition clearly asserts that justice—17 the equitable treatment of all men, with particular concern for the weak, the poor, and 18 the oppressed—is the basic principle of social order. The laws and agents of law enforce-
 19 ment are seen in the Bible as existing for the cause of justice.

20 The instructions in Deuteronomy for the establishment of a system of law and order show 21 this:

22 "You shall appoint judges and officers in all your towns which the Lord your God
 23 gives you, according to your tribes; and they shall judge the people with righteous
 24 judgment. You shall not pervert justice . . . [but] . . . Justice, and only justice, you
 25 shall follow, that you may live and inherit the land which the Lord your God gives 26 you." (Deuteronomy 16:18-20)

27 Jeremiah's admonition to the king of Judah was similar:

28 "Thus says the Lord: 'Do justice and righteousness, and deliver from the hand of the 29 oppressor him who has been robbed . . . Do you think you are a king because you
 30 compete in cedar? Did not your father eat and drink and do justice and righteous-
 31 ness? Then it was well with him.'" (Jeremiah 22:3, 15)

32 The prophets consistently make this demand:

33 "Let justice roll down like waters,
 34 and righteousness like an ever-flowing stream." (Amos 5:24)

35 "What does the Lord require of you,

36 But to do justice,

37 and to love kindness,

38 and to walk humbly with your God?" (Micah 6:8)

39 Men are to do justice because God is "a God of justice" (Isaiah 30:18) who "loves 40 justice" (Psalm 37:28 and Isaiah 61:8). No one, including the king who is the primary 41 human law-giver and enforcer, is exempt from the demands of justice, as shown by 42 Nathan's rebuke of David and Elijah's rebuke of Ahab.

43 Jesus confirmed this prophetic insight. He saw the visible order of his time, with all its 44 rules and regulations, not as an end in itself but as a means for the enrichment of life.
 45 "The sabbath was made for man, not man for the sabbath." (Mark 2:27) Jesus also said,

46 "Think not that I have come to abolish the law and the prophets . . ." but his thrust was,
47 "I have come not to abolish them but to fulfill them" (Matt. 5:18) and the fulfillment is 48 the achievement of justice. He condemned the surface legalism of the scribes and the 49 Pharisees with these words:

50 "Woe to you, scribes and Pharisees, hypocrites! for you tithe mint and dill and 51 cummin, and have neglected the weightier matters of the law, justice and mercy and 52 faith; these you ought to have done, without neglecting the others." (Matthew 23:23)

53 When he saw the visible order being used to pervert its true purposes, he attacked it. Thus, 54 he "cleansed" the temple of practices which, although approved by the present order, were 55 in effect "making the house of prayer a den of robbers."

56 In the Biblical teaching, the special focus of justice is upon the protection of and care
57 for the poor, the weak and the oppressed.

58 "Give justice to the weak and the fatherless;
59 maintain the right of the afflicted and the destitute.

60 Rescue the weak and the needy;

61 deliver them from the hand of the wicked. (Psalm 82:3-4)

62 Cease to do evil,

63 learn to do good;

64 seek justice,

65 correct oppression;

66 defend the fatherless,

67 plead for the widow." (Isaiah 1:17)

68 As men are to do justice because God does justice, so men are to show particular concern
69 for the poor, the weak, and the oppressed, because God "executes justice for the fatherless
70 and the widow, and loves the sojourner" (Deuteronomy 10:18) and "hears the desire of 71 the meek . . . [and] . . . inclines his ear to do justice to the fatherless and the oppressed."
72 (Psalm 10:17-18) Any society, then, which disregards this focus is judged, Biblically, as 73 unjust and as lacking in fundamental order.

74 Our own society, although often calling itself Christian, has somehow forgotten this les-75 son. Perhaps the materialistic thrust of modern culture has led us to forget it. Often those 76 of us who are white, successful, and affluent, tend to see law primarily as the protector of 77 our own lives and property. Since the poor lack property, we merely overlook them. When 78 the poor are also black, they are invisible to us on two counts. Neglecting them in the 79 matter of justice, we impose on them the restraint of law. When they in desperation then 80 challenge laws, which were not written for them but against them, we simply complain 81 that they are lawless and disorderly, instead of also acknowledging that it is we and our 82 society who created the fundamental disorder against which they rebel.

83 In recent years the General Assembly has spoken to this issue several times.

84 In 1965, the General Assembly declared:

85 The privileged members of any secular society tend to prefer peace to justice, to sup-
86 port the status quo. The great biblical prophets, however, make it clear that true peace 87 is the fruit only of justice. In this view, peace will come as justice is done, and in the 88 attainment of this end false peace may have to be disturbed and displaced.

89 The Assembly, in 1966, asserted:

90 The Presbyterian Church, U.S., affirms its belief in a society governed by the rule
91 of law, arrived at through processes resting upon the consent of the governed . . . We 92 believe all citizens are under obligation to obey the law, and to seek solutions to all 93 their problems and grievances within the system of law.

94 But in this same statement, the Assembly also said:

95 . . . We call upon the members of our congregations to labor diligently as committed 96 Christians within their communities to the end that the justice, protection, and liberty 97 inherent in our system of law are applied and made available to all citizens in those 98 communities, both in spirit and in letter.

99 We recognize that every system of law, however excellent, is created, administered,
100 and enforced by sinful human beings. In many communities throughout the area
101 served by our Church, there have prevailed social mores and time-honored customs 102 that have produced laws which do not express the best in our fundamental concept
103 of justice. There have been instances where those charged with administering the law
104 have enforced it inconsistently within their communities, with the result that not only 105 have there been occasions of injustice, but also that this injustice has had the quiet 106 sanction of the law. We believe that these practices erode the whole concept of the 107 rule of law and subvert the system we support from its proper and legal effect.

108 And in 1968, the General Assembly concluded a statement on racial disorders:

109 The Christian response to the Negro riots must be justice—full and undiluted—as 110 well as the proper demand for law and order. Justice is impossible amid anarchy and 111 chaos. But law and order are impossible without justice.

112 All of these statements, while stressing the racial aspects of the call for law and order, also 113 have meaning for the church in the larger context in which that call is heard today.

114 We must ask ourselves why, beyond the fact that men are selfish and wish to protect 115 their own lives and property, our society seems to hold law and order in such high regard.
116 The answer seems to be this: basically we are a relatively lawless nation and fear the 117 potential disorder within ourselves. The fact that our crime rate is much higher than that 118 of most Western nations suggests our lawlessness. Our history explains it. Born but recently 119 in revolution, we lived for more than a century with an expanding frontier, indulging in 120 the individualism, violence, and lack of due process common to all frontiers, driving the 121 Indians before us across broken treaties. With the frontier closed, we now enshrine its 122 bloody memory in movie and TV fiction.

123 We have cause to fear our potential lawlessness and to seek law and order. The problem
124 is that our search is too frequently shallow and insincere. By practice we have shown that 125 we are for law when it is favorable to us and our desires, and for subverting it when it
126 seems against us and our desires. We are for preserving order when this is perceived as 127 protecting what we have and want, and against it when it is not. Many public officials and 128 even some chief executives of states have engaged in open defiance of certain laws and 129 counseled others to “massive resistance” to their enforcement. Individually, most of us do 130 not hesitate to violate many laws which we find personally inconvenient, especially when 131 we have a good chance of getting away with it: for instance, traffic laws, gambling laws,
132 liquor laws, building and safety codes. A primary illustration of this attitude is the prohibi-
133 tion fiasco. We often pass laws merely to have them on the books. When they are there, 134 we can disregard their prohibitions, or apply them only to the “other people.” We are 135 sentimental in thus trying to substitute words for deeds.

136 We are the products of our past in trying to have the law operate only against “other 137 people.” Our nation has been built by successive waves of immigrants, voluntary and in-138 voluntary. We are not homogeneous; we are a nation of “other people.” Most of these 139 people, given time, became us. The glaring exception is the Negro. In spite of his long
140 presence in the nation, he is still for many the outsider, curiously so in the South, clearly 141 so in the North. Laws, therefore, are particularly concerned to restrain him and to protect 142 others from him. Since he is also often poor, he is hemmed in by the law because of both 143 his poverty and his color.

144 Built upon chattel slavery, the South was based upon violence and has maintained itself
145 through the threat and the use of violence. Its clear need, therefore, has been order to 146 counterbalance the basic disorder. This order has been primarily order among Negroes, to 147 keep them in “their place.” Many laws were written with these “other people” in mind.
148 The enforcement of laws and administration of court systems have often been according 149 to that double standard so appropriately labeled “white man’s justice.” For the South has 150 demanded, first, racial order, second, law, and only at a far remove, justice. How could it 151 demand justice? That would have been to demand its own destruction. But if justice is the 152 order and health of society, the South and the nation has been a disorderly and a sick 153 society.

154 The ultimate cure for the basic sickness of man and of society is, of course, the redemp-
155 tive love that comes by the grace of God through faith in Jesus Christ. Laws and institu-
156 tions cannot save. However, even in this imperfect world, laws and institutions can uphold 157 justice in face of continual injustice and threats of injustice and give to society the shape
158 within which love can most fully abound. Therefore, we must continually work to fashion 159 laws and institutions which are just.

160 In consideration of all this, what is required of the church?

161 First, that we, ourselves, repent: confess our sins and change the direction of our 162 thoughts and lives.

163 Secondly, that we give thanks to God for those of our society who are unselfishly labor-164 ing to bring about justice for all, often at great cost and pain to themselves.

165 Thirdly, that even as once again we reaffirm the duty and obligation of all members
166 to live responsibly under the law of the land, we do so in clear recognition of our higher 167 allegiance to the God whose justice informs and challenges man’s justice.

168 And finally, that in seeking law and order we, as Christians, demand:

169 —that law and order never be ends in themselves, much less a retreat from their 170 proper purpose of justice, but must always exist for the sake of achieving justice 171 for all;

- 172 —that law and order not consist of suppression of rightful criticism and conscientious 173 dissent, but always uphold the civil liberties so central in our heritage; 174 —that law and order never be used as a cover for repression of racial minorities, but 175 always function to extend the full privileges of life to all citizens;
 176 —and that law and order not serve as mere protection for vested interests over against 177 the rights and the needs of those who are exploited and oppressed in our society.
 178 To this end, the 109th General Assembly of the Presbyterian Church in the United 179 States adopts this paper and sends it to all pastors and sessions, urging them to study it
 180 prayerfully with their people that all may understand the relation between justice and law 181 and order, and work to build a society that is more just, a society more concerned than 182 ours has been for the weak and the poor in our midst, a society that better expresses the 183 love of Jesus Christ in its life.

- C. 1. That Overture 19 from the Presbytery of Fayetteville (See page 27) relative to the population explosion be answered as follows:

That the General Assembly affirm the intention of Overture 19 by directing the Council on Church and Society to present to the 1970 General Assembly a paper on the population crisis, together with recommendations as called for by the overture.

2. That Overture 20 from the Synod of Texas (See page 28) relative to the issues involved in the use of beverage alcohol by Christians be answered in the affirmative and be referred to the Council on Church and Society for their study.

- D. 1. That Resolution 5, submitted by William H. Tiemann, et al:

A Resolution Calling For A Study of Abortion

Whereas, a number of proposals to alter present laws regulating abortions are being discussed in various states; and,

Whereas, abortion affects the interests of many parties—the parents, the unborn child, the state, and the common good; and,

Whereas, the moral issues as well as the legal and medical aspects of the problem are exceedingly complex; and,

Whereas, a clear, concise, and thoughtful statement of those moral issues would guide many of our ministers and members as well as the larger public;

Therefore, be it resolved that the 109th General Assembly requests the Council on Church and Society to make and present to a subsequent session of the General Assembly a study of the moral issues involved in abortion and the laws regulating abortion.

2. That Resolution 11, submitted by Charles A. Taylor, et al:

A Resolution On Selective Conscientious Objection

Whereas, the General Assembly of the Presbyterian Church in the United States affirmed in 1949: "Our church has consistently upheld the right of citizens to refuse to bear arms in conflict with their conscience or the tenets of their religious beliefs" (General Assembly Minutes, 1949, pp. 100-101); and

Whereas, the church, having consistently upheld this right, dares not abandon those who exercise it; and

Whereas, the Universal Military Training and Service Act provides alternative service for any person who "is conscientiously opposed to participation in war in any form" but fails to make such provision for a person who conscientiously objects to participation in a particular war without conscientiously objecting to participation in war in any form; and

Whereas, the failure of the Selective Service system to provide for conscientious objection to participation in a particular war is discriminatory in that it respects conscientious objection of one sort but not of another, and unjust in that it deprives an individual of his right to make a conscientious decision in a particular situation; and

Whereas, the consequences of this failure are disruptive to the health of the nation and harmful to the body politic in that loyal and patriotic citizens are punished as criminals because they dare to be faithful to the dictates of their conscience in objecting to participation in a particular war;

Therefore, be it resolved that the 109th General Assembly of the Presbyterian Church in the United States:

(1) Recognizes the right of citizens to object conscientiously to participation in a particular war as well as the right to object conscientiously to participation in all war; and

(2) Urges the Congress of the United States to move with all dispatch in amending the Universal Military Training and Service Act to provide for suitable alternatives of military or civilian service for those who conscientiously object to participation in a particular war; and be adopted, as amended, as follows:

(3) Directs the Stated Clerk to send copies of this resolution to the President, the Secretary of Defense, the President of the Senate, and the speaker of the House of Representatives of the Congress of the United States.

Alternative To Combative Service

1 Whereas, the General Assembly of the Presbyterian Church in the United States affirmed
2 in 1949: "Our church has consistently upheld the right of citizens to refuse to bear arms
3 in conflict with their conscience or the tenets of their religious beliefs: (General Assembly
4 Minutes, 1949, pp. 100-101); and,

5 Whereas, the church, having consistently upheld this right, dares not abandon those who 6 exercise it; and,

7 Whereas, the Universal Military Training and Service Act provides alternative service
8 for any person who "is conscientiously opposed to participation in war in any form" but 9 fails to make alternative service possible for a person who conscientiously objects to 10 service that would require him to be a combatant in particular conflicts without con-11 scientiously objecting to participation in war in any form; and,

12 Whereas, the failure of the Selective Service system to provide for conscientious objec-
13 tion to participation in a particular conflict is discriminatory in that it respects con-14 scientious objection of one sort but not of another, and unjust in that it deprives an 15 individual of his right to make a conscientious decision in a particular situation; and,

16 Whereas, the consequences of this failure are disruptive to the health of the nation and 17 harmful to the body politic in that loyal and patriotic citizens are punished as criminals
18 because they dare to be faithful to the dictates of their consciences in objecting to com-
19 bative rather than alternative service in a particular conflict;

20 Therefore, be it resolved that the 109th General Assembly of the Presbyterian Church
21 in the United States:

22 (1) Recognizes the right of citizens to object conscientiously to combative participa-
23 tion rather than alternative service in a particular conflict as well as the right to object 24 conscientiously to combative participation in all war; and

25 (2) Urges the Congress of the United States to move with all dispatch in amending 26 the Universal Military Training and Service Act to provide for suitable alternatives of 27 military or civilian service for those who conscientiously object to combative participa-28 tion in a particular conflict; and

29 (3) Commends with all urgency a full and immediate review of the entire Universal
30 Military Training and Service Act, and immediate legislation, to remove the inequities 31 that now exist in this archaic law; and

32 (4) Directs the Stated Clerk to send copies of this resolution to the President, the 33 Secretary of Defense, the President of the Senate, and the Speaker of the House of 34 Representatives of the Congress of the United States.

Respectfully submitted,

WILLIAM S. McLEAN, Chairman

SIXTH DAY TUESDAY

April 29, 1969

REPORT OF THE STANDING COMMITTEE ON BILLS AND OVERTURES

Rev. Thomas C. Duncan, Chairman, presented the report of the Standing Committee on Bills and Overtures. The report was adopted, as amended, as follows:

- I. The Standing Committee on Bills and Overtures considered the following items referred to it:

Overtures 14, 15, 16, 17, 18 and 54.

Resolutions 2, 4, 12, 13 and 17.

II. YOUR COMMITTEE RECOMMENDS:

A. That the overtures be adopted as follows:

1. That Overture 14 from the Presbytery of Hanover (See page 26) requesting a committee to study the state of the Church, be adopted, as amended, in the following amended form:

That the Moderator of the 109th General Assembly of the Presbyterian Church, U.S., together with the immediate past three living moderators, appoint an ad interim committee of eleven members, broadly representative of different viewpoints in the Church, to study, particularly in the light of Presbyterian polity, the state of the Church and the causes making for unrest in our denomination, and to bring to the next General Assembly a report of such study, together with any recommendations which may grow out of it, to the end that the purity, peace, unity, and progress of the Church may be served, and that the 1969 Operating Expense Budget of the Assembly be amended to include $4,000.00 for the expenses of the ad interim committee appointed.

2. That Overture 15 from the Presbytery of John Knox (See page 26) dealing with the validity of Roman Catholic baptism, be answered in the affirmative.

(Note: A minority report was presented to replace the majority answer of the Committee, and was adopted—Stated Clerk.)

3. That Overtures 16, 17, 18 and 54 (See page 26) from the Presbyteries of Asheville, Augusta-Macon, Harmony, and South Mississippi, respectively, questioning or expressing displeasure over the introduction of contemporary patterns of worship at conferences sponsored by the boards of the Church; and Resolution 4, submitted by K. J. Neuenschwander, et al, which reads:

Whereas, the Scripture warrants celebration, instruments, dance, even applause (Psalm 95:1; Psalm 97:1; 1 Cor. 5:8; Psalm 150; Psalm 149:3; Psalm 150:4; Psalm 47:1, etc.) in worship; and,

Whereas, the Westminster Confession directs that man may worship God only as Scripture warrants (Confession of Faith I, 6), and,

Whereas, Presbyterian worship has normally included music, singing, prayer, reading of Scripture, preaching, making of offerings and the administering of the sacraments (though not in a prescribed sequence); and,

Whereas, in our communion services the mood of crucifixion and death has tended to overshadow proper emphasis on the celebrative aspects of worship centering upon Christ's resurrection and the new life in him;

Be it therefore resolved that the 109th General Assembly heartily commends the leadership in the seminaries, boards, agencies and congregations of the Church for any and all efforts to renew public and private worship within our constituency through experimentation, using 20th century media, music, words, and methods, based on a biblical knowledge and a confessional tradition and in line with the joyful new life found in the celebrative resurrection of our Lord.

be answered by the following statement:

Through these communications the General Assembly is made sharply aware of the tension within our Church over the issue of patterns of worship. On the one hand there are those for whom traditional forms do not provide an adequately creative and meaningful expression of their commitment to Jesus Christ. They seek to offer their experiences of life to God, experiences both of joy and of sorrow, in language and action that dramatically focus and express the experience and that use sounds and symbols current in our time. On the other hand, there are those whose identity as Christians is deeply rooted in the more traditional expressions of faith. To them, contemporary patterns of worship may be sharply offensive, or difficult to understand.

In the light of this tension, the General Assembly:

- a. Reaffirms the right of boards and agencies to plan and conduct their own programs.
- b. Commends its boards for their creative leadership in communicating the Gospel to our time and recommends that they continue to provide resources for the study of, and leadership in experimentation with, new forms of worship that have solid foundation both in Scripture and in the historical tradition of the Church.

- c. Urges its boards and agencies, and others responsible for leadership in worship to seek continually in the introduction of contemporary forms to be sensitive to the feelings of all, hearing dissent from different view-points and responding in a spirit of love.
- B. That the resolutions be answered as follows:
1. That Resolution 2, from W. W. Skinner, et al, which is as follows:

Whereas, the gospel makes no distinction between the responsible church membership of the young and of the old; and,

Whereas, the prophetic voices of the Old Testament are young voices; and,

Whereas, the voice of the eternal Son of God is the voice of the young Son of Man; and,

Whereas, there is a need for young laity to feel as if they are a vital part of the life of the Church;

Be it hereby resolved that the 1969 General Assembly instruct the Permanent Nomination Committee to nominate to the 1970 General Assembly two persons under the age of thirty for membership on each of the boards and agencies of the General Assembly and that each year thereafter one such person be named to each membership class of the boards and agencies; and

The 109th General Assembly requests the Permanent Nominating Committee to consider nominating persons under the age of thirty for membership on each of the boards and agencies of the General Assembly; and

That the 109th General Assembly encourage its congregations, presbyteries, and synods to consider carefully putting persons under the age of thirty on their sessions and executive councils, and that it encourage presbyteries to consider the election of such persons to the General Assembly.

2. That Resolution 12, from Herbert Meza, which is as follows:

Whereas, the 110th General Assembly will meet in Memphis, where Dr. Martin Luther King, Jr., was assassinated; and,

Whereas, Dr. King provided outstanding prophetic leadership to the church and nation in a ministry of reconciliation; and,

Whereas, the Presbyterian Church in the United States is committed to the ministry of reconciliation and will have engaged in a special study of and emphasis on reconciliation during the Season of Witness in the early part of 1970;

Therefore, be it resolved that the 109th General Assembly directs the Program Committee for the 110th General Assembly to plan an appropriate memorial service for Dr. King for the 110th General Assembly.

be answered as follows:

The 109th General Assembly requests the Program Committee for the 110th General Assembly to plan an appropriate memorial service for the Rev. Dr. Martin Luther King, Jr., for the 110th General Assembly in recognition of his martyrdom and as a positive expression of love for all members of the body of Christ.

3. That Resolution 13, from William M. Ramsay, et al, which is as follows:

Whereas, widespread appeals are being made for the support of the Reformed Theological Seminary of Jackson, Mississippi, which is not under the oversight and control of our denomination; and,

Whereas, the 1967 General Assembly noted that the statement of Purpose and Vows to which the teachers of the seminary are required to subscribe annually "seem to raise a question as to the relation of certain of the teachers to the present Confession of Faith" (G.A. Minutes, p. 148); and,

Whereas, the Reformed Theological Seminary and its supporters are undermining the confidence of members of the Presbyterian Church in the United States by criticism and innuendo; and,

Whereas, this Seminary is seeking to place its students and graduates in fields of service within our denomination;

Be it therefore resolved that the General Assembly appoint a special committee to study the relationship of the Reformed Theological Seminary of Jackson, Mississippi, to the peace, purity, and unity of the Presbyterian Church in the United States and report back to the 110th General Assembly.

be answered that the study of the relationship of the Reformed Theological Seminary of Jackson, Miss. to the peace, purity and unity of the Presbyterian Church, U.S. and the report back to the 110th General Assembly be referred to the Ad Interim Committee on the State of the Church which answers Overture 14.

4. That Resolution 17 from James D. Newsome, Jr., et al, which is as follows:

Whereas, the Presbyterian Church in the United States has historically affirmed its enthusiastic interest in the cause of higher education; and,

Whereas, the colleges and universities of this nation have made a unique and invaluable contribution to American life, among other ways, by their serving as a forum for the critical review of the structures and institutions of American society; and,

Whereas, the role of the college and university is presently and gravely endangered by the presence on many campuses of violence, force, and intimidation, either actual or threatened;

Now therefore be it resolved that this General Assembly affirm its belief in the right of and necessity for conscientious dissent among all members of society, and its further belief that dissent is constructive and salutary when, and only when, it does not deny the rights of others nor imperil those very institutions and structures it seeks to reform; and,

Be it further resolved that this General Assembly call upon students and faculties in American colleges and universities to refrain from force or the threat of force in exercising that very right of dissent without which democracy would be a mockery, and earnestly implore that they deny their support, both active and passive, to those who would resort to such force.

be adopted, as above, with the following addition:

Further, that it urge college and university administrations, faculties, and boards to listen attentively to the responsible criticism and suggestions of those students thoughtfully concerned for the improvement of the quality of education in this country.

Respectfully submitted,
THOMAS C. DUNCAN, Chairman

The Assembly recessed for ten minutes.

REPORT OF THE STANDING COMMITTEE ON WORLD MISSIONS

Rev. Marc C. Weersing, Chairman, presented the report of the Standing Committee on World Missions. The report was adopted as follows:

- I. The Standing Committee on World Missions considered the following items referred to it:

The Minutes of the Board of World Missions.

The Report of the Board of World Missions.

Nominations.

The Committee read the minutes of the meetings of the Board and found them in excellent order and condition.

The Committee thoroughly analyzed and reviewed the Report of the Board in conference with the Board Chairman and the Executive Secretary. The analysis and review were conducted with mutual, cordial interest, complete frankness and careful evaluation. The committee acknowledges with gratitude both the nature and the spirit of the responses of the Board representatives.

Your Committee recognizes with warm appreciation and thanksgiving the significant work being done by our missionaries, the Staff and Board of World Missions. The following is especially identified beyond the items designated in the report of the Board. (See Part III of Minutes, Bound Volume of Board Reports.)

1. The departmental reorganization of the Nashville office operation has resulted in more effective administration and coordination of the Boards efforts in fulfilling the primary mission of the church in the Proclamation of the Gospel of our Lord.

2. Careful stewardship of resources in personnel and money is being maintained. Missionaries salaries and retirement plans have been improved somewhat. Communications and rapport between the Staff, Board and missionaries has improved. Seminars attended by churchmen at home and abroad are producing better interpretation and understanding of our world mission endeavors.

Despite many reports to the contrary 96.5 cents of each dollar contributed is being used for the work and mission beyond administrative staff expense.

The inauguration of accounting techniques more adequate to the Board's needs have been undertaken so that the "crushing loss of value of the dollar" experienced in other lands may be handled as wisely as possible.

Your Committee wishes hereby to identify several areas of genuine and great concern:

1. The rate of increase in the cost of living in overseas areas is unbelievably high. The cost of living index in Korea has risen 3 times faster than in the United States since 1965. In Brazil it rose 65 times faster. In Congo the increase is out of sight in comparison with the rate in this nation. Your Committee believes it is high time, in view of the unparalleled affluence of this nation, for the church to reassess her investment in our world mission. We devoutly urge that this be done on Assembly, Synod, Presbytery and local church levels.

2. We urgently call upon leaders in the local churches, as well as leaders in all church courts, to present as effectively as possible the tremendous need for enlistment of partners in prayer and companions in providing larger material support for the overseas missionary enterprise.

Benevolence giving to World Missions has decreased about 10% for the last two years (1967, 1968) and receipts for the present year are even further behind. This has resulted in Board plans to reduce field budgets by 15% and new missionaries by 37 to 50%, along with comparable reductions in the home office.

3. We respectfully request the appropriate Staff members of the Board to carefully consider the appropriateness of the nature of all literature recommended for seasons of special study.

4. We note, that contrary to uninformed comment and criticism, the staff of the Board is not too large. Many staff people are carrying enormous work loads due to the crises of our times, at salaries which are the lowest among all of our Boards and Agencies.

II. WE RECOMMEND:

A. That the Report of the Board of World Missions be approved. (See Part III of Minutes, Bound Volume of Board Report.)

B. That the following recommendations be approved:

1. That the purpose and description of the Easter Offering be changed from "Special Offering for Overseas Relief and Interchurch Aid" to "Special Offering to Alleviate World Hunger and Human Need" and that because of the obligation and privilege of Christians to feed the hungry and clothe the naked in the name of Christ, the General Assembly request every presbytery to assign responsibility for increasing the number of churches participating in this the one annual special, over and above, offering called for by the General Assembly.

2. That the General Assembly request every court and congregation to use creatively and seriously the opportunity for study and action in mission, including witness and service, at home and abroad, specifically provided for in the Joint Season of Christian Witness in January, February and March each year. The 1970 Witness season offers in two study themes ("Reconciliation in a Broken World"; "Toward Understanding China and the Chinese People") and in the "Supplementary Offering for Christian Witness at Home and Abroad" on February 22, 1970, the occasion for significant advance in understanding and implementing the World Christian Mission. The Standing Committee is not to be understood as recommending any particular study books for these themes.

3. That the General Assembly inform the members and ministers of our Church that the Commission on World Mission and Evangelism of the World Council of Churches is encouraging Christians around the world to join together in the study of "Salvation", so that Christians can better understand the meaning of this key Biblical Word for mission today. Significant group study, some of it in written form, has already resulted as the Commission seeks to fulfill one of its main functions, "to stimulate thought and study on the Biblical and theological bases and meaning of the Church's missionary task".

4. That since our Church is a member of the World Council of Churches, in which the basis of membership is the confession of "the Lord Jesus Christ as God and Saviour according to the Scriptures", the General Assembly urge the Board of World Missions to make certain that in all the overseas mission work of our Church, openness and friendship are manifested to all fellow-members of the World Council, especially Eastern Orthodox and Pentecostal Churches, so that spiritual unity may be strengthened and that this unity may aid and serve the Christian mission in our world.

5. That the General Assembly encourage the World Council of Churches and the Board of World Missions, in all worldwide missionary endeavors, to manifest openness and friendship to churches that are not members of the World Council, especially conservative evangelical Churches and the Roman Catholic Church (many conservative evangelical churches are members and the Roman Catholic Church participates in and co-operates with many World Council programs) so that Christian unity may be more evident to non-Christians and that this unity will "further the proclamation to the whole world of the Gospel of Jesus Christ to the end that all men may believe in him and be saved" (the aim of the Commission on World Mission and Evangelism of the World Council; the Board of World Missions has a similar statement of its primary purpose).

6. That the General Assembly request each church court, in evaluating and planning its stewardship of resources, to consider seriously the fact that 91% of all resources of the Christian Church are at present used in Europe and North and South America, where 30% of the world's people live, and that only 9% of the total resources of the Christian Church are used in Asia and Africa, where 70% of the world's people live and to request each Church court to increase its commitments to areas where need and opportunity are so great.

7. That the General Assembly receive the following as a response to its 1968 directive to the Board of World Missions:

"The Board of World Mission has carried on occasional correspondence with The Meals for Millions Foundation, and has received its reports since 1953. Some of the earlier correspondence was about the Foundation's direct solicitation for funds in local churches.

"The Board initiated new correspondence and conversation during 1968. It appears that the Foundation continues 'a very practical and excellent job of attacking root causes of hunger through research and development of plant protein food supplements in the countries of endemic malnutrition.'

"Approximately 10% of the 'Halt Hunger' offering received since World-Wide Communion Sunday, it is anticipated, will be allocated for the Foundation. The Board of World Missions regards attacks on the root causes of hunger as exceedingly important, and thus esteems The Meals for Millions Foundation as one ally of the churches' endeavors to combat human starvation. The Board contributed to the Foundation on behalf of our whole Church. Such a contribution does not imply approval for solicitation of funds by the Foundation in our local congregations, nor does it commit the Board to an annual appropriation."

8. That the General Assembly urge congregations to study prayerfully whether the church is joyfully giving itself to the support and encouragement of its missionaries, calling upon congregations to dedicate themselves to the World Mission of the Church, committing their resources in holy sacrifice to fulfill the end of the Gospel.

9. That the following persons be elected to the Board of World Missions, as indicated:

Class of 1972: The Rev. A. L. Bixler (2) S.C., The Rev. Herbert Meza (3) Va., Thomas S. Jones (3) Miss., Mrs. Frank W. Alexander (2) Miss.

To Fill Vacancies in Class of 1972:

James W. Hargrove (1) Texas, Mrs. Sam B. Hicks (1) Louisiana, Mrs. Earl Kroth (1) Missouri, Frank W. DeFriece, Jr. (1) Appa.

10. That we call upon our churches and presbyteries to assume a larger role in the recruitment and support of missionary personnel.

11. We remind the General Assembly of the basic purpose of our Church as expressed in the initial General Assembly in Augusta, Ga. and reaffirmed in the Centennial Year, namely:

"The General Assembly desires distinctly and deliberately to inscribe on our Church's banner, as she now first unfurls it to the world in immediate connection with the Headship of her Lord, His last command: 'Go ye into all the world and preach the Gospel to every creature'; regarding this as the great end of her organization, and obedience to it as the indispensable condition of her Lord's presence, and as one great comprehensive object, a proper conception of whose vast magnitude and grandeur is the only thing which, in connection with the love of Christ, can ever sufficiently arouse her energies and develop her resources, so as to cause her to carry on, with the vigor and efficiency which true fealty to her Lord demands, those other agencies necessary to her internal growth and home prosperity. The claims of this cause ought, therefore, to be kept constantly before the minds of our people and pressed upon their conscience." (G. A. Min., 1961, p. 74)

Respectfully submitted,
MARC C. WEERSING, Chairman

PROTEST TO ITEM 6

Carl W. Wilson entered the following Protest to Item 6 of the above report:

I wish to protest to this statement on the grounds that the condition of the Roman Catholic Church is different in Latin American countries from that in the United States, and therefore this will be interpreted as colonialism by many of those nations.

The Assembly ordered that for the remainder of this Assembly any motion to reconsider business enacted previous to the time of the luncheon recess on Tuesday, April 29, require a $\frac{3}{4}$ majority of those present and voting.

Rev. James V. Johnson, Jr., Chairman, presented the report of the Standing Committee on the General Council.

The Assembly recessed for lunch with prayer by Rev. John R. Hendrick.

The Assembly ordered that in the consideration of the report of the Standing Committee on General Council the rules be set aside and that the full text of the recommendations be read only when there is an objection to the recommendation.

B. Program

3. That the General Assembly urge each local church, presbytery and synod to take part in the self-study and goal-setting process for the decade of the '70's and that each court be urged to report to the General Council as soon as possible within the current year the goals they have established for themselves and any recommendations they may have for goals for the denomination.
4. That the Assembly call to the attention of pastors and clerks of sessions:
- That our church joins with other branches of the Christian Church in celebrating special events in the Christian Year, such as Advent, Easter, Pentecost, as interpreted in the "Service for the Lord's Day" included in The Book of Common Worship (Provisional Services).
 - That, in addition, and not in competition, the denominational calendar is also provided to give assistance in planning a balanced program of study, witness and service. Through its use pastors and committees can be informed when current resources will be available and keep church members informed regarding major events and issues in the total mission of Christ's Church around the world.
5. That Stated Clerks and Executive Secretaries of presbyteries be requested to make provision for holding planning workshops for members of broadly based committees of local congregations to assist them in using The Plan Book and the resource guides in planning for their congregations a balanced program of study and involvement in the total mission of the Church.
6. That pastors and sessions urge churches to provide:
- Copies of The Plan Book for all chairmen of committees of the session and
 - A copy of the resource guide which most nearly fits the committee's work to each member of committees. (Available at the General Council and all Presbyterian Book Stores).
7. That the calendar for 1969-70 be amended and the calendar for 1970-71 be adopted as follows:

7A. In the Ninth Quadrennial Student Convention we recognize the humanness of the participants—youth and leaders—and sincerely regret those unplanned incidents which detracted from its values to the participants and the church. At the same time, we recommend that the General Assembly commend the committee and staff responsible for planning the Quadrennial, especially in the light of the difficulty and complexity of the church's relationship with today's student generation: for their work during the whole of the convention, and their sensitivity to the needs of the student and to the mission of the church. Further, that the General Assembly commend those Executive Secretaries of its boards and agencies who participated in the convention for their courage and willingness to dialogue openly and honestly with students, and that the church be encouraged to continue avenues of dialogue with students in the years ahead as seems most helpful.

7B. That the General Assembly set aside a day of prayer for chaplains and members of the Armed Forces, and that this day be the Sunday in May nearest to Armed Forces Day.

C. Stewardship

8. That the Stewardship Emphasis Season in 1969 be confirmed as October 12-November 16 with November 9 designated as Dedication Sunday for the Every Member Canvass; that in 1970 the Stewardship Emphasis Season begin October 11 and continue through November 15 with November 8 being designated as Dedication Sunday.

9. That the 1969 Every Member Canvass theme be "Reconciliation Is Our Business—Back It"; and that churches be urged to make full use of theme materials as well as the year-round stewardship educational materials.

10. That local sessions in 1969 or early 1970 give serious consideration to leading their people into deeper spiritual commitment by undertaking a Thirteen Weeks' Tithing Program, utilizing "Faith—the Big Step" materials prepared by the General Council and sampled in the regular Stewardship Packet.

11. That churches not having done so in 1969 be urged to take advantage of a second and final chance to participate in the "All One Body" filmstrip in which local church people and activities may be portrayed, along with their particular presbytery, synod, and General Assembly programs, to show the wholeness of Christ's mission through the Church.

12. That the amount of Presbyterian Survey support to be supplied by the agencies of the General Assembly according to the ratio between their budgets and the total General Assembly budget be set at an amount not to exceed $139,000 for 1970.

13. Inasmuch as the realistic apportionments of Assembly's benevolence budget continue frequently to be reduced by synods before being apportioned, along with synod's budget, to the presbyteries, and

Inasmuch as certain presbyteries continue to reduce still further the already synod-reduced askings for Assembly's causes before passing them on to the local congregations, and

Inasmuch as many synods and presbyteries continue to budget larger percentages of growth for themselves than that sought by or allowed for the General Assembly, and

In an effort to inform all church members and particular congregations of the minimum basic askings for Assembly causes, and

In an attempt to comply with the desires of those who have long contended that budget building should begin at the local level,

It is recommended:

- a. That the General Assembly base the apportionments of the 1970 (and succeeding) General Assembly Budget to synods, presbyteries, and local congregations on the two-year average of giving to Assembly's Budgeted Benevolences as reflected in the statistical report of each local church as submitted to its presbytery and printed in the Minutes of the General Assembly, plus a normal growth percentage as reflected in the total General Assembly Budget, and that no church be apportioned less than it actually gave to Assembly's Budgeted Benevolences the last year for which the record is complete.

- b. That apportionments for local churches showing no gifts for Assembly's Budgeted Benevolences during the period be made on the basis of financial strength as indicated by a two-year average of Total Benevolences and Current Expenses, but with such apportionments not being considered a part of the approved General Assembly Budget total.
- c. That the Assembly be informed that the General Council, in computing the General Assembly apportionments for local congregations, will make available at cost to synods and presbyteries, upon their request and provision of necessary information, the same computer service, provided they use the same formula as used by the General Council.

14. That the 1970 Stewardship Objective for the seventeen agencies of the General Assembly of the Presbyterian Church, U.S., be $9,056,438.00. (This is the same dollar goal as that approved for the 1969 Basic Budget and represents an 11.35% increase over the 1968 receipts and includes the challenge goal for 1970.) Agency participation remains identical with the exception of a $1,000.00 reduction for Religion in American Life and a $1,000.00 addition for American Bible Society.

1970 Stewardship Objective

Board or Agency	1970 Benevolence Budget
Board of World Missions	$4,653,909

Total	$9,056,438

15. That the foregoing 1970 Stewardship Objective of $9,056,438 be apportioned to the fifteen synods on the basis of their local congregations' average giving toward Assembly's Budgeted Benevolences for the last two years for which records are complete (1966-1967), plus an approximate 8.77% increase for the three-year span, 1968, 1969 and 1970 (2.9% growth per year), as below and that this information broken down by synods, presbyteries and local congregations be disseminated further through each synod, presbytery, and local congregation throughout the General Assembly. This information shall be distributed to the congregations through the agency of the stewardship committee, or its equivalent, of the presbytery.

16. That the following agencies of the General Assembly be authorized to promote a supplemental offering in 1970:

- a. Board of World Missions and Board of National Ministries.
- b. Board of Christian Education.
- c. Board of Annuities and Relief for use in Ministerial Relief.

17. That a special offering to alleviate world hunger and human need be received on Easter, March 29, 1970, and that proceeds be remitted directly to the Board of World Missions, Department of Overseas Relief and Interchurch Aid.

18. That a progress report on the Stillman College Campaign be heard.

19. That the General Assembly adopt the following program for capital funds campaigns in the 1970's:

Whereas, the General Assembly recognizes its responsibility for the financial support of its boards and agencies and institutions; and,

Whereas, all funds received by the Assembly agencies from the basic benevolence budget of the Church are for operating expenses, as the 1965 General Assembly voted: "That the boards and agencies make their financial plans within the framework of 'The Benevolence Program of the Presbyterian Church, U.S.' and that this policy be interpreted to preclude any appeals for capital fund needs to individuals, groups or segments of the Church on a systematic, regular or annual basis, unless special permission is granted by the General Assembly upon recommendation of the General Council" (1965 General Assembly Minutes, Page 71); and,

Whereas, "The Benevolence Program of the Presbyterian Church, U.S." provides that "the agencies of the General Assembly need capital funds for buildings, major program advances and development;" and "ordinarily all these funds for capital expenses are secured through special campaigns"; and that "the agencies of the Synods and Presbyteries (e.g., schools and colleges, homes for children and the aging, etc.) have capital expenses for building, endowment funds, etc.;" and "ordinarily all these funds for capital expenses are secured through special campaigns"; and,

Whereas, the courts of the Presbyterian Church, U.S., Assembly, Synods and Presbyteries, are so related and interdependent that it is necessary for the full success of any campaign that the time of all campaigns for capital funds be so staggered as to eliminate conflict and competition;

Therefore, be it resolved that—

a. The General Assembly ask the Synods and Presbyteries to work with the Assembly and with each other, that all campaigns for capital funds may be free from competitive campaigns.

b. That General Assembly propose to the synods and presbyteries that the decade of the 1970's be divided between the Assembly and the synods and presbyteries for possible capital funds campaigns, suggesting that the synods and presbyteries be allowed the period 1970-1975 to be used as they may choose for their own agencies and institutions, and that the General Assembly be allowed the five-year period 1976-1980 for unified campaign for Assembly's boards, agencies and institutions.

c. That the General Council be responsible for making recommendations to the General Assembly concerning the Assembly's campaigns.

20. That the General Assembly be informed that commitments to the Presbyterian Development Fund have produced $12, 018, 533 as of April 17, 1969.

a. That churches and individuals be urged to pay their commitments in full and at the earliest possible time.

b. That Rev. P. D. Miller be thanked for his services in the interest of the Presbyterian Development Fund.

21. That the General Assembly be informed as follows concerning the 1968 record of receipts for Assembly's budgeted benevolences and distribution to the agencies:

22-27. That the General Assembly adopt the following manual changes approved by the General Council:

22. Board of Trustees of the Mountain Retreat Association. (See page 68.)
23. Board of Women's Work. (See page 83.)
24. Board of Trustees of the Presbyterian School of Christian Education. (See page 69.)
25. Board of National Ministries. (See page 81.)
26. PRESBYTERIAN SURVEY. (See page 57.)
27. Board of Christian Education. (See page 75.)

(Note: Changes in the manuals of the Permanent Committee on Inter-Church Relations (See page 51), the Presbyterian Foundation, Inc., (See page 71) and the General Council (See page 113) were also adopted by the Assembly after approval by the General Council—Stated Clerk.)

C. That the report of the Committee on Restructuring Synods and Presbyteries (See Appendix, page 201) be adopted, and that the Committee be continued with instructions to report to the 1970 General Assembly.

D. That the following overtures be adopted, as follows:

1. That Overture No. 4 from the Presbytery of Northeast Texas (See page 28) regarding requested action against the Presbyterian Journal be answered in the negative with the following explanatory statement:

Items 13 of the Permanent Judicial Commission's report, as amended as follows:

The overture asks the General Assembly to appoint a committee to investigate the Presbyterian Journal and in case of error to discipline unnamed Ruling Elders and Teaching Elders by the censure of admonition. The censure of admonition can be inflicted only by an offense being properly prosecuted by judicial process (BCO, Sections 102-1, 103-1, 103-2.) Original jurisdiction over church members is in the church Session of the church to which the member belongs, and over Ministers is in the Presbytery to which the Minister belongs (BCO, Section 104-1). Confirming statements are found in BCO Sections 16-7(13) and 15-6(2). Section 107-1 states, "Process against any Church officer shall be entered before the Church court which has jurisdiction over him."

"The General Assembly does not have original jurisdiction over the accused parties, and cannot request that such parties be officially disciplined by the censure of admonition. Hence this overture has not complied with the requirements of the Book of Church Order. Therefore no case is constitutionally before the General Assembly (Assembly's Digest, 1965, p. 244)."

We point out that the 1968 General Assembly instructed the General Council to appoint a Grievance Committee specifically to handle matters of this nature (see G.A. Minutes, 1968, pp. 126, 127), which Committee can be contacted directly by the board or agency which feels itself offended.

The Committee notes that though the language of Overture 4 is answered by the Judicial Commission, the practical means whereby the presbytery deals with the grievance in question is not made clear. The Committee therefore recommends further that the General Assembly point out to the presbytery that it may bear its own testimony in such matters. (BCO, 16-7 (18, 19.)

2. That Overture No. 21 from the Presbytery of the Southwest (See page 28) regarding elimination of special offerings be answered in the negative for the following reasons:

(1) An analysis of the offerings listed in this overture reveals that only two could be considered "new" and both these (Hunger—World-wide Communion Sunday, 1968, and Crisis—July, 1968) were one-time offerings in 1968. Neither are currently approved for 1969 or recommended for 1970.

(2) Since "special" as used in this overture includes "supplemental" offerings, those used to supplement the budgets of agencies such as Joy Gift, Witness, and Rally Day, their elimination would mean the loss of an estimated $750,000 to $1,000,000 from the current operation of Assembly Agencies since it is not believed that this loss would be compensated for through additional pledging.

(3) The General Council has been consistent through the years in providing, along with certain educational programs and seasonal emphasis the opportunity for people to express their voluntary sense of benevolence as reflected in their gifts to the Joy Gift, the Witness Season, and the Rally Day Offerings.

(4) Concerning Item No. 3, the General Assembly, since 1966, has presented and apportioned to the Church both a minimum basic and a challenge budget, spelling these out in minute detail as is suggested here with the result that, while ten or a dozen presbyteries have given both basic and challenge budgets, the Church as a whole has not attained any degree of the challenge goals.

(5) Concerning Item No. 4, the General Assembly through the General Council conducts annually in March two area stewardship conferences with stewardship personnel and synod and presbytery executive secretaries in attendance. Seventy-three of the seventy-seven presbyteries were represented in the 1969 conferences. At this time the Assembly stewardship objectives are laid out clearly, The General Council pursues these objectives through meetings in synods, presbyteries, and even as many local churches as time and personnel permit.

(6) Concerning Item No. 5 dealing with promotional information, the General Assembly through the General Council, in addition to distributing annually on local church request some five million pieces of printed and audio-visual educational and promotional material, has for the last three years prepared and drop-shipped with each order of other materials a special brochure showing the special needs of the General Assembly as approved by the General Assembly on recommendation of the General Council. These special brochures include:

- 1966 Eight Torches Burning
- 1967 Challenge
- 1968 Either We're Trying Too Hard
- 1969 Power in Your Hand

3. That Overture 59 from the Presbytery of Brazos (See page 29) and Overture 61 from the Presbytery of Northwest Missouri (See page 30) regarding the restructuring of the General Assembly's boards and agencies be answered by the following action:

- a. That the Moderator appoint an ad interim committee of 12 members broadly representative of our Church to consider and recommend to the General Assembly, by 1971 if possible, a comprehensive plan of General Assembly reorganization.
- b. That this committee be instructed to consult with the boards and agencies of the General Assembly in the carrying out of its work.
- c. That this committee be instructed to consult with the Committee on Restructuring Synods and Presbyteries and to coordinate its reports with those of that committee.
- d. That this committee be instructed to consider the best methods by which its task can be accomplished, and to make recommendations concerning these methods and their funding to the 1970 General Assembly.
- e. That the 1969 Operating Expense Budget be increased by $15,000 for this purpose.

4. That Overture No. 60 from the Presbytery of Brazos (See page 29) regarding the furthering of cooperation with other denominations be answered as follows:

- a. That the request for an ad interim committee be answered in the negative.
- b. That the specifications in the overture be affirmed as legitimate concerns of the Presbyterian Church in the United States.
- c. With regard to requested instruction No. 1, the manual of the Assembly's Permanent Committee on Inter-Church Relations charges that committee with the responsibility to explore and report on various avenues and means of cooperation with other churches and inter-church bodies and to serve as the chief agency of liaison between the General Assembly and such churches and inter-church bodies or agencies (Article III, Section 1, (a), Manual, Permanent Committee on Inter-Church Relations).
- d. With regard to requested instruction No. 2, we recommend that the General Assembly adopt the following statement and action:

In the light of the rapid development of various kinds of ecumenical activities in mission, the serious fragmentation of such efforts, and the urgent need for coordinating, supporting and strengthening inter-denominational work, the General Assembly authorizes the General Council through its Planning and Strategy Committee to establish a Task Force on Cooperative Work, composed of one staff member each from the General Council, the Boards of Christian Education, National Ministries, Women's Work, and the World Missions, three executives of synods or presbyteries, and one member of the Permanent Committee on Inter-Church Relations. Each Agency or court involved is requested to fund its member's expenses. This Task Force is to discover and promote ways whereby the goals of greater unity in mission may be achieved, concentrating upon functional unity and patterns of coalition of middle judicatories in accomplishing specific tasks in an urban, pluralistic culture. Staff members will be appointed by their boards, and the General Council. The middle judicatory executives will be appointed by the Moderator, and the member of the Permanent Committee on Inter-Church Relations by that body. This Task Force will present through the General Council to the 1970 General Assembly its report and recommendations.

E. That Communication 7 from the Board of Christian Education regarding ecumenical services of preparation during the week preceding Worldwide Communion observance, 1970, be answered by the adoption of the following recommendation:

That the General Assembly recommend to its constituent churches that they lead actively in the planning and the experiencing of services of preparation in ecumenical settings for the observance of World Communion Sunday during the week preceding this observance in 1970.

F. That the following persons be elected to the General Council, as indicated:

To the Class of 1970:

Rev. Edward V. Ramage, Assembly Operation.

To the Class of 1972:

Rev. C. Charles Benz (2) Fla., Rev. David H. Burr (2) N. C., Rev. H. Richard Copeland (2) La., Rev. John A. Haley (2) Fla., Hal Baird, Nat'l. Min., W. B. Beery, III (2) N. C., Dr. Marshall Buckalew (2) W. Va., Ben H. Harris, Sr. (2) Ala., J. Gaston Williamson (2) Ark.-Okla., Mrs. John D. Moseley, Women's Work.

Vacancy in the Class of 1970: Robert T. Downs (Ky.)

H. That Resolution 6, submitted by James D. Newsome, Jr., et al, which is as follows:

Whereas, the publication This Week has provided for the Church a timely, concise, and immediate source of information concerning matters of current interest; and,

Whereas, This Week has appeared in the type of format which enabled the reader to have easy access to its content; and,

Whereas, ministers and laymen across the Assembly have enthusiastically testified to its usefulness; and

Whereas, This Week is scheduled to cease publication on May 31;

Now therefore be it resolved, that this General Assembly authorize the continued publication of This Week and encourage its use by the Church.

be answered in the negative because: (1) financial resources are inadequate to continue publication, and (2) the boards and agencies involved are seeking to continue the positive values of This Week through another publication.

That the boards and agencies involved be commended for their creative and positive action in greatly improving communications between themselves and particular churches.

I. In answer to the request made in the Annual Report of the General Council (See Part III of Minutes, Bound Volume of Board Reports) regarding the decline in benevolence receipts, it was moved and adopted:

That the General Assembly request the General Council to restudy its internal allocation of staff time and financial resources with a view toward increasing the staff and budget of the Stewardship Department, even at the cost of reducing the staff and budget of other departments of the General Council, and

That the Ad Interim Committee on the State of the Church established by Overture 14 (See page 26) investigate the causes and attributing factors, inasmuch as they are discernable, of the increasing decrease in total communicants for 1968.

III. The Standing Committee on the General Council notes that there was perfect attendance at all sessions except the last on Saturday afternoon when one member asked to be excused in order to attend the General Assembly. The committee voted to recommend to the General Assembly:

That the General Assembly request the Permanent Committee on Assembly Operation to study the problem of the inability of one or more standing committees of the General Assembly to finish their work in the time allotted on the docket of the General Assembly with a view to recommending changes in the operation of the General Assembly to alleviate this situation.

Respectfully submitted,
JAS. V. JOHNSON, JR., Chairman

APPENDIX

THE REPORT of the Moderator of the General Assembly

One who is elected Moderator of the General Assembly of the Presbyterian Church in the United States will discover at once that our people accord the office both respect and honor. Because of this fact, he is asked to go more places and do more things than can possibly be undertaken in one year. Therefore, a pressing and sometimes frustrating problem is how best to utilize the time available for such work. I must pass this on to my successor with the prayer that God may grant him strength for what will likely prove to be the busiest year he has ever spent. In this connection, I express gratitude for the action of the 1968 Assembly in authorizing the Moderator to appoint other persons than himself as official representatives of the General Assembly at significant ceremonials and other special occasions. This has been done several times during the past year and will, no doubt, be helpful to all future holders of this office.

It is not possible to list here all the persons who have given willing and valuable assistance to the Moderator during the past months. Gratitude is expressed to the Administration, Faculty and Board of Columbia Theological Seminary for releasing me for so much of the current school year. This is more deeply appreciated than my colleagues there will ever know. Rev. James A. Millard, Jr., Stated Clerk, and his staff have rendered every possible courtesy and assistance throughout the year.

The Moderator and all others in attendance here are under debt to Rev. J. William Ormand, Jr., for preparing the Worship Services used at the 1969 Assembly. The following have put me under lasting debt by serving as official representatives of the General Assembly on special occasions: Rev. Marion A. Boggs at the organizing meeting of the new Synod of Arkansas-Oklahoma; Rev. Charles E. S. Kraemer at the annual Service of Intercession and Holy Communion in the National Presbyterian Church of Washington, D. C. upon the opening of Congress, and Rev. J. McDowell Richards at a significant anniversary celebration of Cherokee Presbytery. To the above list should be added the ministers and congregations of all churches visited by the Moderator during his term in office, the leaders of conferences and convocations where he has spoken, the personnel of boards and agencies of the General Assembly, and the John Knox Press which has generously provided me a copy of each book it has published this year.

The Moderator attended the summer meeting of the Board of World Missions in Montreat and participated in the Commissioning Service for new appointees at the close of the World Mission Conference. During September-October he was sent by this Board on an official visit to our mission forces and the national Churches through which they work in the Far East. This was a strenuous but rewarding experience which the Moderator and his wife can never forget. We saw in Japan, Korea and Taiwan the solid results of work done by earlier generations of missionaries, whose witness to Christ was honored in the salvation of many persons. Those pioneers built chapels and churches, but they also began schools, colleges, seminaries and hospitals which are now touching in the aggregate hundreds of thousands of persons each year. One could not look upon all this without praising God for those brave men and women sent out by our Church in the early days.

But those pioneers have worthy successors in these lands now. We saw the present generation of missionaries on their jobs as evangelists, teachers, student workers, doctors, dentists, nurses and helpers. These men and women possess a wide variety of skills which they are using in effective service to Christ.

Your Moderator was the official representative of our Church to three General Assemblies which held their 1968 meetings while he was in the Far East. These were the Presbyterian Church of Korea, the Reformed Church in Japan and the United Church in Japan (Kyodan). I was invited to address each of these bodies and was accorded by them the utmost courtesy, honor and Christian kindness.

The General Assembly of the Presbyterian Church of Formosa had met already, but an official visit was made to its offices and an extended conference held with its Secretaries. Each of these national Churches is well organized, ably led and working happily with our missionary representatives. They need all of the qualified workers we can send and we dare not fail them in this day of opportunity. On every mission station visited we saw evidence of the wise use of Presbyterian Development Fund gifts made over the past several years. The considerable sum that has gone to the Far East is deeply appreciated by our workers and the national Churches in that region.

The Moderator attended the February meeting of the Board of National Ministries and heard reports of its present work, as well as plans for the future. The joint project called Mission Possible was in progress at the time of this meeting and reports were in from several areas of the Assembly expressing genuine appreciation for the work of those leaders who had come from other lands to help us in this 1969 Season of Witness. During the year I was able to observe some of the experimental ministries planned and supported by this Board. Attempts are being made through these ministries to reach with sympathy and Christian concern some of the multitudes within our area who never enter a regular church and who may even be antagonistic to any approach made to them by the institutional church. Such ministries involve difficult work and those who undertake them must have courage and a high degree of human sympathy.

The Moderator represented the General Assembly at the inauguration of Rev. Fred R. Stair as President of Union Seminary in Virginia, and also at the induction of Rev. William H. Kadel as the new Executive Secretary of the Board of Christian Education.

As a part of his official duty, the Moderator has attended each meeting of the General Council held since the last Assembly. Every recent Assembly has noted the disturbing fact of decreasing financial support for its boards and agencies. The General Council is troubled that this downward trend continued through 1968. The actual decrease reported does not take into account the effects of inflation. Total giving by our denomination continues to increase, but none of the increase appears to be reaching the General Assembly. This trend cannot continue indefinitely without severely crippling the programs of all boards and agencies. The General Council will, no doubt, report more fully upon this matter to the General Assembly. It should be noted, however, that the Council alone simply cannot create the climate needed for increased giving to the General Assembly. Synods and Presbyteries as well as the boards and agencies have responsibility in this area.

The present Moderator reports with a heavy heart that there appears to be no lessening of tension in our Church. The retiring Moderator of two years ago said to the Assembly, "Any realistic report on the state of the Church today must acknowledge the existence of tensions not easy to categorize." Last year's Moderator devoted almost half of his report to this problem, indicating thereby his feeling that it had become much more serious. He listed the following as being among the reasons for this: groups operating outside the structure of the Church, irresponsible journalism, certain conditions in the Synod of Mississippi, and unrest in a number of the border synods. Then he added, "The policies of boards and agencies of this Church have created unrest and dissatisfaction among some of our people."

It appears to the present Moderator that unrest over the policies of boards and agencies has increased since the last Assembly. Some events of the past year involving the work of boards and agencies played directly into the hands of regular critics of Assembly programs and probably were blown up by the critics quite out of proportion to their original importance. The boards and agencies feel very deeply that they are being increasingly sensitive to the demands of the Gospel in these days, but it is clear that a considerable number of our people are not in agreement with new directions being taken. Some who have raised questions with the agencies since the last Assembly are not among their regular critics. In fact, they have always been loyal supporters of the total Assembly program. A number of them have served faithfully on boards and agencies and, therefore, cannot be considered uninformed. It is assumed that the leaders of Assembly agencies have listened and will continue to listen with care to what such persons of good will are saying to them.

Surely it will not be the part of wisdom to ignore criticism and unrest among our people, if there is available any method for dealing constructively with the persons concerned. In this connection, the Moderator wishes to commend the board executives and the leaders in Louisiana Presbytery for the meeting, called a "listening session," which was held in Baton Rouge during January. Many of the questions asked there may have seemed quite unimportant to the executives, but they were not so to the people who asked them. I have visited in Louisiana Presbytery since that meeting was held and have reason to believe that positive results came out of

it. More such contacts are needed for free and frank exchange of opinions between Assembly leaders and our church members. It may be that some larger conferences should be planned for the sole purpose of seeking to bring about better understanding concerning those matters which seem to be causing unrest and dissatisfaction in the Church.

The past year has witnessed attacks upon the boards and agencies of the Assembly, attacks upon individuals on both sides of the controversy, systematic promotion of division, and bitter words between believers. The combined effect of all these brings the Church of God into disrepute before an unbelieving world. My earnest prayer is that God, in His great mercy, may lead us to move in Christian love toward healing these unhappy divisions among us.

We still face serious national problems with moral implications for the Church. The Vietnam war continues to take its toll in human life and material resources. We are grateful that peace talks have begun, but they move at a tragically slow pace. One notes a growing sense of responsibility among Christian people for dealing with the housing needs of the poor, providing job opportunities for the unemployed, and seeing that food is provided for the hungry. Recent months have witnessed a new concern on the part of influential office holders for feeding the desperately poor families in our part of the nation. Race rioting has practically disappeared from our cities and in many of them there appears to be genuine effort at improving relations between the races. Solid progress has been made toward racial justice in recent years, but we still have very far to go with this problem in the whole nation. The blight of prejudice is still upon our land. Destructive rioting has moved from city ghettos to a number of college and university campuses where militant students do not hesitate to disrupt school work and destroy valuable property. This cannot be tolerated for long, and legislation to deal with it is being considered in many states. A possible danger here, however, is that such legislation may be so hastily and even unwisely drawn as to further complicate the problem. Our nation is troubled today in ways that try our souls and test the courage of the bravest among us. As a nation we are strong, rich, proud and sinful. May God, who has been merciful to us in past crises, bring us through the present turmoil to better days ahead.

During this school year there has been only one instance of serious disruption of work in the educational institutions related to our Church. No one of them, however, appears to have been free from a certain amount of student unrest. Most of the present generation of students are deeply disturbed by our participation in the Vietnam war. They are near the age of those young men who are dying in battle, and the tragedy of this is with them daily. They are concerned also about problems here at home and many of them are increasingly impatient with the Church's apparent apathy toward such problems. We may not be able to do all they are demanding, but we should listen with great care to what they are saying. These young people need the sympathetic understanding, support and prayers of the entire Church.

One who travels across the Church cannot escape the fact that our ministers and congregations are facing real difficulties in these days. Trying to hold the loyalty of their young people is only one of these. Seeds of dissention are still being sown in local congregations by persons from the outside, and this places a heavy burden upon the hearts of many parish ministers who have never before had such an experience. Increasing mobility of population is shifting members too fast for their own good or the good of the churches. High-rise apartments and other types of secluded living in urban areas make it difficult for representatives of a church to have any contact with families who may live very close at hand. Such problems must account in part for the distressing decrease in the number of persons now being won to Christ upon profession of faith. Failure at this point is the matter of gravest importance in the life of our Church. Evangelism, by whatever name one chooses to call it, simply must be brought back into the center of our concerns.

One should not conclude from anything said in this report that the present Moderator feels that our Church is declining or that our members are dissipating all their energies in fault-finding and controversy. The Commissioners to this Assembly know that such is far from being the case. Our ministers are faithfully preaching the Gospel and it is being taught in our Church Schools. The CLC adult study book, "Christian Doctrine," is being widely used across the entire Church and is stimulating a new interest in theology among lay people. Our church members are working and giving under a serious sense of responsibility to God. Very many of them are seeking to bear a faithful witness to the Gospel in their churches, in their homes and in their vocations. Increasing numbers of our people are coming to feel that every body of Christians has a special responsibility for trying to meet human needs right where each lives. Therefore, more congregations are seeking to become "communities of love" which try to reach out to serve all classes and conditions of people around them. This means that buildings and members are being used as never before to provide day care centers for children of working mothers, tutoring for underprivileged school children, baby clinics for poor families and many others types of Christian service. Thus our people are witnessing in visible ways to the Gospel of God's love in Jesus Christ. They are declaring that the witness to God's love can and should be made by word and by deed.

Let the closing word of this report be a call for us as a Church and as individuals to repent of all sin, humble ourselves before God and seek His forgiveness. May He grant us the humility, faith, wisdom and love so needed now. I pray for the gentleness of Christ to pervade all the deliberations of this Assembly and for the guidance of the Holy Spirit in every decision that is made. May God bless each of you through the riches of His grace in Christ Jesus not only during the sessions of this Assembly but for all the days ahead.

REPORT OF THE PERMANENT JUDICIAL COMMISSION

(The Standing Rules require printing of this report in full. Action by the Assembly upon the recommendations may be found in the reports of Standing Committees to which portions of this report were referred—Stated Clerk.) (See page 25.)

Item 1.

A judicial case styled: Complaint—Rev. Arnold B. Poole, et al, vs. Synod of Florida

The Permanent Judicial Commission found the complaint to be in order, and set the time and place for hearing the case at 9:00 a.m., Thursday, April 24, 1969, in Mobile, Alabama. Notice was directed to be given to complainants and respondent. Commission member Joseph C. Meux recused himself as being from the Synod of Florida.

Item 2.

(See page 45.)

Memorial of Rev. Kent E. Kelley of the Christian Reformed Church in Savannah, Georgia, against the Presbytery of Savannah and the Synod of Georgia to the General Assembly of the Presbyterian Church in the United States, dated April 18, 1968.

The 108th General Assembly, upon the recommendation of the Standing Committee on Judicial Business, referred the above memorial to the Permanent Judicial Commission to determine whether the General Assembly has jurisdiction in the cause and if so, to hear such memorial, take any appropriate action thereon, and report to the 1969 General Assembly (General Assembly Minutes, 1968, p.108).

The Commission notes that such a referral is not within the scope of the authority of the Permanent Judicial Commission as set out in Chapter 20 of the Book of Church Order. The Commission therefore treats the referral as the appointment of a Special Judicial Commission in this cause, which Commission is composed of the members of the Permanent Judicial Commission.

The memorial asks that the Presbytery of Savannah and the Synod of Georgia be censured for neglect of duty (BCO, Section 114-5) for not taking proper action with respect to a charge of personal offense which Mr. Kelley entered with the Presbytery of Savannah by letter dated January 18, 1966.

In 1964 the John Knox Presbyterian Church, Presbytery of Savannah, desired to call Mr. Kelley, then a member of Athens Presbytery, as its Pastor. On the recommendation of the Commission on the Minister and His Work of Savannah Presbytery, the call was not approved. Mr. Kelley charges that the Chairman of the Presbytery's Commission on the Minister and His Work made false statements to the Presbytery of Savannah in connection with its consideration of the call to the John Knox Presbyterian Church.

Mr. Kelley's memorial to the General Assembly states that his letter of January 18, 1966, was neither read to Presbytery, considered by Presbytery, nor otherwise acted upon in a constitutional manner by Presbytery and that the letter was only received as information by the Synod of Georgia.

Section 114-6 of the Book of Church Order is assigned as authority for the memorial. In substance, this Section provides that when any court having appellate jurisdiction is advised by the records of the court next below or by memorial or any other satisfactory method of any important delinquency or grossly unconstitutional procedure of the lower court, it shall cite the lower court to appear and show what it has done or failed to do in the case in question. It thus appears that if the statements of the memorial were not contradicted by the records of the Presbytery of Savannah and the Synod of Georgia, this would be an appropriate case in which to afford relief under the provisions of Section 114-6.

In considering this matter the Commission has taken notice of the minutes of the General Assembly, the Synod of Georgia, and the Presbytery of Savannah with reference to this matter (BCO, Section 106-8). These disclose that upon receipt of Mr. Kelley's letter of January 18, 1966, the Presbytery of Savannah appointed a Special Committee to consider the charge (BCO, Sections 19-1, 104-2; Minutes of the Presbytery of Savannah, Winter, 1966, p.23), that the Committee found the charges groundless and Presbytery approved (Minutes of Presbytery of Savannah, Spring, 1966, p.47).

This was the proper procedure for the Presbytery to follow with respect to the charges (BCO, Section 104-2). The action of Presbytery was subject to complaint (BCO, Section 117-1) but none was taken. Instead, Mr. Kelley on March 2, 1966, addressed a letter to Synod stating that he was closing his file and placing the matter in Synod's hands "as the proper court of review and control (BCO, Sections 114-1, 114-2, 114-5)."

Thereafter the minutes of the Presbytery of Savannah approving the finding of the Special Committee were approved by the Synod of Georgia and subsequently the minutes of the Synod were approved by the 1967 General Assembly.

It thus appears that the Presbytery of Savannah and the Synod of Georgia have handled the charges of Mr. Kelley in the manner prescribed by the Book of Church Order so that no delinquencies or unconstitutional proceedings are disclosed. Hence there is no occasion for a citation or hearing under the provision of BCO Section 114-6.

It further appears that under precedents of the General Assembly the action of the General Assembly of 1967 in approving the minutes of the Synod of Georgia for 1966 and the action of the Synod of Georgia in approving the minutes of the Presbytery of Savannah have estopped the right of review of these minutes by appeal, complaint and memorial (Assembly's Digest, 1965, p.230, with reference to Minutes of the General Assembly, 1913, p.69).

The secretary of the Commission is instructed to inform the parties that the record of the Commission will be filed with the Stated Clerk of the General Assembly on February 14, 1969.

Appended at this first point is that portion of the minutes of the meeting of the Permanent Judicial Commission at Atlanta, Georgia, on February 5, 1969, recording the handling of this "memorial." This completes the submitting of a full Record on this matter to the General Assembly, which shall, under BCO Section 118-2, enter this action of the Special Commission on its minutes:

"The Permanent Judicial Commission of the General Assembly of the Presbyterian Church in the United States met pursuant to the call of the Chairman at North Avenue Presbyterian Church, Atlanta, Georgia, beginning at 9:00 a.m., February 5, 1969. The meeting was opened with prayer by Mr. Moffatt.

"Present were: Joseph W. Grier, Jr., Chairman; James E. Drinkard, Charles L. Moffatt, Judge Thomas Y. Minniece, P. J. Garrison, Jr., Joseph C. Meux, Clerk; Judge David E. Cuppett, Jr., Eugene F. Rogers, Wallace M. Alston, Jr., Joseph B. Ledford, Judge Frank L. Taylor, J. Barbee Winston.

"A quorum being present, the Commission proceeded to consider the matters referred to it.

"The following actions were taken on the matters referred to the Commission under the Constitution, and comprise the Commission's report to be included in the COMMISSIONERS' HANDBOOK OF REPORTS TO THE GENERAL ASSEMBLY. This report in full is appended to these minutes as a part of the minutes of the Commission.

"Item II. Referral of Kelley 'memorial':

Motion made, seconded and passed that there is no evidence of irregularity in proceedings of Synod and Presbytery—matter now at rest.

Attest: A true copy,
Joseph C. Meux, Secretary"

Overture 1 (too late for 1968 General Assembly) from the Presbytery of Asheville relative to clarification of the position of an Elder serving outside the bounds of the local congregation in the interests of the Church.

The Commission recommends that this overture be answered with the following statement:

1. An Elder, whether active or inactive, serving in the interests of the Church through the Board of World Missions may be a member of a church to which he is related in missionary service while maintaining active membership in his home church. (BCO, Section 8-17, amendment of 1968).
2. If the person is an active Elder in his home church, he cannot serve as an active Elder in a church to which he is related in missionary service at the same time (Assembly's Digest, 1965, p.77).
3. If the person is an active Elder in a church to which he is related in missionary service, he cannot serve as an active Elder in his home church at the same time (Assembly's Digest, 1965, p.77).
4. The Session shall dissolve the active relationship of an Elder when this Elder because of a change of residence is unable to perform the duties of his office for a period of one year unless there is good reason not to do so (BCO, Section 29-10). The Session has the option to continue or to discontinue the active service of the Elder living and serving beyond the bounds of the congregation which elected him. Sessions should be reminded, however, that the intent of Sections 14 and 15 of the Book of Church Order is that active Elders should be "currently on active service in that congregation" (BCO, Section 15-1).
5. An Elder whose term of service has expired, who is serving outside the bounds of the local congregation in the interests of the Church, may serve as a representative to higher courts as provided in BCO, Section 29-11.

Item 4.

Referred from the 1968 General Assembly with respect to the amendment of Section 13-2 of the Book of Church Order to provide for a successor to the Moderator in the event of his death or disability.

The Commission advises the 1969 General Assembly that the following language, when substituted for BCO, Section 13-2, would be sufficient to accomplish the above purpose:

"The Pastor is Moderator of the church Session. The Moderator of the Presbytery shall ordinarily be chosen at each stated meeting. A Presbytery may decide to elect its Moderator for a term of one year, but he must be a member of the court to serve. The Moderator of the Synod shall be elected at each stated meeting of the court. In these higher courts, the Moderator, or in the case of his absence, the last Moderator present, or in the case of the absence of any former Moderator, the Minister in attendance of longest service in the court, shall hold the chair until a new Moderator is chosen, and shall ordinarily open the meeting with a sermon. In the General Assembly, the Moderator shall be elected at each stated meeting and serve until his successor is elected. In the case of death or inability of the Moderator to serve, the immediate past Moderator shall serve as Moderator until a Moderator shall be elected at the next stated meeting of the General Assembly; or, in the case of his inability to serve, the next previous Moderator shall assume the duties of the office; and this procedure shall be followed until a Moderator has been obtained to complete the term."

The Commission recommends that the 1969 General Assembly deal with the problem of succession of the Moderator of the Synod and Presbytery at the same time. The following alternate language when substituted for BCO Section 13-2 is sufficient to accomplish this larger purpose:

"The Pastor is Moderator of the church Session. The Moderator of the Presbytery shall ordinarily be elected at each stated meeting. A Presbytery may decide to elect its Moderator for one year, but he must be a member of the court to serve. The Moderators of the Synod and General Assembly shall be elected at each stated meeting and must be members of the respective court. In these higher courts the Moderator shall serve until his successor is elected. In the case of death or inability of the Moderator to serve, the immediate past Moderator shall serve as Moderator until a Moderator shall be elected at the next stated meeting of the court; or, in the case of his inability to serve, the next previous Moderator shall assume the duties of the office; and this procedure shall be followed until a Moderator has been obtained to complete the term."

Item 5.

Referred from the 1968 General Assembly (G.A. Minutes, 1968, p.105) with respect to amendment of Section 16-5 of the Book of Church Order relative to refusal by Presbytery to sustain the examination of a Minister transferring from another Presbytery to that Presbytery.

The Commission recommends that the following language be added as the second paragraph of Section 16-5:

"Should the Presbytery fail to sustain the examination of a Minister seeking admission from another Presbytery, the Presbytery to which he seeks admission shall, before adjournment of that meeting, enter a statement in its minutes of the reasons for such refusal and give the Minister under examination the opportunity to enter an answer to such statement in the same minutes. If, at that meeting of Presbytery, as many as two members of that meeting of Presbytery request the Presbytery to do so, the Presbytery shall within ten days meet and reexamine such Minister and cause a verbatim transcript of the examination to be made."

Reason: This change is proposed in order that due process may be insured through the review and control exercised by higher courts. (See G.A. Minutes, 1968, p.105.)

Item 6.

Referred from the 1968 General Assembly (G.A. Minutes, 1968, p.128, item 31, and p.257, item 3) a proposal to amend Section 16-7 of the Book of Church Order as follows:

Section 16-7(3), changing to read: "To maintain pastoral oversight of churches and . . ."

Section 16-7(13), changing to read: "To maintain pastoral oversight of Ministers and the authority to ordain, receive, dismiss, install, remove and judge Ministers."

Section 16-7(17), changing to read: "To devise measures for the enlargement of the church within its bounds through traditional ministries, new forms of ministries and ecumenical ministries."

Section 16-7(23), adding a new paragraph to read: "To participate in and the responsibility to promote the program and the mission of the whole Church as expressed through the Synod and General Assembly."

The Commission recommends that these four proposed constitutional changes to Section 16-7 of the Book of Church Order be answered with the following statements:

- (1) Proposed change to Section 16-7(3) is answered in the negative for the reason that the term "pastoral oversight" is vague, indefinite, and undefined, thereby not agreeable to the concept of the Constitution as a document of clearly-defined and assigned powers and responsibilities.
- (2) Proposed change to Section 16-7(13) be answered in the negative because of reasons given under (1) above.
- (3) Proposed change to Section 16-7(17) be answered in the negative because the present Section 16-7(17) "To devise measures for the enlargement of the Church within its bounds," encompasses the proposed change.
- (4) Proposed addition to Section 16-7 in the form of 16-7(23) be answered in the negative because while the present Section 16-7 deals with the power expressly granted Presbytery, the proposed addition deals with the responsibilities of Presbytery.

Therefore the Commission also recommends that it be instructed by the 109th General Assembly to rewrite this proposed change (4) in such a way as to implement its intension through a new Chapter 25 in The Directory for the Worship and Work of the Church to include the duties of individuals, particular churches, Sessions, Presbyteries and Synods to participate in and the responsibility to promote the program and the mission of the whole Church as expressed through the General Assembly.

Item 7.

Referred from the 1968 General Assembly (G.A. Minutes, 1968, p.257) a proposal to amend Sections 16-1 and 17-1 of the Book of Church Order by substituting the following for the present final sentence of each Section:

"A church whose communicants exceed 300 shall be represented by two Ruling Elders and shall be entitled to one more Ruling Elder for each additional 300 communicants."

The Commission reports as follows:

The suggested amendments do not appear to be constitutionally objectionable. The present provisions in BCO, Sections 16-1 and 17-1 relative to representation of a church by more than one Ruling Elder, based on the size of the congregation of a church, were enacted in 1954. (G.A. Minutes, 1954, p.57.)

The Commission expresses no opinion on the desirability of these amendments. However, the Commission would note that these amendments would be consistent with the representative form of government of the Church (see BCO, Sections 13-1 and 23-2). The Commission would also note that the effect of the amendments would be to increase materially the size of Presbytery and Synod meetings, the proportion of Ruling Elders over Teaching Elders, as well as the representatives of larger churches over smaller churches.

Item 8.

Referred from the 1968 General Assembly (G.A. Minutes, 1968, p.257), a proposal to amend Section 17-5(6) of the Book of Church Order by omitting the words "Sessions and churches" from the present reading.

The Commission recommends that this be answered in the negative for the following reason:

Sessions and churches constitute this court and therefore should be subject to the Synod's jurisdiction. (See BCO, Sections 14-5, 15-6(14), 17-1 and 17-2.)

Item 9.

Referred from the 1968 General Assembly (G.A. Minutes, 1968, p.87), a proposal to amend Section 18-2 of the Book of Church Order so as to provide that the Moderator shall be a Commissioner-at-Large in the meeting of the General Assembly at which his service ends.

The following language is sufficient to accomplish this purpose:

"However, the immediate past Moderator of the General Assembly shall serve as a Commissioner-at-Large of that Assembly, but shall not be counted as one of the Commissioners from the Presbytery of which he is a member."

The Commission recommends that this proposed amendment not be adopted for the following reasons:

- (1) It would establish a precedent which might be extended to all past Moderators.
- (2) It would change the basic concept of representation to Church courts.
- (3) A somewhat similar action was answered in the negative in the 1908, 1909 and 1910 General Assemblies wherein it was proposed to make the Moderator of each Assembly an ex officio member-at-large of the next succeeding Assembly. (See Assembly's Digest, 1965, pp.199-200.)

Item 10.

Referred from the 1968 General Assembly (G.A. Minutes, 1968, p.257), a proposal to amend Section 18-6(9) of the Book of Church Order on the powers of the General Assembly.

The Commission recommends that Section 18-6(9) of the Book of Church Order be brought into conformity with Section 17-5(4) by eliminating the period and adding to the Section the following words:

"and to unite or divide those which were before established."

Item 11.

Overture 2 from the Presbytery of Guyandotte relative to the office of Deacon.

The Commission recommends that this overture be answered with the following statement:

The General Assembly reaffirms the action of the 1966 General Assembly deferring consideration of proposals seeking to make the office of Deacon optional, pending action on the question of union with the Reformed Church in America (G.A. Minutes, 1966, pp. 25, 101-102).

The Commission further recommends that the overture be retained by the Permanent Judicial Commission, and that in the event union with the Reformed Church in America is not approved, the Commission consider this overture and make recommendation to the 1970 Assembly.

Item 12.

Overture 3 from the Presbytery of Northeast Texas relative to interpretation of Section 27-5 of the Book of Church Order requesting that a candidate be received as an ordinary candidate where his academic certificate omits the required language studies but the candidate has acquired knowledge of the original languages of the Holy Scriptures in other than formal academic studies.

The Commission recommends that this overture be answered in the negative for the following reasons:

Section 27-5(1) of the Book of Church Order has been interpreted to require that a Presbytery regard as an extraordinary candidate any candidate presenting as an academic qualification a certificate which omits the required language studies. This has been held to be the clear intent of this Section and also to be the uniform practice of the Presbyteries. (Assembly's Digest, 1965, p.212; G.A. Minutes, 1963, p.108.)

Item 13.

Overture 4 from the Presbytery of Northeast Texas relative to the PRESBYTERIAN JOURNAL's evaluation and criticism of the Presbyterian Church, U.S., with special concern for the JOURNAL'S evaluation of CLC materials.

The Commission recommends that this overture be answered with the following statement:

The overture asks the General Assembly to discipline unnamed Ruling Elders and Teaching Elders by the censure of admonition. The censure of admonition can be inflicted only by an offense being properly prosecuted by judicial process (BCO, Sections 102-1, 103-1, 103-2). Original jurisdiction over church members is in the church Session of the church to which the member belongs, and over Ministers is in the Presbytery to which the Minister belongs (BCO, Section 104-1). Confirming statements are found in BCO Sections 16-7(13) and 15-6(2). Section 107-1 states, "Process against any Church officer shall be entered before the Church court which has jurisdiction over him."

The General Assembly does not have original jurisdiction over the accused parties and the overture has not complied with the requirements of the Book of Church Order, therefore no case is constitutionally before the General Assembly. (Assembly's Digest, 1965, p.224.)

The Commission points out, however, that the 1968 General Assembly instructed the General Council to appoint a Grievance Committee specifically to handle matters of this nature (see G.A. Minutes, 1968, pp.126, 127), which Committee can be contacted directly by the board or agency which feels itself offended.

Item 14.

Overtures 5, 6 and 7 from the Presbyteries of Concord, Potomac and Louisville, relative to the CONCERNED PRESBYTERIANS circularizing the Church.

The Commission recommends that these overtures be answered in the negative for the following reasons:

These overtures seek the judicial remedy of censure of admonition. The censure of admonition can be inflicted only by an offense being properly prosecuted by judicial process (BCO, Sections 102-1, 103-1, 103-2). Original jurisdiction over church members is in the church Session of the church to which the member belongs, and over Ministers is in the Presbytery to which the Minister belongs (BCO, Section 104-1). Confirming statements are found in BCO Sections 16-7(13), 15-6(2). Section 107-1 states, "Process against any Church officer shall be entered before the Church court which has jurisdiction over him." There is no provision in the Book of Church Order for bringing a judicial charge against an organization. (See Assembly's Digest, 1965, p.125.)

The General Assembly does not have original jurisdiction over the accused parties or organization and these overtures have not complied with the Book of Church Order. Therefore no case is constitutionally before the General Assembly.

However, the Commission recommends that the following statement be made under the power of the General Assembly "to bear testimony against error in doctrine and immorality in practice, injuriously affecting the Church." (BCO, Section 18-6(2).)

The General Assembly has expressed its "disapproval" (Minutes, 1880, p.212) of circulating through the Church pamphlets and statements attempting to influence its decisions. It has condemned "as discourteous, anonymous communications attacking the Assembly or its servants" (G.A. Minutes, 1932, p.42; 1934, p.32; 1949, p.33; 1953, p.106). It has expressed its "emphatic disapproval of the practice of circulating pamphlets or letters or articles through the Church attacking the orthodoxy or Christian character of Ministers or courts of the Church," and laid "a solemn charge upon its Ministers to bring charges against Ministers or courts of the Church only in the regular way set forth in the Book of Church Order (G.A. Minutes, 1934, p.34; 1961, p.68).

Asked to tell those sending literature to members of a church that they should make such approach through the Session, the Assembly answered in the negative (G.A. Minutes, 1953, p.106).

The Assembly has clearly affirmed: "We recognize the right of individual conscience in many matters of common concern to members and courts of our Church. We recognize the right of individual and group 'freedom of expression.' Freedom, therefore, on the part of an individual, groups of individuals, and organizations of the Church to express convictions on matters pertaining to the well-being of the Church cannot be denied. The General Assembly urges and expects, however, that honest convictions be expressed in Christian love and with concern for the truth." (G.A. Minutes, 1965, p.77.)

Further, the Assembly, being asked to study a group issuing an "open letter," a group called THE FELLOWSHIP OF CONCERN, and a group called CONCERNED PRESBYTERIANS, answered in the negative but also affirmed: "This answer is given because of a belief in Freedom of the Press and Freedom of Assembly. The General Assembly has its own PRESBYTERIAN SURVEY in which the official interpretation of facts and matters of policy may be widely read. Other groups and publications must be accorded freedom of expression." (G.A. Minutes, 1967, p.67.)

In its 1965 statement the Assembly had spoken of "regular procedures stated" in the Form of Government for communication among courts and individuals. The meaning of this phrase was asked of the Assembly of 1967, which replied: "Except where necessary for the administrative and judicial business of the Church courts, the Book of Church Order does not prescribe any procedures for the regulating of correspondence among Church courts and individuals. However, each Church court and individual bears a special responsibility to see to it that all such communications shall be directed toward the promotion of the peace, harmony and purity of the Church and shall be consistent with and within the affirmances of the Book of Church Order and the pronouncements of the General Assembly." (G.A. Minutes, 1967, p.129.)

The Commission further recommends that the General Assembly affirm as follows:

1. This Assembly recognizes the rights of freedom of the press and of freedom of expression within the Church. This freedom, whether on the part of individuals, groups of individuals, organizations within the Church, or of independent publications, cannot be denied.
2. This Assembly has the right to expect that such expression of convictions on matters pertaining to the well-being of the Church be made in Christian love, with meticulous respect for truth, and in an effort to maintain both the purity and peace of the Church.
3. When this Assembly, with reason, believes such expressions of conviction to be an "immorality in practice, injuriously affecting the Church," it should under Section 18-6(2) of the Form of Government "bear testimony" against such expressions.
4. When such expression by individual Church members or Ministers is deemed a possible "offense" (Rules of Discipline, Section 102-1 ff.), action under the Rules of Discipline can be taken but only before the court having constitutional jurisdiction of the member or Minister.

Item 15.

Overture 8 from the Presbytery of John Knox, relative to using persons not ordained as Ministers or Ruling Elders to serve as members of a Commission of a Church court.

The Commission recommends that the overture be answered in the negative for the reason that a member of a Commission must be eligible to be a member of the court establishing such Commission. If, as BCO, Section 19-2, indicates, a Commission may make decisions for a Church court as if it were the court, it follows that those eligible to be members of a Commission must be eligible to be members of the court.

Item 16.

Overture 9 from the Presbytery of Lexington, asking amendment of Section 21-2(3) of the Book of Church Order by adding the following to the third paragraph thereof:

"In extraordinary cases the Presbytery may, by a vote of three-fourths of the members present, waive the six month regulation. A full record of such action and the reason therefor shall be recorded in the minutes of Presbytery."

And also asking amendment of Section 25-4 of the Book of Church Order by adding the following to the last paragraph of both 25-4(a) and 25-4(b):

"In extraordinary cases the Presbytery may, by a vote of three-fourths of the members present, waive the six month regulation. A full record of such action and the reason therefor shall be recorded in the minutes of Presbytery."

The Commission reports that the language of the proposed amendment appears to be sufficient to accomplish the intended purpose.

The Commission points out, however, that the present requirement was enacted relatively recently, and that the question of whether the value to be derived from the present requirement outweighs the advantage to be derived from a change and the possible hardship that may result in an individual case, should be carefully considered. (See Assembly's Digest, 1965, p.208; G.A. Minutes, 1963, p.107.)

Item 17.

Overture 10 from the Presbytery of the Everglades, asking interpretation of proposed Chapters 31, 32 and 33, which have not yet been enacted by the General Assembly, relative to union churches, union Presbyteries, and union Synods.

The Commission recommends that this overture be answered with the following statement:

The information requested concerns a matter that is not yet a part of the constitution, therefore no opinion should be expressed.

Item 18.

Overture 11 from the Presbytery of John Calvin, asking amendment of Section 25-3(a) of the Book of Church Order by striking out the final clause thereof and substituting as a new sentence the following:

"In the event that a vacancy occurs in the position of the Pastor, the Associate Pastor may succeed him only after a period of six months and through the normal process by which a congregation calls a Pastor."

The Commission reports that the language of the proposed amendment appears to be sufficient to accomplish the intended purpose.

The Commission points out, however, that the present requirement was enacted relatively recently, and that the question of whether the value to be derived from the present requirement outweighs the advantage to be derived from a change and the possible hardship that may result in an individual case, should be carefully considered. (See Assembly's Digest, 1965, p.208; G.A. Minutes, 1968, p.105; BCO, Section 25-3(b).)

ANNUAL REPORT OF THE PRESBYTERIAN CENTER, INCORPORATED

To: Board of Annuities and Relief
Board of National Ministries
The General Council

Board of Christian Education
Board of Women's Work
Office of the General Assembly

Owners of the property of Presbyterian Center, Inc., located at #341 Ponce de Leon Avenue, Northeast, Atlanta, Georgia (submitted as information to the General Assembly of the Presbyterian Church in the United States).

The Presbyterian Center has now completed its second full calendar year of successful and therefore satisfactory operations. Since the building has been operated well within budgets set by the Board, and particularly since debt has been reduced substantially as noted below, the Board of Trustees have been able to reduce rental rates to all occupying agencies by a flat 6½ % effective January 1, 1969.

The Center's modest surplus income has been used along with the revenues from the Presbyterian Development Fund to continue reducing indebtedness for the building. In 1968 the Center was able to claim a $250,000 anonymous challenge grant which was applied to the debt, thus reducing our debt to $530,682 as of December 31, 1968. The 1969 operational budget includes an amortization schedule so that the indebtedness is being further, if slowly, reduced. The Presbyterian Development Fund is still receiving contributions, but the Center's share of these funds yet to come will be at best minimal.

On December 2, 1968, the Center Chapel was dedicated to the glory of God and in memory of James D. Robinson, Jr., who was, before his death, Chairman of the Board of Directors of the First National Bank of Atlanta. It was in large measure through his interest and influence that the business community of Atlanta gave generously to the building of the Center. Mr. Robinson, also, was most helpful in arranging financing for the Center. A bronze plaque commemorating Mr. Robinson has been placed on the wall of the Chapel.

Presbyterian Center continues to be a useful and valuable tool for our Church. In-house services are expanding and making significant contributions to the business, administrative, and program responsibilities of the Boards and Agencies housed at the Center. Meetings, seminars, and workshops keep the calendar active in use of the several conference rooms. Guests and touring groups are consistently and frequently coming to the Center to see the fine facility and to learn more about the Agencies and Boards headquartered here. The Center should be a source of pride to all Presbyterians everywhere and the object of gratitude to our Lord.

Respectfully,
PAUL E. MANNERS,
Chairman of the Board of Trustees
F. BURT VARDEMAN,
Administrator and Treasurer

REPORT OF THE PERMANENT COMMITTEE ON INTER-CHURCH RELATIONS

I. Interdenominational Areas of Special Interest

A. American Bible Society

The Committee received from its representative, Rev. Horace L. Villee, the report of the Meeting of the Advisory Council of the American Bible Society in New York, November 11-13, 1968.

The Council reaffirmed its task to see that the Bible is not only in plentiful supply in all the languages of the world but also that it is in the hands of the Church in the most accurate, understandable and dynamic texts possible.

It was reported by Dr. Villee that the Society is interested and willing to serve the Churches by publishing special Portions and Selections for specific projects and study programs, such as "Good News by a Man Named Luke" for the Presbyterian Church, U.S.

The Permanent Committee continues to commend the excellent work of the American Bible Society and urges local churches to make every possible use of their materials.

B. Lord's Day Alliance

Lewis M. Steele and James Nesbit were our Assembly's representatives to the Consultation on the Lord's Day in Contemporary Culture, sponsored by the Alliance at Valley Forge, Pennsylvania, October 7-9, 1968.

C. Grier Davis, R. T. L. Liston and G. R. Pirrung are our representatives on the Board of Managers of the Alliance, which continue to pursue every course to make more meaningful use of the Sabbath.

C. Religion in American Life

We continue to commend the Mass Media Campaign of RIAL with its fresh approach through TV and radio spots, magazine and newspaper ads and billboard posters. Helping to promote RIAL are more than 30 national service clubs and volunteer agencies, local businessmen and Roman Catholic, Orthodox, Jewish and Protestant denominations.

II. Cooperation with Other Presbyterian and Evangelical Bodies

A. Fraternal Delegates

The fraternal delegates appointed in 1968 reported to the Committee and were commended for their work. The following have been named as fraternal delegates of our church in 1969:

Associated Reformed, Flat Rock, North Carolina, June 2, 1969

Rev. Richard Ruggles, Principal

Mr. W. H. Mitchell, Alternate

Rev. Paul R. Snellgrove, Principal

Rev. H. Ray Riddle, Alternate

Reformed Church in America, New Brunswick, N. J., June 6, 1969
 Rev. William H. Kadel, Principal
 Rev. Wade P. Huie, Jr., Alternate
 United Presbyterian, San Antonio, Texas, May 15, 1969
 Rev. John Randolph Taylor, Principal
 Rev. Paul H. Richards, Alternate
 Presbyterian Church of England, Liverpool, May 5, 1969
 Rev. John J. Deifell, Jr., Principal
 Rev. Wilson Benton, Alternate
 Church of Scotland, Edinburgh, May 20, 1969
 Rev. Wilson Benton, Principal
 Rev. John J. Deifell, Jr., Alternate

B. Meeting of Moderators

The Committee notes and reports to the Assembly the meeting of Moderators of the Reformed and Presbyterian Churches on March 14, 1969 at the Pompton Plains Reformed Church, Pompton Plains, N. J.

C. Consultation on Church Union

The Committee reports to the Assembly the continuing progress of the Consultation on Church Union, with the latest plenary sessions having been held March 17-20 in Atlanta, with the Presbyterian Church, U.S., the African Methodist Episcopal and African Methodist Episcopal Zion Churches as joint hosts. The Committee notes with deep satisfaction that our own Rev. William A. Benfield, Jr. is chairman of the Commission to draft a plan of union for the Consultation. He will be reporting directly to this Assembly as chairman of our Ad Interim Committee of ten persons who make up our Consultation delegation.

Special note was taken by the Permanent Committee that in accordance with the Consultation's request to member churches to name a tenth member of its delegation under 28 years of age, Moderator Patrick D. Miller had named Thomas N. Rains of Atlanta, Georgia to the Presbyterian, U.S. delegation.

D. Pan-Presbyterian Conference

The Pan-Presbyterian Conference continues to be a useful clearing house for information and exchange of ideas among members of the Presbyterian and Reformed family. At this year's meeting September 16-17 in Atlanta, representatives of the Associate Reformed and Cumberland Presbyterian Churches reported that their denominations had established Inter-Church Relations committees and were taking ecumenical dialogue far more seriously. Dr. Elmer Elsea of Denver, United Presbyterian Church, will serve as convenor of the planning committee for the 1969 meeting.

E. World Alliance of Reformed Churches

The report from Dr. Marcel Pradervand, soon to retire as General Secretary of the World Alliance of Reformed Churches, is submitted as part of this report.

F. Conversations with Roman Catholics

Conversations are continuing, through the World Alliance of Reformed Churches, between members of Reformed and Presbyterian bodies and the Roman Catholics. Rev. William B. Ward and Rev. J. H. Ross Mackenzie are our representatives in these conversations, with Rev. Mr. Ward presently their co-chairman.

The Permanent Committee plans to purchase from its program funds and to mail to every minister a copy of GOD RECONCILES AND MAKES FREE, the Bible Study Guide for the 20th General (Uniting) Council planned for Nairobi, Kenya in 1970 when the World Alliance of Reformed Churches and the International Congregational Council will become one.

III. National Council of Churches

A. The report of the General Secretary of the National Council was not received in time to be appended to this report.

B. Reports from Dr. Edward Grant, on behalf of Presbyterian, U.S. representatives to the General Board, were received and discussed.

C. Vacancies in Presbyterian, U.S. representation.

D. Financial Note

While our recommendation for financial support of the National Council comes later in this report, the Permanent Committee reports to the Assembly receipt of "Askings for General and Specific Programs from the Presbyterian Church, U.S. for 1970." These are as follows:

General Purposes	$52,590
Faith and Order	4,010
Christian Unity	5,880
International Affairs	16,050
Life and Work Commitment	2,800
	$81,330

This asking is $12,190 more than the asking for 1969. The appropriation to the National Council of Churches which compares with the above total request of $81,330 in the 1969 General Assembly budget is $10,495. In his report to our Permanent Committee, Dr. Edward Grant said, "It would be easier for us to share with the staff and members of the General Board our views, and we believe we would have more influence, if our church were carrying its full share of the financial load of the National Council of Churches."

IV. World Council of Churches

A. Annual reports

A report of the World Council will be found in the appendix to this committee's report.

B. Uppsala

By all odds the most significant event for the World Council in 1968 was its Fourth Assembly in Uppsala, Sweden, July 4-19. Our Presbyterian, U.S. representatives were Mrs. Samuel S. Wiley, Rev. Lawrence I. Stell, Rev. Elwin Roberts and Dr. John Bright. In addition, Rev. T. Watson Street was named by the World Council as a special delegate.

Many other Presbyterians, U.S. were in attendance as observers, members of the press corps and as interested spectators, and each has helped to interpret the important work of the World Council across the Assembly.

We report with joy the significant election at the Uppsala Assembly of Rev. T. Watson Street as a member of the Central Committee of the World Council.

V. Officers for the Committee

Officers of the Permanent Committee on Inter-Church Relations for the next year will be:

A. Committee Officers:

Chairman	William R. Sengel
Vice-Chairman	Elwin H. Roberts
Secretary	Olof Anderson, Jr.

B. Sub-Committee Chairmen:

Interdenominational Areas of Special Interest	W. G. Foster
Cooperation with Other Presbyterian and

Respectfully submitted,
WILLIAM R. SENDEL, Chairman

Appendix A

REPORT OF THE GENERAL SECRETARY
TO THE MEMBER CHURCHES OF THE WORLD ALLIANCE OF REFORMED CHURCHES

As I write these lines I am completing my 20th year as General Secretary of the WARC. It was in fact after the XVth General Council, Geneva, August, 1948, had decided to transfer the General Secretariat of the Alliance from Edinburgh to Geneva and to reorganize its work that I was called to the post I now occupy. Perhaps I may be permitted at the conclusion of these 20 years to take a brief look at the past.

When I became General Secretary it was chiefly an Anglo-Saxon organization. Theoretically the European Continental Churches were part of it but they did not actively participate in its life. Latin America, Africa, and Asia were virtually absent from the Alliance. Happily the situation has indeed changed. Not only has the number of the member Churches of the Alliance more than doubled in the course of these last 20 years but the geographical spread of these Churches is truly worldwide. Of the 110 member Churches of the Alliance, 27 are in Africa, 15 in Latin America (including the Caribbean), 10 in North America, 26 in Asia, 3 in Australasia and 29 in Europe.

In 1948 the General Council of Geneva decided that the Alliance should work in an ecumenical spirit and give its full support to the WCC, then in formation. In taking this decision the Geneva Council was faithful to the spirit of the founders of the Alliance in 1875, as we read in the preamble to the constitution adopted at that time: "In forming this Alliance the Presbyterian Churches do not mean to change their fraternal relations with other Churches, but will be ready, as heretofore, to join with them in Christian fellowship, and in advancing the cause of the Redeemer, on the general principle maintained and taught in the Reformed Confessions that the Church of God on earth, though composed of many members, is One Body in the Communion of the Holy Ghost, of which Body Christ is the Supreme Head, and the Scriptures alone are the infallible law." It is also worthy of note that the first periodical of the Alliance was called The Catholic Presbyterian, thereby expressing a preoccupation with universality (or as is said today, "catholicity") which at that time was not very widespread.

In the course of these last 20 years the Alliance has truly sought to work in an ecumenical spirit. In 1951 the Executive Committee concerned itself with the problem of the confessional organizations and the ecumenical movement. In the declaration then adopted under the title of The Basel Statement there was recorded: "If the great world denominations, the Reformed Churches among them, pursue denominational preeminence and make their great world bodies ends in themselves, they will betray Jesus Christ. But if they desire, and succeed in their desire, to make denominational emphasis an enrichment of the common evangelical heritage, they will, by so doing, fulfil the designs of the one Head of the Church and be true organs of the Holy Spirit. Let Presbyterians be in the best sense ecumenically-minded Presbyterians."

In 1956 the Executive Committee of the WARC, chaired by President John A. Mackay, took up afresh the problem of ecumenism and confessionalism and proposed a meeting of representatives of the world confessional organizations, to ensure closer cooperation between the WCC and the confessional organizations. That meeting, which took place during the Central Committee of the WCC at New Haven, USA, July, 1957, was followed one week later by the Executive Committee of the WARC at Stony Point, USA. The Executive Committee requested the other world confessional families to continue the discussion which had just been entered upon and to organize a meeting of the General Secretaries of the various world confessional bodies. "Such a conference" declared the Executive Committee, "as is here proposed should engage in frank and friendly discussion of the place of confessionalism in the ecumenical movement; the contributions which resurgent confessionalism can make to the enrichment of that movement, and the points at which, if any, confessionalism becomes a threat to that growing oneness in Christ which the ecumenical movement seeks; and ways in which the commitment of the Churches to the ecumenical movement presupposes some restraint on the consciousness and practice of mission on the part of the confessional groups with reference to each other."

Because the Alliance wishes to preserve its ecumenical spirit it has abstained from developing its work in areas where the WCC seemed competent to represent all the non-Roman Churches. However, it is important to pose the question: Has the Alliance really fulfilled the tasks devolving upon it? We continually affirm that it is a fellowship. Indeed it is and we have often been made aware of a profound unity obtaining among the Churches of the various continents. But that in itself is insufficient. A family which is a fellowship must certainly demonstrate its unity in an active way.

Throughout these last 10 years the theological work of the Alliance has considerably developed. We believe we have been able to render a service to our Churches and that in this sphere important work has still to be accomplished. In the field of information we try to give publicity to what is important in the life of our member Churches in the belief that it can be of use for other Churches. But with our limited means we can only pass on information to the extent to which we ourselves are informed. I should like to remind all our member Churches that we are happy to know of what is happening among them. With regard to inter-church aid, the Alliance has stood fast by the decision taken in 1948 to have no secretariat or department of inter-church aid, on the ground that inter-church aid has ecumenical implications and it is important that we go beyond confessional limitations. We are convinced, however, that without creating a special secretariat the Alliance ought to be able to do more in this area. We continually wish to be made aware of the needs of our Churches and to intervene on behalf of sister Churches so that the sense of belonging to a family, which is a fellowship binding us together, is concretely demonstrated. In this respect may I remind you that we must have a world strategy and that in our planning the needs of the minority Churches, so often in a privileged position to proclaim the Gospel, must not be forgotten. Increasingly Churches are making use of the funds of inter-church aid at their disposal for development. We fully understand this. We believe that not only Churches but especially governments ought to do infinitely more for the development of the countries of Asia, Africa, and Latin America. But we should like to stress that within these same nations there are Churches proclaiming the liberating Gospel and they need our vigorous support.

The Department of Cooperation and Witness, set up in 1965, has already fulfilled certain worthwhile aims; but the resources at its disposal are far too modest. It is hoped that the next General Council of the WARC will examine this problem and provide the Department with the means for achieving its original purpose. The Department of Women's Work, established by the General Council, Princeton, 1954, has without any doubt fulfilled our expectations. It has assisted our Churches to incorporate more fully within their work the place of women with all that they can contribute.

We are convinced that today the Alliance has still duties to fulfill. They are indeed modest, but nonetheless significant. I also believe that the Alliance will have to be strengthened and I trust that my successor — since I retire at the end of October, 1970 — will be given the means of making the Alliance a better instrument of service.

Now a brief report on the activity of the WARC in 1968. Naturally the ecumenical task remains our central concern.

1. WARC/ICC. As our Churches are already aware the members of the Executive Committee of the Alliance and of the Executive Committee of the ICC met at Uppsala on the 13th of July to examine the replies received from the member Churches apropos the union of the two organizations, planned for 1970. It was noted that the member Churches of the two organizations had given their assent to the union. The member Churches of the WARC have already been informed of this by a circular letter.

If everything proceeds normally, the General Council signifying the union of the two bodies (Uniting General Council) will take place at the University College, Nairobi, Kenya, 20-30 August, 1970. The theme: "God Reconciles and Makes Free." While awaiting the union close cooperation has already been established between the WARC and the ICC. From the beginning of the year the Reformed and Presbyterian World has been jointly published by the WARC and the ICC. The RPPS provides news of both the Congregational Churches and of the Reformed and Presbyterian Churches. But, even more important, in the Secretariat for Information the successor of the Reverend Lewis Wilkins, who returned to the States at the end of August, 1968, is the Reverend Fred H. Kaan, who is Dutch and for the last 13 years has served the Congregational Church of England and Wales and now continues on a part-time basis as Minister and Secretary of the ICC. From now on, due to this arrangement, a very close relationship exists between the two bodies and this will greatly help in promoting the union of 1970.

2. Lutheran/Reformed Relations. These continue to develop harmoniously. Not only is there now regularly an exchange of fraternal delegates at the level of the Executive Committees, but both Executive Committees have approved the findings of the ad hoc Study Committee, meeting at the beginning of 1968 to evaluate the conversations already held in Europe and North America. The two Executive Committees have likewise approved the setting up of a Lutheran-Reformed Joint Committee to proceed with the conversations. This Committee will consist of 8 members, 4 from each body, theologians and administrators, including one member from each of the Executive Committees. The Joint Committee is commissioned to supervise the continuing of the dialogue, to examine the practical implications of a theological consensus between Lutheran and Reformed and to interpret the meaning of the phrase "a closer working relationship."

We emphasize once again that the WARC will do everything in its power to help to recreate the unity of the Lutheran Reformed Churches throughout the world. That appears to us as an essential step, if one day the greater unity of the Church is to be realized.

3. Relations between the Roman Catholic Church and the WARC. The Executive Committee of the Alliance, meeting at Cluj, Romania, at the end of June, 1968, commissioned the President, the Chairman of the Department of Theology, the Theological Secretary, the General Secretary, and the Reverend Dr. Norman Goodall (ICC) "to explore with the General Secretary of the WCC and the Director of Faith and Order and with representatives of the Roman Catholic Church the elements in the new situation that may make the initiation of Reformed/Roman Catholic dialogue wise at this time."

As a result a first exploratory meeting of representatives of the WARC and of the Secretariat for Promoting Christian Unity of the Roman Catholic Church was held in Geneva from November 27 to 29, 1968. Unanimous agreement was reached on the need for further exploratory thinking, involving a larger group of representatives. For this purpose six representatives of the Roman Catholic Church and six of the WARC will meet in the spring of 1969. The terms of reference for the larger group will center around the examination of certain issues emerging in Reformed/Roman Catholic dialogue already taking place nationally and regionally, and around specific areas of theological concern. The findings of the spring meeting will be submitted for approval to the authorities of the Roman Catholic Church and to the Executive Committee of the WARC in 1969.

Deep-going differences still remain between the Roman Catholic Church and ourselves. A number of practical problems directly affecting all our Churches and in particular our minority Churches are not yet resolved. But the differences between us are those between brethren belonging together to the Church of Jesus Christ, which transcends our confessional limitations. That is significant. In a world where atheism, either in theory or in practice, makes continual progress, it is important that those professing to be disciples of Jesus Christ should devote themselves to strengthening their unity.

4. The WARC and Church Union. At present 38 member Churches of the Alliance are involved in conversations with a view to union with other Churches. We can only rejoice in this fact; at the same time we should like to remind you that the Alliance possesses a Panel of Advisers which is at the service of those Churches wishing to make use of it. It has already functioned on several occasions and we hope it will go on being useful in the future.

5. The WARC and World Problems. If we have dwelt a little on ecclesiastical problems, we are nevertheless aware that the great issues of our world are not confessional problems. The problem of peace occupies the primary place among the great issues exercising the contemporary world — that peace for which men hope and which seems so difficult to obtain. Also, there is the problem of hunger, which is always directly or indirectly related to that of war. There is the shocking inequality between rich and developing countries. It gives us great joy to see that certain of our Churches are realizing their responsibilities albeit slowly. Indeed there is much still to be done. But we must express our gratitude to the Churches which have already resolved to devote 3% of their budget to the developing nations.

However, the year 1968 will be remembered throughout the world especially as the year in which authority has been called in question: the unrest of the students of East and West, North and South; the protest of many young people dissatisfied with the consumer society in which they live and who are searching for a society where life has real meaning. Many totally reject current society. They likewise reject the Church with her obsolete structures. We understand this attitude, and yet we are convinced that criticism in itself is insufficient. Fortunately many young people can involve themselves in the struggle for a better society, but there are too many who are merely content to register a protest and who think that anarchy is a solution. As Christians we can only stress that a living faith in God, the Father of our Lord Jesus Christ, is the one foundation of any better society. Apart from that one falls quickly into a vague humanitarianism, incapable of resolving the great issues which confront men today. All this represents a problem of tremendous perplexity. It is our prayer that the Reformed Churches, seeking in each generation to be reformed by the Word of God, can faithfully fulfil their mission.

Now some flashes from the life of the WARC. In the course of 1968 four new Churches were received as members of our organization: The Christian Church of Sumba (Indonesia), The Presbyterian Church of Guyana, the Evangelical Church in Morocco, and The Evangelical Church of Madagascar, which last is now part of the Church of Jesus Christ in Madagascar (United Church).

The Departments of the Alliance have continued to function normally. That I have not spoken of their work in detail does not at all imply that their activities have been curtailed.

With regard to the Areas, it is sufficient to report that the North American Area Council was held at Atlantic City, 9-11 January, 1968, while the Administrative Committee of the Area met for the first time outside Canada or the USA at Kingston, in Jamaica, 7 September, 1968. A little later, 22-24 September, the European Administrative Committee met at Copenhagen, Denmark.

On the subject of finance, we should note, as is already indicated in a letter sent to our member Churches, 20 September, 1968, that the financial situation of the Alliance is difficult. The accounts for 1968 are not yet closed, but a large deficit is foreseen, as will also be the case for 1969. The WARC operates extremely economically and personnel has not been increased for more than 10 years. Our budget for 1969, providing only for Fr. 352,079 expenses, plus Fr. 55,000 for the 1970 Council ($1 = Sw. Fr. 4, 28), if compared with that of other confessional organizations, is exceedingly modest. We are certain that the Churches which are able to do so will respond to the appeal addressed to them by the Executive Committee and that they will increase their contributions in 1969. We express our gratitude to them in advance.

I should not like to conclude this report without expressing my gratitude to the President of the WARC, Professor Wilhelm Niesel, who does not spare himself when it is a question of rendering a service for the Alliance. Not only does he come several times a year to Geneva and in addition maintains a continuous correspondence with the General Secretariat, but in November and December he undertook a journey of almost 4 weeks to Japan and Korea. We know that the lectures he has given in these two countries and the contacts he has had with the Church leaders have been very much appreciated.

I should also like to voice our deep gratitude to President James I. McCord, who, in addition to his work as North American Secretary and Chairman of the Department of Theology, has willingly accepted the invitation to be General Chairman, responsible for organizing the next General Council.

We further express our gratitude to the Chairmen of the other Departments: Miss Wilhelmina Timmermans, Mr. William P. Thompson, and Mr. H. M. Jackson, as well as to the Chairman of the Permanent Committee on Information, the Reverend Jacques Marchand. We would like to express a special word of appreciation for our General Treasurer, Mr. Georges Lombard, and to the Treasurer of the North American Area, the Reverend Dr. Glenn W. Moore. To those already mentioned we must add the chairmen and members of the committees and commissions of the Alliance and of the Areas, specially the members of the Executive Committee.

The final word of thanks is for my colleagues of the General Secretariat in Geneva, Miss Paulette Piguet, the Reverend Richmond Smith, and the Reverend Fred Kaan. We work together in close collaboration as a team in the service of the Alliance, supported by the ever faithful translator-secretaries.

The year 1969 is now before us — a world filled with great tensions. We know not what the new year will bring. It is my prayer that our Churches may be faithful and work with Churches of other traditions towards the triumphant reign of peace of our Lord Jesus Christ alone who can finally secure the solution of our problems.

Respectfully submitted,
MARCEL PRADERVAND, General Secretary

P.S.: This report was already written when we learned of the death of Karl Barth. We can only reiterate what we expressed in the telegram sent to the family: We give thanks to God for his life and witness. Through his theological work Karl Barth has fortified the whole Christian Church in the entire world.

Appendix B

REPORT OF THE WORLD COUNCIL OF CHURCHES NEW YORK OFFICE

Year of Involvement in Human Suffering (1968 Year-end Summary)

The major development of 1968 was the deepening involvement of the churches at places of human suffering.

This was most evident at the Fourth Assembly of the World Council of Churches held at Uppsala, Sweden, in July. Never has there been a world meeting of the religious "establishment" in which the sufferings of the disestablished were so deeply felt.

At the present time the sharp growth of Christian unity is in the unity the churches discover as together they seek to serve in the alleviation of human suffering and loss.

The signs of the intensification of the churches' attempt to make the gospel incarnate at the point of human need are many.

One of these was the launching of a major program for mobilizing the churches to deal with the causes of poverty. This "development" program is a joint Roman Catholic—World Council project, and has already received major grants from American and German foundations.

The chief thrust of this program is to seek a way the traditional Christian personal ethic can be brought to bear convincingly upon the vast impersonal problems of world poverty. A further example of the deepening involvement of the churches in the problems of human need came in the Consultation on Christian Unity (COCU). Major impetus to the work of COCU in 1968 came with a report on joint development in urban mission. The inability of the churches working in isolation from each other to deal effectively with the forces that cause suffering in our cities has been made unmistakably clear.

In the creative attempts in urban areas to deal jointly with these problems, groups of local Christians have often moved far ahead of national leadership in actions of Christian unity.

A notable illustration of the deepening churchly attack upon the sources of human suffering was the Second Assembly of the Roman Catholic Episcopate in Colombia which affirmed that the church must have as its immediate goal transformation of the structures of Latin American society "and leading people to a personal, saving encounter with Jesus Christ."

The year has also noted developments marking a growing awareness of the social dimensions of Christian ethics among conservative evangelicals.

The National Association of Evangelicals' 1968 Assembly passed a resolution affirming that the Christian contribution to a world in crisis is "that of a whole Gospel for the whole man to the whole world, by the whole people of God." According to Religious News Service, it called the people of God to task for inadequate response to social issues. "While they are not of the world," the resolution read, "Christians live out their lives in the world and therefore it is in the world that they make their witness."

The year 1968 was marked by an intensive thrust toward unity in many parts of the world. Plans for church unity in Ceylon, India, Pakistan, and other countries have made further steps forward.

The forging of effective unity out of the common commitment to the Christian mission is the way the churches today are discovering again the ancient truth that we find our lives as we lose them for the sake of Christ and his gospel.

Respectfully submitted,
EUGENE L. SMITH, Executive Secretary

REPORT OF THE AMERICAN BIBLE SOCIETY

For 152 years — since its founding — the American Bible Society has served as a vital "arm" or agency of the churches and the Protestant denominations of the United States. Today more than 67 separate denominations, including this year the Roman Catholic Church, are giving leadership and support to the Bible cause through the ABS.

In a day when the world population is rapidly increasing and the proportion of Christians is decreasing, the churches are faced with the greatest challenge of all time! But not only is population on the rise, so also is literacy. With millions of new readers each year it is imperative that God's Word be placed in the hands of these people — all of whom are eager to read something. And who are these "new readers?" They are: (1) the unconcerned, (2) new literates, (3) children, (4) the blind, (5) those with limited reading skills, and (6) those with a new-found faith. Thus, the Society's emphasis for the next four years will be: "God's Word for a New Age — The Book for New Readers."

Translations

One of the principal tasks to which the Society is committed is new or revised translations of God's Word into all languages. The ABS Translations Department reports that its recently published book on Bible translating for popular use is being well received and will have tremendous influence on translation work in various parts of the world.

"Popular language" translations are now in progress in French, Portuguese, Chinese and Thai. Also, because of the popularity of the New Testaments in the Spanish Version Popular and in Today's English Version, crash programs have been set up to complete the translation of the entire Old Testament in both of these languages.

In addition, Translators' Institutes were held during 1967 in the Philippines, New Guinea and Congo. Also, regional translation consultations were held in Bangkok, Thailand, for Asia; Kinshasa, Congo, for Africa; and in Mexico, for Latin America.

Distribution

Donor gifts to the ABS in 1967 made possible the distribution of 70,207,301 Scriptures in the USA and throughout the world, or approximately 66.9 percent of the world total. It is hoped that contributions to the ABS will continue in proportion so that ABS donors to the Bible cause in 1972 will make possible a distribution of 145,173,000 Scriptures.

The Bible Society is working with churches and Bible Societies in 150 countries to fulfill the world-wide Bible Society goal of at least "one Bible in every Christian home; one New Testament for every Christian; and at least a Portion of Scripture for every person who can read."

Ten months' figures for world distribution (1968) show an increase of nearly 13 percent. Distribution rates vary throughout the year, and the expectation now is that final figures for 1968 will surpass any previous year in history. This, of course, is important for there are more people — and more people who can read — than ever before.

World population increased about 69.5 million in 1967. World Scripture distribution of 104 million in the same period provided a Portion of Scripture for one out of every 33 people on the face of the earth. Thus, the rate of increase of Scripture distribution (3.12%) has overtaken the rate of population increase (2.17%). The ABS is called upon by the United Bible Societies to lead the way with greater support for increased distribution throughout the world. It is hoped that the following world goals will be achieved in fulfillment of "The Book for New Readers" emphasis:

	1967	1972
Africa	10,300,000	30,000,000
Asia	21,300,000	42,000,000
Europe	4,900,000	7,000,000
Latin America	23,500,000	48,000,000
North America	44,700,000	90,000,000
	104,700,000	217,000,000

The great fact in world-wide distribution is the ever-increasing cooperation between the churches of all lands and the Bible Societies. Patterns of extensive church-based distribution, developed in Latin America, have now spread to other continents (Australia, Asia, Africa and North America). It appears that growth of this program is limited only to the extent that the Bible Societies can train local leaders and by the amount of funds available to underwrite inexpensive Scriptures for the church-related distribution.

A serious problem facing the Bible Societies at the present time is "partly-closed doors" due to political, economic and military turmoil. It is often necessary to provide a country, which seems to be closing its doors, with an "over-supply" of Scriptures, should the doors be completely closed. This requires emergency action. Budget appropriations projected during more peaceful times prove inadequate. Eastern Europe, West Africa, the Middle East and Southeast Asia were the sensitive areas in 1967. Runaway inflation in Indonesia and various parts of Latin America also disrupted normal budget planning during the year.

United Bible Societies

To reach the goal of providing a copy of Scripture for every person in the world in the language and form he can best read and understand, the ABS coordinates its efforts through the United Bible Societies. The cost of translation, publication and distribution of God's Word throughout the world is implemented through the United Bible Societies' World Service Budget. World resources are pooled to meet world needs and apportioned on the basis of a world strategy. In 1967 the ABS supplied $3,007,958.80, or just under 50 percent of the total World Service Budget of the United Bible Societies.

The United Bible Societies, composed of 35 national Bible Societies, at work in 150 countries and on every continent, greatly assists the world work; it gathers information of developments in Bible Society programs throughout the world; it prepares and disseminates relevant statistical data; it exchanges news and views with other agencies engaged in the Christian world mission; it publishes news releases for world Christian press and radio. It also sponsors training courses throughout the world for persons engaged in Bible translation and revision; it encourages experiments in the publication of new Scripture formats and the use of modern printing techniques; it develops world Scripture distribution campaigns and stimulates programs of systematic volunteer distribution through the local church.

ABS Support

The ABS budget for 1969, for work in this country and overseas, is $8,340,000, an increase of 7.75 percent over the 1968 budget.

Contributions from living donors and legacies in the amount of $7,050,000 from the following sources are required if this new budget, the largest in the Society's history, is to be realized:

SOURCE	NEEDED
(1) Churches	$1,550,000	18.58% of budget
(2) Individual gifts	2,800,000	33.57% " "
(3) Gift investments (Terminated Annuity Agreement)	1,500,000	17.98% " "
(4) Legacies	1,200,000	14.38% " "
	$7,050,000
(5) Investment income	1,290,000	15.49% " "

TOTAL BUDGET FOR 1969	$8,340,000	100.00%

The American Bible Society, one of the General Assembly Agencies of the Presbyterian Church in the U.S., is deeply appreciative for the continued cooperation and support given the Society by the denomination during the past year. It is only through the generous response of churches, such as the Presbyterian Church in the U.S., that Bible-less people around the world be given the opportunity to become aware of God's saving grace. The increasing support which Southern Presbyterians and others give makes possible an ever-expanding program of translation, publication and distribution of God's Word throughout the 150 countries where the Society is now at work.

Direct contributions for the work of the ABS are made by more than 600,000 individuals who express by their letters and gifts an inspiring concern for the provision of Scriptures for mankind. Gifts from individuals are credited to local churches when such requests are made.

When a bequest is made to the Society, the provisions of the will are faithfully observed. Restricted legacies are carefully invested to produce income for use in accordance with the testator's wishes. Unrestricted legacies are spent for current work (note the $1,200,000 in the 1969 budget).

Distribution (USA)

Although much attention is given to providing the Scriptures overseas, the Society also places strong emphasis on distribution within the United States. Not only did the Society provide 43,941,000 Scriptures in this country last year, it also, through its three regional offices (New York, Chicago, and Los Angeles), worked with individuals, churches, denominations, and communions in promoting programs to increase Bible reading and study. In addition to the regular services rendered by the National Distribution Department, the national headquarters office in New York also has several national desks, such as Work for the Blind, Campus Ministry, Advance Programs, Inner-City Saturation, Armed Services Liaison, Spanish-American Work and Women's Activities.

Service to the Blind

During the past year the ABS continued to broaden and deepen its service to the more than 400,000 legally blind people in the United States. In addition, for the approximately one million more who cannot read newsprint, the Society has produced Scriptures in 18-point type. For the ever-growing number who can neither read large type nor Braille, the Bible Society continues to enlarge its Scripture offerings on Talking Bible Records and tapes. During the past year the entire New Testament in Today's English Version ("Good News for Modern Man") was recorded by Mr. Clayton "Bud" Collyer.

Campus Ministry

New Scriptures in a wide variety of formats and with diverse features have given an added thrust to the Campus Ministry program. Two popular editions for campus distribution are "Good News for Modern Man," the popular ABS/TEV New Testament, and "The Inside Story," the J. B. Phillips translation of Luke, John, Acts and Romans, with contemporary photographs.

The United Bible Societies' Greek New Testament is also being widely used in colleges, seminaries and Bible schools. The latest edition is the wide-margin, loose-leaf, hard cover Greek-English TEV New Testament. Diglot editions such as Russian and English are further used in many high school and college language courses.

During 1967-68 the Campus Ministry Department has been active in many youth conferences across the country. In all such meetings the Society has provided Scriptures for an extensive distribution program. The Society is also serving as a research agency on the place of the Bible in public school education.

Inner-City Work

In an effort to meet the special needs of the millions of American families living in the urban sprawl and in the "inner-city," the National Distribution Department has established a portfolio of Urban Ministry. The modus operandi is to supply existing agencies already at work in the inner-city with appropriate Scriptures.

To this end, the Society has produced a special format of the Gospel of John in Today's English Version entitled "Real Power." More than 100,000 copies were distributed in less than two months through church-related agencies, inner-city groups, individuals and special projects operated directly by the Society.

A distribution center was opened in the heart of Newark's ghetto and is being operated by a young man from that community. Plans are now underway to carry out a similar distribution project in 10 additional cities during the coming year. Other special Scripture formats are being planned for this project.

Spanish-American Work

The ABS has long been cognizant of the need for Spanish Scriptures in this country. Now, due to the increasing importance of "Spanish America-USA," the Society is trying to increase its service to the nation's second most populous language group. It has, therefore, instituted a special desk to care for these needs. The Spanish-speaking community of the United States has grown to an estimated 10 to 12 million members, predominantly of Mexican, Puerto Rican and Cuban origin. The newly created department is studying and coordinating the needs of this great sector of our population. Numerous Scripture Portions are being prepared in English-Spanish diglot form to aid Spanish-Americans in both their linguistic and religious orientation to the United States.

Women's Activities

Another area of ABS work that has shown real progress during the past year is the Department of Women's Work. The director and the regional field secretaries, assisted by 141 highly qualified members of the Speakers' Bureau, have been telling the ABS story across the length and breadth of the land. They are not only active in bringing ABS information to their audiences, but their ultimate aim is to leave each group with the challenge and desire to share the Scriptures with others. The habit of always being equipped with a Portion of God's Word has been given much emphasis. Related experiences prove that this preparation for distribution is growing.

One of the most rewarding experiences that women speakers share in their reports to the Society is the warm reception given them in the churches, and the enthusiastic response of the groups to which they speak. Other interested women, enrolled in the Circle of the Concerned, are indicating their "concern" by greatly increasing Scripture distribution and support.

Production and Supply

To make all this distribution possible requires an enormous printing program. In addition to all of the Scriptures produced for overseas use, the enormous success of "Good News for Modern Man," the New Testament in Today's English Version, has greatly increased the work here at home of the Production and Supply Department. Since the first edition was published on September 15, 1966, over 12½ million copies of "Good News" have been produced at home and overseas. This New Testament is now available in paperback, vinyl and hardback covers—listed in the latest ABS Catalog. With greatly-increased printing, the work of shipping from the Wayne (N. J.) Distribution Center is likewise increased.

ABS Scripture production in the United States for 1967 totaled more than 48 million copies:

Bibles	943,761
New Testaments	10,722,868
Portions	11,461,561
Selections	25,027,313
TOTAL	48,155,503

Education and Information

Informing, inspiring and involving people in regard to the Bible cause is an important concern of the Society. The Bible Society Record, published ten times each year, is only one means of accomplishing this goal. Many other means are used such as radio, television, press releases, window exhibits at Bible House, library exhibits, convention exhibits, etc.

Of course, one of the Society's greatest programs annually is Worldwide Bible Reading, (from Thanksgiving until Christmas in the USA), now in its 25th year. The interfaith emphasis on this program, acquired in 1967 through cosponsorship with the Laymen's National Committee, was widened this year. Action was taken by the trustees and the members of the Catholic Biblical Association to cooperate with the ABS in programs fostering Bible reading. This broadened sponsorship is in keeping with the directive of the 1967 Advisory Council calling for cooperation "with other interested groups in coordinating all programs promoting Bible reading for the purpose of achieving greater involvement and impact."

Addressing the Board of Managers and the Officers of the ABS at his first meeting after becoming the 21st President of the Society (July 1967), Mr. Edmund F. Wagner said: "As we look around the world, is there anyone who questions the great call on us to proclaim the Gospel and go forth to all people and make available to them the Word of the living God? This was urgent 50 years ago! It is no less urgent in our day! Let us, then, with renewed spirit and unflinching effort, fulfill the call to make known to all "God's Word for a New Age."

Advisory Council — 1968

Mrs. Bluford B. Hestir, Jr. and Dr. Horace Villee represented the Presbyterian Church in the U.S. at the 50th annual meeting of the Advisory Council of the American Bible Society in New York, November 11-13, 1968. Approximately 214 representatives from 62 denominations, representing more than 126 million members of Protestant, Roman Catholic and Orthodox Churches joined together in discussing ways and means whereby the Society, through the churches, might provide the greatest circulation of God's Word in any era of history.

The Advisory Council again gave enthusiastic endorsement to the special five-year *AFRICA ADVANCE PROGRAM calling for an additional $1,660,000 to meet the urgent Scripture needs throughout Africa.

REPORT OF THE BOARD OF DIRECTORS OF PRESBYTERIAN SURVEY

"It's hard to be lukewarm about the SURVEY." This comment, expressed or unexpected, comes through clearly in the Letters to the Editor column in the monthly issues of PRESBYTERIAN SURVEY.

And it epitomizes 1968 in the life of the Church's magazine. The rapidly-changing events (and "happenings") of the year drew some people closer to the Church — and regretfully seemed to drive some farther away. It was a year of polarization, when the Church's attempt to face up to the world honestly and relevantly cost it some members and perhaps some good will.

The SURVEY lost "members" too. Circulation dropped by more than 6,000 but this did not diminish our determination to report, reflect, and challenge with integrity. In a difficult year, SURVEY attempted to help Presbyterians understand the issues. The magazine used the best available professionalism and sound communications techniques to help interpret for members the actions and decisions of the General Assembly, our highest court. The board and staff reaffirmed their desire to be flexible, but constant in the discharge of their responsibilities.

This is the sixteenth annual report of the Board of Directors of PRESBYTERIAN SURVEY and we believe it reflects a Church and a magazine changing with the times. We published twelve issues with a total of 600 pages plus a number of special inserts for the Synods of Arkansas, Florida, Georgia, and Virginia. The staff attempted to present provocative and stimulating articles, compelling members to think seriously about their faith in this explosive age, enabling them to understand their responsibility as Christians. The staff committed itself to renew or reclaim the loyalty of the disaffected and to initiate interest in those so far not reached, without compromising convictions or diminishing our ministry to the masses whom we are now reaching.

Someone called our issues in 1968 a Deacon's Dozen. Here, then, is our Deacon's Dozen, a synopsis of our efforts, our successes, our failures, in 1968:

1. SURVEY brings "the church" into every home monthly. As the official magazine published by the General Assembly, PRESBYTERIAN SURVEY presents an appealing array of articles reflecting the program and mission of the Church. During 1968, it delivered to the door of Presbyterian families each month a "sermon," worship material, religious news, and information about the witness and service of the Church. In addition to special articles, it printed regular features such as a complete listing of our missionaries around the world to help you in writing or praying for them. Whether members "darkened the door" of their church or not, the SURVEY was delivered to their door and made available to them by their church officers and leaders.
2. SURVEY provides information, inspiration and guidance for the individual as he strives to live as a Christian in all aspects of life. A reminder of "Hope and Comfort for Troubled Man" — an editorial in the December issue holding up Jesus Christ as our only hope. A strong challenge from a college sophomore in the November issue entitled "Be Reconciled." Articles designed to guide you in making Christian decisions in your daily life.

3. SURVEY helps members see the relevancy of the Gospel to everyday problems and to apply faith to life today. Dr. Ben Lacy Rose's Question and Answer column continued to get high readership especially with such items as "Is Viet Nam War Immoral?" in the September issue. Also such pieces as Dr. Albert Winn's "Can You Love Your Enemy?" in the June issue. Or again, a look at love and marriage in "What Do You Expect?" in the May issue. Or the interview with a Presbyterian labor leader in the November issue.
4. SURVEY leads individuals to strengthen their personal commitment to Christ through a deeper understanding of prayer, of the Bible, and of the quality of life the Christian gospel creates. After "How to Have Family Devotions" appeared in July, nearly 6,000 subscribers wrote in for reprints. Another feature well-received was William H. Crane's "Drinking Judgment on Ourselves" in the October issue — a piece on world-wide communion. The publishing of "Service for the Lord's Day" in October and the regular devotional page with prayer-starters was well-received by readers.
5. SURVEY gives members identity as Presbyterian-Christians — stimulates an interest in and an understanding of the particular mission of the Presbyterian Church U.S. "Wanted: Men in Mission" by Vernol Jansen Jr. in the November issue and the General Assembly story in the August issue illustrate this. The page schedule in a spring issue which announces all the summer conferences at Montreat is anticipated by many readers.
6. SURVEY reports on the work that the various church boards, agencies, Church courts and institutions are doing to carry out that mission — interprets and supports our Presbyterian-Christian beliefs, actions and programs. Again, the preview and report of the General Assembly reflect this. The birthday offering articles, this year "Mass Media: the Most Direct Line" and the features and advertisements on world hunger and Christian relief illustrate the way the total program of the Church is undergirded and strengthened by its official magazine.
7. SURVEY clarifies issues which confront churches today in education, stewardship, evangelism, church extension, world missions, and other aspects of church life. "The Complex Job of Educating Churchmen" — an interview with the new executive secretary of the Board of Christian Education — was a step in this direction. Through editorials, features, and advertisements, the causes and efforts of the various boards and agencies were presented and promoted. The "As I See It" page raised the question "Union for Small Town Churches?" in our September issue. The diary of a missionary doctor in the Congo highlighted for stateside readers many of the joys and sorrows of witnessing for Christ in faraway lands.
8. SURVEY stimulates leadership to meet these issues. Through editorials and articles, the SURVEY tried to challenge Presbyterians and point up the need for Christian leadership in facing current day issues. "If churches protect their people from seeing the moral crisis, they do not deserve to survive . . . nor will they." This declaration appeared in an article entitled "Will the Church Survive?" in our June issue. Other regular features challenged leaders to face up to their responsibilities. The article "Growing Up in the 60's" by H. William Peterson in the May issue called for strong leadership in both church and home.
9. SURVEY shows the relationship of the Presbyterian Church U.S. to the total impact of Christian forces in the world — helps lift members' vision beyond the local church. There were several pieces on the Presbyterian Church, U.S.-Reformed Church in America union plan, a piece called "Struggling with Those Other Faiths" in our January issue, and news items and articles on the wider witness of Christians and Christian bodies — through the National Council of Churches and the World Council of Churches. In September, a first-hand report on the World Council's historic assembly in Uppsala, Sweden, celebrating its 20th year.
10. SURVEY undergirds our ministry and the total work and worship of the Church — and at a very low cost. Compared to other denominational magazines, SURVEY operates with a very small budget and staff. The magazine received no more financial support from the General Assembly in 1968 than in 1967 but costs of publishing, as for everything else, went up rapidly. Cost per subscription increased to $2.01 (total cost to produce and distribute 12 issues) and was accounted for by $1.04 from subscription revenue, about 31¢ from advertising revenue, and almost 60¢ from underwriting by 12 Church boards and agencies. The subscription department underwent a major change — from mechanical to electronic equipment. Conversion to a computer rarely saves money but it became a necessity with new postal regulations and renewal requirements, and it will speed up and improve the servicing of subscriptions.
11. SURVEY promotes the total program of the Church. Within the scope of 12 issues, SURVEY tries to reinforce all of the efforts of the Church: year-round stewardship, the Easter Offering, the Joy Gift, the distribution of the Scriptures, new ways of witnessing, even the college directory promotes Christian education for students and parents. Unlike mass circulation magazines, SURVEY spends very little promoting itself or the sale of subscriptions. Nevertheless, the promotional department was active maintaining contact with more than one hundred SURVEY chairmen in synods and presbyteries. Additional meetings were held with these chairmen and a filmstrip with sound was produced for use in church groups. PRESBYTERIAN SURVEY Week brought requests for bulletin inserts, posters, sample copies of the magazine, and all kinds of subscription blanks, envelopes and leaflets.

12. SURVEY offers various plans to make it easy for churches or individuals to subscribe. The board is concerned about the rising costs, proliferation of publications in the Church, and especially the disaffection and unrest which have resulted in some degree of alienation. Although paid circulation totaled 234,073 for the year, subscription lists at year's end were shrinking — more evidence of the reaction to the message of PRESBYTERIAN SURVEY or the program of the Church reflected there. A total of 1,933 churches participated in the Every Family Plan, the Group Plan, or the Church Leaders' Plan during 1968. As new forms or changes occur, the board reaffirms its desire to be completely flexible in discharging its responsibility. It reaffirms its desire to help local congregations, not only in their program of worship and work, but in understanding what being the Church really means. It looks to the new Communications Cabinet as a concrete expression of the desire of the boards and agencies to cooperate in the vital task of communicating the Good News for this age. And it again pledges its total resources of personnel, pages, and professional know-how to assist the General Assembly in facing that task.

With this report, the Board submits to the General Assembly its financial statement for 1968, the minutes of its meetings, and the following recommendations:

REPORT OF THE PERMANENT THEOLOGICAL COMMITTEE

The Permanent Theological Committee held two meetings during the past year: June 21-22 and November 23-24, 1968.

The work of the Committee has been largely that of handling two remits from the 1967 General Assembly. We report as follows:

1. Evolution and the Bible. The 1967 General Assembly called on the Permanent Theological Committee to "study the question of the relationship of evolution to the Bible and to report to the next succeeding General Assembly whether the position stated by the General Assemblies of 1886, 1888, 1889, and 1924 should be revised." The committee reported to the 1968 Assembly its conviction that revision is necessary and stated its intention to have a specific proposal, together with a supporting paper, ready for the 1969 Assembly. The paper has now been completed and will be found hereinafter.
2. The Person and Work of the Holy Spirit. The 1967 General Assembly also handed to the Permanent Theological Committee a Resolution (No. 9—Minutes, page 193) to the effect that "in light of the contemporary interest in the doctrine of the Holy Spirit and the need of the church for more understanding of His work in the midst of God's people" that this Resolution "be referred to the Permanent Theological Committee for a study of the doctrine of the person and work of the Holy Spirit." The Committee reported to the 1968 Assembly progress in the study, and now presents a completed paper to this 1969 General Assembly.

The Permanent Theological Committee submitted a paper to the 1968 General Assembly entitled "Death and Funeral Practices." This paper, after amendment, was approved and commended to the Church for study. The Assembly also requested the Board of Christian Education to prepare a manual on Funeral Practices, including the paper, "Death and Funeral Practices," the manual to be submitted to the Permanent Theological Committee for approval and then distributed to the Church (see 1968 Minutes, p. 80). The Theological Committee has been in conversation on this matter with the Board of Christian Education, and notes with pleasure that the Board intends publication of "Death and Funeral Practices" for general distribution.

The Permanent Theological Committee, which maintains contact with the Department of Theology of the World Reformed Alliance, would like particularly to notify the 1969 General Assembly of a recent paper on Mixed Marriages (Roman Catholic-Protestant) prepared by the Department of Theology and approved by the Alliance for submission to member churches. Text of the statement may be found in the Winter 1968-69 issue of the Alliance Theological Bulletin.

At the last meeting of the Permanent Theological Committee there was discussion concerning various subjects the Committee might study for the benefit of the Church. Among those suggested were: Secularism and Secularity, Religion and Public Education, The Theology of Violence, Theological Matters Involved in the Writing of a New Confession, What Constitutes a Valid Liturgy?, Experimental Worship, and Universalism.

Finally, the Permanent Theological Committee would like to remind the Church at large of the request of the 1967 General Assembly that the presbyteries hold at least one meeting annually for the strengthening of theological dialogue (Minutes, p. 142). It is the conviction of the Committee that such dialogue can add much to the life of the Church.

Respectfully submitted,

J. RODMAN WILIAMS, Chairman

THE PERSON AND WORK OF THE HOLY SPIRIT

(This paper was not adopted, but was referred back to the Permanent Theological Committee for further study. (See page 59.)

Introduction

The following study on the Holy Spirit comes to the General Assembly in response to the Assembly's action on a resolution introduced at the 1967 Assembly (G.A. Min., p. 103) by the Reverend Andrew A. Jumper. Specifically, the 1967 Assembly referred the resolution to the Permanent Theological Committee "for a study of the doctrine of the person and work of the Holy Spirit."

As the remit to the committee is worded, it may be construed as a request for a dissertation of book length. Such a study, if possible for a committee at all, would be of staggering cost in time, effort, and money, and could not be expected to appear in print for a number of years. (Moreover, the committee calls attention to the selected bibliography appended to this report in which several rather thoroughgoing and comprehensive works on the Holy Spirit are listed.) In view of this situation, the committee has decided to offer a paper which does not claim to be comprehensive, but intends to speak directly to the specific situations and events which gave rise to the resolution. Fortunately, Mr. Jumper has provided a clear presentation of the background for his resolution in a printed pamphlet entitled "The Baptism of the Holy Spirit and the Renewal of the Church."

Examination of the background pamphlet and of the text of the resolution indicates that the central issue is the concept of the "baptism of the Holy Spirit" or "infilling" of the Spirit, together with the various "spiritual gifts" or manifestations of the Spirit which may follow that event. It is clear, furthermore, that the event of Spirit baptism is conceived as something which is not merely to be identified with, and may be removed in time from, one's conversion and/or baptism with water. An understanding of the Spirit's work becomes the more urgent when it is recognized that the entire ministry and mission of the church, present and future, is dependent upon his life and power in our midst. It is with special reference to these observations that the following discussion is presented.

I. Concerning the Spirit in the Old Testament

The Old Testament offers no teaching regarding the Holy Spirit as a distinct person of the Godhead alongside the Father and the Son. On the few occasions when the term "holy Spirit" occurs (only Isa. 63:10f. and Ps. 51:11 [H. 13]), it is virtually a synonym for the person and presence of the holy God himself. But "the Spirit of God/Yahweh (the LORD)" is mentioned with great frequency throughout the Old Testament and clearly represents an important aspect of its understanding of God and his actions.

A. "Spirit" in General. The Hebrew word for "spirit," ruach, occurs approximately 375 times in the Old Testament. Although we are concerned here with the word only as it is applied to God, a few remarks regarding its usage in general would be helpful by way of background.

1. The basic force of ruach is physical: wind, breeze, air, breath. The word frequently has this sense in the Old Testament, e.g., Num. 11:31; Jer. 14:6; Gen. 3:8. From this physical force there develops quite naturally the metaphorical one: what is empty, vacuous, without substance, "windy." This meaning is likewise attested in the Old Testament (Isa. 41:29; Jer. 5:13; etc.).

2. Still with the physical sense of "wind, breath," ruach is used of the breath which is in man, which keeps him in life (e.g., Isa. 42:5; Ps. 104:29). It thus can denote the vital principle in man and beast (e.g., Gen. 6:17; 7:15, 22; Ecc. 3:19) and even on occasion, life itself (e.g., Job 12:10; Ps. 31:5 [H. 6], "Into thy hand I commit my ruach"). Note, however, that although men die when their ruach is taken away (Ps. 104:29), ruach is never used in the Old Testament to denote an apparition, a ghost, as "spirit" often is in English.

3. Most often, however, when "spirit" is used of man it denotes a dominant disposition, an impulse, a mood, feeling or temper (as in Gen. 41:8; I Kings 21:5; Num. 5:14; Hos. 4:12; Prv. 25:28; etc.). In this connection the Old Testament often depicts God as acting upon the dispositions of individuals or groups—for good or for ill—in order to accomplish his purpose. Thus he sent "an evil spirit" (i.e., bad blood) between the men of Shechem and Abimelech in order to prepare for the latter's downfall (Jds. 9:23); or he sent "an evil spirit" (a demonic mood, a diabolical disposition) on Saul (I Sam. 16:14-23; 18:10; 19:9); or placed a "lying spirit" in the mouth of the prophets to entice Ahab to his ruin (I Kgs. 22:22f.); or poured out "a spirit of deep sleep" (i.e., of stultification) on his own people (Isa. 29:10). On the other hand, he "put a spirit" (i.e., an anxiety) in the Assyrian king to turn him from Jerusalem (Isa. 37:7 = II Kings 19:7); he "stirred up" the spirit of the Medes against Babylon (Jer. 51:11), and that of Cyrus to decree the restoration of the Jewish community (Ezra 1:1); he likewise "stirred up the spirit" of Zerubbabel, Joshua, and the people to undertake the rebuilding of the temple (Hag. 1:14). We see, thus, that God not only confers his Spirit upon men (below), but moves upon their spirits for the accomplishment of his purpose.

B. The Spirit of God/Yahweh.

1. The word ruach when applied to God may have as wide a range of meanings as does ruach in general. Although some of these are not directly germane to our discussion, we shall briefly mention them.

a) Even when used of God ruach may retain its primary sense and denote the wind, as when God piled up the waters of the Red Sea by the "blast" (ruach) of his nostrils (Exod. 15:8). Frequently, however, "wind" (or "the breath of Yahweh," or "the blast/breath of his nostrils/anger," etc.) is used as a metaphor for God's wrath as he comes to judge (e.g., Isa. 11:15; 40:7; Jer. 4:12f; Hos. 13:15; Job 4:9).

b) Again, God's ruach may denote the "breath" which God infuses in man (cf. Gen. 2:7), giving him life and sustaining him in it (e.g., Job 27:3; Ps. 104:29f). In such passages man's breath is spoken of as "the spirit of God" which is the source of his life, but which is finally withdrawn so that he dies (Job 34:14f; Gen. 6:3). Sometimes, indeed, the "breath" of Yahweh is extended to denote God's creative power in general, and is made synonymous with his "word" whereby he brought all things into being (Ps. 33:6).

c) Most frequently, however, the term "ruach (Spirit) of God/Yahweh" is used to denote a mysterious divine energy, or charisma, which from time to time came upon men and possessed them, enabling them for the performance of certain specific tasks. This usage of the term is, of course, central to our interest here. The Spirit is always depicted as manifesting itself in unusual powers, gifts, and abilities of various kinds. Sometimes this might be exceptional artistic and technical skill, as when Bezalel was filled "with the Spirit of God, with ability, with intelligence, with knowledge, and with all craftsmanship" in order to undertake the preparation of the tabernacle and its furnishings (Exod. 31:3; 35:31). Or it might be an extraordinary understanding and wisdom such as that which enabled Joseph (Gen. 41:38f.) or Daniel (Dan. 5:14) to interpret dreams and other divine revelations. Indeed, wisdom and understanding generally can be spoken of as a gift of the Spirit (Job 32:7f.). But although the gifts of the Spirit were considered exceedingly diverse, and not confined to any single class of people, in the overwhelming majority of its occurrences "the Spirit of God" is associated with the charismatic leaders of Israel's early period, and with prophetic inspiration.

2. The Spirit and Israel's Leaders. Israel's leaders prior to the establishment of the monarchy were said to be men who were filled with the Spirit. This is true of Moses (Num. 11:25) and Joshua (Num. 27:18). In the case of Moses this involved the gift of prophecy, for when "some of the spirit that was upon him" was placed upon the 70 elders, they prophesied. But the Spirit also conveyed the gifts of leadership, for when Moses laid his hand on Joshua to appoint him as his successor, we are told that Joshua "was full of the spirit of wisdom," so that the people obeyed him (Deut. 34:9).

But the possession of the Spirit is associated especially with the Judges. Here the Spirit is conceived as an invading divine power, a charismatic fury, which seized the Judge and inspired him to rally the people and lead them to victory over their foes, and in some cases enabled him to perform feats of superhuman strength. Thus the Spirit of Yahweh "came upon" Othniel (Jds. 3:10) and Jephthah (Jds. 11:29), and "took possession of" Gideon (Jds. 6:34; lit. "clothed itself" with him), enabling each to win mighty victories for Israel. Samson's career began when "the Spirit of Yahweh began to stir him" (Jds. 13:25), and when the Spirit "came mightily upon him" he was able to kill a lion with his bare hands (Jds. 14:6) and perform other feats of valor and prodigious strength (Jds. 14:19; 15:14). Saul also stood in the line of the charismatic Judges, for we read (I Sam. 11:6) that, when danger threatened Israel, "the Spirit of God came mightily upon him" and inspired him to rally the clans to battle. In none of these cases are we to think of the Spirit as a permanent possession of the Judge, but rather as a power from God which came to him in moments of emergency; it was not something that was with him always, still less could he pass it on to a successor, as Moses did to Joshua. In the case of Saul we are specifically told that because of his disobedience the Spirit was taken from him, and an "evil spirit" from God sent in its place (above).

Although David is spoken of as a man of the Spirit (I Sam. 16:13), it is with him that the line of charismatic leaders ends; thereafter king followed king by dynastic succession, and no other ruler in Israel is said to have possessed the Spirit of God (though in Zech. 4:6 it is promised that Zerubbabel will be enabled to complete the temple by God's Spirit). But the ideal of the Spirit-endowed ruler was treasured as a promise for the future. The time will come (Isa. 28:6) when God himself will be "a spirit of justice—and strength" to Israel's rulers. There will come an ideal king, "a shoot from the stump of Jesse," upon whom "the Spirit of Yahweh shall rest" (Isa. 11:1-2); and this Spirit is characterized as "the spirit of wisdom and understanding, the spirit of counsel and might, the spirit of knowledge and the fear of Yahweh" (i.e., the presence of God's Spirit will endow the coming king with all these graces). Likewise, God's Servant, whose task it is to bring God's salvation to the nations, will have God's Spirit upon him (Isa. 42:1; cf. also 61:1).

3. Prophecy and the Spirit. The Spirit also manifested itself in prophetic inspiration. As we have seen, when some of the Spirit that was on Moses was transferred to the 70 elders, they prophesied, as did Eldad and Medad (Num. 11:25, 29). Balaam likewise gave his oracles under the influence of the Spirit (Num. 24:2). When Saul met a band of prophets who were prophesying to the sound of music, the Spirit of God "came mightily upon him," and he too prophesied (I Sam. 10:5f., 10). The ecstatic nature of such experiences is evident from I Sam. 19:23f., where we read that Saul stripped off his clothes and lay naked on the ground all day and all night "prophesying." Elisha was gripped by God's "hand" (RSV "power") while a minstrel played and, in that condition, uttered an oracle (II Kgs. 3:15). Sometimes the Spirit is considered a quasi-physical force which carried the prophet from one place to another, like a great wind blowing the leaves (I Kgs. 18:12; II Kgs. 2:16; Ezek. 3:14; 8:3; 11:1; 43:5). So closely, indeed, were Spirit possession and prophetic utterance connected that it was possible to speak of the prophet as "the man of the spirit" (Hos. 9:7): it was God's Spirit that spoke through the prophet's mouth (II Sam. 23:2; I Kgs. 22:24). Spirit possession was primarily associated with ecstatic prophecy, and (outside Ezekiel) is seldom mentioned in the books of the classical prophets; but even Micah could say, "I am filled with power, with the Spirit of Yahweh, and with justice and might, to declare to Jacob his transgression and to Israel his sin" (Mic. 3:8).

4. The Spirit and all Israel. Although it is occasionally stated that God's Spirit was with Israel in the wilderness days (Isa. 63:11; Neh. 9:20), the Spirit is never depicted as being bestowed on the people as a whole, but only on certain exceptional individuals. But the hope is expressed that the time will come when all Israel will receive the Spirit. Moses expressed the wish that all God's people might be prophets (Num. 11:29); and Joel announced the time when the Spirit would be poured out on all flesh, and all would in fact prophesy (Joel 2:28f. [H. 3:1f.]). But the outpouring of the Spirit will bring not merely the gift of prophecy; it will bring to Israel a new spirit of obedience (Ezk. 36:26f.; cf. 37:14; 39:29), a new loyalty and devotion to God (Isa. 44:3-5), a spirit of "compassion and supplication" (Zech. 12:10). Indeed the gift of the Spirit is the sign and pledge of the fulfillment of his covenant promises (Isa. 59:21) and of the new future that God has prepared for his people (Isa. 32:15).

5. In the Old Testament, then, the Spirit is not distinct from God, but represents God himself in one aspect of his activity toward his creation. God is in his nature "spirit" and not "flesh" (Isa. 31:3). The Spirit of God is indistinguishable from God in his work as creator (Isa. 40:13), and the presence of the Spirit with God's people is equivalent to the presence of God himself (Hag. 2:5). As the Psalmist said, "Cast me not away from thy presence, and take not thy holy Spirit from me" (Ps. 51:11 [H. 13]); and again, "Whither shall I go from thy Spirit? Or whither shall I flee from thy presence?" (Ps. 139:7). To have the gift of the Spirit is to be in the presence of God.

II. Concerning the Spirit in the New Testament

A. "Spirit" in General. The New Testament word for spirit, pneuma, has many of the same general associations as the Old Testament word ruach. Its basic sense is that of a movement of air, a wind, a breath. By reason of its use to designate the breath of a living being, it accrued to itself the meaning of the vital principle of life or animation. It is then used generically to denote a simple essence which is without material substance, and thus may mean a human soul (in this sense often an equivalent of psyche), an angel, or a demon. Sometimes it carries the general idea of a disposition or influence, an affection, emotion, or desire.

B. The Spirit of God. As the term is applied in the New Testament to God, however, it takes on a special meaning. Much of this special meaning is determined by the fact that the writers of the New Testament, as the early Christians generally, were thoroughly schooled in and influenced by the Old Testament Scriptures. It is only natural, therefore, that "the Spirit of the Lord" or "the Spirit of God" (sometimes simply "the Spirit") occupies a special place in New Testament thought. By virtue of the prominence it has in the New Testament, the particular expression "Holy Spirit" was adopted by the post-apostolic church, the concept developed doctrinally and used in creeds through the centuries, and is the term most popularly used today by Christians (as evidenced by our own Confession of Faith, especially Chapter IX).

1. From the New Testament standpoint, the most significant divergence from the Old Testament usage and meaning appears in the fact that the Holy Spirit is now inseparably connected with Jesus Christ. The nature of this connection is stated in various ways. Among the most prominent are the following:

a) The Gospels of Matthew and Luke state that the Spirit was uniquely active in the conception of Jesus (Matt. 1:20; Luke 1:35).

b) The Spirit descended upon Jesus in a special way at the time of his baptism (Mark 1:10 and parallels).

c) After his baptism Jesus was led (driven) by the Spirit into the wilderness to be tempted (Mark 1:12 and parallels).

d) The deeds and words of Jesus are due to the Spirit's presence with him (Luke 4:18), and according to Matthew (12:28) his exorcisms are explicitly by the power of God's Spirit.

e) The Gospel of John, in which the Spirit figures most prominently, presents Jesus as the one who will send the Spirit upon his disciples (1:33; 16:7), and the giving of the Spirit by the risen Lord is reported among the resurrection stories (20:22).

f) The Apostle Paul states outright: "The Lord [i.e., Christ] is the Spirit." (II Cor. 3:17).

g) The first epistle of Peter identifies the Spirit of the Old Testament as "the Spirit of Christ" (1:11).

h) There are numerous New Testament passages in which the "Spirit of Christ" is used as a synonym for, or interchangeably with, the "Spirit of God" or the "Holy Spirit." (For example: Acts 16:6, 7; II Cor. 3:17, 18; Romans 8:9; Galatians 4:6; Philippians 1:19; I Peter 1:11).

2. Moreover, the unique place occupied by the Holy Spirit in the New Testament is further determined by the faith of the disciples that in the events of the life, death, and resurrection of Jesus the new age had dawned. It was noted above that the messianic king for whom Israel looked was to be one on whom the "Spirit of God shall rest" (Isaiah 11:1-2), and the faith that Jesus was the Messiah is the basis for the New Testament's close association of the Spirit with Jesus. Also, when the Spirit is said to have descended upon the followers of Jesus on the Day of Pentecost (Acts 2), it is clear that this event is portrayed as a fulfillment of the eschatological hope of the Jews. Peter's speech (Acts 2:14-36) cites the words of Joel 2 to the effect that the "last days" have now come, and God is now pouring out his Spirit upon his servants, enabling them to prophesy (see especially Acts 2:16-18). These two aspects of the New Testament concept of the Spirit are merely two of the most basic out of a multitude of ideas which point up the fact that the Spirit is to be understood as an eschatological reality. His presence is not only the fulfillment of Old Testament expectations, but, as we shall also mention again below, the guarantee of the completion of God's purpose in the future.

3. Since the Spirit is an eschatological reality, and because the church is to be seen as the eschatological people of God, the New Testament also teaches that there is a special connection between the Holy Spirit and the church. Although possession of the Spirit is sometimes said to characterize individual Christians and to work through them in a sense not common to the whole body (see below), the most common concept of the Holy Spirit in the New Testament is that he is present in and among all believers. It is not so much, therefore, a matter of an individual's special relation to God which is expressed by the concept of the Spirit, but the relation between God and his church ("church" being understood here as the body of believers, not simply the earthly institutions). The Spirit is present in every believer and sanctifies them all (Romans 8:9-11; I Cor. 6:19; I Peter 1:2). He is the bond of unity, the power which makes the wholeness of the body a reality (I Cor. 12:4-11; Eph. 4:1-16). Moreover, the Spirit equips church members with gifts, gifts which may seem on occasion to set apart the possessor of the gifts from other believers; but these gifts of the Spirit are always seen in the New Testament as special talents and abilities provided for the purpose of carrying out the church's mission (as in Acts 2:1ff., and throughout Acts), or for the purpose of edifying the whole body of believers (I Cor. 12:14; Eph. 4:1-16). Never are they to be understood as a ground for boasting or personal glorification. The giver from whom they come is the same Spirit who dwells in all (emphatically in I Cor. 12:4ff.). Nowhere in the New Testament is there a basis for considering these gifts as a mark of special "spirituality" or a greater degree of piety. Although Paul, for example, may speak of the Corinthian Christians as "spiritual men" (pneumatikoi), he makes it clear that their spirituality is not to be understood as an achievement on their part, something of which they may be proud and boastful (see I Cor. 2:14-3:4, and 4:6-7). According to John's Gospel, "It is not by measure that he gives the Spirit" (3:34).

4. The work of the Holy Spirit is also quite variously expressed in the New Testament. The Christian life arises out of the fact that Christians are "born of the Spirit" (John 3:5-8), or from the fact that the Spirit "falls upon" people (as in Acts 10:44, reiterated in 11:15). Paul repeatedly characterizes the whole manner of the believers' life as life "according to the Spirit," or by using a similar phrase (e.g., Romans 8:4, 5, 6, 10, 14, 16; Galatians 5:16, 25; etc.); and for him the life of faith is nothing other than life "in the Spirit" or led "by the Spirit" (e.g., Romans 8:9, 13, 14; 9:1; Galatians 5:16, 18, 25; etc.). According to John, the Spirit testifies to Christ and his words in the hearts of believers (John 14:26; 16:14); or, to put it another way, he testifies to "the truth" (14:17; 15:26; 16:13), but "the truth" is none other than Christ himself (14:6). The active presence of the Spirit bears concrete results in the believers' lives: love, joy, peace, patience, kindness, goodness, faithfulness, gentleness, self-control (Galatians 5:22f.). The Spirit acts as the believers' advocate before God (John 14:16, 26; 15:26; 16:7), interceding for them also in prayer (Romans 8:26f.). He attests that the believers are indeed God's children and heirs of his grace (Romans 8:14-17), and serves as the guarantee of all that God will bestow upon them in the future (Romans 8:23; II Cor. 1:22; 5:5; Eph. 1:14).

5. It is notable that the New Testament seems to lack any idea of "degrees" of spirituality or spirit-possession, a concept which was a prominent feature of Gnosticism (the first great Christian heresy). I Peter 1:2 speaks of those who are "sanctified by the Spirit," but by no means can this phrase be construed as denoting a special group who are more "sanctified" (i.e., "holy") than others by reason of a greater piety or more abundant possession of the Spirit. Rather, the writer is here addressing a large, indefinitely defined group of Christians, all of whom are equally sanctified.

It should be noted, however, that there are some places in the New Testament which stand in tension with the understanding of the Spirit which has just been set forth. "The Seven" who were chosen to serve the early church, as well as Paul's companion Barnabas, are singled out as men who were "full" of the Holy Spirit (see Acts 6:3, 5; 7:55; 11:24), a statement not made of all the Christians. But since Acts as a whole evidences no interest in degrees of Spirit-possession, it is not likely that the writer meant to say that these few were somehow more spiritual than the rest. It is more probable that he viewed these individuals as exhibiting the particular characteristics which fitted them for leadership in the early community, and by faith understood these characteristics as evidence of the Spirit.

Yet there are three instances in the book of Acts in which Christians are apparently viewed as receiving the Holy Spirit at a time later than their coming to faith—namely, the brethren at Pentecost (Acts 2), the Samaritans converted by Philip (Acts 8), and the converts of Apollos at Ephesus (Acts 19). These references seem to suggest, contrary to the ideas above, that it is possible for people to be united to God by faith, or to be believers in Jesus Christ, and yet not have the Spirit at all. But to put the matter in this way would be to do an injustice to the writer of Acts, inasmuch as his purpose in these narratives was to indicate the continuity between the conversion of these Christians and the coming of the Spirit, not the discontinuity. The temporal separation between the two events seems to be a result of the fact that the author is expressing by means of a historical narrative what Paul expresses in theological terms (e.g., Gal. 3:26; 4:6: "In Christ Jesus you are all sons of God, through faith . . . And because you are sons God has sent the Spirit of his Son into our hearts . . ."). Paul expresses as a logical unity what appears in Acts in a chronological sequence. Therefore these references in Acts should be cited with great caution, and always interpreted in the light of the concept of the Spirit to be found in other New Testament literature.

6. It should be noted the term "infilling" of the Holy Spirit does not occur anywhere in the New Testament; the closest Biblical expression—"full of the Holy Spirit"—has already been shown to be of no unique significance, but simply indicates that a person is viewed as endowed with the particular characteristics or gifts needed for his mission. The expression "baptism" in connection with the Spirit is, however, to be found in the New Testament; and since it sometimes bears a special significance in connection with present-day phenomena, it requires brief examination.

Mark 1:8 (see parallels in the other Gospels) reports the words of John the Baptist: "I have baptized you with water; but he will baptize you with the Holy Spirit." Yet Jesus is nowhere represented as "baptizing with the Holy Spirit" during his earthly ministry. The theme is taken up again only in Acts 1:4-5, where the risen Christ makes reference to the same words attributed by the Gospels to the Baptist, and promising his disciples that they would be "baptized with the Holy Spirit" within a few days. (Reference is again made to the same words in Acts 11:15-16.) When in Acts 2 the event actually takes place, however, the writer of Acts does not speak of "baptism" but of their being filled with the Holy Spirit" (Acts 2:4). It is thus clear that "baptism" with the Spirit is not an event to be differentiated from being "filled" with the Spirit, and the phrase seems to bear no special significance.

The only other New Testament reference where baptism by (or "in" or "with") the Spirit is mentioned is I Cor. 12:13: "For by [or "in"] one Spirit we were all baptized into one body. . . ." The Apostle's statement itself shows that he has in mind a common Christian experience—i.e., that of being united with God in the body of Christ—and hence that baptism by the Spirit is here another way of speaking of one's becoming a believer and a member of Christ's Church.

7. Finally, the New Testament does not make its claims of honor for the Holy Spirit on the basis of the Spirit's "supernatural" character. Other spirits, evil in disposition and activity, are not only admitted as existing, but are set in opposition to the Holy Spirit and his purposes (e.g., I Tim. 4:1; Rev. 16:13f.; Eph. 2:2; I John 2:22; 4:1-6; 5:7f.). The Holy Spirit is to be honored and trusted, to be regarded as the Spirit of the God who alone is the object of faith, not simply because he is spirit, but because of his unique identity as the Spirit of God or of Christ. In the same way, Paul teaches that the value of spiritual gifts is not to be judged by how "supernatural" or extraordinary they are. I Cor. 12-14 makes it clear that those gifts are most to be desired which are most efficacious in the edification of others. The unusual quality of a gift does not make it a "higher" gift or its possessor a more spiritually mature Christian; rather, the more excellent gift is the one which excels in loving service. Among the long list of spiritual gifts the Apostle mentions several activities which are in no way extraordinary—viz., teaching, helping, administration (I Cor. 12:28)—but which are none the less important for the mission of the church.

III. Contemporary Experiences of the Spirit

A. There are a number of people in historic Protestant churches—and most recently in the Roman Catholic church—who have had an experience which they call "the baptism of (with, in) the Holy Spirit," or sometimes "the filling of (with) the Holy Spirit." This experience has been so meaningful and vivid to those who have gone through it that they have difficulty putting it into words: "a new relationship, a deeper encounter, a closer walk." Many speak of it primarily as an extraordinary sense of God's reality and presence, and lay claim to a praise and adoration of God hitherto unknown to them. At the same time they often testify to a new bond of community with those who have had the same experience, and a heightened desire and capacity to bear witness to the Gospel. In all aspects of life they claim a deeper love, joy, and peace. Frequently they testify to a multiplicity of "charismata," such as "speaking in tongues," prophecy, healing, and so on. Many claim that "speaking in tongues" was the primary manifestation of their "filling" or "baptism," for it has been either an immediate accompaniment of their experience or has followed some time later. They usually disclaim an interest in the spectacular as such; rather their testimony is to the reality of God, a deeper awareness of his presence, and the wonder that the Holy Spirit has filled their being.

As these people seek to understand what has happened to them, they generally speak of it as an occurrence within their Christian life. Usually they think of themselves as having been believers for a long time; hence, they do not interpret this experience as entrance into faith but as something beyond. Sometimes they speak of salvation and being "filled with the Spirit." They claim that both could (and sometimes do) occur at the same moment, but for most of them there has been a separation in time. Frequently this "baptism with the Spirit" has occurred after the laying on of hands; but this is not true in all cases. For most of these people the testimony is that—with or without the laying on of hands—the experience occurred after extended prayer and seeking. Some speak of this event as a transition within their Christian experience, from the state of Christ's (or the Spirit's) being with them to his being in them. Others say that the transition is rather to be understood as a fuller realization of what was already within them. In any case, these people feel sure that they have entered into a new and exciting life in the Spirit.

B. The events which we have enumerated seem to have evoked two quite different reactions. First, there is much enthusiasm and excitement among those who have had the experience, and keen interest among a number of people who admit to spiritual need themselves. Often a church finds itself with people freshly eager to read the Bible, lead in prayer, teach in the Church School, do evangelistic work—to the amazement of many. In addition, they are usually eager to tell others about this "new relationship," this "deeper encounter," this "closer walk," and to urge them to seek the same. Second, there is often increasing antagonism and opposition on the part of others. This may come not only from nominal Christians, but also from those recognized to be staunch believers, and who take offense at the suggestion or implication that they lack something—namely, the "baptism" or "filling" of the Spirit. They recognize an "in" group of which they are not a part, and may feel looked upon as second class Christians. Antagonism may develop all the more when it is noted that those who are "Spirit-filled" speak in tongues, prophesy, anoint with oil for healing, and so on. Indeed, such matters often become more the center of focus than the more basic question of what the "baptism" with the Holy Spirit is all about.

C. This understanding of "baptism with the Holy Spirit" actually creates a new situation for many churches. Hitherto the assumption has been that the only justifiable distinction was between nominal and true believers. Now a differentiation appears between believers who have moved on into another or deeper experience and those who have not. If this were understood just as a matter of Christian growth or maturation there would probably be neither excitement nor opposition but approval and gratitude. But since it is represented as a movement into "Spirit-filled" existence—with a claim to a new sense of God's reality and power—the church finds itself not knowing how to cope with what is taking place. There may be renewed spiritual vitality—along with problems—but the question remains: How is the church to understand what is happening in its midst?

IV. Concluding Observations

An evaluation of contemporary events involving a baptism by, or filling with, the Spirit must begin, as the structure of this report implies, with the guidance furnished us by the Scriptures. Yet our understanding of the Scriptures depends upon the illumination provided by the Spirit himself.

Our study of the Old and New Testaments, however, has revealed no single consistent doctrine of the Spirit which is now immediately applicable to the contemporary situation; nor has it furnished us with a simple straight line or doctrinal development in this regard. Moreover, we must avoid the temptation to improve on the concept of the Spirit any speculative theory drawn from other sources. Hence, our point of departure in this task can be no other than the New Testament's close identification of the Spirit with Jesus Christ. As Christians we must be guided first of all by God's self-revelation in Christ, testing our understanding by the scripture's testimony to him who is our Lord.

A. As we seek to comprehend and to appraise the pneumatic phenomena of our time, there are several basic principles which we must bear in mind. First, as the Scriptures repeatedly affirm, the Holy Spirit is the Spirit of the holy God, the God of the Bible. All our speech about the Holy Spirit is therefore speech about God. We shall make no attempt to define the concept of "spirit" in general and then move to an understanding of the Holy Spirit based on our ideas about the essential properties or characteristics of "spirit." Rather, our task is to discern the meaning of God's action, in the person of his Spirit, in the lives of his people.

Second, we must recognize, in the light of what has just been stated, that the significance of the Holy Spirit in the lives of believers does not depend upon the fact that he is spirit. In our affirmations concerning the Holy Spirit we are not positing the existence of an order of disembodied essences, which may encompass other "spirits," "ghosts," and "goblins"; we are speaking, rather, of the presense and activity of the holy God himself.

Third, as the New Testament makes it clear, and as Calvin aptly reminds us (Inst., III, i, 4), there is no understanding of the Spirit apart from faith. This means that all our statements about the Holy Spirit are in essence affirmations of faith. They are not "factual" statements in the sense that they purport to give objective data or information which may then be tested for accuracy by scientific means. In speaking of the Holy Spirit we speak from faith to faith.

Finally, since the Holy Spirit is the Spirit of the God whom we know only through Jesus Christ, we are compelled, in regard to the contemporary spiritual phenomena, to "test the spirits to see whether they are of God" by the measure of their confession of Jesus Christ (I John 4:1-3). Nothing that contradicts what we see in Christ can rightly be regarded as the activity of the Spirit; on the other hand, whatever bears witness to Christ and his work of the redemption of mankind exhibits the incontrovertible evidence of the Spirit's presence.

B. With the foregoing principles in mind, and with constant reference to the Biblical teachings which we have set forth, the Permanent Theological Committee offers the following statements for the guidance of the Assembly.

1. The evidence from the Bible and from our observation of the contemporary scene leads us to conclude that there is no essential distinction among the phenomena which are variously termed the "filling" with the Holy Spirit, "baptism" by the Spirit, "reception" of the Spirit, etc. All of these phrases appear to be attempts on the part of believers to give expression to an experience of the Holy Spirit, but there seems to be no particular pattern in which the phrases occur. The differences among them apparently are determined by the socio-psychological contexts in which they arise.

2. Faith, salvation, Christ, and the Holy Spirit cannot be properly understood (individually or all together) if any one or more of them is isolated from the rest. An experience of the Holy Spirit is at the same time an experience of Christ, an experience of the salvation which we have in him, and an act of faith. Hence, we may not assume a perspective which views salvation as an event which is separate, and perhaps removed in time, from the work of the Spirit, nor a view which isolates a baptism by the Spirit from an act of faith or from salvation. The notion that the Spirit may come upon or fill a person some time after his salvation is based on the erroneous idea that salvation is restricted to the experience of a person in a particular moment of his life. Over against that notion we would say that salvation embraces all of one's life, for God is continually at work in us to put to death the "old man" and to bring into being the "new man" who is "conformed to the image of his Son." The Confession of Faith, Ch. IX, makes this point very clearly, though in different words. Any experience of the Spirit's presence which may occur after an earlier act of faith should be understood as an aspect of the continuing redemptive work of the Spirit through whom we are reconciled to God and used as his agents of reconciliation among men.

3. Both the coming of the Spirit himself and the various abilities or charismata which he may bestow upon men are, above all, to be received as the benefits of God's free grace. Neither the Spirit, then, nor his gifts may be considered "possessions" of the believer; he does not own them, nor can he presume that they are or will be at all times (or at any given time) available. Each occasion on which the Spirit's presence is experienced or his gifts made manifest is to be an occasion for new thanksgiving and praise to God. There are, therefore, not two orders of Christians, some merely converted and others "Spirit baptized," some who merely believe and others who are "Spirit filled" believers, no Christians who may be singled out as generally more Spirit-filled or superior to others by reason of the abundance of their spiritual experiences or spiritual gifts. The phrase "infilling of the Spirit" is for this reason questionable on several grounds. It is not a Biblical expression, and the word "infilling" is not good English. More seriously, it seems to imply a quantitative measurement of the Spirit's presence—i.e., that some Christians have more of the Spirit than others. We would affirm, however, that all Christians have the Spirit, and to have the Spirit is to be filled with the Spirit. On the other hand, these conclusions are not to be construed as denying the possibility and actuality of growth in Christ and in obedience to his will.

4. An experience of the Spirit can neither be validated as such, nor evaluated with respect to its theological significance, by any scientific (i.e., psychological, sociological, etc.) means. It is to be acknowledged that such events, just as any other human events, may become the legitimate objects of scientific inquiry without prejudice to the results of such inquiry. But regardless of the scientific conclusions which may be reached, the question of the theological significance of these phenomena will remain, and it may be answered only within the context of the Christian faith. The Corinthians' ability to speak in tongues, for example, may have a perfectly good psychological explanation; but whether the Spirit of Jesus Christ was active in that phenomenon is a question which neither psychology nor any other science can answer.

But this conclusion leads also to the observation that the extraordinary or unusual nature of an experience (and the same would apply to gifts) is no criterion by which to judge its significance for faith. Ecstasy, as a number of theologians have reminded us, is not in itself an unambiguous occurrence.

5. It is impossible to make any general pronouncement concerning the validity of the experiences to which we have been referring. We can only point to Jesus Christ, as he is attested in the Scriptures and as the Spirit himself makes him known to us, as the criterion by which the phenomena in question may be properly assessed. In so far as the experiences which are termed "baptism by the Spirit" (and synonyms) give evidence of the work of Christ in the life of the individual and of the church, they should be acknowledged for what they claim to be. This means above all that Christ should be glorified, his own Spirit made manifest in human lives, and the church edified. Where, however, there is divisiveness, judgment (expressed or implied) on the lives of others, an attitude of pride or boasting, etc., the Spirit of God is not at work.

REPORT OF THE ASSEMBLY'S COMMITTEE ON THE MINISTER AND HIS WORK

I. Committee Meeting and Officers

The Committee met in Atlanta on December 9 and 10, 1968. All members were present except Rev. Messrs. James A. Allison and Robert L. Alexander, and Dr. Edward H. Knight, who had valid excuses and for which they were excused. Mr. R. Graham White, Executive Secretary, also was excused on account of illness.

The officers were re-elected to serve for the year 1969. They are: Rev. Robert G. Hall, Chairman; Dr. Robert C. Malcolm, Vice-Chairman; Mr. Joseph E. Patrick, Member-at-Large, Executive Committee; Mr. Charles M. Harris, Secretary, and Mr. R. Graham White, Treasurer.

II. Re-election of Executive Secretary

The term of Mr. White ends May 31, 1969. The Committee re-elected him to another three-year term, beginning June 1, 1969.

III. Resolution to the 1960 General Assembly (pps. 73 and 90, 1960 G.A. Min.)

This subject continues to command the attention of the Committee. In 1968 there were three cases.

The first was a case upon which report was made to the 1968 Assembly, that had not been concluded December 31, 1967. The minister involved accepted a call elsewhere in 1968. The church he served is under the oversight of the respective Presbytery because of its activities.

The second case was reported to the Committee early in 1968. Later during the year the Committee was reliably informed by the Presbytery Commission on the Minister and His Work chairman, who is a personal friend of the particular minister's, that it had never been a matter touching this resolution. It involved something entirely different.

The third case was reported in December 1968. The Presbytery's Commission on the Minister and His Work, and this Committee are at work on it and an early solution is being sought.

IV. This Committee's Self Study

Partial report on this study was made to the 1968 General Assembly (pps. 237-241, G.A.Min.). The study was continued in 1968, by taking a closer look at the internal procedures of its office, and the responsibilities discharged by the various staff members. In continuing the study, the Committee is cognizant of its enlarged responsibilities and increased activities that will be effected. In addition to being concerned with its own internal procedures, the Committee is alert to ways and means whereby its effectiveness to Synod Committees and Presbytery Commissions on the Minister and His Work; to General Assembly, Synod and Presbytery boards and agencies; to pulpit nominating committees of churches, and to the entire Church may be implemented, in accordance with the desires of the General Assembly.

V. Manual of Recommended Procedure for Examination and Transfer of Ministers from One Presbytery to Another Within the Presbyterian Church, U.S.

(Recommendation 12, p. 110, 1968 G.A. Min.)

This study, and preparation of the proposed Manual continues. The Committee looks forward to submission of a complete report to the 1970 General Assembly.

VI. Overtures 43 and 44 to 1968 General Assembly

(pps. 36 and 37, and, Recommendation V.B., p. 111, 1968 G.A. Min.)

The 1968 Assembly referred the above to this Committee. Studies thereon are being conducted. Reports on these overtures are planned to the 1970 Assembly.

VII. Ministerial Relationship Vacancies, December 31, 1968.

Vacancies for which ministers were being sought at the end of 1968 were:

A—Pastorless Churches and Fields (Membership)		Vacant Pulpits		12/31/68	12/31/67
		Churches	Fields	Total	Total
1.	1— 99	82	26	108	132

The Executive Secretary as of December 31, 1968, had knowledge of 408 ordained ministers in the Presbyterian Church, US, available for calls elsewhere. This knowledge has come through correspondence and in conferences with ministers, and from Presbytery Commissions on the Minister and His Work. Obviously some of these were included in the number this Committee stated in its Report to the 1968 Assembly. There are many factors that contribute to ministers' availability. Some of these are:

- a) Lengthy tenure in present churches served.
- b) Failure of church officers to support their pastors.
- c) Insufficient financial support.
- d) Lack of full-time work loads.
- e) Sub-standard public school or other cultural facilities.
- f) Poor housing.
- g) Disruptive controversies in local churches.
- h) Desire to be nearer aged and infirm parents.
- i) Health reasons.
- j) Desire to be close to seminaries, colleges or universities for graduate studies.
- k) Wish to engage in different type ministries.
- i) Greater challenges for larger expression of abilities.

Obviously, there are pastors of local churches within the Presbyterian Church, U.S., carrying loads that are too great. A church that permits or encourages this is guilty of poor stewardship. As we see the situation there are two alternatives. The first is colonization. The second is for the session of any church with 750 or more members to survey the multiplicity of preaching, pastoral and administrative responsibilities carried by its pastor. The survey should include the advisability of calling either an associate or an assistant pastor to share the senior pastor's work load. In fact, there doubtless are smaller church sessions that should make similar surveys. Unless a church takes such steps it may be contributing, however unconsciously, to a break in the pastor's health.

VIII. Minister's Remunerations

The salaries of ministers, and so-called "fringe benefits" are matters in which the Church should concern itself continually. In order to bring this to the Church's attention this Committee has made several reports and recommendations have been submitted to the General Assembly. Recommendations have been approved:

- a) That presbyteries create permanent committees composed of competent persons to study remunerations of churches to their pastors, that such committees include among their membership competent ruling elders.
- b) That in the case of border-line self-supporting churches they endeavor to bring the remunerations of their pastors up to the minima set by their presbyteries Home Mission Committees for pastors of churches receiving financial help from such Committees.
- c) That in setting remunerations for their pastors, churches consider increases in costs of living, and the added years of service their pastors bring to their work.
- d) That churches be aware of their responsibilities to provide adequate remuneration to their pastors, who are dependent upon them for support.
- e) That each session, annually, make it a rule to review with the pastor of its church, the remuneration paid to him, including salary and allowances.
- f) That Commissions on the Minister and His Work call the above recommendation to the attention of church officers within the bounds of their presbyteries.

Perhaps a problem in this whole matter is an unclear understanding of what is included in remuneration. At the outset, the 7½% dues of the church to the Ministers' Annuity Fund are not part of the remuneration. This cost is legitimate current expense as heat, lights, building repairs, etc. Payments of these 7½% dues never accrue to the benefit of the individual minister.

Remuneration is made up of two divisions: First, the items specifically required by Presbytery. Second, the items wherein the local church may express itself, subject to Presbytery's approval.

(1) Specific mandatory requirements of presbyteries for churches in their calls to pastors shall include the following items, depending upon the action of the individual presbytery:

- a) Payment by the church of the minister's 2½% dues to the Ministers' Annuity Fund.
 - b) Participation in the group insurance plan administered by the Board of Annuities and Relief by the church, on behalf of its pastor, or the pastor and his family.
 - c) Provision of a manse, or housing allowance in lieu thereof.
 - d) Designated cash allowances to pastors for automobile, books, continuing education, utilities, and expenses incurred attending meetings, etc.
 - e) Reimbursement to the minister for his Social Security Taxes.
 - f) Moving expenses.
 - g) A minimum amount to be paid the pastor as cash salary.
- The above, according as required by Presbytery, are basic. Churches within the presbytery must meet these basic requirements without question.

(2) The church may express itself by designation of the following items, subject to Presbytery's approval:

- a) Annual cash salary, above any required minimum amount.
- b) Cash allowances for automobile, books, continuing education, utilities, etc., when Presbytery does not make such definite designation.

It is true that a church may elect to provide a housing allowance, or any of the above items when not required to do so by Presbytery. These are ways by which churches express appreciation to their pastors in tangible forms.

In spite of all the efforts over the years, it appears that there are churches which may be failing to approach the whole matter of remuneration realistically. Lest we appear too harsh in this statement it must be added that there are variations in local economics that have a bearing upon what a church is able to do. However, we call attention to "remunerations" (salary plus allowances for automobile, books, and utilities) offered by some of the churches, and fields seeking pastors, in Section VII of this Report, above.

Membership	Churches	Fields
	Range of Remuneration	Range of Remuneration
1—99	$4,800—8,200	$5,070—6,800
100—199	5,000—9,100	5,250—8,000
200—299	5,600—10,000	5,000—8,100
300—399	6,100—11,500
400—499	7,000—10,600
500—599	8,000—10,500
600—699	9,400—12,700

It is possible that the attitude of a church, regardless of its membership, to its ministry may be reflected in the financial support made to its pastor. A church may be small in number but have a great and generous spirit toward its pastor. Witness one church in the 1-99 membership, first category of the above table; also the disparities between remuneration offered by churches 1-299, compared with fields in the same category. What question does this raise about recognition for service to more than one church? This may well be a significant factor in the appeal to ministers of calls to fields rather than individual churches. It is known that the number of ministers available for calls involving fields has steadily decreased.

The General Assembly consistently has avoided setting either minima or maxima remunerations. It rightly has been of the opinion that the individual presbyteries are in better position to know the local conditions of communities within their bounds, and thereby more able to know what financial support their ministers should receive.

The local economic condition is only one of the questions that confronts the local church, the presbytery, and the minister. In a recent study the Rev. John C. Harris, Director of Pre- and Post-Ordination Training, Dioceses of Maryland and Washington, D.C., titled "CLERGY AND THEIR WORK," calls this to our attention rather pointedly:

"By tradition, in American life, the minister has been regarded as a man of truth, though not the only one in the community. He has functioned as a voice of conscience within the congregation, opening up those issues of justice and human need which Christian men must understand and involve themselves with. At the same time, in Protestantism particularly, the minister has also been held by his denomination as responsible for the fiscal health of his church. The fact that his salary is paid by his congregation, a voluntary group, makes the responsibility painfully clear. He must on the one hand, "tell it like it is" to the people to whom he is pastor and teacher, and on the other hand, he must develop the church's appeal for new members and refrain from alienating the financial and personal resources of the congregation. His effectiveness is tied to dealing openly with troubling, often controversial issues of race, morality, family life, community decisions, injustice, human intimacy and alienation. Yet he must do this without jeopardizing the parish income and his own salary.

'A number of diocesan clergy seminars carried on in the past three years reveal that many clergy feel this tension acutely and believe it interferes with their ministry. . . . Some clergy live with the tension by "not rocking the boat," and not offending key laity, refraining from speaking or involving themselves too openly in upsetting issues and problems. Others make strong efforts to combat their fear, find the toll of hard conflict and membership loss too great, and retreat. In both groups, men raise questions about the value of their work, feel pessimistic about the future of parish life, and carry a continuing sense of not being free men. One is tempted to conclude that men cannot be effective ministers under conditions of such vulnerability.

'Perhaps the major fact here is the clergyman's perception that the church rewards loyalty to institutional values of money and numbers and gives only lip service to prophetic and ethical values. . . . Our ability to develop parish ministries that are relatively free from fear in this respect is an absolute necessity. It requires that we focus our attention on this fundamental question of values, and arrive at a realistic picture of the price to be paid for placating pastoral and prophetic concerns about survival concerns, and the price of failing to." (Used by permission.)

Contrary to the statement on "Freedom of the Pulpit" by the 1958 General Assembly, the question still can be asked in many churches: "How free is your pulpit?"

Lest we unconsciously paint a picture that is all too dark, there are presbyteries whose committees in 1968 either made studies, whose corrective recommendations were adopted, or such are in process. These include Winston-Salem, Brazos, Northeast Texas and South Texas. Doubtless there were others from which reports have not been received.

The Assembly will be interested to know that the Ministers' Life and Casualty Union, Minneapolis, recently made a financial grant to the Ministry Studies Board for a study of ministers' salaries. This Assembly's Committee, on behalf of the Presbyterian Church, U.S., agreed to participate in the study, which will be begun early in 1969. We look forward to the reports of the study, which when completed will be distributed, through Presbytery Commissions, later in 1969.

A matter of such importance, that affects every phase of a minister's life, should not be dismissed lightly. Therefore, as a means of encouraging presbyteries a recommendation is offered to the Assembly, at the appropriate place in this Report.

REPORT OF TRAV

Television, Radio and Audio-Visuals

Presbyterian Church, U. S.

TRAV, the television, radio and audio-visual agency of the denomination, respectfully presents this Eleventh Annual Report to the 109th General Assembly. With the report are submitted TRAV's volume of Minutes and its financial statement for 1968.

Introduction

In 1968, TRAV celebrated its tenth birthday. It ended an exciting decade for TRAV. It has brought to TRAV a time for taking stock, for looking at what has been accomplished. A time for recognizing that many of the hopes of ten years ago have not been realized.

When the General Assembly created TRAV in 1958, it was in an effort to enable the Church to keep up with the rapid advances the world was making in the use of electronic communication. It was in recognition of the fact that if the Church is to witness effectively, it must make effective use of modern means for reaching people. So the Assembly in that year handed TRAV a tremendous, challenging assignment, and it asked the General Council to provide necessary financial support.

Now, looking back at ten years, two things stand out. The first is that the Church has not provided the financial resources needed to achieve the goals the Assembly set for TRAV in 1958. The second is that while the Church has moved only slowly ahead with its use of electronic communication, the world as a whole has lived through history's most astounding explosion in communication technology.

The Explosion

The years of TRAV's work are almost exactly the years of mankind's exploration of space. Sputnik I left the old world behind just nine months before TRAV came on the scene. As TRAV's tenth year ends, man has visited the moon for Christmas. These events would not have been possible without marvelously precise and flexible communications techniques. They came through technological advances that are almost beyond belief.

There are the communications satellites. The first of these was Telstar, in 1962. But suddenly the sky is full of them — generation after generation of devices with strange looks and inventive names. Relay 2, Echo, Bios 1, Molniya 4, Essa, Cosmos, San Marco 2, Ariel, Oscar 2, Early Bird, Syncom. Plus several series of synchronous Intelsats, floating out there in space 22,300 miles up, so that it at last has become really and truly possible in 1968 for every part of the globe to receive a simultaneous telecast. What this means potentially in a Fellowship committed to going into all the world with the Gospel, is perfectly obvious.

There are also the multiplied millions of radio sets. No country in the world is without its own transmitters. There are nearly 575,000,000 sets. About half of them — 267,000,000 — are in the United States. People are spending as much time as ever in history listening to radio, but less and less of the total radio programming is devoted to Christian material.

Even the telephone, knitting together the wide miles, is enjoying a population explosion. The number of phones in the U.S. has doubled in TRAV's short lifetime, reaching the unbelievable total of 100,000,000 in May, 1967.

But it is in television that electronic communications have made incalculable impact upon the minds, the very souls, of mankind. Statistics can only hint at what is happening. When TRAV was formed in 1958, there were 45,000,000 TV sets in the United States. Today the total is nearly doubled — 85,000,000 — of which about 20% are color sets. The average adult spends five hours per day watching TV. Very little of what he sees has Christian content.

These ten years are the Marshall McLuhan years. The years when CATV — community antenna television — has spread a web of lines into millions of homes with multiple channels for programming. The years of the communications-centered world fairs in Brussels, New York, Montreal and San Antonio, teaching us what imaginative use of audio-visuals can really do. These years saw the creation (in 1967) of the Corporation for Public Broadcasting, and the international combine called Comsat, the Communications Satellite Corporation with its globe-circling necklace of automated "birds" in space. These are the years of laser communication, of holography, of integrated circuits that make possible incredibly tiny, rugged and inexpensive sending and receiving devices. It is also the day of the electronic video recorder — EVR — which is opening a vast new world of inexpensive home, school and church teaching devices.

Above all, these are the years which have compelled us to recognize that communications devices are really changing our lives, are remaking our minds, our cultures, our political and economic patterns.

What all this means to the Church is almost beyond saying. The people to whom we minister are tremendously changed from what they were. Their lives are complicated, hectic, full beyond any previous age. And they have become sophisticated in matters of communication as never before through continual exposure. Their attention span has been shortened by rapid-fire radio spots and shorts, and by all-at-once TV programs. The techniques used by the Church for centuries must now be supplemented by modern techniques. If we are to reach people whose minds have been remolded by mass media, we must not be psychologically captive to the communications methods of past generations.

The Church Responds

Almost everyone in the Presbyterian Church, U.S., professes to recognize that the communications revolution has presented the Church with new problems. But the fact remains that we are so accustomed to doing our witness in old patterns, we have done very, very little to adjust our finances and our priorities to permit use of electronic communications.

I. Finances

The gap between the dream for TRAV, in 1958, and the reality of 1968 is very largely a financial gap. The two-year study by an ad interim committee which led to the creation of TRAV, made it perfectly clear that the Church must increase roughly three times over the amount of support being given electronic ministries if the Church were to begin to do what was needed. The support given broadcasting prior to 1958 was roughly $95,000; another $4 to $5,000 annually was spent to underwrite audio-visual library services. The $100,000 of 1957 would have to be $300,000 if TRAV was to be able to achieve its assigned goals in broadcasting, and in production and distribution of audio-visuals. This the General Assembly accepted, asking that a budget of $300,000 be provided.

For many reasons, most of them perfectly understandable, this amount of money was not provided. The most TRAV has received from the benevolence budget in any one year was $184,000, in 1967. When rising costs of production and distribution of programs, and the soaring station lists resulting from station acceptance of existing TRAV programs, are added to the picture, the situation is even more dismal. Indeed, it would take $400,000 to do in 1968 what was urgently needed in 1958 from a $300,000 budget.

Just a few facts will indicate the dimensions of the problem:

... It costs $2.47 per station per week to maintain The Protestant Hour on the air. In 1958, the program was on 304 stations. By 1968 the total had climbed to a peak of 554 stations. Even if production costs had remained level, which they did not, 80% growth in TRAV's budget would no more than keep pace with station acceptance.

... It costs just under 10¢ per day per station to maintain Be Still and Know on the air. This program did not exist in 1958, and was begun in 1961 in the belief that the Church would provide necessary funds. Today it is carried on an average of 1450 stations daily — at a cost of roughly $145.00 a day. Only by severe limitations on new program material production has TRAV avoided having to cancel this program for financial reasons. This despite the fact that this daily devotional is the most spectacularly successful religious program in the world today, and reaches tens of millions of people.

. . . For seven years TRAV maintained another new program, Sunday School of the Air, on radio. It cost approximately $15,000 annually. At the end of 1967, rising costs and insufficient station response and financial support combined to force cancellation of the program.

. . . The average network TV commercial costs $20,000 to produce the 60 seconds of film or video tape. Buying time for its broadcast on network may cost as much as $38,000 during the Huntley-Brinkley newscast, and still more during bowl games or other big-audience situations. Many commercials cost well over $100,000 to produce. Production costs for regular television programs run still higher. Bonanza's weekly production cost is just slightly less than a quarter of a million dollars. It is safe to say that for most of the prime-time TV shows, you are seeing at least $3,000 of production costs tick by each viewing minute. After ten years of struggle, TRAV's television budget in 1968 reached the all-time high of $32,000.

II. Television

When TRAV was organized, the Church was already squeezing out a few dollars to do TV production. In 1957 the total crept past $15,000, with the production of a few Hymnscriptions and the final units of "Layman's Witness." Immediately after TRAV was organized, it began production of the first of its highly successful and continuing series of spot programs.

Spots—"commercial for God," as one perceptive young lady calls them—are ideally suited to TRAV's situation for several reasons. One is that the stations willingly give good time to the use of religious spots if the quality is good enough. Another is that spots can be produced without a large and expensive supporting technical and production organization. And of utmost importance, spots can be produced at costs that TRAV can afford. Through the diversified talents of TRAV TV Director, the Rev. D. Kirk Hammond, TRAV is able to produce a one-minute spot in color and with high quality, for about $500. Distribution of that spot, for use in free time on stations, costs an average of $4.50 per station.

Spots which have been produced in the ten years of TRAV's history, include a 30-unit set of "Living Prayers," 10 units of "Today's Thought for Living," 5 units in the "Living Hymns," 60 units of "Take Two," 11 units of "Living Faith," with five more under production. The "hot rod" series which has been so enthusiastically received by TV stations, is a part of the "Living Faith" series.

These spots have been widely accepted and widely used. Many stations have run them in prime time slots. Whenever TRAV Board and staff get discouraged about our failure to do what we should in TV, we can take comfort in the fact that through spot programs the Church is doing something, and doing it well.

Quite a number of other programs have been produced during this decade. These include some excellent teaching programs and a few "specials". The teaching programs include Dr. Louis Evans' six-part series of "Is Your Faith Real?" Produced on video-tape initially, it was later made available in kine also. A seventeen unit series called "Biblical Perspectives" was produced by WUNC, Chapel Hill, North Carolina, featuring Dr. Bernard Boyd. TRAV "bought into" the production costs and has had distribution of this excellent series. All the teaching programs are 30 minutes in length. Each of these series has been used by more than 20 stations, greatly extending the teaching ministries of the two men.

Thirty-minute "specials" have been highly successful, and have cost more than any other programs TRAV has produced. These include one done in cooperation with the United Presbyterians, "Ten Questions," and two done in black and white video-tape for Easter and Christmas. "What Is Christmas?" and "What Is Easter?" each featured the Westminster Youth Choir of Dallas, Texas. They have had wide and continuing use, being carried by 15 to 21 stations each year since production. The latest "special" was done in color video-tape, and is called "Come, Blow Your Horn." It has had prime-time use on every station which has carried it, and is in constant use, on some 52 stations in 1968.

This last program illustrates the TRAV dilemma. We know how to produce good religious program material which will be effective in reaching tens of thousands of people. But the cost of that one program was $7,000 for production, plus some talent costs, plus tape duplication, plus tape, plus promotion, plus distribution. To put that one program into the hands of waiting stations takes all that TRAV can commit to TV beyond the continuing obligations for the TV department. Through the decade of TRAV's history, it has been almost a rule of thumb that we could afford to produce such a program only every other year, using the second year's budget to pay for distribution and to pay for initial costs of production of the next special for the following year.

III. Radio

The newly organized TRAV inherited from the old Division of Radio and Television of the Board of Church Extension a vigorous radio ministry, already firmly established. TRAV's job since has been to expand that ministry, and build upon it. This it has successfully done.

As indicated above, The Protestant Hour was already in use by about 300 stations (285 in 1957, 304 at the close of 1958). To this total was added another 20 to 30 stations which used special festival material and re-runs of a dramatic series. All this added up to approximately 1650 hours of actual broadcasting during 1958.

With the addition of the tremendously successful Be Still and Know, the use of many special and re-run programs, and the expanded list of stations using The Protestant Hour, the on-the-air hours for Presbyterian, U.S., programs in 1968 rose to 26,320 hours. A total of 2135 out of 5909 stations in the U.S. used our programs. This total of hours, considerably better than a ten-fold increase in the ten years, indicates both the success of TRAV in producing quality programs, and the readiness of radio stations to use good religious programs when available. It also points in a very important direction: had TRAV had the resources to produce still more material, there is almost no limit to the number of hours of time which could have been obtained for Christian proclamation.

All this time on the air cost Presbyterians only production money. We paid for not one minute of time on the air. Some measure of the gratitude Presbyterians owe the stations which gave this time can be seen in the fact that had we paid the going commercial rate for the time we used, the cost would have been, conservatively, $5,000,000. Year after year the actual cost to Presbyterians for this expanding radio ministry has hovered around $60- to $65,000. It's hard to imagine a greater bargain in evangelistic outreach and impact!

IV. Audio-Visuals

In audio-visuals, TRAV is the inheritor of a decade of effort by the Board of Christian Education's Department of Audio-Visual Aids. This department, organized in 1948, established and operated a film library in Richmond. It was underwritten by the Board of Christian Education. The underwriting varied with the deficit of the library, usually running between $4- and $5,000.

TRAV was three years old when it began to assume its assigned responsibility for AVs. In 1962, TRAV got to work on this assignment, taking the load from the Richmond Board. It was an important step, rounding out TRAV's unique dual ministries of "in-church" services through AVs and "out-reach" services through broadcasting. In assuming responsibility for AVs, TRAV accepted the fact that to expand audio-visual production and distribution as the Church indicated was needed, heavier expenditures were essential. Therefore, TRAV decided to increase underwriting from benevolence funds from the level then current of about $5,000 annually to $20,000. Since 1962 this underwriting has moved up to approximately $30,000.

Such "underwriting" is necessary because of the fact that a religious film library is almost never self-supporting, and because production know-how must be provided from staff salaries. But TRAV knew that rental of films through its religious film libraries and sale of equipment to churches and individuals would provide income for AV work. In 1962 this "earned" income amounted to about $40,000; by 1967 the earned income was $81,000. This total, added to the benevolence underwriting, has provided the Church with approximately $110,000 for its AV work.

For this sort of money, TRAV is providing the Church with the services of the largest and finest AV library or religious material in the south or southeast. It is producing all the audio-visuals for the Covenant Life Curriculum, most of the audio-visuals for the boards and agencies of the Church, and many audio-visuals for synod and presbytery institutions. The annual list of filmstrips, movies, records, filmclips, posters, kits and related AVs which TRAV has produced is impressive — 15 to 40 separate productions each year.

TRAV sees its responsibility to the churches as including the encouragement of the individual congregations in wise and skillful use of AVs in the best possible modern AV program. We believe that churches with good equipment will be more likely to make such good use of AVs. Therefore, TRAV has followed the policy of encouraging churches to get good equipment by offering the largest possible discounts in selling equipment to congregations. It has practiced what amounts to a non-profit policy for six years. Now the General Council's Budget and Stewardship Committee, looking at TRAV's serious needs, is asking that TRAV Board reexamine this policy, and seriously consider at least reducing the discounts offered. This policy, while it has lasted, has had the effect of placing approximately $250,000 worth of good new equipment in our churches. Probably that much again has been spent for other equipment purchased by churches through other sources as a result of TRAV advice and encouragement.

V. Training

The fourth major area of TRAV's assignment in 1958 was for training the leaders of the Presbyterian Church, U.S., in wise and vigorous use of broadcasting and audio-visuals. This area, as with TV, has been slow to expand. Year after year TRAV has put between $2500 and $4000 into scholarships, workshops, seminars, study groups and special awards for seminary students making good use of the media. But this has not been enough to mount or sustain a systematic program of training.

Now, however, we can celebrate our tenth birthday with a magnificent birthday present — the Birthday Offering of the Women of the Church for 1968. By late 1968 the amount given to this offering has passed $255,000, of which more than $230,000 will be available for taking hold of this tremendous assignment. The purpose of the Birthday Offering and the philosophy which will guide its use is explored in more detail below.

VI. Summing Up

Although the Church has been unable to finance TRAV in the way the Assembly conceived necessary ten years ago, the funds expended through TRAV during the decade have amounted to a considerable sum. The benevolence funds provided during the last ten years total $1,544,406. The income from sale and rental since 1961 total $443,000. The grand total is close to $2,000,000.

For this money the Church has had the services of the best AV library in its area of the country, plus the more limited services of the older and smaller Richmond library.

It has produced approximately 210 quality filmstrips, movies, records, etc.

It has produced approximately 1400 tape recordings of major addresses, Bible lessons, seminars and panels for private and group study.

It has recorded every word of the General Assemblies for a decade.

It has provided radio news coverage of major events in the life of the Church.

It has produced more than 120 Protestant Hour broadcasts, placed them on a cumulative total of 5056 stations, for a total of 28,500 hours of proclamation in this country. Through the Armed Forces Network, another 1200 stations carried the programs for another 7500 hours of world-wide witness.

It has distributed, in response to requests for Protestant Hour sermons, right at 600,000 copies.

It has produced 2200 separate programs for Be Still and Know, placed these programs on a cumulative total of 9,600 stations, for a total of more than 144,000 hours on the air.

It has produced 416 Sunday School of the Air broadcasts, and placed them on a cumulative total of 1200 stations, for a total of 14,560 hours on the air.

It has produced 28 30-minute television programs, and placed these on a cumulative total of 260 stations. The total hours on the air have amounted to 295.

It has produced 116 spot programs. These are being used on well over 140 different stations. TRAV has no way of knowing the total usage given these spots, but has specific information of wide use by many of these stations.

It has provided skilled crews for audio-visual presentations in summer after summer of conferences, and maintained a summer conference office to serve conferees at Montreat since 1962.

It has pioneered in the religious use of stereo broadcasting.

It has taken an active role in the inter-denominational broadcasting efforts through national networks.

It has served hundreds of churches with a total of 2368 films in the last year alone. TRAV has no way of knowing how many people saw its films, but a reasonable estimate, on the basis of a very conservative 40 persons per showing would be 85,200.

The list of things which TRAV has done with $2,000,000 over ten years could go on for quite a while. But these facts give some idea, both of what has been accomplished, and what could be accomplished had the budgets been at the level anticipated in 1958.

1968 In Review

So much for a look at what has been accomplished in ten years, with a staff that has averaged eight persons.

Now, a quick look at the work of the year that is ending.

I. Radio

The Protestant Hour reached its all-time high with a station list of 554 in this country, plus more than 100 Armed Forces Network stations. The Presbyterian, U.S., Series was a very special one, presenting four ministers. Dr. W. A. Henfield, the Carlton Eaton, and the Rev. Tom Jones each presented three sermons in the series. Dr. A. H. Hollingsworth recorded three sermons, but the decision of the five-denomination Protestant Hour Committee to inject into the middle of The Presbyterian, U.S., series a special six-unit series on the crisis in the nation, forced the cancellation of Dr. Hollingsworth's series. These will be broadcast in 1969. The Moderator, Dr. Marshall C. Dendy, led off the six-unit crisis series with a sermon which had high impact throughout the country. He was followed by the elected leaders of the other Protestant Hour denominations, each speaking as an individual, from his own concern for the spiritual health of this nation.

TRAV's daily devotional program, Be Still and Know, continued to expand its station list, reaching an all-time high of 1950 stations at Easter, and a year-round average of 1450 stations.

The agency's radio work suffered a severe blow in August with the resignation of Mr. Eugene Gordon Smith who was TRAV's Radio Director for five years. He was succeeded, in December, by the Rev. Bill Huie, a recent graduate of Columbia Seminary who has more than a decade of industry experience.

Special programs and re-runs continued to add significantly to the total of TRAV's radio efforts during 1968.

II. Television

This has been a "placement" year for TRAV in television. The preceeding year was a "production" year, in the rotation of TRAV's use of its very limited funds. Placement involved visits to scores of stations, which uniformly accepted for use some of the TRAV spots, the selection varying with the tastes of the station, and 52 booked the color video-tape, Come, Blow Your Horn.

In addition, the Director of Television, the Rev. D. Kirk Hammond, pushed preliminary production on five more spots which will be finished early in 1969. These are all in the "hot rod" series which features a home-made car and the young people who use it for Christian purposes. The first five units in this series have been enthusiastically received, during 1968, by some 85 stations, and these stations have urged the early completion of the second set of five.

III. Audio-Visual

During 1968, Mr. Archie Pipe, Director of AVs, produced 17 new audio-visuals, and pushed toward completion another eight. These served the needs of the Boards of Christian Education, National Ministries, World Missions, and Women's Work. Also the General Council and several synod and presbytery institutions.

Sales and rentals from the TRAV libraries during the year were off slightly from 1967, dropping from $81,400 to $76,000. But the number of individual churches served was larger, and the number of separate orders was far greater. The lower total dollar figure resulted from a smaller average expenditure for new equipment.

IV. Training

The great event, for TRAV, of 1968, was the receipt of the Birthday Offering of the Women of the Church. The total is given earlier in this report.

TRAV has had the responsibility for training in broadcasting and AV utilization all through its history, but it simply has not had the resources to do much about it. Recent years' experience has proven that when leaders of the Church are given some training in the use of the media, and are excited enough by their recognition of the potentials the media offer for Christian witness, they go out and do something about it in local situations. TRAV has been underwriting experimental training efforts for a few men, and has seen tremendous results come from the training.

TRAV asked, therefore, the help of the Women of the Church, in financing a broader training effort which could be expected to pay off in the greater effectiveness of ministers and leaders in their communications efforts, both within congregations, and in broadcasting situations. The Birthday Offering was the response to TRAV's request for help. It will be used to offer special training to ministers and leaders already at work in congregations; to upgrade communications training provided seminarians; to provide study grants for communications professors in seminaries; to provide special grants or internships for seminarians and active pastors; and to offer specialized training in mass media utilization for missionaries and their national co-workers.

The money provided by the Birthday Offering has already gone to work. It has paid for video-tape equipment which went into use in some of our seminaries by year's end. It paid for a consultation of the professors who are involved in communications training. It permitted TRAV to begin experimenting with regional training efforts in Houston, Dallas and Norfolk. And it is paying for a study now under way of communications training courses now available in seminaries, colleges and universities across the nation.

What is beginning, in late 1968, should become a greater and greater force in the life of the Presbyterian Church, U.S., for years to come. Plans for the use of the funds provided by the Women of the Church anticipate heavy continued expenditures until at least 1973. It is hoped that by the time the special training funds run out, the training efforts of the whole denomination will be moving so well and purposefully that the momentum can be maintained for years beyond that date.

Evaluation

From the Summing Up section above, and from the results of efforts in 1968, TRAV Board and staff feel that the Church is, indeed, accomplishing a great deal in its use of electronic mass media. We believe that we have good reason to say that in terms of return for dollars spent, TRAV is giving the Church an extra-ordinary bargain in millions of lives reached with Christian messages.

But it would be futile to ignore the gap, the chasm, between accomplishment and potential. TRAV Board has, therefore, called for a special study within its own Board of the issues which this report raises. It is going to attempt to evaluate the purposes for which TRAV exists, and the results obtained from its efforts.

One thing is certain: the job is here to be done as never before. The opportunity is more staggering, the need greater. But whether a small Church, financially and psychologically oriented to programs developed in an earlier century, can move fast enough or forcefully enough to seize the opportunity is another question. Perhaps it would be better to stop kidding ourselves that we are willing and ready for mass media ministries. Perhaps it would be better to use our few thousand dollars for TV in something entirely different. Or, just perhaps, we may find a way to stir the Church to the potential that is there, and challenge its people to witness with the devices God has given us for communication of His Word in this age.

Those of us who are closest to the work of TRAV are convinced that God has blessed the work done through ten years. We are convinced that whatever the special study may show about the best way of taking hold of the communications task of this generation, the Church will be failing its Lord if it does not do, in the next ten years, a far better job than in the past decade.

REPORT OF THE BOARD OF DIRECTORS OF THE MOUNTAIN RETREAT ASSOCIATION

In a year when momentous issues have been debated by the leaders of the Church, the Board of Directors of Montreat record their gratitude to God for the way He has used this conference center as a "retreat for renewal" by Presbyterian leaders of many points of view.

The Board wishes to record its gratitude to the following who have served as Directors of the Mountain Retreat Association and Trustees of Montreat-Anderson College and are not eligible for reelection: Reverend David A. Huffines, Mr. J. Alfred Miller, Dr. Carl F. Robinson and Mr. R. Stanford Webb.

Organization and Administration

The Board of Directors employed Dr. Homer Figler, an Industrial Psychologist, with Ernst and Ernst, to make a study of the organization and administration of the Mountain Retreat Association and Montreat-Anderson College. His report was presented to the Executive Committee in May 1968 and a committee with Mr. Wm. A. L. Sibley as Chairman, will recommend major changes in the organization of Montreat to the semi-annual meeting of the Boards in February 1969.

Town of Montreat — Water and Sewer

On recommendation of the Board of Directors of the Mountain Retreat Association, the Town Council of Montreat submitted an application to the Housing and Urban Development Department of the Federal Government for a grant and a loan.

Dr. Ivan B. Stafford prepared the application, based on studies and recommendations by B. S. Colburn Company, engineers. The estimated total cost of renovating and expanding the water and sewer systems of Montreat is $603,000.

H.U.D. has made a grant of $221,800 and a loan in the amount of $382,000 for this purpose. It is expected that work will begin on this project in the summer of 1969.

Montreat Manual

In accord with the action of the General Assembly, 1967 Minutes, page 82, the Board of Directors is requesting the 1968 General Assembly to amend the Manual of the Mountain Retreat Association, to add the following paragraph to Article III, Section 56: "The Board of Directors are authorized to plan, promote and sponsor, in consultation with the Boards and Agencies of the General Assembly, such meetings, retreats, seminars on theology and other gatherings as may be in accord with the purposes for which Montreat is owned and operated as a place of retreat and renewal."

Montreat-Anderson College

1. The Capital Improvement Program of Montreat-Anderson College was launched in the spring of 1967 for facilities estimated to cost $2,205,800.

As this report is being prepared the Residence Hall for Women is complete at a cost of $668,518. The Science Building is under construction and will cost $484,680. The proposed Library is estimated to cost $749,000. Of this amount $433,000 has been received in cash and pledges. The proposed Playing Field/Amphitheater is estimated to cost $250,000. Of this amount, $100,000 has been received.

The completion of the Residence Hall provided 144 beds for conference guests. The completion of the Science Building will release two large rooms in Gaither for conferences and the completion of the Library will release five rooms in Gaither for conferences. The proposed Playing Field/Amphitheater will provide a facility which is desperately needed for the Club and Conference Programs in Montreat.

2. In 1967-68 Montreat-Anderson was one of 125 Junior Colleges in the U.S. chosen to be a Developing Institution by the U. S. Board of Higher Education. An appropriation of $25,000 was made to finance a self study and Dr. Walter Sindlinger of Teachers College, Columbia University, was employed as consultant.

In a series of workshops and visits of competent educators to the campus a new Statement of Purpose was worked out and adopted by the Board of Trustees. By extensive institutional research, the faculty and administration sought to determine the characteristics of the students, the competence of the faculty, and the effectiveness of the educational program.

For 1968-69, the U. S. Board selected 63 Junior Colleges in the nation to be recipients of grants to finance a continuing self study as a Developing Institution. Montreat-Anderson was chosen and received $42,000. In this year the faculty is studying the teaching and learning process, experimental and innovative programs and methods designed to improve educational effectiveness.

3. Montreat-Anderson was accredited by the Southern Association of Colleges and Schools in December 1960. The college is now engaged in a self study as required by the Southern Association at the end of each tenth year.

Respectfully submitted,
C. GRIER DAVIS, President

REPORT OF STILLMAN COLLEGE

On behalf of the Board of Trustees, I am pleased to present to the General Assembly a report on the work of the College for 1968 — a year in which Stillman witnessed several milestones in its long and fruitful history.

—Groundwork has been laid for a $2.25 million capital funds campaign approved by the General Assembly in 1968, and we are embarking on what we hope will be a highly successful venture. Priority Number One is a critically needed mathematics-science building and it is hoped that construction can begin in 1969.

—A full time development office, staffed by a director of development, an alumni affairs director and a public relations director, has been established. A new policy was approved by the Board for assigning rank to the faculty.

—A record enrollment of 802 was recorded in September, 1968,—an 11 per cent increase over the 1967 record. And 109 students were awarded degrees during the year.

—A new men's dormitory, housing 150, was occupied in 1968, and another 150-man dormitory is under construction. Library space in the William Henry Sheppard Library was enlarged by removal of a classroom partition, and an open stack system established on the second floor. An eight-unit faculty apartment was completed, and the first floor of John Knox Hall was renovated into office and laboratory space.

—The year also saw my formal inauguration as Stillman president.

—Welcomed to the Board of Trustees were the Rev. Murphey C. Wilds of Tuscaloosa; the Rev. Calvin E. Houston of Atlanta, Ga.; the Rev. John M. Walker Jr. of Roanoke Rapids, N.C.; and Judge Joseph B. Roulhac of Akron, Ohio.

Several studies attempting to evaluate Stillman's curriculum, organization and management, are in various stages of completion. Looking toward reaffirmation of accreditation by the Southern Association of Colleges and Schools, several recommendations of our just completed Self Study already have been implemented, resulting in the streamlining of our academic program. Academic divisions have been reduced from six to four and majors offered have been reduced from 17 to 13.

A long-range planning committee, consisting of five nationally known educators, is expected to make its final report in March, 1969, to the Board of Trustees on Stillman's projected goals and practices for the next five to ten years. And a Ford Foundation grant has provided the services of a management consultant firm to help the college improve management operations in all areas.

Stillman is gearing itself to continue to serve the needs of the present age. The college has extended its emphasis to areas where there is a great demand for graduates, such as management, sales and accounting. And industry has shown its willingness to hire our graduates as soon as they qualify educationally.

But it is clearly accepted that a college such as Stillman, besieged with applications from students whose backgrounds are lacking in basic preparation, must provide developmental and remedial programs to bridge the gap and prepare students for quality educational experience.

Toward this end, a College Education Achievement Project was added in 1968, providing a year of pre-college work for underachieving high school graduates. Because of poor high school records and low entrance examination scores, most of the 99 students enrolled would not have been accepted by colleges. We are gratified with initial results. Through strengthening of basic skills, many enrollees already have been brought into the regular college program.

For the last several years Stillman has operated an Upward Bound program to motivate and develop underachievers while they are still in high school. Both programs will be continued in 1969-70.

Stillman is continuing its consortium arrangement with five other predominantly Negro colleges. Ties with the University of Alabama also have been strengthened with the two schools sharing a joint faculty appointment. A Stillman faculty member is teaching a course in Afro-American history at the University; an interchange in library resources aids students and faculties of both institutions, and another arrangement allows Stillman students to take courses at the University and University students to take courses at Stillman.

Other programs previously reported, such as the Math-Talent Search and the Political Science Seminar are continuing.

Although there remains much to be done, the past year, overall, has been a rewarding one. And as we embark on a development campaign, we are looking forward to an exciting and challenging new year.

The financial report for 1968 follows:

Respectfully submitted,
HAROLD N. STINSON, President

THEOLOGICAL SEMINARIES

REPORT OF AUSTIN PRESBYTERIAN THEOLOGICAL SEMINARY

Austin Seminary continues, under the ownership and control of the Synod of Arkansas-Oklahoma, Louisiana and Texas, Presbyterian Church, U.S., to pursue its primary purpose of training men and women for Christian ministry in its variety of current forms.

The Seminary is governed by a Board of Trustees of twenty-four members, elected by these Synods. Trustee R. P. Gregory of Houston, lost to the Board by death, was replaced by Roy E. Glass of San Angelo. Officers currently serving are: John W. Lancaster, Houston, Chairman; William J. Murray, Jr., Austin, Vice-Chairman; Joe Mr. Brown, Odessa, Secretary, John W. Smiley, Austin, is treasurer of the Seminary.

During the year James Allen Wharton was formally installed as Professor of Old Testament, and Ernest Trice Thompson served as visiting Professor of Church History. Ian F. McIntosh, graduate of Oxford University, Westminster College, Cambridge, and of Princeton Theological Seminary, was elected Assistant Professor of Pastoral Theology. Joe B. Donaho, pastor of Northwest Presbyterian Church, Oklahoma City, Oklahoma, was elected Director of Admissions. The resignation of John B. Spragens, Dean of Students, was accepted with regret.

Fall registration shows forty-seven new students enrolled, including ecumenical students from Switzerland, Germany and Brazil. Library growth continued, with total volumes now numbering 84,450.

A three year intensive study of curriculum under the direction of Prescott H. Williams, Jr., Dean of Faculty, has produced a new program of study. Extensive conferences were held over the controlling Synods, with participation by ministers, laymen, laywomen, alumni and students, addressing themselves to the question "What are the objectives of a B.D. program in the reformed tradition for the preparation of ministers in the contemporary world?" and a corollary question: "What constitutes adequate preparation for ministry today?"

The 1967-68 academic year was designed as an experimental academic year. The academic calendar was changed to establish the January term which was used for elective interdepartmental seminars. Course formats and teaching methods became the foci of experimentation. Throughout the year, monthly faculty work sessions on curriculum produced evaluations of experiments and proposals for curriculum development.

At the conclusion of 1967-68, the faculty adopted the new Bachelor of Divinity program which has now received approval from the Board of Trustees. Balance of core courses with independent study, correlation of classroom and field education and integration of learning through interdisciplinary teaching and seminars are characteristic of the new curriculum. Both student and faculty responses have been enthusiastic.

Midwinter Lectures brought large attendance by ministers and laymen as did the Church in Community Institute. Continuing education continues both on campus and through outlying centers.

The Seminary is participating in the Stewardship of Estates Campaign, authorized by the Synod of Texas, and to be conducted in April of 1969. During the 1967-68 fiscal year the resources of the Seminary increased $408,191.21.

Respectfully submitted,

JOHN W. LANCASTER, Chairman

REPORT OF COLUMBIA THEOLOGICAL SEMINARY

The Directors and Administration of Columbia Theological Seminary, Decatur, Georgia, submit to the General Assembly of the Presbyterian Church, U. S. the following report for the year 1968-69:

Columbia Theological Seminary continues to serve the Church under the ownership and control of the Synods of Alabama, Florida, Georgia, Mississippi and South Carolina of the Presbyterian Church, U. S. Its governing body is a board of 25 Directors who are elected by the Synods. The present officers of the Board are Rev. J. Davison Philips of Decatur, Georgia, Chairman, Mr. Harllee Branch, Jr., of Atlanta, Georgia, Vice-Chairman, and Rev. William A. Adams of Athens, Georgia, Secretary.

We record with deep regret the death on August 19, 1968 of Dr. Paul T. Fuhrmann, who since 1958 had been a member of the Faculty of this institution in the Department of Church History. Dr. Fuhrmann was an humble and dedicated Christian and a brilliant scholar in the Field of Reformed Theology. He was an able and stimulating teacher, greatly beloved by his students, and his contribution to the life of the church through them and through his writings will be of lasting significance. Up to the present time no one has been elected as his successor.

Dr. C. Benton Kline, formerly Professor of Philosophy and Dean of the Faculty at Agnes Scott College has been elected Professor of Systematic Theology at Columbia Theological Seminary and will succeed Dr. Felix B. Gear as the Dean of the Faculty of this Institution upon the latter's retirement next summer. Dr. Kline, who was already doing some teaching at this institution upon a part-time basis, entered upon full time service as a member of the faculty on January 1, 1969.

Dr. Charles B. Cousar, Professor of New Testament, Language and Exegesis is on leave of absence for the year and is studying at the University of Tubingen, Germany. Dr. R. T. L. Liston, formerly President of King College, Bristol, Tennessee, is serving as guest professor in the New Testament Department for the school year 1968-69.

Dr. Jack B. McMichael, formerly Regional Director of Christian Education for the Synod of Texas and Minister of Education in the First Presbyterian Church of Charleston, West Virginia came to the Seminary in September as Visiting Professor in the Field of Christian Education, thus making possible an enlargement of the work given in that Department.

Rev. Ralph Person entered upon his duties as Associate Professor of Church History on January 1, 1969, after continuing throughout 1968 his graduate studies toward the doctoral degree at the University of Basel. Rev. Richard A. Dodds, Pastor of the St. Andrews Presbyterian Church, Tucker, Georgia, will be a visiting teacher during the Spring Quarter and will offer a course on "A Program of Evangelism for the Local Parish."

The enrollment of students in the Seminary continues at approximately the level of the past several years. There was a slight increase in the number of those enrolling in the first year class as candidates for the M.Div. degree, and for the first time there are three women students enrolled in this Department of Study. There has also been some growth in the number of graduate students and particular interest is being shown in the Seminary's program for the earning of the Th.M. in Clinical Pastoral Care or in Pastoral Counseling. The enrollment this year includes 52 first year students, 39 second year, 37 third year, 63 Th.M. students, 4 interns and 22 others, making a total of 217.

Although the final report of our Auditors has not been completed at the time these lines are written, it seems clear that the Seminary was able to operate for the fiscal year 1968 without a deficit. Satisfaction at this accomplishment is tempered, however, by the fact that the salaries of faculty members and staff remain at a figure below that which the Board of Directors believes appropriate.

A continuing effort is being made to increase the financial resources of the Institution. Up to the present time, something like $1,700,000 has been subscribed in the Joint Campaign for Florida Presbyterian College and Columbia Seminary in the Synod of Florida. The total goal in that campaign is for $2,500,000, of which $1,000,000 is designated for Columbia Seminary. It is hoped that eventually the objectives of the campaign will be fully attained.

Preparations are being made for a campaign which the Synod of Alabama has authorized for this Institution in 1970, and similar efforts are scheduled later for the Synods of South Carolina and Mississippi. The principal purpose for which these campaigns are projected is the provision of a more adequate endowment for the Seminary, since its most urgent building needs have now been met.

The Board of Directors and Faculty are conscious of the tremendous responsibility laid upon them in the training of men for the ministry in the trying but challenging years which lie ahead. We are concerned that our task shall be well done from an educational viewpoint and to that end we are asking our supporting synods to provide us with the necessary tools. Beyond that, however, we are deeply conscious that this work can never be done aright except under the guidance of the Holy Spirit, and that the finest intellectual and practical training will be valueless unless it is animated by love for Christ and a concern that all men should know Him. For this reason, we earnestly desire and request the prayers of God's people to the end that our work may be done aright.

Respectfully submitted

REPORT OF LOUISVILLE PRESBYTERIAN THEOLOGICAL SEMINARY

The Administration and Directors of Louisville Presbyterian Theological Seminary in Louisville, Kentucky, respectfully report for 1968-69 as follows:

The Student Body

In the fall of 1968, Louisville Seminary admitted 59 new students, the largest entering class since 1962. Three of the new students are women, two are Negroes; 36 are married and 23 are single. They come from 22 states and 3 foreign countries. They are graduates of 46 universities and colleges. The diversity of the student body makes Louisville possibly the least regional of the Presbyterian seminaries, north or south.

We rejoice that the entering class is almost evenly divided between candidates for the United Presbyterian ministry and candidates for the ministry of the Presbyterian Church, U.S. This reaffirms Louisville's unique position of equal service to two great Presbyterian bodies.

Long Range Plans

In June, 1968, the Resources Planning Committee of the American Association of Theological Schools issued its long-awaited report. As expected, the report pointed out that the resources for theological education in this country are very poorly deployed. It called for a very radical redeployment of these resources and recommended that seminaries be clustered adjacent to large universities in some seventeen major centers across the country. In the face of this report it is very evident that no seminary can simply go on with "business as usual." It is no longer enough simply to be one of many good, comparatively small seminaries. We must identify a distinctive mission for the seminary and gather the resources to carry out that mission in a uniquely competent fashion.

We are now in the midst of a far-reaching long range planning process. One significant milestone was the Consultation on Ministry in a Changing Church, held in March, 1968. For three days about 130 people, a majority of them laymen, discussed the changing world, the changing church, and the kinds of changes they felt are demanded of theological seminaries.

Following the consultation, a committee of Board and Faculty has been at work, attempting to identify the seminary's basic strengths and to determine a specific direction for the future. The report of this committee will attempt to identify the resources which will need to be gathered across the next ten years if the seminary is to carry out its distinctive mission. It is anticipated that a major development program will be necessary for obtaining these resources.

Cooperative Developments

In connection with the long range planning process, Louisville Seminary is already working toward closer cooperation with nearby educational institutions. We have joined in the formation of the Kentuckiana Metroversity, a new corporation which provides channels for various kinds of cooperation between three major universities, two colleges, and two theological seminaries. On another front, five theological seminaries are working toward the pooling of library resources, sharing outside lecturers, and wide-spread exchange of students and faculty during a January term. The seminaries are: Louisville (Presbyterian), Southern (Baptist), St. Meinrad's (Roman Catholic), Lexington (Disciples of Christ), and Asbury (Independent).

Board, Faculty, and Staff

Only one new Director was elected during the past year, Mr. Robert P. Clark, a ruling elder of the Harvey Browne Memorial Presbyterian Church in Louisville and Managing Editor of the Louisville Times, was added to the Board by the Synod of Kentucky (U.S.). We are grateful to other supporting synods for returning six of our Directors for additional terms.

The coming of Dr. Clinton D. Morrison, Jr., from the faculty of McCormick Seminary to be our new dean, and of Dr. Harold P. Nebelsick from the faculty of the Near East School of Theology as Professor of Doctrinal Theology, has greatly strengthened our faculty. The Chair of Missions, vacated by the former dean, Dr. Norman A. Horner, remains vacant at present. Professors Steere and Keen are on sabbatical leave.

Mr. A. B. Campbell has resigned as Business Manager. Mr. Campbell came to the Seminary from the Ralston-Purina Company and has been of invaluable service in the period during which the new campus was erected, the move carried out, and new procedures established for operating in the new setting. A devoted Presbyterian elder, his service to students as individuals and in small groups has gone far beyond what is usually expected of a business manager. He will be replaced as of February 1 by Mr. Kenneth R. Hougland, who has served as Business Manager of Park College in Parkville, Missouri. We are happy that Mr. Campbell will remain on the campus as Financial Aid Officer until the end of the 1968-69 session.

Reverend William Daviess Hennessy has been appointed as Associate Librarian. Mr. J. Robert Veazey, Louisville's beloved blind organist, retired at Commencement, 1968.

Financial Condition

Our latest audit discloses our situation as of May 31, 1968. We are grateful that we closed a fiscal year on that date without a deficit. We recognize, however, that this was achieved by operating with certain vacancies on our faculty and by paying salaries and wages below those paid by many comparable institutions. For 1968-69 we are operating with only one faculty vacancy. Moreover, we have raised salaries and wages in an attempt to do justice to our staff in an inflationary economy. As a result, we have budgeted a deficit for 1968-69 of around $35,000. It is our hope to obtain new gifts before the year's end which will reduce that deficit.

The long range picture is more disturbing. Projections made by the American Association of Theological Schools indicate that simply to maintain the present level of instruction at seminaries will require a doubling of seminary income in the next ten years. If a seminary intends to improve its program and to venture out into new and creative forms of theological education, the cost may well be four or five times greater than it is today.

It is unrealistic to suppose that this sort of increase in income will occur if seminaries continue to occupy their present place in the budgeting structure of the church. This underlines what we said last year: The time has come for the church as a whole to face up to the question of the importance of the education of its ministry. Does it wish to keep this in its own hands or turn it over to the state universities? Where does it rate on the scale of priorities?

Respectfully submitted,
ALBERT C. WINN, President

REPORT OF UNION THEOLOGICAL SEMINARY IN VIRGINIA

The Trustees of Union Theological Seminary in Virginia respectfully present to its controlling Synods of Appalachia, North Carolina, Virginia, and West Virginia this report concerning the 1968-1969 academic year:

"More Excellent in Our Training"

On November 9 Fred R. Stair, Jr., was installed as President of Union Seminary. In his Inaugural Address, President Stair said:

Let us, for the sake of the moral and spiritual leadership of the future, increase the interplay between our college and university campuses and this seminary campus. Let us develop even more meaningful dialogue between laymen and clergymen, between students and faculty, between young and old, that experiencing a new way of Christian life, fit for our contemporary world, we may become more articulate about the faith, more competent in our leadership, more excellent in our training, more personally skilled, more vocationally dedicated, more fully living in the world for Christ.

Something of the spirit behind these words — an openness and willingness to listen, to consider, and to implement new ways of training for ministry — is evident on the campus. Through new programs started and old programs reconsidered, Union is seeking creatively to innovate in its theological curriculum, responding to the wider demands the Church is making of its spiritual leaders.

The Inauguration provided the occasion for Union Seminary to renew ties with one hundred and thirty-five institutions of higher education represented, as well as with many hundreds of friends, neighbors, and alumni. An Inaugural Colloquy featured three addresses devoted to the general theme: PARTNERSHIP IN EDUCATION. Participating were Edgar F. Shannon, Jr., President of the University of Virginia and a ruling elder of the Westminster Church in Charlottesville; John C. Bennett, President of Union Seminary in New York; and Virginus Dabney, Editor of the Richmond Times-Dispatch and Rector of the new Virginia Commonwealth University in Richmond.

Also attending the Inauguration were members of the largest student body ever enrolled in the 157 year history of Union Seminary. The 348 students come from 30 states and 10 foreign countries as well as from 47 presbyteries of the Presbyterian Church, U.S. Nationally, enrollment in seminaries and schools of theology within the American Association of Theological Schools is up 5.3%, and Union's increase over last year exceeds 10%.

Administration and Faculty

We record with sorrow the sudden death of the Reverend Marmaduke Williams Norfleet, Jr., on November 19, 1968. For more than thirty-three years "Duke" Norfleet served with unusual ability and rendered this seminary, the Church, and his Lord significant service in his special ministry as Secretary-Treasurer and Business Manager.

Dr. Donald W. Shriver, Jr., a member of the faculty as Associate Professor of Church and Society since May, 1967, resigned this year in order to accept a position in the faculty of North Carolina State University.

The Reverend Robert Lee Myers, III, who has served the faculty as an Instructor since 1965, has been elected Adjunct Professor of Clinical Training. Mr. Myers is Chaplain of Richmond Memorial Hospital on the edge of the Seminary campus.

New Trustees

Four new Trustees have been added to the Board of the Seminary, filling vacancies: Aubrey N. Heflin, a ruling elder of the Grace Covenant Church and President of the Federal Reserve Bank of Richmond; Jerome C. Jones, minister of the First Presbyterian Church of Wilmington; H. Dail Holderness, ruling elder of the Howard Memorial Church of Tarboro and President of the Carolina Telephone and Telegraph Company; and James H. Monroe, Executive Secretary of Winston-Salem Presbytery.

Other Services to the Church

Union's basic mission and service to the Church is educating men and women for ordained ministry. Added to this primary function, Union each year contributes to the life and witness of the Church through many auxiliary activities. Among the more notable of these this year have been: a seminar in November attended by 45 Air Force chaplains and led by our faculty members; a two-week summer seminar attended by nearly 100 parish ministers from 12 denominations; four advanced study seminars for 48 ministers to explore in depth subjects of timely concern under the leadership of distinguished visiting professors; fifty-five weekend visits to churches by five student evangelistic teams; and several hundred engagements by members of our faculty as teachers and preachers in churches throughout the denomination.

The Seminary ADVANCE

During 1968 the Seminary has conducted a capital funds campaign within the Synod of Appalachia to enlarge our resources and make possible further educational excellence. At the end of 1968, $521,771.35 has been pledged by individuals and churches within the four presbyteries of the Synod. This amount, added to funds already subscribed by the other three Synods in 1966, is allowing the seminary to implement new features in the curriculum and to explore avenues on and off campus for added educational experience for our students.

During the year we had hoped to begin construction of a new million dollar academic facility and addition to the Library. Detailed drawings and specifications were submitted to contractors for bids in August. Due to a combination of unavoidable factors, no satisfactory bids were received. Therefore, the Trustees have decided to postpone construction plans until the timing and building costs seem more appropriate.

Pledges continue to be paid faithfully by many Presbyterians throughout our Synods and for this the Seminary is profoundly grateful. Nearly four million dollars in new capital resources has come to U.T.S. since the beginning of the ADVANCE program in 1966.

Fiscal Affairs

The Seminary adjusted its annual fiscal year during 1968 to extend from June 1 to May 31. In this way it is possible for the fiscal year to coincide with our academic year and the change greatly simplifies our budgeting procedures. Also during the year we have had a study made by business consultants of ways to streamline and make more efficient administrative procedures at the Seminary. The firm has suggested a new accounting system which is being adopted to begin in June 1969. The new system, complete with a new chart of accounts, will utilize a new accounting machine and will expedite financial transactions.

Other recommendations are being made by the consultants and are being considered for implementation during 1969.

The Future in Theological Education

As President Stair suggested in his Inaugural Address, theological education can no longer be content just to honor the past; it must as well look to the future with boldness, constantly searching and innovating new ways to express the truth of the Christian revelation through soundly conceived educational procedures. This openness, this searching, and this progressive posture have been a part of the honored tradition of Union Seminary. With the challenge of the 70's before us, it will continue to be a hallmark of this institution.

Respectfully submitted,
THORNTON H. BROOKS, Chairman

REPORT OF THE PRESBYTERIAN FOUNDATION, INC. (U. S.)

Although this Foundation is one of the oldest agencies of the Assembly, incorporated in 1866, it was not until 1957 that it was provided with a staff for the purpose of systematic cultivation throughout the Church of an awareness of its services. By gift or bequest, it receives and invests capital funds for the benefit of any of the boards, agencies, institutions, or causes of the Presbyterian Church in the United States. Donors or testators may, and usually do, designate one or more such agencies or institutions to receive the income from such funds entrusted to the Foundation.

Since the early meeting of the Assembly this year requires preparation of this report before the end of the fiscal year, an accurate and detailed statement of assets and operations is not available at this writing, but such data will be available in the annual audit presented to this Assembly in addition to this report.

In order, however, that the Assembly may have an idea of the scope of service rendered in the Church by this agency, we would report that the Foundation now handles 110 distinguishable funds for the benefit of Church and charitable causes. From income derived from investments of these funds, we distribute payments semi-annually to 66 boards, colleges, seminaries, homes for children or the aging, synods, presbyteries, congregations, or other causes. In addition, we make payments to individuals on 11 regular Life Income Agreements and on 61 Gift Annuity Agreements, which will ultimately benefit various causes of the Church. In this recent period of twelve months, income of $187,469.00 was distributed to various church-charity causes, and $63,013.00 as life-income to individuals. These amounts do not include substantial distributions of principal funds as directed by donors or testators.

The Officers of the Board are:

President—William F. Mulliss

Vice-President—The Reverend C. Newman Faulconer

Secretary—J. Mason Wallace, Jr.

Treasurer—A. Walton Litz

Assistant Secretary—A. Walton Litz

The Investment Committee is as follows: Louis L. Rose, Chairman, the Reverend Frank H. Caldwell, George K. Cavanaugh, Harry L. Dalton, and John A. Tate, Jr., with A. Walton Litz and Paul E. Manners serving in a co-opted capacity.

Nominees to General Assembly for election at this time, as submitted by Assembly's Permanent Committee on Nominations are:

For Additional Terms:

Class of 1972:

The Reverend Walker B. Healy, Va. (3)
W. Stell Huie, Ga. (2)

William F. Mulliss, N. C. (3)
John A. Tate, Jr., N. C. (2)

To Fill Vacancies:

Class of 1971:

Frank M. Hubbard, Fla. (1) to replace Sterchi (deceased)

Class of 1972:

The Reverend Frederick V. Poag, S. C. (1) to replace Faulconer (term expired)

D. J. Walker, Jr., N. C. (1) to replace Singleton (term expired)

W. Graham Duncan, IV, Ky. (1) to replace Tucker (term expired)

Hayes Picklesimer, W. Va. (1) to replace Wise (term expired)

Before another meeting of the General Assembly, Mr. A. Walton Litz expects to retire as Associate Director and Treasurer. The Board wishes to express its gratitude for his service. At considerable financial sacrifice, he came to the Foundation ten years ago with a rare background of business experience in the field of insurance and a record of devoted service to the Church as a Ruling Elder in several congregations, past Moderator of the Synod of Arkansas, President of Synod Men's Council, member of Assembly's General Council, and other posts of responsibility and service. In large measure, he has shared in the process of getting this Foundation more widely known and used in various parts of the Church. His outstanding service merits the appreciation of General Assembly as well as of the Board of Trustees.

Respectfully submitted,
FRANK H. CALDWELL, Executive Director

REPORT OF THE HISTORICAL FOUNDATION OF THE PRESBYTERIAN AND REFORMED CHURCHES

The Executive Committee of the Historical Foundation of the Presbyterian and Reformed Churches submits the following report for the year 1968:

Accessions

Retrieval, through the good offices of Librarian Harold Prince of Columbia Seminary, of a volume of long-lost records of the Presbytery of South Carolina covering the years 1814-1829 gives the Foundation a complete file of the minutes of this court from its first session in 1785.

The Board of Christian Education has enriched the periodical collection with a bound volume containing a war-time file of the Children's Friend from the first issues of August, 1862, through that of March 15, 1865. Begun as a monthly, this paper appeared twice each month from January, 1864, "In order in some measure to compensate for the want of Sabbath-school books."

Major additions of foreign materials to the Library relate to the Reformed bodies in the Netherlands, the Presbyterian Church in England, the Church of Scotland, the Free Church of Scotland, the Waldensian Church of Italy, and the Calvinistic Methodist (Presbyterian) Church of Wales. For the first time it proved possible to secure a number of publications of the Free Presbyterian Church of Scotland.

A bust of Rev. James Stacy, historian of the Synod of Georgia, made by an ex-slave; a baptismal bowl used by Rev. John N. Waddel, first stated clerk of the Southern Presbyterian General Assembly; the smallest printed Bible now in possession of the Foundation; a mite box in the form of a pottery jug used by a member of the Covenanter Band of the First Church of Concord, North Carolina, seventy years ago; and an elaborate Korean mirror originally presented to Rev. L. O. McCutchen indicate something of the diversity of items reaching the Museum during the past twelve months.

The folio edition of Acta Synodi Nationalis . . . Dordrechtii (Dordrecht, 1620), David Knibbe's Leere der Gereformeerde Kerk, volgens de order van de Heydelbergse Katechismus (Leyden, 1751). The Heidelberg Catechism, or Method of Instruction, in the Christian Religion . . . Translated for the Use of the Reformed Protestant Dutch Church, of the City of New-York (New-York, 1764), and a copy of the original edition of The Psalms of David . . . for the use of the Reformed Dutch Church in North-America (New-York, 1789) are significant publications pertaining to the Reformed Church in America recently accessioned.

The papers of Rev. Frank A. Brown, long a missionary to China, have been placed in the Foundation by his sons, Dr. Frank A. Brown, Jr., and Rev. George Thompson Brown. Mr. James A. McClure, Jr., has presented seven volumes of pastoral records of his father, Rev. James A. McClure, to the Library. These entries cover the period of 1903-1960, during which time Dr. McClure served churches in North Carolina, Virginia, and Florida. A comprehensive collection of manuscripts relating to the work of the Presbyterian Church in Mexico reached the Missionary Section of the Library as a gift from Rev. H. L. Ross. Dr. Ross has served in Mexico for more than sixty years and many of these materials bear upon the work with which he has been associated.

Generalia

The chief microfilm project conducted in the Foundation was that of the Synod of Virginia under the direction of Rev. and Mrs. Howard McK. Wilson. In addition to the copying of certain other pertinent Virginia materials, extensive filming was done of the Virginia section of the Foundation's History of Churches and Woman's Work.

The Historical Foundation News has completed its twenty-fourth year of publication as a link between the Church, the scholarly world, and the Foundation. Space accorded the History of Churches and Woman's Work increased at an accelerated rate during the year, well above two hundred binders having been added to the shelefs. The Foundation continues its association with the Journal of Presbyterian History by providing two members for the editorial staff of that periodical.

Researchers represented a wide area. Within academic circles, faculty members and/or students were registered from Asheville-Biltmore College; Austin Seminary; Concordia Seminary; Doshisha University (Kyoto, Japan); Eastern Michigan, Emory, Furman, George Washington, Illinois Wesleyan Foundation; Kobe Reformed Theological Seminary (Japan); Louisburg College; Miami (Florida) University; Montreat-Anderson College; Trinity Evangelical Divinity School; and the Universities of North Carolina, Texas at El Paso, Virginia, Wisconsin; and Wesleyan University at Middletown, Connecticut.

Following the recommendation of a special committee, two authors were honored with the Thornwell Award for premier articles relating to Presbyterianism in the South as published during 1967. These scholars were Dr. R. Douglas Brackenridge, of Trinity University, in recognition of his "Sumner Bacon: 'The Apostle of Texas'" (Journal of Presbyterian History); and Dr. W. Harrison Daniel, of Richmond University, for his "Southern Presbyterians in the Confederacy" (North Carolina Historical Review). The Makemie Award for the best book dealing with the Presbyterian Church in the South was not made in 1968.

In Memoriam

The year brought to a close the earthly service of several of those closely associated with the Historical Foundation. Mrs. W. H. Belk, whose generosity made possible the extensive landscaping and beautifying of the Foundation grounds, died on February 6th. Rev. Robert Calvin Grier of the Associate Reformed Presbyterian Church, who retired as a member of the Executive Committee in 1966, was taken by death on the 18th of the same month. On September 5th the Very Reverend Hugh Watt of Edinburgh, long a devoted and active supporter of the Foundation, reached the end of a long life. Mr. L. Young White, whose firm built the present Foundation building and who served as a member of the Executive Committee from 1956 until 1965 and as treasurer from 1964 until the time of his death, lost his life in an automobile-train accident on September 12th near his home in Mooresville, North Carolina.

Respectfully submitted,

REPORT OF THE PERMANENT COMMITTEE ON ASSEMBLY OPERATION

Performance of General Duties

The Permanent Committee on Assembly Operation has fulfilled the tasks assigned it by the General Assembly as expressed in its Manual, particularly with reference to the selection of place for General Assembly meeting and duties assigned to this Committee in connection with that meeting, with the supervision of the office of the General Assembly and of the treasurerships assigned to the Stated Clerk, with review of the Standing Rules of the General Assembly, and with the General Assembly's operating expenses.

Membership on the Committee

Suggestions have been properly made to the Permanent Nominating Committee concerning attendance of members at this Committee's meetings and the filling of Committee vacancies.

Program and Reference Committees at the 1969 General Assembly

In accord with the Standing Rules, this Committee has designated its Chairman, Rev. Henry P. Mobley, to be Chairman of the Program Committee, and Mr. Willard McCreight as the Committee's representative to the Reference Committee. The Committee has attempted to provide assistance to the Program Committee in the briefing sessions for Commissioners called for in the Assembly's Standing Rules.

Matters Referred from Earlier General Assemblies

1. The 1968 General Assembly referred several amendments to Standing Rules with instructions that texts for amendments be drafted. See Recommendation 1 of this report.

2. The 1968 General Assembly instructed that a "Manual for the Office of the Moderator" be drafted for the Moderator's use. See Recommendation 2.

3. Joint meeting with the United Presbyterian Church in the United States of America: On recommendation from the 1967 General Assembly, the Chairman of the Permanent Committee on Assembly Operation has kept in contact with the Stated Clerk of the UPUSA Church concerning a possible meeting of our two Assemblies in the same city at the same time. This contact is being maintained. The UPUSA General Assembly is scheduled to meet in the southern part of the United States in 1974. Through the office of the UPUSA Stated Clerk, some interest has been expressed in exploring the possibility of concurrent dates and meeting place in 1974.

4. A study of staff salaries among General Assembly agencies was ordered by the Assembly of 1966. The results of this study appear in a paper appended to this report.

1971 General Assembly Meeting Place

Under Standing Rule 1.1, this Committee has selected Massanetta Springs, Virginia, as the place of meeting for the General Assembly in 1971, and so report to the General Assembly of 1969. See Recommendation 3. It should be noted that this selection is tentative because of the proposed union with the Reformed Church in America and the possibility of a new General Assembly in 1971.

Treasurerships Assigned to the Stated Clerk

The year-end financial reports on the operating expense funds held by the Treasurer of the General Assembly and the funds of the Central Treasurer of Benevolences will be found as a part of the report of the Stated Clerk. Audits of these accounts will be presented to the 1969 General Assembly through the proper Standing Committee.

Operating Expense Budget for 1969 and a Projected Budget for 1970

Recommendations of these budgets and the per capita assessment to the Presbyteries will be found in Recommendations 4, 5 and 6. The increase in expenditures authorized by the General Assembly and the steady increase in cost of goods and services in recent years has resulted in an excess of disbursements over receipts in the operating expense funds as follows: 1966, $15,658.11; 1967, $22,951.59; 1968, $51,392.02. The sum of these deficits is $90,001.72.

The effect of the same tendencies also appears in the figure for the net unencumbered balance in the annual statements reported to the General Assembly. This net unencumbered balance was in 1966, $113,113.64; in 1967, $90,162.05; and in 1968, $38,770.03.

It was the recommendation of this Committee, sustained by action of the General Assembly in 1966 and 1967, that these deficits could be properly covered out of a stabilization of program account which had been accumulated upon the recommendation of the General Assembly following a study of all Assembly boards and agencies in 1958. Noting the tendency of these deficits, this Committee in 1968 recommended to the Assembly, and the Assembly adopted the recommendation, that the per capita assessment due January 1, 1969, be raised from 26 cents to 30 cents. This was in awareness of an anticipated deficit for the year 1968, and in awareness that the increase would probably not produce a balanced budget for the year 1969.

The Committee feels that the Operating Expense Budget for 1970 should be brought into balance. The only source of operating expense funds for the General Assembly is the per capita assessment upon the Presbyteries adopted by the General Assembly. The recommendation of the Committee will be that the per capita assessment for 1970 be 35¢.

Availability of Legal Counsel for the General Assembly

The present by-laws of the Committee on Assembly Operation would permit it to retain legal counsel for itself or for one of the Committees of the General Assembly, should this be deemed necessary. The Committee has for some while noted that there may be circumstances under which the General Assembly would wish to have legal counsel available to it and to the Assembly's Committees for necessary advice and help. The Committee suggests the sort of action the Assembly would take to authorize such legal counsel. See Recommendation 8.

The proposed Operating Expense Budget for 1969 includes a figure of $2,000 for this purpose; the proposed Budget for 1970, a figure of $4,000.

Commendation of Staff

The Permanent Committee expresses commendation to the Rev. James A. Millard, Jr., our Stated Clerk, and to the staff of the office of the General Assembly for the way they carry out their duties and maintains their accounts.

Respectfully submitted,
HENRY P. MOBLEY, Chairman

MANUAL

of the office of

Moderator of the General Assembly

Presbyterian Church in the United States

I. The Distant Past.

In the Presbyterian and Reformed tradition and practice through approximately four centuries, the office of the Moderator of the highest court of each such denomination has ranked highest in honor but very nearly lowest in actual power. And this observation has been conspicuously true of the Presbyterian Church in the United States throughout the approximate century of its existence. The title of Moderator, construed in its most literal sense, has comprehended virtually all that was expected of the incumbent of the office: he was elected for the purpose of presiding over an assembly, of keeping it temperate and orderly, of restraining any tendency toward excess in parliamentary proceedings. This limited concept of the Moderator as merely the presiding officer, with minimal duties and powers other than those related to the maintenance of orderly progress by fellow Commissioners in arriving at the majority judgments of the General Assembly, has been in harmony with such Presbyterian emphases as the sovereignty of God and as the parity of Teaching and Ruling Elders with each other under largely identical ordination vows. That the Moderator was most honored was, basically, a result of the Presbyterian desire to accomplish things democratically in an orderly manner; what was respected was more the function of the office than any incumbent of it. This view of the office was also consonant with practical circumstances and limitations as to geography, transportation, and communication that characterized the Presbyterian Church in the United States until recently. The formerly rural nature of the Church's scattered constituency coincided with the expectation that the Moderator would render no actual service as such through most of the year in which he held the title.

II. The Recent Past.

In quite recently history, however, the modern commonplaces of swift means of transportation and communication that conquer space and compress time have been affecting the office of the Moderator. Through as much as a generation his position has been growing in its influence and in its opportunities for service—not because of any rebellion against the historical limitations within which the office developed or because of any revolutionary overthrow of traditional Presbyterian concepts, but simply because our denomination has tended slowly to increase its understanding of the dignity of the office and gradually to utilize modern facilities to enlarge the usefulness of the office in ways that are not unconstitutional but are nonconstitutional. Without trampling upon the past, when a Moderator was expected to do little but to preside, the Church has begun to look to the Moderator for leadership. In many a yesteryear his duties could be fulfilled within about seven days of the 52 weeks of his term of office; to the office he devoted about two percent of his time. In contrast, several recent Moderators have devoted to their service as such a half year or more, and some within the past 12 years have obtained leaves of absence from their respective jobs for as much as a year in order that each might serve the Church as Moderator with maximum usefulness.

How much each incumbent of the office has welcomed or yielded to this trend toward Moderatorial leadership has depended upon such factors as his own ideas concerning his higher duty and greater opportunity, his personal desires, the finances and time available to him for Moderatorial services, and his fears, if any, of possible criticism for being an overactive official. That the activities of recent Moderators during interims between meetings of the General Assembly have been generally approved is attested by recent increases in funds provided for such services and by the common saying throughout the denomination that the Moderator is expected "to speak to, but not for, the Church."

Beyond such signs of widespread approbation, however, lie clear indication that gradations of opinion can conceivably becloud the ill-defined functions of the Moderator. An Ad Interim Committee on the Office of the Moderator, after a year of study, reported in 1968 that it had discovered disagreements concerning almost every aspect of the Moderator's position; that Committee confessed frankly and specifically that considerable variation was found in the descriptions that it had received of the duties and responsibilities of the Moderator. (Minutes of the General Assembly, 1968, Part I, pp. 231-232.) In an era of rapid but uneven changes, such differing ideas as to details need not be considered to be either astonishing or alarming. One meaningful generality has been adopted officially: the Moderator's role of leadership in the Church has been pronounced to be "symbolic." (Minutes of the General Assembly, 1968, Part I, pp. 88 and 232.) Within that imprecise limitation, it is approximately fair to say that an incumbent is free to make his office as effective as he can. The absence of specific restrictions upon him serves as a measure of Presbyterians' immense faith in their system of church government and as an unmistakable sign of the honor and trust that they repose in their highest official.

III. Constitutional Duties.

The Book of Church Order makes remarkably few references to the Moderator of the General Assembly. Every General Assembly must have such an officer (Section 13-1). He shall be elected at each stated meeting, must be a member of the Assembly over which he is chosen to preside, and shall ordinarily open with a sermon the meeting of the Assembly with which his term expires (13-2). He "has all authority necessary for the preservation of order and for the proper and expeditious conduct of all business before the court," together with normal and emergency powers (both of which are limited) concerning the convening and adjourning of Assemblies (13-4 and 18-3). He closes an Assembly's meeting with prescribed words announcing the place and time of the next stated meeting and with prayer (18-7). He can authenticate the records of the court over which he has presided (106-8). These provisions of the highest law of the Church prescribe the duties of the Moderator as the presiding officer of the Assembly in appropriately general, minimal terms and indicate only two functions that he may perform during an interim during Assembly meetings.

IV. The Preservation of Parliamentary Order.

Having been told by the Book of Church Order that the Moderator is expected to maintain decorum and expedition in the body over which he presides, a Moderator has two specific places to which to turn for instruction about how he is expected to fulfill that task. of high authority, second only to that of constitutional mandates, are the Standing Rules of the General Assembly, which are published annually (usually with one or more revisions by amendment or addition) as an appendix in Part I of the Minutes of the General Assembly. Virtually all of these Rules, especially in Section I of them, involve matters with which a newly-elected Moderator should be instantly familiar when his election is announced and he begins immediately, with shocking suddenness, to guide an Assembly through its business. Questions of parliamentary procedure not covered by these Standing Rules are settled (under Standing Rule 14.1) exclusively by reference to Robert's Rules of Order, a copy of which is kept available by the Stated Clerk of the General Assembly. Standing Rules 2.1 through 2.6 deal specifically with the Moderator; but Rules 1.2 through 1.7, Rule 3.4, and Rule 12.2a also bear explicitly upon his functions; and most of the others either involve him implicitly or should be understood by him as fully and clearly as possible in respect to both their operations and their implications.

V. Interim Responsibilities and Opportunities

A. Correspondence. It is inevitable that each Moderator will find it to be necessary or proper to write many letters and to communicate with other persons frequently by long-distance telephone calls and by telegrams. Most inquiries concerning the Church's polity he can and should refer to the Stated Clerk of the General Assembly. To persons who erroneously assume that the Moderator's relationship to the General Assembly over which he has presided corresponds with that of an executive to the legislature of the same unit of government and who therefore or for other reasons hold the Moderator responsible for the actions of "his" General Assembly, he can reply, in effect, that he was primarily a mere presiding officer, that he served on none of the Standing Committees of the General Assembly, and that Moderators do not usually propose to an Assembly the adoption of any resolution or motion or report or other action. When a Moderator seeks reimbursement by the General Assembly for any expenses that accrue to him in connection with his official correspondence, he must do so through the Treasurer of the General Assembly; but such expenses are often absorbed by the Moderator's regular employer.

B. Memberships and Meetings. Standing Rule 2.4 makes the Moderator a member of the Program Committee (concerning which see Part VI of Section I of the Standing Rules), the General Council, and the Permanent Committee on Inter-Church Relations during the year of his service as Moderator and an ex officio member of the General Council during the year of his being the immediate past Moderator. His travel expenses for these meetings are payable like those of other members, from the funds of the respective groups. Each Moderator will doubtless receive invitations to attend various ecumenical meetings and interdenominational gatherings or find himself serving as a fraternal delegate to some other Church's court than his own; he can accept such of these invitations as his judgment may suggest to be for the welfare of Christendom. Attendance upon some of these meetings can probably be combined with trips that he will make for other purposes. The costs of his attendance upon these interdenominational meetings are payable in the same manner as are his travel expenses within our denomination.

C. Travels, Visitations, and Addresses. Parallel to the increasing urbanization of our denomination and the development of rapid transportation have been multiplying requests that the Moderator shall visit and speak to representative gatherings throughout the Church. His symbolic role of leadership enjoys immense prestige, even with the media of secular communication; when he visits and speaks, he is heard. He should always state clearly (and can scarcely overemphasize the fact) that he is not an official spokesman for the Church, but his views as its highest officer for one year are nevertheless sought and published. The recipients of visits by the Moderator feel complimented and that the Church is strengthened in their area; and recent Moderators have been convinced that their travels have heightened or intensified the dedication of the Church's members and have broadened the influence of the Moderator's office.

Standing Rule 2.2 encourages such itineraries, requests that the Moderator be granted a leave of absence from his regular employment for the purpose of travel, and makes such journeys feasible by requiring that funds be provided for the travel expenses of the Moderator and his wife and for the salary of a substitute in his usual employment. (The duration of such a leave of absence is not stated, but common opinion is that the Moderator should spend half a year or more in travel.) Standing Rule 2.3 requires that invitations to the Moderator should be addressed to him through the office of the Stated Clerk, requires that these two officials of the General Assembly "shall confer regarding the acceptance of invitations so that the Moderator's time shall be used most economically and for the best interest of the whole Church," but empowers the Moderator, at his discretion, to "assume responsibility for arranging the schedule of his itineraries." Choices made thus jointly or individually will depend upon distinctive differences in the situations of Moderators (some of whom will be Teaching Elders and some Ruling Elders, some having easy access to an extended leave of absence from their regular employment and others finding a leave awkward, etc.).

Factors to be considered in deciding which invitations to accept include the following elements: (1) the sites to be visited should be distributed as widely as practicable throughout the Church; (2) they should include a high proportion of localities not visited recently by any Moderator (whereas, in contrast, airplane terminals like Richmond, Atlanta, and Dallas have become comparatively surfeited with Moderatorial visits); (3) the visited sites may well include attendance upon historical celebrations, conventions, conferences, and other special events of significance in the life of the Church or of some unit of it; (4) the Moderator should attend as many Synod meetings as may be practicable, preferably those not visited by his most recent predecessors (no person can attend all of these meetings within one year, because several of them occur concurrently); (5) joint invitations and those affording multiple appearances within an area may well be given a preference over invitations to a single locality; (6) the Moderator's travels may well include at least one of the foreign mission fields of the Church; (7) attendance upon at least one meeting within the year of each of the "program" Boards of the Church may well serve to enlarge the Moderator's understanding of the practical functioning of their operations, and conferences with leaders of many of the Church's agencies and institutions may well be fitted into his travels (but agency heads and other leaders may properly inform a newly-elected Moderator by letter about their special objectives and hopes for the year); and (8) it may be desirable to visit one or more of our seminaries and possibly several of our other institutions of higher learning.

When the Moderator cannot attend "significant ceremonial and other special occasions" that conflict with his itinerary, he is authorized to appoint someone to serve in his stead as "an acknowledged representative of the General Assembly," and the travel expenses of this substitute can be refunded. (Minutes of the General Assembly, 1968, Part I, p. 87, F.3.) Because the General Assembly has intended, apparently, that the outlays of its representatives shall be reimbursed in full but that no additional income should accrue to them by virtue of such travels, it has declared that "all honoraria or travel remuneration received by the Moderator or his representative in relation to official engagements be transmitted to the Treasurer of the General Assembly." (Minutes of the General Assembly, 1968, Part I, p. 88, F.4.)

D. Special Ministries. The General Assembly has authorized and encouraged the Moderator "to undertake such special ministries as in his judgment are needed to enrich the life and enhance the work of the Church." (Minutes of the General Assembly, 1968, Part I, p. 88, F.7.)

E. Preparations for the Next General Assembly. In respect to the meeting of the Assembly during which a Moderator's term of office will expire, he has two specific duties. Standing Rule 2.6 obligates him individually to "arrange for services of worship for the General Assembly in a manner acceptable to him." And Standing Rule 12.2a directs the Moderator, "after consultation with the Stated Clerk and the chairman of the Permanent Nominating Committee," to appoint the chairman of each Standing Committee—a duty to be exercised with extreme care and with the best possible judgment, because almost every matter of business ordinarily comes to the Assembly through one of these committees and because these chairmen present major reports, often become the chief advocates of them in debate, and can speak the last words in their favor before votes are taken. For the purpose of enabling the Moderator to know from what pool of talents he must choose in making his selections of these chairmen, the Stated Clerk of the General Assembly supplies him with a list of the Commissioners who have been elected to serve in the forthcoming Assembly.

F. The Independence of the Moderator's Office. The Moderator is granted few and limited powers. But it is equally true that he is surrounded by few restrictive prohibitions that may prevent him from attempting to do whatever his judgment may suggest to him as courses of action. He can normally be held accountable neither by the General Assembly that elected him nor by the membership of the Church at large—and all the less so by any one or more officers or agencies or units of the denomination (unless by a Presbytery of which he is a member—a contingency that has never occurred, in any punitive sense or even so far as a formal investigation would be involved, in the whole history of the denomination). His term of office is for only one year, whether his stewardship in it is generally approved or not (it usually is highly approved); he is not salaried. (In contrast, the General Assembly's other official having Church-wide responsibilities, the Stated Clerk, is salaried, holds a three-year term, and is expected to maintain neutrality in his official stance in respect to all questions of polity and of policy and to all issues of any other nature that may arise or exist within the Church.) In other words, the Moderator is at liberty to exercise his symbolic role of leadership and to utilize his personal and official prestige in whatever independent, not neutral, way his discretion may dictate. No other person in the entire constituency of the denomination is in an equally good position to wield a "cooling" influence among disputants, to exert a reconciling influence among dissidents. On the other hand, none can speak his mind orally or in writings with more forthrightness or can take sides in respect to controversial issues with equal freedom and with equal effectiveness. Putting its trust in the guidance that the Holy Spirit can give to a fully committed and humble servant of the Master, the Church leaves it to each Moderator to decide for himself what his conduct shall be in respect to this aspect of his symbolic role of leadership.

REPORT OF THE STATED CLERK OF THE GENERAL ASSEMBLY TO THE GENERAL ASSEMBLY OF 1969

The Stated Clerk would report that the varied duties of his office and the functions housed in the Office of the General Assembly have been carried out under the direction of the Permanent Committee on Assembly Operation. The staff (Mr. George E. Stratman and the Rev. E. D. Witherspoon, Jr., Assistants to the Stated Clerk; Mrs. Hazel Park, Secretary to the Stated Clerk; Mr. M. J. Garcia, Accountant; and Mrs. Mary Turner, Clerk-Typist) continues to function effectively.

Respectfully submitted,
JAMES A. MILLARD, JR., Stated Clerk

REPORT OF THE COUNCIL ON CHURCH AND SOCIETY

The Council on Church and Society of the Board of Christian Education was established by that board at the direction of the 106th General Assembly and charged with three responsibilities: to study the gospel in its bearing on man and society; to present recommendations of the General Assembly; and to present program recommendations to the various boards.

The Council is composed of twenty members, eight of whom are elected, two each, by the four program boards from their own membership, and twelve of whom are elected by the Board of Christian Education from the church at large.

Present members of the Council are: from the Board of Christian Education—Rev. Robert P. Douglass and Mr. Charles Weltner; from the Board of National Ministries—Rev. Donald W. Shriver, Jr. and Mr. Hal Baird; from the Board of Women's Work—Mrs. Gene Barnard and Mrs. George L. Paris; from the Board of World Missions—Rev. Wayne P. Todd and Dr. Charles William Johnson; and from the church at large—Class of 1969: Rev. Arch McD. Tolbert, Rev. Ralph Underwood, Dr. Frank B. Davis, Mrs. George McMaster; Class of 1970: Mr. James McBride Dabbs, Rev. Shirley Guthrie, Rev. Harry E. Smith, Rev. Walter Johnson; Class of 1971: Mr. William J. Murray, Jr., Mr. Roscoe Nix, Rev. Wallace M. Alston, Jr., Dr. Vasco Smith, Jr. Eleven of these members are laymen, and nine are ministers. Among the eleven laymen are three housewives, two businessmen, an attorney at law, a doctor of medicine, a dentist, a university professor, a human relations counselor, and a planter-author. Of the nine ministers, five are pastors, two are seminary professors, one is a university professor, and one is a university pastor. Officers of the Council are the Rev. Wayne P. Todd, Chairman; the Rev. Arch McD. Tolbert, Vice Chairman; and Mrs. Gene Barnard, Secretary.

The Council met twice in 1968 to prepare this report. Minutes of the meetings have been submitted to the Standing Committee of the General Assembly.

The 106th General Assembly referred to the Council an overture from the Presbytery of Lexington requesting "the General Assembly to refer the whole matter of war and peace to the proper committee for study of the issues and the bearing on the conflicts of the Christian conscience in a nuclear age" (1966 Minutes, pp. 33, 91). The Council submitted two papers in this field to the 108th General Assembly and submits one to this General Assembly. The Council anticipates submitting additional papers later.

The 108th General Assembly referred to the Council two overtures, one from the Presbytery of Lexington requesting a study of the relation of the church and state regarding the church's tax status, in order to determine a principle on which taxation and tax exemption may rest (1968 Minutes, pp. 25, 58), and one from the Presbytery of Louisiana requesting a clarification of the 98th General Assembly's statement that total abstinence is an "ideal toward which church members should strive" (ibid., pp. 27, 100). The Council is working on both of these matters and expects to report on them to the 110th General Assembly.

The 108th General Assembly authorized the Council to issue statements to the church on urgent social crises between meetings of the General Assembly, provided (a) that the statements are consistent with the standards and social pronouncements of the General Assembly, and (b) that the statements are issued as joint statements by the Moderator of the General Assembly and the Council (ibid., p. 100). The Council has adopted the following procedure for issuing such statements:

When in the judgment of the Moderator of the General Assembly or the Administrative Officer of the Council or the Chairman of the Council a situation exists which requires a statement to the church, he shall contact the other two to convene a conference. If the Moderator and the Administrative Officer and the Chairman of the Council do agree on a statement, they shall communicate it to the Council and secure approval of at least a majority of the Council before issuing the statement.

The Council reported to the 108th General Assembly its plan to sponsor with the four program boards a Consultation on Church and Society in the fall of 1969. Because most of the objectives of the Consultation are being realized in other ways, the Consultation has been canceled.

The Council herewith submits three papers for the consideration and action of the General Assembly.

Respectfully submitted,
WAYNE P. TODD, Chairman

REPORT OF THE AD INTERIM COMMITTEE FOR THE CONSULTATION ON CHURCH UNION

This Ad Interim Committee respectfully submits another information report. The only meeting of the Consultation on Church Union since the 108th General Assembly was not held until March 17-20, 1969, making this report too late for inclusion in the Commissioners' Handbook.

Plan of Union Commission

As was reported to the 108th General Assembly, the Consultation on Church Union, meeting in Dayton, Ohio, March 25-28, 1968, authorized the creation of a Plan of Union Commission, representative of the participating churches, to prepare the first draft of a plan of union and that this commission report to the Consultation in 1969 if possible, but no later than 1970. Such a commission has been constituted. The Rev. Wm. A. Benfield, Jr. was designated the representative from the Presbyterian Church in the U.S. and was also appointed chairman of the Commission.

The Eighth Annual Meeting

The eighth annual meeting of the Consultation on Church Union was held in Atlanta, Georgia, March 17-20, 1969. The Ad Interim Committee was represented by Rev. Wm. A. Benfield, Jr., Mr. Steele Hays, Rev. Rachel Henderlite, Rev. J. A. Ross MacKenzie, Rev. James A. Millard, Jr., Dr. Theodore B. Pratt, Mr. Thomas N. Raines, Rev. Wm. R. Sengel, and Rev. Lawrence I. Stell.

The work of this meeting was centered on the interim reports of two commissions and the report of one commission.

The interim report of the Plan of Union Commission consisted of a preliminary outline of a plan of union. The interim report of the Commission on the Unification of Ministries consisted of working papers on the mingling of ministries, the presbyter, and the deacon. These two reports were studied together and in detail by small working groups. Reactions and suggestions were recorded for the use of the Plan of Union Commission. No decisions were made by the Consultation concerning a plan of union.

The Commission on Guidelines for Inner-church Action was formed to provide information to the denominations concerning inquiries that are increasingly received by denominational offices and by the office of the Consultation on Church Union about congregational cooperation in joint action for mission and congregational engagement in actual union. The guidelines do not promote the union of congregations but give support to the existing constitutional procedures of the denominations. The report of this commission was adopted as amended and referred to the denominations for use as desired.

The Consultation took action recommending An Order of Worship for the Proclamation of the Word of God and The Celebration of the Lord's Supper, with Commentary to the churches of the Consultation for experimental use in ways their customary regulations permit, and requesting evaluations of and reactions to the service be forwarded to the Commission on Worship, by way of the office of the General Secretary. Copies of An Order of Worship may be secured from Forward Movement Publications, 412 Sycamore Street, Cincinnati, Ohio 45202.

The General Secretary of the Consultation on Church Union, the Rev. Paul A. Crow, Jr., was inducted into office. Announcement was made of the election of an Associate General Secretary, the Rev. Clyde Williams. The office of the Consultation has been established at 228 Alexander Street, Princeton, New Jersey 08540.

The ninth meeting of the Consultation will be held in St. Louis, Missouri, March 9-13, 1970, at which time the first draft of a plan of union will be submitted for study.

Respectfully submitted,
WM. A. BENFIELD, JR., Chairman

REPORT OF THE AD INTERIM COMMITTEE ON THE MISSISSIPPI VISITATION

Fathers and Brethren,

Your Ad Interim Committee on the Mississippi Visitation respectfully presents herewith its third consecutive report to the General Assembly. We readily admit we have not resolved all the problems that existed in the Synod of Mississippi and the Presbytery of Central Mississippi in 1966 when this Ad Interim Committee was first appointed. Nevertheless, we are somewhat encouraged and believe some progress, under the abiding influence of the Holy Spirit, is in sight.

It will be recalled that this Committee's instructions were "to visit and examine this portion of the church affected with evident disorder; to inquire into the difficulties therein; and to report its findings and to recommend appropriate action to the next General Assembly." (G.A. Min. 1966, p. 105)

The "disorders" referred to by the 1966 General Assembly grew out of a number of long unsolved problems within the Synod of Mississippi. These included the failure of Central Mississippi Presbytery to comply with Assembly instructions regarding Negro churches within its bounds; the unusually long and involved examination of ministers seeking admission to Central Mississippi Presbytery; the complaint that the Commission on the Minister and His Work was going far beyond the Book of Church Order in determining whom churches could call as pastors; and other problems of a similar nature creating wide differences of opinion among both ministers and laity.

You will recall that this Ad Interim Committee was not charged with responsibility for "solving" these problems, only for "inquiring into" them and offering recommendations as to "appropriate action". This Committee, therefore, has regarded its function as largely investigative, advisory and pastoral. We are happy to report that uniformly we have been courteously received and given unhampered access to the facts. Our reports to the 1967 and 1968 General Assemblies reveal the results of our efforts up to that time. Wounds growing out of wide differences of opinion between equally consecrated and intelligent servants of Christ require both time and patience in their healing. However, at this time we feel things are moving in the right direction.

Twice during the past year your Committee has met with Synod's Special Committee appointed at the suggestion of the 1968 General Assembly to help deal with these matters. We are gratified that we have received no recent criticism of the Commission on the Minister and His Work in Central Mississippi Presbytery. During the past year, also, Central Mississippi Presbytery has received the Negro churches within its bounds as requested by the General Assembly. We are happy to report also that there appears to be no further criticism of examination of ministers seeking admission to Presbytery.

We would report that we have met informally with two groups of pastors holding slightly different points of view, to discuss progress. While personal differences which have developed over the years are still not completely resolved we are encouraged to believe the process of reconciliation has really begun. We are not unaware of the fact that in the matter of appointments to important Committees of Presbytery there is evident need of a wider representation of points of view. Furthermore, it is reported that a certain group in the Presbytery still is consistently overlooked in the selection of Commissioners to the General Assembly. This we hardly feel represents Presbyterianism at its best.

In the light of these facts your Ad Interim Committee offers the following recommendations for your prayerful consideration and approval:

1. That Synod's Committee be commended for what it has been able to accomplish thus far.
2. That since the work of Synod's Committee is far from finished the General Assembly respectfully request that it be continued for at least another year.
3. That Synod be encouraged to ask its Committee to expand its efforts to find ways outside of Church Courts to bring about personal reconciliation within the Presbytery of Central Mississippi.
4. That in all their dealings Synod's Committee, Central Mississippi Presbytery, and all those personally involved be reminded that the Spirit of Christ, not vindication of viewpoints, will provide the only secure foundation upon which permanent harmony and complete understanding can be established among Christian brethren.

THE REPORT OF THE JOINT COMMITTEE OF TWENTY-FOUR OF THE REFORMED CHURCH IN AMERICA AND THE PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH IN THE UNITED STATES

In 1962 the General Synod and the General Assembly each appointed a Committee of Twelve and charged them to consider together ways of achieving "a more effective witness to the Gospel of our Lord Jesus Christ."

After long and careful study, it appeared to the Committee of Twenty-four that the route to this "more effective witness" lay in the direction of union of the Presbyterian Church in the United States and the Reformed Church in America. A plan of union was prepared and endorsed officially by the General Synod and the General Assembly. We are pleased that more than a majority of the Classes and Presbyteries voted favorably on the plan; but disappointed that the constitutional requirements were not met.

We express our gratitude to those who have given understanding and support to this venture of faith. A large number in both communions have worked, witnessed and prayed for the consummation of this union. The widespread support of this proposal, resulting from their efforts, is a heartening fact which we note with hope.

While the plan of union was not adopted, we believe that many of the features of the plan are of considerable merit. Examples of these features would include some of the proposed innovations in liturgy and in polity. We express the hope that the appropriate agencies will consider these proposals and bring into the life of our respective Churches as many of them as may be considered valuable.

We do not believe that the decision reached on the plan of union will occasion any lessening of the activities which the Presbyterian Church in the United States and the Reformed Church in America have been carrying on in concert for many years. The awareness and mutual appreciation, resulting from the widespread acquaintance which has taken place during the last seven years, are genuine gains not likely to be lost. Indeed, this acquaintance may lead us to new cooperative undertakings which will increase the effectiveness of our two Churches.

We have shared a vision which should not be allowed to fade. The task of "a more effective witness" remains. Since the union is not to be consummated, we must, as responsible denominations, reaffirm whatever forms of church life into which the Spirit of God may lead us.

We are grateful as members of the Committee of Twenty-four for the experiences which we have shared with each other during the last seven years. They have been for us means of grace. We now request that the General Assembly and the General Synod dismiss their committees.

Respectfully submitted,
 NORMAN E. THOMAS
 JOHN A. FULTON, Co-Chairmen

REPORT OF THE COMMITTEE ON RESTRUCTURING SYNODS AND PRESBYTERIES

Your Committee on Restructuring Synods and Presbyteries has had two meetings during the year. After the first meeting, members of the committee called together leaders of presbyteries and synods in their general area in six regional meetings, at which meetings information and advice were sought regarding the organizational strengths and weaknesses and needs of the Church in that region. This committee continues to seek the guidance of the Church at large. The second meeting of the committee consolidated the information gained from the regional meetings and added to it information drawn from various General Assembly agencies and their studies, together with U.S. Department of Commerce data on trade territories, population density, and a wide variety of other pertinent matters.

The committee was charged with the task of bringing a suggested plan of restructuring the synods to the Assembly and at the same time was told to give consideration to the findings of the Conference on Restructuring Synods and Presbyteries with regard to the structure of presbyteries. Our judgment is that the presbytery as the basic court above the session, must be viable and should be strengthened for the enlarged mission of the church.

This committee accepted and affirmed the statement adopted by the General Assembly of 1968 regarding the nature and functions of Synod and Presbytery and sees its task as that of making these specific in a geographic way. We have spent much time trying to analyze these respective functions in order to structure them appropriately. In addition, much thought has been given to the need for more efficient two-way communication between the General Assembly and the local church levels.

Out of these deliberations has come reinforcement of the obvious fact that restructuring is no mere allocation of the church's membership into a certain number of judicatories of an approximately equal number of communicants. Geography, highways, economic affinity, trade territories, metropolitan areas, size of individual churches, and many other factors must be considered realistically. These were strongly recognized by the participants in the regional meetings. One result of this was an awareness that state boundaries, which now define most synods, are not as natural as perhaps they once were in the work of the church. Another is, that with easier travel and communication by other means, together with increasing strength of presbyteries, synods of larger geographic size and embracing areas of common economic and cultural orientation may be more natural and efficient divisions. Presbyteries, too, find difficulty fulfilling their function in a significant way when their strength is small.

This quick and partial mention of some of the factors entering into this committee's deliberations is made in order to indicate why the committee has been unable to formulate a specific plan of restructuring in time to submit it to the 1969 General Assembly. It has, however, found a surprisingly large openness—even eagerness—for restructuring widespread in the General Assembly and a number of regional plans already either vaguely or specifically incubating.

The Ad-Interim Committee therefore recommends that it be continued for another year and that it report its findings and recommendations to the 1970 General Assembly.

Respectfully submitted,
HARVARD A. ANDERSON, Chairman

PORTION OF THE REPORT of the BOARD OF NATIONAL MINISTRIES

(See also Part III of Minutes, Bound Volume of Board Reports.)

Standards for Presbyterian Homes for the Aging

Introduction

The 1957 General Assembly ordered the Board of Church Extension to establish a Division of Homes and Christian Welfare for the purpose of providing counsel to all church courts who were considering or rethinking programs for children, the elderly, the physically and mentally handicapped and persons of special needs.

The scope of the work of the Division has taken on new dimensions in keeping with the changes of our times. The Division is now called the Division of Christian Social Service, which is one of the six divisions of the Board of National Ministries of the Presbyterian Church in the United States.

The Board of National Ministries' manual states, under Duties, C 3, page 3, "to offer competent professional assistance to synods and presbyteries and other groups in our Assembly seeking to provide homes and hospitals for dependent children, older persons and others with special physical and mental needs."

The Board of National Ministries, in August 1967, recommended that standards be established for all facilities in the field of health and welfare services in the Presbyterian Church in the United States, by the Presbyterian Association of Homes for the Aging and the Presbyterian Child-Care Association. These standards would provide a tool by which judicatories in the Presbyterian Church in the United States could develop more effective patterns of Christian service to assure that all persons in our facilities would receive the best possible care. The Board of National Ministries fully realizes that most homes are required to meet standards established by the states in which they operate. However, it was felt that our health and welfare facilities should meet more than minimum licensing requirements.

The Board of National Ministries feels that church related facilities serving children, youth, aged, ill or handicapped people should maintain the highest standards of sheltered care. Maximum protection of their personal privacy and individualized attention for their physical, mental, social and spiritual needs witness to the church's belief in the dignity of man. Programs, personnel and services of Christian facilities should respect freedoms rooted in Christian teachings and should help each individual to grow in the image of the Creator.

HOMES FOR THE AGING: The Presbyterian Association of Homes for the Aging, Presbyterian Church in the United States, working with the Division of Christian Social Service of the Board of National Ministries, has not attempted to write complete standards, which, in a sense, would be duplicating the work of professional standard-setting agencies who have full time staff devoted to such tasks. We do, however, refer to and use as our guide, the manual entitled "Standards for Accreditation of Extended Care Facilities, Nursing Care Facilities and Resident Care Facilities", published by the Joint Commission on Accreditation of Hospitals, January 1968. Since the majority of our Presbyterian Homes belong to the American Association of Homes for the Aging, we use this document for the basis of our own standards, since AAHA is a participating organization of the Joint Commission on Accreditation of Hospitals.

Definitions

A. HOSPITALS

B. EXTENDED CARE FACILITIES

Establishments with organized medical staffs and with continuous professional nursing service that are established to provide comprehensive in-patient care (which is usually post acute hospital care), for the most part of relatively short duration, and to serve convalescent patients who are not in an acute episode of illness or in a stable stage of illness and who have a variety of medical conditions.

C. NURSING CARE FACILITIES

Establishments with medical staffs or a medical staff equivalent and with continuous nursing service under professional nurse direction. They provide, usually, long-term in-patient care (not necessarily post-hospital) to patients who have a variety of medical conditions requiring service.

D. RESIDENT CARE FACILITIES

Establishments providing safe, hygienic, sheltered living for residents not capable of or desiring fully independent living. They furnish regular and frequent but not continuous medical and nursing services and they furnish continuous supportive, restorative and preventive health services.

E. INDEPENDENT LIVING FACILITIES* (Not structured for accreditation by Joint Commission on Accreditation of Hospitals at this time)

Establishments with each living unit required to have kitchen facilities and a complete bathroom. This type project may also include central dining, recreational and social facilities. Medical and nursing services are not usually provided.

Sponsorship

A facility or service claiming relationship with the Presbyterian Church in the United States should be directly responsible and related to a church court: a synod or group of synods, a presbytery or group of presbyteries, the session or sessions of a church or group of churches. In some communities, the most appropriate sponsorship would be a group of two or more denominations. The responsible church court should provide the leadership in the form of a board of directors or trustees. It should also provide some measure of financial support from the organized court and individual communicants in order to strengthen the bond between facility and church.

Charter

Each Presbyterian Home or facility should have a charter setting forth its purpose and vesting powers in its governing body to carry out these purposes. The charter should be as broad as the statutes of the individual state permit nonprofit corporations.

The charter should also contain a provision that in the event of dissolution of the corporate entity that its assets should be transferred in a manner approved by the church court and acceptable to the Internal Revenue Service for nonprofit corporations.

Governing Body

The governing body shall have full legal responsibility for the overall operation of the facility and shall be organized to fulfill this responsibility. There shall be full disclosure of ownership. In the case of corporations, the corporate officers shall be made known.

There shall be evidence of compliance with the applicable laws and regulations relating to licensing, fire inspection, health and welfare of the legally authorized Federal, State and local agencies.

A. Full responsibility for the over-all operation of the Home should be charged to the board of directors or trustees.

B. This board shall be responsible for the adoption, review and revision of the by-laws and policies of the organization in accordance with legal requirements, community and church court directives and policies.

C. The board of directors shall be composed of responsible men and women elected or appointed by the appropriate church court.

D. Members of the board should be elected on the basis of their leadership ability, interest in the ministry to the aging, their sensitivity to human need and their willingness to assume the responsibilities of board membership.

E. The members shall serve without pay and in no way should their membership on the board benefit them financially, directly or indirectly.

F. Provision should be made for the regular rotation of board membership by the limiting of number of consecutive terms of membership.

G. The board shall establish sound admission policies without regard to race, color or national origin, in keeping with the directive of the 1954 General Assembly.

H. The governing body shall appoint a qualified administrator as the official representative of the governing body and formalize his responsibilities and authority in writing.

Administrator

There shall be a full-time administrator appointed by the governing body. He shall be qualified by training and experience in the health care field for the proper discharge of his delegated responsibilities, commensurate with the size of the facility, and for meeting the needs of the patients/residents in accordance with established internal policies.

A. Every facility shall have as full-time administrator a well trained executive who is in good mental and physical health, capable of making mature judgments, and of good moral character. He should have the educational and other qualifications necessary to operate and manage a health care facility that will comply with all applicable Federal, State and local laws, rules and regulations. It is desirable for him to have a broad general education and to have completed courses in administration or management, particularly in the health care field.

B. The administrator is responsible to the governing body for the total operation of the facility in accordance with established policies. He is responsible for the control, utilization and conservation of the physical and financial assets of the facility, and for procurement and direction of adequate personnel. He should have an understanding of his responsibilities in providing care for patients. The administrator shall designate an individual to act for him in his absence when he leaves the premises so as to provide the facility with administrative direction at all times.

C. It is important that the administrator maintain membership in professional organizations and provide for his continuing education in the health care field through attendance at institutes and workshops.

Administration

There shall be evidence in writing of acceptable administrative policies, practices and procedures. There shall be a prepared administrative manual explaining patient/resident care policies and procedures in regard to admissions, discharges, refunds and other pertinent information relating to the total operation of the facility.

A. Administrative policies and practices shall be tailored to meet the needs of each facility and its patients/residents. There shall be a written administrative policy manual outlining the general operating practices of the facility. The manual shall serve as a guide to the administrator in carrying out the policies of the governing body and as a protection for the administrator by assuring him of the support of all personnel when he follows its established policies. The policies should relate to administrative policies and procedures on admission, admission agreement, charges, payments, refunds, transfer and discharge, smoking regulations for patients and visitors, and other pertinent information as the local situation dictates. The manual represents and guides the operation of the facility and should not be deviated from without proper authorization.

B. If the facility has the responsibility for safekeeping patients'/residents' possessions and valuables, it shall make adequate provision for them.

C. No facility staff member shall handle the personal business affairs of patients/residents, such as paying bills or making major purchases, without first being requested to do so in writing by the patient/resident or a responsible party.

D. The name, address and phone number of a responsible relative or agent in charge of the patient's/resident's affairs shall be kept readily available. The designated individual shall be notified immediately in an emergency situation and when hospitalization is indicated.

E. The facility shall establish and maintain current personnel policies, practices and procedures that adequately support sound resident and patient care; these shall be made available to all employees at the time of employment.

F. There shall be written job descriptions for personnel in all departments, i.e., administrator, director of nursing service, registered professional nurse, licensed practical/vocational nurse, nursing aide, orderly, and housekeeping, dietary, laundry and maintenance personnel.

Summary

In the judgment of the Presbyterian Association of Homes for the Aging, the standards stated above are general but basic. If these are put into practice, the details necessary to meet these will assist our retirement facilities in meeting the necessary requirements for licensing, certification and accreditation.

The Association recommends and urges all Boards of Directors and the administrators of retirement facilities in the Presbyterian Church in the United States to use the "Standards for Accreditation of Extended Care Facilities, Nursing Care Facilities and Resident Care Facilities", published by the Joint Commission on Accreditation of Hospitals, January 1968, as an instrument which can help direct the formation of sound administrative practices and good patient/resident care. The information provided in this manual deals with all aspects of services provided in our facilities and is considered to be the best resource available today.

Performance Standards for Presbyterian Church in the United States Children's Homes and Agencies Preface

The performance standards, or "norms" included in this booklet were developed by the participants in the annual meeting of the Presbyterian Child Care Association which met at Monticello, Arkansas, April 23-26, 1968. Representatives of fourteen Presbyterian Child Care Agencies were present, including administrators, social service staff, one psychologist and several Board members and churchmen from Arkansas. The staff of the Group Child Care Project of the Southeastern Child Care Association and the School of Social Work, University of North Carolina, were invited to structure and coordinate the work.

Performance standards are somewhat new in child-care work. They have been previously developed for staff, including administrators, but not for agencies or Homes. They start out by identifying basic responsibilities of a position or organization—eleven are identified here—and then describe acceptable fulfillment of each responsibility. Expectations are reasonable rather than idealistic and are intended to be met. Human frailty and temporary or particular conditions which may prevent any one standard from being met in all instances are taken into consideration by the use of such words or phrases as "generally," "usually," "for the most part." Some standards demanding value judgments are prefaced by the word "reasonably," indicating a judgment involving common sense and the likely assent of any reasonable man. Particularly vital or basic standards are written as absolutes.

Failure to meet any standard to the degree indicated requires in the opinion of the Association, careful and specific justification for departure from the established norm or admission of sub-standard practice. For this reason each word in these standards has been scrutinized and agreed to by the participating agencies and personnel and is intended to be taken seriously.

It is hoped that these standards will be found useful in at least five ways—

- (1) to help Homes and agencies evaluate themselves
- (2) as a basis for evaluation of an agency's program by church courts or their agencies
- (3) to guide new Homes or agencies, or Homes and agencies contemplating expansion or change in function
- (4) to interpret good child care practices to courts, constituencies, ministers, etc.
- (5) to justify the need for adequate support of Homes and agencies facing family breakdown.

Agencies wishing more detailed or advisory standards should consult those published by the Child Welfare League of America, or similarly qualified organizations.

I. Responsibility: The Agency is responsible to its constituency and community and serves their needs.

The agency demonstrates its responsibility to its constituency through meeting the needs of children and families thoughtfully and responsibly and in accordance with Board policies. The constituency, on the other hand, provides the agency with reasonable financial support within its resources, demonstrates interest in the agency's work, and is reasonably well informed about it. It elects a generally capable, representative Board of interested persons to act as the instrument through which the agency-constituency relationship is maintained.

This Board employs an administrator generally qualified to carry out a program in accordance with these standards. It gives oversight and consultation to him and normally evaluates his work objectively. It recognizes his professional competence and delegates to him and usually supports him in his administrative functions.

Through its helping function, its philosophy, procedures, and staff personnel, the agency offers services generally appropriate to the needs of its clients and in such a way as to demonstrate to the community the restorative ministry of the Church.

The agency is normally careful to operate within a practical financial structure. It is generally cognizant of changing factors affecting costs and seeks to prepare the constituency for the possible need of increased support.

The agency encourages the members of its Board to participate actively in wider community human welfare efforts. It alerts them to appropriate educational opportunities as well as periodically providing them with written material. It develops planned orientation experiences for new Board Members, which seek to prepare them for their responsibilities. It encourages all levels of personnel to develop an understanding of their responsibility to community and constituency as well as their role in the agency.

The agency uses such means as study of its own statistics, securing and reviewing community social service information and periodic formal canvassing of ministers and other sources of information in its constituency, to remain aware of general community problems as well as of particular needs related to its present service.

The agency keeps its constituency reasonably up to date on its plans and actions. It seeks to make clear to the constituency good child care philosophy and practice with some interpretation of how these apply to present day needs.

II. Responsibility: The agency maintains and organizes a staff for the delivery of its service.

Standard

The agency recruits and selects persons to the staff who are in basic agreement with its philosophy, can generally identify with the agency's Christian mission of service, are generally qualified for the work assigned them, and can reasonably be expected to perform within the standards here set forth. The agency recognizes the need of new staff for orientation which gives them the information, preparation, and support generally needed to move into the job. It provides them with remuneration and benefits generally related to the job, reasonably representative of local acceptable levels, and sufficient to maintain themselves with dignity and comfort in their private life situation.

The agency provides its staff with consultation and direction which, for the most part, functions to increase the skill and improve the practice of each staff member.

The agency generally assigns responsibility for supervision of any group of employees, or, in a small agency, all employees, to an experienced, trained person who has a reasonable grasp of his function as an on-the-scene enabler, or seeks to assist him in getting the proper training. It provides him with reasonable time for his supervisory job, a reasonable number of employees to supervise directly, and reasonable freedom from other duties. If his work load becomes such that he cannot adequately fulfill the demands of professional supervision, the agency provides him with additional help.

The agency seeks to develop all levels of staff through the use of reasonably consistent on-going, in-service training, using such means as general staff meetings, smaller group seminars, division meetings and conferences within the staff, and cooperative and collaborative activities regarding their work with children and families.

Within the experience available and the means of the agency, personnel are afforded further training opportunities such as child care training courses and graduate training in social work for appropriate personnel.

The agency develops a staff organization which provides for personnel in positions necessary to deliver its service, giving attention to reasonable work loads, the need for clear lines of communication, a generally well-balanced delegation of responsibility and accountability for performance and supervision. It seeks to establish a method of administering its service through a generally democratic process, recognizing the value of staff participation in agency decision making and commitments.

With general staff involvement, the agency develops written statements related to job descriptions, job performance, personnel policies and practices. It furthermore develops written statements of the agency's history, purpose, objectives and procedures which can reasonably be expected to give constructive guidance to personnel throughout their employment in the agency and serves to enable them to keep their individual practice within the framework of overall agency expectations.

Throughout the staff member's tenure, the agency gives planned attention to the need for periodic formal and informal objective evaluations of his performance. Recognizing the degree to which agency personnel are called on to invest themselves in difficult, emotional situations, the agency seeks to help its staff through a supervision which strengthens a worker's use of himself and faces honestly and works with weaknesses in practice.

The agency normally takes responsibility for determining when any staff member's performance is not constructive and attempts to help him move out of the agency in a generally healthy way.

III. Responsibility: The agency provides for children's physical, social and emotional needs and growth.

The agency provides for the child's medical needs with regular medical, dental and sight and hearing examinations and periodic inoculations and maintains an adequate system of medical records.

The agency offers food freely, attractively prepared and served in a pleasant atmosphere. Attention is given to the creative use of variety in menus, food preparation, snacks and unscheduled refreshments and eating situations such as picnics. Meals are planned with intelligent concern for the nutritional needs of children. The staff seeks to help with feeding problems and to encourage healthy and catholic tastes, but avoids wherever possible extremes in forcing children to eat food repugnant to them or the rigid withholding of food. Children are involved to some extent in the planning, purchase, preparation and serving of food.

The agency provides adequate clothing for each child, which is his own, with reasonable attention being given to style, attractiveness, fit and individualization. Children are dressed within the fashion current among children of their own age in the community but not necessarily at its extreme. The agency seeks to develop pride in appearance through example and supervised training in good grooming. Children are given choices appropriate to their age in the selection of their own clothes, and where possible an opportunity for shopping experiences.

Children receive or are allowed to earn money commensurate with their age, needs and community standards. At least a portion of this money is the child's to spend or save at his discretion.

Work assigned to the child is designed to teach good work habits. Where possible, it is meaningful work planned for and with children, and not work which children perform for the primary purpose of saving expense or supporting the agency. Children's work is not generally required to measure up to adult work standards. Where possible, opportunities are found for older children to work off-campus for pay. The agency is careful to arrange its work schedule so that children's normal religious, social, educational and athletic activities are rarely if ever pre-empted.

The agency provides, with its program, adequate time and opportunity for rest and leisure. It provides a variety of resources and activities for children's voluntary use and self-expression. It also makes available periodic opportunities for the child to participate in recreational activities such as arts and crafts, spontaneous play, camping, and swimming, as well as other programs.

Within reason, the agency provides opportunities for each child to participate in community, church, school, family and other social activities. Within the limits of acceptable and normal behavior, children are allowed normal and reasonable experiences with the opposite sex and as they grow older for such activities as dating. Older children are also given opportunity for group activities for their age group alone, in which they are encouraged to make decisions and plan for their own activities. Within limits, children's activities are similar to those enjoyed by children of their own age in the community and are not unduly hampered by regulations and procedures which in effect discourage or prevent such activities.

Agency staff generally use good judgment in recognizing and responding appropriately to the basic emotional and social needs of children, including the need for demonstrated affection.

Normally the staff applies a firm, fair, consistent control designed to lead to self-discipline through example, rewards, and discipline, including, if necessary, occasional punishment and careful explanation of meaningful rules and regulations. When punishment is used, it avoids keeping a child restricted or in disgrace for long periods and is careful not to rob a child of self-respect. The use of punishment and rules as means of control decreases as children reach adolescence and individual limits tend to take their place.

Staff are generally available to children, provide them with adequate but not obtrusive supervision, and usually know where any child is, and what, in general, he is doing.

The agency strives to use and create opportunities to express honest recognition of achievement but values each child as a unique individual, worthy of love and respect, regardless of his manner of behavior or degree of achievement as measured by adults or his peers.

Responsibility for training and discipline as well as for day-to-day decisions and permissions is reasonably clear and is normally assigned to child care staff. The administrator retains final authority but is also available to children both formally and informally, and represents for them the agency's ultimate concern for them as a group and as individuals.

IV. Responsibility: The agency provides for children's education and training.

Standard

The agency makes its resources available to see that education is given to every child as he or she can use it, including college and vocational training as applicable. The use of educational evaluation is encouraged to discover where the child is and what he or she might conceivably accomplish.

Opportunities for a quiet study area, ready access to resource materials and supervised study periods and specialized tutoring is generally available, either on or off campus.

The agency maintains close contact with the school or schools attended by the children and strives to enlist the help of the school personnel in promoting the social and educational adjustment of each child in the school setting. The agency seeks to motivate the child to work up to his or her potential without undue pressure and to participate in extra-curricular activities of the school.

The vocational guidance services of the Church and other agencies are used where possible to guide children in vocational and academic pursuits.

The agency trains children in household, management, and athletic skills, the use of tools, manners, grooming and other matters, as well as in Christian character through the example and interest of its staff, the use of outside resources and selected volunteers.

V. Responsibility: The agency provides religious nurture.

Standard

The agency creates an atmosphere for its children which conforms to the accepted standards of the Church through the example of its staff and program, and expresses by its actions and attitudes to the child and his family the redemptive outreach of the Church.

In the staff's attitude toward work and toward people, the child sees something of the joy that comes from Christian commitment. Forgiveness from God is symbolized through a forgiving spirit without approving undesirable behavior.

The program includes regular worship and religious training, recognizing differences in children's background and previous religious teaching. An opportunity is given to the child both to choose some portion of the religious program and to participate in cottage devotionals and other related activities. The staff attempts to secure the child's progressive involvement in Christian life, attitudes, and ethics, rather than trying to force its own Christian doctrines and habits upon them.

Generally some person skilled in counseling children around spiritual problems is available on or near the campus. The agency usually makes use of community religious leaders, as well as its own staff, to teach the Bible and the standards of the Church. Church camps, conferences, and retreats are encouraged as the child is able to use these spiritual resources.

Where children of other faiths are in care, the agency generally makes available instruction in their faith through arrangement with appropriate ministers.

VI. Responsibility: The agency plans, maintains and adapts its physical plant to serve the needs of its children, staff and program.

Standard

When planning a new plant, careful consideration is given to location, accessibility to community resources and the nature of the community.

In planning new facilities or expanding present ones, attention is paid to spacing, maximum use of grounds, traffic patterns, opportunities for unobtrusive supervision and adequate recreational facilities.

In general the number of children to be cared for on any one campus is planned not to exceed 100 and plans for larger enrollments involve off-campus facilities or branch programs. In general also plans are not made to serve children on any one campus from distances exceeding 200 or 250 miles.

Buildings generally reflect good child care practices and are homelike in nature. They are so constructed that they may be used in different ways as programs and methods change. Professional child care as well as architectural advice is sought before building. A balance is maintained between the esthetic and functional use of the buildings and grounds.

The agency avoids ostentation or over-elaborate facilities. Building plans take into consideration the needs and comforts of both children and staff, including privacy, comfort and opportunities for varied group activities.

Living units are designed wherever possible to limit the size of any living group to from six to twelve children, depending on the age and type of child cared for. Where the agency undertakes the care of pre-school children, it either uses family homes or develops specialized facilities in which not more than four children are under the care of one child care staff or a couple. Where possible, such groups are self-contained and are not required to partake in large group activities.

The agency shows initiative and imagination in adapting present structures to changing program and needs. Buildings are kept in reasonably good repair. Where practicable, older buildings that are not adaptable are replaced. All facilities meet state and local building, fire prevention, and health and licensing standards.

The agency plans ahead for replacements and development of its campus, and for needed off-campus facilities, through joint planning between Board and staff. In such planning and in furnishing and decorating, children's opinions and ideas are taken into consideration.

The Home is planned so that its maintenance is not a major imposition on staff or children.

VII. Responsibility: The agency plans with children and their families.

Standard

The agency normally plans thoughtfully with children, their families (taking into consideration absentee members), guardians and other significant people in their lives. It generally accepts into care those children whose needs it reasonably can expect to meet and does not discriminate against children on any other grounds. Where prevented from doing so by its charter or by-laws, it reviews these with the purpose of bringing them in line with this standard. It seeks to help families and guardians asking its help to find and use needed resources both when children are taken under care and when other plans need to be made. It seeks to cooperate with other agencies that are involved or can be of help. Where it can reasonably do so, it develops specialized programs for children who need some other service than that provided on its campus. In all its planning, it is careful to respect the legal and moral rights and responsibilities of all concerned.

On accepting a child and his family* for continued service, the agency consciously develops a plan (written or otherwise) to help the child and his family make responsible use of available services. It takes responsibility for helping the child and his family find constructive ways of relating to each other.

The agency develops normative procedures and policies whereby the child, family and the total agency are aware of and participate in the plan. It reviews plans regularly and periodically with all concerned, including at least the child, family, planning staff, child care staff and executive. The agency is reasonably alert to needed changes in plans. Staff generally take responsibility for contributing their knowledge of how plans are working out, including indications of the child's feelings about it. Plans and progress in implementing them are normally recorded, reasonably promptly, in succinct and available form.

Primary responsibility for developing, implementing and coordinating plans is assigned to professionally competent staff, generally graduate social workers or workers under their supervision. Such staff are given reasonable time to carry out the agency's stated planning procedures and objectives.

*The word "family" hereafter includes guardians, relatives, and other significant persons.

Except in very unusual situations, the agency does not abruptly terminate or give up on plans or services for disciplinary or other reasons. It continues its concern for those who leave the Home and plans appropriate follow-up service with them when necessary.

VIII. Responsibility: The agency provides treatment for children's special problems and needs.

Standard

Agency staff is generally alert to indications of a child's need for specialized help with emotional, physical, educational, spiritual, social or other problems and is reasonably knowledgeable about the significance of unusual behavior. For the most part all staff recognize and act on their responsibility to bring such indications, needs, or their questions about them to the attention of those responsible for co-ordinating plans for the child.

The agency generally offers as an integral part of its planning specialized treatment to those requiring it. Such treatment is given by qualified persons either on or outside its staff. Where needed services are lacking, it strives to develop them within its agency or the community.

With due regard for the needs of others, the agency shows some flexibility in adapting its regulations, policies and procedures to individual needs. It is generally clear about the purpose, probable duration and nature of specialized help and reviews these periodically. It shares its treatment plans and enlists the cooperation in them of all persons affected, including child care staff and in most situations, where not inappropriate, the child himself. All staff is at the same time generally alert to the significance of the informal ways (verbal and non-verbal) in which it expresses its acceptance or criticism of a child and how this relates to each child's need.

Where possible the agency maintains some flexibility in assigning children to cottage groups and in utilizing the skills and interest of particular staff members to help a child.

IX. Responsibility: The agency adapts its services to the children it serves and to changing needs.

Standard

The agency strives to keep itself in touch with the changing and continuing needs of children and their families, and with advances in knowledge about how to meet them. It selects for any one time the service or services it can offer, taking into consideration the area it serves, the local culture, the resources of the community and of the agency, its legal or other authority, the skills it can command, the service offered by other agencies, the wishes of its constituency, its own tradition and purpose and current social needs. It is reasonably alert to changes in these conditions.

The agency accepts responsibility for trying to modify conditions that limit its usefulness and that are reasonably within its power to change. It shows some willingness to experiment and be innovative both in program and method.

X. Responsibility: The agency interprets its service and gains community support and understanding for it.

Standard

Through the use of such media as newsletters, bulletins, visual aids, formal reports and personal contact by the Board and staff, the agency makes continuous effort to keep the community—both local and constituency-wide—aware of its services and philosophy of helping.

The agency's Board assumes primary responsibility for interpreting its services and gaining community support and understanding, but generally enlists the active participation of other persons or groups such as auxiliary and advisory committees, the administrator and staff personnel. It helps them to understand their responsibilities and how to carry them out.

The agency relates itself to the local community, including such social institutions as churches, schools, recreational services, legal services and governmental agencies, in ways that for the most part encourage the children to feel identified with where they live. It makes opportunities available for regular formal and informal dialogue between the agency and the local community to further mutual understanding and close relationships.

In its policies, its practices relating to visitors on the campus, its use of information about clients in news media, its sponsor programs, and its use of children in interpretive activities, the agency accepts the responsibility for sensitive and respectful treatment of all clients and generally protects that which is confidential or affects a client's private life. It attempts to develop the capacity of individuals and organizations in the community to support and understand the agency as a service related to particular community needs without having to be involved with particular people being served.

In soliciting support, the agency presents a reasonably accurate picture of its activities designed to appeal to Christian stewardship rather than to pity or self-gratification in giving.

XI. Responsibility: The agency improves its services and learns from and contributes to knowledge and practice in the field.

Standard

The agency makes planned use of professional consultation, training resources and professional literature to improve its service and strengthen all levels of agency personnel, including the Board. It expects of its personnel and provides the necessary time and resources for their participation in appropriate local, regional and national conferences and designs ways in which knowledge and skill thus learned can be shared throughout the agency.

The agency carries out generally consistent formal or informal research about its own program, seeking to maintain an awareness of important factors in such areas as intake, work with families, grouping, discharge and after care.

The agency shares its own experiences, successful and unsuccessful, with others in the field through participation in such activities as conferences, papers and planned visits between agencies. It invites and cooperates with responsible research efforts in the field, providing data and reasonable staff assistance consistent with its resources. It recognizes that improved child care practices generally result from careful examination of practices in the light of present needs and knowledge available within the field.

STANDING RULES OF THE GENERAL ASSEMBLY

SECTION I. THE WORK OF THE GENERAL ASSEMBLY DURING ITS MEETINGS

I. ORGANIZATION OF A GENERAL ASSEMBLY'S MEETING

- 1.1 The General Assembly shall meet ordinarily on the Second Sunday in June at 11 o'clock a.m. (local time) at a place previously selected by the Permanent Committee on Assembly Operation, and approved by the General Assembly. It shall adjourn ordinarily at noon on Friday of the same week. The Committee shall select places in different parts of the Church with adequate convention-type facilities, including but not limited to parish churches when such churches provide adequate convention-type facilities.
- 1.2 The Assembly shall be opened with a sermon by the retiring Moderator. The Lord's Supper shall be celebrated after the opening sermon. Appropriate services of worship shall begin each morning session.
- 1.3 After the Stated Clerk has presented the roll of commissioners and a quorum has been declared present, a Moderator shall be nominated and elected. This shall be the first order of the first business session.
- 1.4 Presbytery endorsement is not necessary but a Presbytery may propose a name for the office of Moderator by a majority vote of the Presbytery. This proposal shall be transmitted to the Stated Clerk of the Assembly. Such proposal is not a nomination; but the person named must be nominated properly by a member of the court.
- 1.5 There shall be one nominating speech for each nominee, limited to 8 minutes. There may be only one seconding speech for each nominee, limited to 3 minutes.
- 1.6 If more than one Commissioner shall be nominated for Moderator, election shall be by ballot on blank ballots provided as prepared by the Stated Clerk. Tellers appointed by the Stated Clerk shall gather and count the ballots, and report the tabulation to the Stated Clerk. If no nominee receives a majority of the votes cast, a second ballot shall be called on the two nominees who received the highest number of votes on the first ballot. The Moderator shall declare an election when a nominee shall have received a majority of the votes cast by commissioners present and voting.
- 1.7 As soon as a Moderator shall have been declared elected he shall assume his constitutional duties.

II. THE MODERATOR

- 2.1 As the presiding officer the Moderator shall preside at all sessions, except when he may invite another commissioner temporarily to occupy the chair.
- 2.2 The General Assembly approves the undertaking of itineraries by the Moderator between meetings of the Assembly for the purpose of bringing him before representative gatherings throughout the Church. The congregation or agency in which the Moderator is serving at the time of his election is requested to allow him leave of absence. Provision for the expense of the Moderator and his wife for these itineraries and for the salary of a substitute, if necessary, in the Moderator's regular employment, shall be provided in the Operating Expense Budget of the General Assembly. The conditions herein stated shall also apply when a Moderator who is a layman, who is not church employed, is elected.
- 2.3 All invitations for the services of the Moderator shall be directed to the office of the Stated Clerk. The Moderator and the Stated Clerk shall confer regarding the acceptance of invitations so that the Moderator's time shall be used most economically and for the best interest of the whole Church. The Moderator, at his discretion, shall assume responsibility for arranging the schedule of his itineraries.
- 2.4 The Moderator shall be a member of the Program Committee, the General Council, and the Permanent Committee on Inter-Church Relations. The immediate past Moderator shall be an ex officio member of the General Council for a period of one year.
- 2.5 A former Moderator present as a visitor at a meeting of the General Assembly shall have the privilege of the floor.
- 2.6 The Moderator shall arrange for services of worship for the General Assembly in a manner acceptable to him.

III. THE STATED CLERK

- 3.1 As the continuing officer, the Stated Clerk shall be elected by the General Assembly for a term of three (3) years. The election shall be the first order on the morning of the last day of the meeting. The Permanent Committee on Assembly Operation shall nominate the Stated Clerk to the General Assembly with the understanding that further nominations are in order. No person shall be elected to the office of Stated Clerk who shall have attained, at the time of his election, his sixty-fifth birthday.
- 3.2 The Stated Clerk shall perform the duties required by the Book of Church Order and by the Standing Rules of the General Assembly, and such other duties as are assigned by action of the Assembly. The Stated Clerk shall administer these duties under policies approved by the Permanent Committee on Assembly Operation.
- 3.2a The Stated Clerk shall have charge of all arrangements for the meeting and entertainment of the General Assembly, except as provided in 2.6 and 1.1 above.
- 3.2b The Stated Clerk shall prepare and distribute to commissioners and their alternates in advance of the meeting of the Assembly a Handbook containing a proposed docket, overtures, reports of ad interim committees, permanent committees and the agencies of the General Assembly, and also such information as to the conduct of meetings of the Assembly as may be useful to the commissioners. The full report of the Permanent Judicial Commission shall be printed in the Handbook and in the Minutes. The Handbook shall be mailed so as to reach commissioners and their alternates one month prior to the convening of the General Assembly. Items not received in time for inclusion in the Handbook shall be mailed to commissioners in the form of a supplement, if possible. The complete list of commissioners in the office of the General Assembly shall be released to the public through the Presbyterian News Service as soon as possible.
- 3.2c The Stated Clerk shall prepare the business coming before the Assembly and present it for proper reference to the Reference Committee. "Business" includes overtures, reports of ad interim committees, communications, resolutions received in advance of the meeting, reports, audits, etc. from each of the agencies of the Church and from any other proper source.
- 3.2d The Stated Clerk shall keep the Minutes of the General Assembly, publish them annually with statistical reports of the Church and the reports of the agencies of the Assembly, and give certified extracts therefrom when the business of the Assembly requires. The Stated Clerk shall transmit each action of the General Assembly to those whom the action concerns, calling attention to other General Assembly actions affecting those transmitted.
- 3.2e The Stated Clerk shall receive the official correspondence of the Assembly and answer as instructed by the Assembly; he shall be custodian of the official documents and records of the Assembly, and copies at cost shall be made available upon request. - 5.4 The expense of the chairman (or another member) of an ad interim or permanent committee in attendance upon a meeting of the Assembly for the purpose of making a report shall be paid by the Assembly when the committee by vote affirms the report of sufficient importance to require such attendance and so notifies the Stated Clerk. Instructions To Stated Clerks

Reports from Presbyteries

The General Assembly instructs the Stated Clerks of Presbyteries as follows:

1. Secure from the Stated Clerk of the General Assembly the latest forms of blanks. Order just enough for the year, allowing a few extras for churches which may lose the set sent them.
2. Make the report in clear, distinct writing, especially the columns of names and figures in the Statistical Tables. Omit all fractions of a dollar in the money columns. If it is $10.50 or less, enter $10.00; if $10.51 or more, enter $11.00. Add all columns, if possible, on adding machines. Proofread the adding machine work before mailing. Attach adding machine slips to the report. Make the vowels in the names of Ministers, churches and post offices very distinct. Printers have much difficulty with vowels which look very much alike.
3. When a church does not make a report, enter it in the listing according to post office; give number of Ruling Elders, Deacons, and members from the last report.
4. When a Stated Clerk of Presbytery is ready to make out his statistical report to the General Assembly, he is requested to study the report of his Presbytery in the Minutes of the General Assembly for the preceding year. All of the statistical reports are uniform in arrangement and each Stated Clerk should use the report of his Presbytery in Assembly Minutes as a pattern.
5. Fill out the statistical report blank, giving list of churches according to post office. Where there is more than one church at a particular post office, list those bearing numerical titles first; follow these with other churches alphabetically arranged. If a Minister serves more than one church, the number of churches should be indicated by the figures in parenthesis opposite his name. Ministers who are not serving a church or churches in the Presbytery must be listed at the bottom of the statistical report with occupation and post office. Give number of candidates. The Stated Clerk of the Assembly must have this list to perfect the alphabetical list for the Minutes.
6. At the close of the church year, the Stated Clerk of the Assembly will forward to each Presbytery's Stated Clerk an Official Roll of the Ministers and licentiates as of December 31. This list must be carefully checked as to: degrees, occupation and mailing address. Immediately upon completion of this roll it should be returned to the Stated Clerk of the Assembly.
7. Mail to the Stated Clerk, Rev. James A. Millard, Jr., 341 Ponce de Leon Ave., N.E., Atlanta, Georgia 30308, all reports from the Presbytery just as soon as they are prepared. The Standing Rules requires that all these reports shall be in the hands of the Stated Clerk by February 10.

Send each overture upon a separate sheet of paper, written only on one side, duly signed by the Stated Clerk. (Read also Standing Rules 7 and 8.)

INDEX OF CHURCHES

The General Assembly of 1930 directed that the Alphabetical List of Churches be printed in the Minutes (see page 80 of 1930 Minutes).

Explanatory Note

Churches are alphabetized both by name and by postoffice.

Where the name of the church appears first the Presbytery is then given in parenthesis, followed by the name of the town or city, and the date given indicates year of organization. Mailing and street addresses are shown under names of towns or cities. Towns or cities are listed first when similar names of churches occur.

When two addresses are given, the first indicates mailing address. If there is no mailing address but is a location address, a dash (—;) indicates that no mailing address is given.

The Presbytery is used instead of a page number for reference to Statistical Reports. For the convenience of those who are not familiar with the presbyteries, an alphabetical index, with page number for each presbytery is given on page iv-Part II.

This index is as accurate as it could be made by comparing the reports of the presbyteries with the reports from the individual churches.

Churches dissolved or dismissed to other denominations in the current year are not listed below. See tables headed Churches Dissolved or Churches Dismissed to Other Denominations.
